BUCKNELL ELEVEN WINS FIRST GAME

SUSQUEHANNA PLAYS PLUCKILY.

Saturday's Game no Criterion for Football Prospects. Team is Expected to Be Strong.

Football was officially launched for the season of 1909 on Saturday when Bucknell won from the Susquehanna University eleven on the home grounds by a score of 14-5. Scored on in the first half as a result of a mix-up in signals the Orange and Blue team finished the period two points behind their opponents, but rallied in the second half and made victory sure by two touchdowns.

Showers of Thursday night had softened the sun-baked gridiron and added a touch of autumn briskness to the air which made conditions most favorable for early football. The opening game of the season and the fact that the contest was one of the three which mark the limit for home games this year, combined to bring out a big crowd. College men predominated and ripped off a few yells, which, however, lacked the zest which only a big game can inspire. A loyal delegation of Susquehanna supporters came up from Selinsgrove and enjoyed a brief jubilification when their team was ahead during the first half.

Bucknell made the first score on a field goal a few minutes after Susquehanna had kicked off. The team worked rather poorly on the start but finally carried the ball into its opponents territory by a series of end runs and an exchange of punts. With the ball in Bucknell's possession on Susquehanna's thirty-yard line, Perley, left half back, dropped back and booted the pig-skin over the bar for a field goal.

Susquehanna again kicked off and Bucknell rushed the ball back to midfield on a series of line plays. Then came a mix-up in the signals. McDonough tried an onside kick but there was no Bucknell player there to get it and Kaufman, the big Selinsgrove left half, broke through, and snatching the ball, ran through a clear field for forty yards for a touch down. Susquehanna missed the goal. Time was called a few minutes later with the ball in Bucknell's possession close to their opponents' goal.

Jordan, who replaced Perley at left half, plunged through the line for a touch down soon after the opening of the second period. He kicked the goal and placed Bucknell in the lead, 9-5. A shake up in the line showed good effects. Duff was taken out and Cober shifted from guard to tackle, while Groff was sent in to fill in the gap next to the pivot position.

Kaufman kicked across the Bucknell goal line on the kick-off and the ball was brought out and scrimmage started on the twenty-five yard line. The team was now working together much better than in the first half. Susquehanna was fairly swept off its feet and Bucknell repeatedly made first down on end runs and line bucks. Captain Coulson carried the ball over for the second touchdown. Jordan missed the goal. Another chance at a touchdown was spoiled by the disqualifying of Schmidt, left end, for roughing it up, and the penalizing of Bucknell of fifty yards. Zehner replaced the Bucknell end and the ball was rushed back towards the Susquehanna line but time was called with the pig-skin a few yards from the goal

While far from satisfactory, Saturday's game was beneficial in showing up what may be expected from the Bucknell eleven on the gridiron this season. The line is unusually strong and is possibly even better than last year. It is now assured that Groff, the big left guard will play again this year, and he with Edmunds, will make a pair of guards who are sure to be most effective in the big games. This will mean that Cober, Tyson, Duff, and Kerstetter

SOPHOMORE "PROCS."

Both college students and town people last Monday morning were deprived, on account of the new class rules, of the usual sight of Freshmen and Sophomores "scrapping" wherever they met; for it was on Monday morning that the Sophomores posted their "Procs" on which were set forth the merits? as well as demerits of their rivals, and also detailed rules for the better regulation and welfare of the Freshmen.

BIBLE CLASS.

The College Bible Class which meets in the Baptist church, Sunday morning, will be led this year by Prof. Phillips instead of Dr. Harris. The latter will, however, continue to conduct the Way of Life meetings, on Sunday afternoons. Credits in the College Bible Class will be given as usual.

KAPPA SIGMA.

The Kappa Sigma Fraternity held a dance in the Armory on Wednesday evening, Campbell's orchestra of Sunbury, furnished the music.

RULES FOR UNDERCLASSMEN

IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE IN COLLEGE CUSTOMS.

At the upperclassmen meeting held the first week of the term rules, differing in several features from those of previous years, were made for the underclassmen. The most important change is that concerning "Procs." By the new rule, giving the Sophomores only the privilege of posting "Procs" undisturbed, the custom, grown unpopular of "scrapping" in the early hours of the morning has been done away with. Another "scrap," not yet settled upon, is to take its place. The rules are as follows:

1. Freshmen must wear blue scull caps with green buttons every week day for the entire year. Underclassmen will at no time appear without headwear when off the campus.
2. Freshmen shall not post nor tear down "Procs."
3. Freshmen must not call at the Seminary before Washington's birthday.
4. Freshmen must not be seen in Milton or Sunbury after 7 P.M. at any time during the college year, unless accompanied by an upperclassman.
5. Freshmen must at all times salute members of the faculty, and must show due respect to upperclassmen.
6. Freshmen must not wear numerals, monograms, or class colors during the whole year. They must not wear Jersey or sweaters until after Thanksgiving; "Varsity" men excepted.
7. Freshmen must not loaf on the main steps of any college building or about any class memorials.
8. Freshmen must not smoke in the halls or upon the campus at any time, and pipes are forbidden at all times.
9. Freshmen must not be seen with hands in trouser pockets.
10. Freshmen must not wear "loud" socks, pumps, nor roll on their trousers.
11. All "specials" who no not have full Sophomre standing or better shall be subject to these rules.
12. All "Preps" shall wear brown scull caps and those roaming in the college building shall also be subject to these rules.
13. Sophomores must not loaf on Main Colelge steps nor upon the 1904 Memorial steps.
14. When leaving chapel the Seniors pass out first, then the Juniors, next the Sophomorres ,and then the Freshmen, in order. Underclassmen must not be seen on the upperclassmen's path.
15. These rules will be enforced by the Sophomores with the approval of the upperclassmen. They will remain permanent rules at Bucknell University and any conditions shall be considered amendments.

COLLEGE ENROLLS MANY NEW STUDENTS

BUCKNELL'S SIXTY-THIRD YEAR.

New Professors in Seminary and Academy. Improvements About Campus and Buildings.

The ringing of the college bell at 1.15, on Thursday, Sept. 16, was the signal for the beginning of active work of the University's sixty-third year. Many students had already registered then but they kept on coming until last Monday. However there is a slight decrease in the number of old students. The total number of new students is about 150. The Freshman class has about 130, the rest being distributed among the other classes.

This year opened without any increase or change in the University Faculty. Prof. Drum, from the Academy, who was already teaching on the hill lastS prng, is an instructor in mathematics. In the Academy, however, three new instructors have begun their work taking the place of men who have resigned or been advanced, Charles C. Fries, '09, Rhetoric; Geo. N. Wilkinson, '09, has charge of the German and Science departments; and W. S. Wilcox, '04, teaches mathematics. In the Seminary two new teachers were added: Miss Lydia A. Berkley and Miss Georgiana K. Scott. Paul Stolz is away for the year on a leave of absence.

During the Summer a few minor improvements were made about the campus and buildings. Several new paths in front of the Main building enhance the appearance of the sloping hillside. The fresh-painted window-frames and sashes of the Academy and Main building give those buildings a bolder appearance. Also fire-escapes to East College and an entrance, a bridge on concrete foundations, to the running track of the gym, are much needed improvements. East College has been finished, with four floors now available for students' rooms and the top floor utilized as a draughting room.

As everything seems to indicate Bucknell is beghuning a year which in all respects will mark a steady advance over previous years.

MINISTERIAL MEETNG.

The old members of the Ministerial Association gave a reception on Wednesday evening at the home of Prof. Phillips to the new men. The following officers were then elected: Pres., Wiant, '10; Vice-Pres., Oliver, '11; Sec., Waltz, '12; Treas., Edwards, '10. Reports of Summer supply work were given by the old members, and also a very interesting talk by Prof. Phillips. After the serving of refreshments the glad evening occasion came to an end.

AMBASSADOR DAVID J. HILL.

David J. Hill, of the class of '74 and president of Bucknell from 1879 to 1888, who is ambassador to Germany, set sail with Mrs. Hill on Sept. 23 for New York. They will remain in the United States for about two months.

NEW SEMINARY TEACHERS.

Miss Lydia A. Berkley, of Ashland, Ohio, will take the place of Miss Botorff in the Music Department. Miss Berkley is a graduate of Lincoln Conservatory of Music, Lincoln, Neb., also of Hiram College, and has taken special work in Pipe organ and Piano at Oberlin college.

Miss Berkley has had wide experience in teaching in several important colleges and Schools of Music, among which may be mentioned the American University of Tenn., and Ashland College, Ashland, Ohio.

Miss Georgina K. Scott, of Philadelphia, will succeed Miss Callaghan in the Department of Art.

Miss Scott is a graduate of the "Philadelphia Normal School," the "Philadelphia School of Design for Women," and the "Penna. Museum and School of Industrial Art."

Twelve years of study and eight years of teaching served to perfect Miss Scott in her special lines of work.

EX-JANITOR DIES.

Patrick H. Collins, known to many of the old Alumni of Bucknell as "Paddy" Collins, recently died at the age of 78 years. Interment was made at Philadelphia where the deceased had resided in recent years. For full thirty years he was connected with Bucknell as janitor and only advanced age forced him to leave a position where he had grown popular with students and professors.

DELTA THETA UPSILON.

On Friday evening Delta Theta Upsilon Fraternity held a dance in the Armory. About twenty-five couples were present. Campbell's orchestra of Sunbury furnished music.

Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION

OLD AND NEW STUDENTS BECOME ACQUAINTED.

The College Y. M. C. A. held its annual reception on Saturday evening Sept. 18. At eight o'clock the students, new and old, gathered in the Y. M. C. A. room in West College and found a hearty welcome. With a large card on the lapel of his coat, bearing his name in large letters, every student moved about thru the crowd, introducing himself to anyone he did not know, and expressing his pleasure at seeing his former friends back again. After spending an hour or more in joyous greeting and conversation, the guests were invited to be seated while a program was rendered.

President Pangburn, '10, extended a cordial welcome to all the students, and invited their co-operation in Y. M. C. A. work during the year. E. P Smith, '10, then spoke of the athletics in the College and urged every student to buy a season ticket. "Grandpa" Earle, '10 and Prof. Phillips concluded the program by presenting the value and importance of Bible Study in a student's life. The orchestra enlivened the meeting with excellent music.

After the program came another interesting feature of the reception when ice cream and cake were abundantly served to the anxious guests. College yells and songs then made the halls resound until the hour for departure arrived.

ANNUAL CLASS SCRAP WON BY FRESHMEN

SOPHOMORES ARE IN MINORITY.

Despite the Unequal Size of Classes the Contest Was at All Times Close and Interesting.

On Saturday morning of Sept. 18, the classes of 1912 and 1913 met in the annual fall class scrap. Scheduled for 8.30 the battle was postponed an hour on account of class work. After considerable delay the opposing forces lined up, the Sophomores on the right, the Freshmen on the left. To the goodly crowd of town folks and college people gathered on the hillside the classes appeared of about equal numbers but a count put the new men in the majority.

Pres. Baldwin, of the Sophomores, marshalled his men like a veteran while on the other side the Juniors dealt out instructions to the Freshmen. At about 9.20 Prof. Johnson, the starter, gave the signal for the onset.

The ten-yard space separating the rival factions soon held a writhing mass of struggling underclassmen. Several were more or less severely injured necessitating their being carried to the side lines. So fierce was the contest that only after more than half the time was expired could it be seen to whom the victory would fall.

As usual in such scraps individual feats of strength were not lacking nor were some very interesting wrestling matches far to seek. Twenty-five minutes of strenuous work, however, satisfied the thirst for gore and by the official judges, Woods, '10, and Spurgeon, '11, the Freshmen were found to have pulled together for victory by the score of 31 to 12. The taking of class photos was the final act after the general melee.

HAINER-HAMILL.

Calvary Baptist church of Norristown was the scene of one of the season's prettiest weddings on Thursday night of Sept. 23, when Miss Laura A. Hamill became the wife of Rev. L. Morill Hainer. The father of the bridegroom officiated. The bride was a member of the class of 1912, and the bridegroom graduated with the class of '05. The bride was attended by her sister. Her bridesmaids were members of Pi Beta Phi Sorority, to which she was pledged while at Bucknell last year. They were Sara M. Ray, '10; Edith Harpel, '11; Gretchen Radack, '11; Mildred B. Cathers, '10; Ida Sames, and Mabel G. Russel of Norristown. Joseph S. Bittenbender, '05, acted as best man, while some of the ushers were Roy G.Bostwick, '05 and Palmer M. Way, ex-'10. Mr. Hainer is also a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, as are the three of his attendants here mentioned. After a small reception at the bride's home the couple left for Camp Brook, S. D., where the bridegroom has a charge.

MASS MEETING.

The first mass meeting of the year was held last Monday evening in Commencement Hall. Its purpose was, as Manager Velte stated, to arouse interest and enthusiasm in football both in the way of bringing men out for practice and also of creating active support for the team. Abraham, '10, the Senior class president and captain Coulson, '11, made short speeches emphasizing the need of earnest support by the students. Coach Hoskins gave a more lengthy talk full of practical methods and sound advice which his wide experience in athletics has given him. To develop a strong winning team, there must, he said, be a large number of men to choose from as well as a large squad to engage in daily practice. The Coach also spoke of the method of training, and urged the student body to insist that all football men be true to the University in keeping their bodies in proper condition for the gridiron contests.

EDITORIAL OUTLOOK.

The Orange and Blue enters upon its fourteenth year amid the brightest prospects in the history of Bucknell. Never before did conditions point toward a more successful college year. The increased number of students, the various improvements about the campus and buildings, the promising outlook for athletics, and the same efficient faculty, constitute some of the factors which should make the work of this year surpass all previous records.

The success of the work, however, and the nature of the college life, will depend upon the activity and character of the students. Upon them devolves the task of holding high the standards already raised by loyal sons of Bucknell, of keeping the sixty-third page of Bucknell's history unspotted, but of filling it with records of good work nobly done. But since that page will record the sum of individual lives, it is your duty, Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores, to realize fully the position in which you are placed by virtue of your greater experience, and to feel the accompanying responsibilities. Upon you depends the character of the college life during this year. Bear the mantle of responsibility as becomes members of an ideal community of educated men.

And you, Freshmen, find yourselves in an entirely new sphere of life. Upon your conduct here will depend, very largely, your future career. Neglect no side of your cultivation. Be a factor in the athletic, social, intellectual, and religious life of the college. Be conscientious in your duties now, so that when the higher duties of college life appear, you may execute them worthily.

To men with such ideals the Orange and Blue appeals for loyal support. With a "square deal" for everyone its purpose will be to find a worthy place in the life of the student body. The Editors submit the first copy to its readers with pleasure, confidence, and hope: pleasure in trying to do their part to raise the standards of Bucknell, confidence in the integrity of the students whom they serve, and hope that the year may keep the fair name of Bucknell above reproach.

DEATH OF OLD ALUMNUS.

Rev. Thomas M. Shanafelt, D. D., died in Birmingham, Mich., Aug. 17, at the age of about 73 years. He was a native of Pennsylvania, graduate of Bucknell of the class of '61, and of Crozer Theological Seminary. He was, for fifteen years, secretary of the Michigan Baptist Convention, and served as superintendent of missions in Minnesota and in the Dakotas. He was a chaplain in the war for the union, and was subsequently elected grand chaplain of the G. A. R.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

Prof. Phillips, in the College Bible Class the first Sunday morning of the term, began the study of the Gospel of John, and as an approach to the Gospel gave some of its conspicuous features.

The Gospel of John is an intimate portrayal of the inner life of Jesus. Its salient features are: absence of the word "gospel," no direct reference to John as the author, the difference between its style and the style of the synoptics, the uniformity of the style in the discourses of Jesus and the comments of the author, the tragical arrangement of the material, the emphasis on the submissive side of John the Baptist's ministry, and the philosophical prologue.

These seven features are explained by the abstract purpose of the Gospel: "that you may continue to believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and believing you may continue to have life in his name For by years of meditation the author has transmuted the "gospel" into an idea, life; he has transformed the style of Jesus into his own style; he has universalized the tragedy of Jesus' life into the tragedy of all life, the rejection of the highest life.

Historical Setting of Gospel.

While the abstract nature of the purpose of the Gospel accounts for the first five salient features, the personality of Jesus in the purpose; that is, Jesus, the Christ, the Son of God, accounts for the last two features: the prologue and the peculiar conception of the Baptist's ministry. And this conception of Jesus placed in the environment in which the author wrote, manifesting itself in the prologue and the Baptist's ministry, constitutes the historical setting of the Gospel.

The subject of the prologue is the "Word" and the "Word" stands for Jesus. The reason for the use of this term by the author is this: The people among whom he wrote believed matter was evil, and hence that God could not come in contact with matter. To account for the world as emanating from God, they invented intermediary beings. The favorite and comprehensive term for these beings between God and the world was the term, "Word." That is, the "Word" was the expression of God to the world. To establish a common ground between himself and his readers, but not primarily to set forth the nature of Jesus, the author adopted this term to describe Jesus.

The author presents the submissive, "witness" side of the Baptist's ministry. The reason for this peculiar emphasis is thi: There was in the author's time a John the Baptist cult who "proclaimed their own master as the Christ." To connect this erroneous idea the author sets forth the Baptist as a witness, as one whose disciples followed Jesus, as one who was willing to decrease while Jesus increased.

In the author's method there are two permanent truths. The christian teacher should establish common ground with his hearers or readers by interpreting Jesus in terms suited to the age. Again movements suited to the age, again movements that do not seem to give Jesus the right place should be met not by depreciating their leaders, but by showing that they are witnesses to the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

BUCKNELL ELEVEN WINS FIRST GAME

will have to fight it out for the tackle positions. There is plenty material for ends with Young, Zehner, Barton, and the Pease brothers, who are also out for backs, in the squad.

Kelley exhibited clever headwork in running the team, played the position well for his first 'varsity game. McDonough was the speediest of the half backs and divided honors with Captain Coulson, full back, in ground gaining. Perley redeemed himself in part for some of his erratic work by his drop kick; Jordan showed good form; while Kurtz, who was one of the fast ends and backs of last year's 'varsity got in the game too late Saturday to show off his paces.

The team plays the Indians at Carlisle on Saturday of this week while the next game at home will not come off until State College comes here on November 6.

Saturday's line-up:—

GIANTS DRAFT BUCKNELL MAN.

When manager McGraw of the New York Giants put in a draft for "Bucknell Bill" Parson, pitcher in the Marion, O., State League Club, he secured one of the greatest players in the classy little organization. Such is the opinion of a New York daily. "Chief" Parson, who is well known as the star 'Varsity pitcher of several seasons ago, is the leading pitcher of the Ohio State League at the close of this season, having won sixteen and lost seven games. His going to the major league next season is quite an advance for him, and puts another Bucknell man into national athletics.

Y. M. C. A. HANDBOOK.

In accordance with custom old as well as new students received a Y. M. C. A. Handbook at the opening of the year. In general appearance this year's handbook may be said to be like former ones. As to the contents they are far above the ordinary. There is, it seems, more information than formerly, and the editorial work throughout is of a first-class order. Copies may still be had by seeing Waltz, '12, in 13 West Wing.

FRESHMAN ELECTION.

CARLISLE RAN AWAY WITH BUCKNELL

INDIANS PLAYED FAST BALL.

Bucknell First Team in Ten Years to Carry Ball Over Indians' Goal Line. Score 48-6.

Indian speed and interference proved to be too much for the Orange and Blue eleven Saturday afternoon and our first big game of the season resulted in a victory for Carlisle by the score of 48-6. The one redeeming feature, however, was the fact that Bucknell was the first team within the last ten years to carry the pigskin over the Indians' home goal line McDonough, the hundred yard sprinter, got the ball on a punt and made a great run down a practically clear field for a touch down. Fast as the Indians are they were no match for Mike and he easily got the ball across the line before he could be overtaken.

Judging by the score it would seem that the game was entirely one sided yet several times the 'Varsity held the Redmen for downs or forced them to punt. Bucknell likewise made several first downs. The strong point, however, was the line which was as invincible to the Indians as to Susquhenna in the previous game . Nowhere could the Indians find an opening and were consequently forced to confine their plays to the open style.

The Redskins were clever on end runs. In this particular their style of play seemed new to the 'Varsity and placed them at a disadvantage. When one of the Indian backfield ran with the ball he had nearly half of his team about him to offer interference. The Bucknell men on the other defense found considerable difficulty in tackling the man because of the excess in numbers of the Indian interference.

In the first half the game started off in snappy style. The Indians learned very quickly that the Bucknell line was like a stone wall and could not be pierced at all. Consequently they changed their tactics and began to punt, to try end runs and to use open plays generally. Here their excellent system of interference helped them greatly in ground gaining and they gained a comfortable lead by two touchdowns having been made and a goal from field.

The second half seemed rougher than the first and men began to be forced out of the contest. Early in the half the Bucknell quarterback, O'Brien, was hurt and forced to give away to Watkins. After a little more than ten minutes sensational playing this plucky little quarter was likewise put out and replaced by Kelly. Snyder gave way to Tyson, Kurtz went in at left half in Clarke's place nad Jordan replaced Piez. The putting in of fresh material did not help however to a very great extent for the Indians [illegible] likewise and not only maintained their swift pace but seemed to increase it. In this half the Indians tallied five touchdowns and a goal from field. It was in this half however when the Orange and Blue scored. Houser punted and O'Brien failed to get the ball which bounded back toward the side and was seized by McDonough who carried it down an almost open field and won the distinction of being the first man to cross the line of the Indians at Carlisle within the last ten years.

The star men in the Indian eleven were Houser and Garlow. McDonough Watkins and Campuzano played a great game for the Varsity. Every man on the line however deserves credit for his work for they formed one invincible spot in the team. Clarke played well for his first game in nearly two years but of course he has not yet regained his whirlwind pace. O'Brien's clever work will mean much to the team.

The game seems to have come as a bitter disappointment to the student body but the fact must be taken into consideration that the team was scarcely picked before Wednesday. Some of the men did not get out until on the field before Monday or Tuesday. It is thought also that the team was affected to some extent by traveling and playing on the same day. In fact the Indian game will only serve to show up the weak points and enable them to be strengthened for the game with Gettysburg next Saturday.

Saturday's line-up:—

| Bucknell | Positions | Carlisle |
|---|---|---|

PRIZE CONTEST

CONFERENCE OFFERS HUNDRED DOLLARS FOR ESSAY.

The Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration offers a prize of one hundred dollars for the best essay on "International Arbitration" by an undergraduate student of any American college or University. The donor of the prize is Chester Dewitt Pugsley of Peeksskill, N. Y. The contest closes March 15, 1910.

For the purpose of this contest the term "International Arbitration" may be held to include any subject specifically treated in the "Conventions for the Pacific Settlement of International disputes adopted by the first or second Hague Conferences, or in the Draft Convention relative to the Creation of a Judicial Arbitration court" agreed to at the second Hague Conference.

The term "Undergraduate Student applies only to one who, in a college or scientific school, is doing the work prescribed for the bachelor degree, or its technical equivalent.

A similar prize of fifty dollars, offered during the year 1908-1909, brought out fifty essays from all parts of the country. Mr. L. B. Babbit, a sophomore in John Hopkins University, won the prize which was presented to him at the 1909 meeting of the Conference.

The award of this year's prize will be made at the meeting of the Mohonk Conference, in May, 1910, to which the winner will receive an invitation.

For additional information, references, etc., address the Secretary of the Mohonk Conference.

FOOTBALL RULES CHANGED.

While no radical changes have been made in the 1909 football rules, several comparatively slight changes may possibly operate to make the game more interesting from the spectator's point of view. Although much discussed by the committee the forward pass has been left practically unchanged.

The reducing of the value of a field goal from four points to three will make it harder for a minor team possessing a star kicker to overcome a superior eleven. Another change is that which gives a team having a kick-out the privilege of either taking the kick or of putting the ball in play on the 25-yard line for a scrimmage. This is expected to put an end to the practice of kicking the ball over the goal line at the start.

FREEHAND DRAWING.

Students, desiring instruction in freehand drawing for public school teaching or other purposes, can make arrangements for same by conferring with the Teacher of Art, Miss Scott, in the Art Studio.

OLD ALUMNI DIED DURING SUMMER

BOTH NATIVES OF UNION CO.

Col. Chamberlin, Civil War Veteran, Practiced Law in Nashville. Mr. Marr Was a Shamokin Lawyer.

During the summer months occurred the deaths of some prominent alumni and friends of Bucknell. Their useful lives of service would give material for volumes of which there can be given here only the principal events.

Col. James Chamberlin, '69, died at the home of his son in Nashville, Tenn., on July 26, 1909. Col. Chamberlin was born in Union county, in 1836. He graduated from Bucknell in 1860 and later from the law department at Harvard. He practiced law at Lewisburg until the outbreak of the Civil War, when he responded to the call for volunteers, enlisting as a first sergeant in the Fourth Pennsylvania volunteers. Returning to Lewisburg [illegible] months later, he recruited a company to serve three years.

He served as captain under Gen. McClellan throughout the campaign of 1862, and was later made colonel of the Twenty-eighth Penna. Infantry. When his company was mustered out in 1863, he went to Nashville where he began legal practice. He continued his practice of law until about two years ago. He was a lawyer of great ability and was held in great esteem and respect by the citizens of Nashville

ADDISON G. MARR, ESQ.

Addison G. Marr, Esq., ex-'64, died at the Marr homestead on Front St., Lewisburg, on July 4, 1909. Mr. Marr was born in Lewisburg in 1844. He attended Bucknell for some time and completed his law course at Princeton, graduating from that institution in 1866. After studying law under Secretary of the Commonwealth J. B. Linn he was admitted to the bar.

Mr. Marr went to Shamokin in 1867 where he practiced law for three years, then engaged in the banking business with his brother J. C. Marr. When the firm merged into the Miners' Trust and Safe Deposit Company, Attorney Marr resumed the practice of law, becoming a leader of the Northumberland county bar. He was solicitor of the borough of Shamokin for three years, and had one of the most extensive practices in his county. During the last few years of his practice he confined himself to office work, seldom appearing in court. He was a member of the Cresco Club, Shamokin, a vestryman of Trinity Episcopal church, and a member of the Princeton club.

The funeral of Mr. Marr was attended by many friends from Shamokin, Ashland and other places in the coal regions. The body was interred in Lewisburg cemetery. After the funeral services, the Northumberland county bar association held a special memorial service in the court house, when several eulogies were pronounced on the deceased.

MRS. HOSKINS.

Mrs. Margaret Hoskins died Sept. 7 at her home on Third street at the age of 84 years. She is survived by four sons and three daughters of whom Geo. W. Hoskins, physical director in the college, is one, and who had made his home with her.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHNSON.

On Saturday Mrs. Johnson, wife of Prof. Johnson of the law faculty, died at the family residence on University Ave. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

PITY.

The Freshman was observed in an attitude of dejection.

"What's the matter?" he was asked. "Sophs been rough-housing you?"

"Well, they have; but that's all right. I was planning what I'd do to the freshies next year ,That's what made me look sorry."—Public Ledger.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

The examinations for the Rhodes Scholarships from the state of Pennsylvania for the year 1910 will be held at Haverford College on Tuesday, Oct. 19, and Wednesday, Oct. 20. The selection of scholars will be completed before the end of January, 1910, and the selected scholars will begin residence at Oxford in October, 1910.

The scholarships are valued at $1500 a year ,and are tenable for three years. It has been decided that all scholars shall have reached before going into residence at least the end of their sophomore year work at some recognized degree-granting university or college.

"CANOEING ON SUSQUEHANNA."

"Canoeing on the Susquehanna" is the title of quite a large, well illustrated article which appeared in the "Philadelphia Record" of Aug 29. The author of the article is Garney Sholl, '11, who with his brother last spring after Commencement started down the river from Lewisburg in a canoe. The trip, according to the article, was delightfully interesting. The party went down the river to Chesapeake Bay where they took a steamer for Philadelphia via the Chesapeake Canal. From the latter place they went up the Delaware river to their home at Burlington, N. J.

MATHEWSON WILL QUIT BASEBALL

CHRISTY TO GO INTO BUSINESS.

New York Giants Are Said to Lose Peerless Pitcher Whom Bucknell Prizes as Her Hero.

Christy Mathewson, Bucknell's peerless pitcher and all-round athlete of a decade ago, is rumored to be thru with ball. He will finish with the Giants but after that it is to be business for one of the greatest pitchers baseball has ever seen.

Mathewson began his exceptionally bright career as a pitcher with the 'Varsity team of '99, but was only in college baseball for one year. However he was not only a star in baseball but also in football, playing the position of fullback for three successive seasons beginning with '98. In basketball too, he was no mean player, holding the position of center at times.

Matty did not take a degree at Bucknell. Baseball prospects was a brighter object on his horizon , and Norfolk of the Southern League drafted the Bucknell hero. But only for one season as bigger teams than Norfolk saw the great pitching qualities in Christy and the New York Giant's of the National League finally landed him and with them he has twirled the sphere ever since.

The loss of Mathewson, if the rumor is quite correct, would be an unfortunate blow to the Giants. For the best part of ten years the great pitcher's work has been the greatest factor of the Polo Grounders' success. His reputation in athletics is a matter of general knowledge among the sport-loving public. This year, single-handed, he has won just one-third of New York's victories. Matty is said to have saved quite a fortune in his baseball career, and is willing to stake all in the business venture which he has under way. If he is with the Giants next year it will be only because of a failure to swing the new business into activity that early. At any rate his adieu to the national pastime seems to be not far off.

Mathewson has a chance to go into business with an old friend who thoroughly understands the lumber business. The partnership will manufacture creosote railway ties in Nova Scotia. Christy's attitude is not one assumed to force a raise in salary, but he believes that the opportunity of his contemplated business career is too bright to be influenced by any price the Giants might pay. He is satisfied with his treatment in New York, but believes his work has repaid all scores. He purposes to let no sentiment stand in the way of a future which must come sooner or later when his cunning is a memory.

COLLEGE Y. M. C. A.

The regular Y. M. C. A. meeting on Thursday evening was in charge of the Missionary Study Committee of which Hoffman, '12, is chairman. Prof. Lindemann was the speaker, dwelling upon the reasons why missionary study should be pursued by students. A college man ought to study the conditions and life of other people so as to get the broad point of view, a large outlook upon the world.

The Committee on Missionary Study has made plans to have at least seventy-five men as members of different mission groups, an undertaking which in score exceeds previous records at Bucknell and if carried out will mean a decided advance in general Y. M. C. A. work and interest. The text-book to be used in the work will be "The Uplift of China."

DEUTSCHER VEREIN.

The Deutscher Verein held its second meeting of this term on Thursday evening. Miss Bush spoke of Schiller's place in German literature, and gave some interesting reminiscences of a former trip to some Schiller landmarks.

The following new members were elected: Miss Houghton, '10; Miss Wright, '10; Case, '11; Trauger, '11; Nester, '11, and Bowman, '11.

DECEASED ALUMNI.

In the first two issues of the Orange and Blue for this term we are, with deep regret, compelled to announce the deaths of some prominent Bucknell alumni. With the death of Rev. Thomas Shanafelt, announced in last week's columns, the college lost one of its oldest alumni, who in his church and mission work in the middle West occupied a place that will be hard to fill, and who also was a pillar in the G. A. R. whose ranks are so rapidly becoming thin.

The death harvest of the summer also shows that the grim reaper took several noted members of the bar. Mr. Marr and Col. Chamberlin were both well up in their profession, living such lives of service and usefulness that a survey of their efforts and successes can make us realize the significance of a good record, a record of which their Alma Mater can feel proud. And Bucknell can be proud of once having had these men in its halls, for there is nothing that speaks better for an institution than to have sent men out into the world who have done something.

ATHLETIC SITUATION.

It is perhaps too early yet to speculate upo.: what kind of a football team we are going to have this year, but we can be sure that the team will be as good as is possible under the circumstances. But it is the circumstances about which the student body must be more concerned. These Coach Hoskins outlined very clearly at the first mass meeting held this term. In addition to the student body demanding of every man on the team strict and faithful training, it must itself perform a great many duties.

In the first place a strong second team is needed, and indeed a glance at the good-sized crowd of fellows in football suits the past week has been all but discouraging. Secondly, a matter which needs more attention and concerning which we hear more said than about anything else, there is the question of "spirit." If only every student could see that word oftener in large capital letters. To be sure we need not only that kind of spirit that will make us "yell" the loudest when Bucknell takes the pig-skin over the goal line for a touchdown, but also that kind of spirit that will make us get deep down into our pockets and put forth the amount of money necessary for a season ticket.

It is no secret that the Athletic Association is in debt, nor is it a disgrace. But the sooner the student body realizes that the Association's debt is its own debt the better it will be for Athletics at Bucknell. That is the kind of spirit we need the most. And there are only a very few students in college to whom this will not apply.

We are just beginning a new year of college activity but at the start let us all be determined that if success in Athletics is not won, we, the students, shall not have been found wanting.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

Attention has already been called to the abstract purpose of the Gospel. The bearing of two concepts in this purpose, Jesus, the Christ, the Son of God and "life" has also been considered. It should be observed further that in the purpose facts are set forth as a m ans for inducing belief. These facts are designated "sings." This subject, t.en, "signs" will be treated in three parts: the facts, the interpretation of the "signs" by the author of the Gospel, and the bearing of this interpretation on the modern problem of miracles.

The idea expressed by the word, miracle is presented in the New Testament by four words: mighty deed, suggesting power; wonder, suggesting the marvelous; work, identifying the miracle with other acts; sign, indicating that the miracle is a symbol for something else. Unfortunately the English word, miracle, derived from the Latin, miraculum, conveys only one aspect, the marvelous. This Gospel uses only the word sign for the acts themselves.

Of these signs there are seven, omitting the one after the resurrection. Three are nature miracles; three, healing miracles; one, the raising of the dead. The occasions of the nature miracles were: the need of wine for social pleasure, the need of food, the need of help in a storm. Three persons needed to be healed and Jesus healed them. Lazarus was dead; Jesus loved him; he brought him to life.

But the author by the term, sign, and by his comments distinguishes the ultimate outcome from one occasion. In the first miracle he manifested his exalted character and increased the faith of his disciples; by healing the nobleman's son, he led the nobleman and all his house to believe; by feeding the five thousand, by healing the man at the pool of Bethesda by opening the eyes of the man born blind, by raising Lazarus, he dulled the perception of the Jews and increased the faith of his disciples.

The interpretation of the "signs" and the bearing of this interpretation on the modern problem of miracles will be taken up next week.

ATHLETIC AND STATURE.

The interesting statement is made, on the authority of measurements by scientists, that the American college athlete of today is a much larger man than his father was, and is constantly growing. The average height of the Yale athlete today is an inch and a half more than it was five years ago; he is 22 pounds heavier, with three inches more chest development and 24 cubic inches more lung capacity; the average height o' the Yale athletes is now 5 feet 9.9 and their weight exactly 170.5 pounds. At an examination of Harvard athletes Professor Sergeant found that they were an inch taller and from four to five pounds heavier than were the students of 30 years ago.

This array of figures sounds like something creditable to the colleges. But it must be plain that the boys in college today got their growth or most of it before entering. The statements quoted here are the result of average measurements including freshmen of course. The entering class must have grown in high school days, and all the classes must have a better start than their fathers got in the years preceding college. This would seem to indicate something to the advantage of home conditions —better nourishment, perhaps, or more out-of-door life, or possibly a wider range of social and industrial ranks contributing to the college population.

FOOTBALL CAPTAINS.

Captains of the football teams of some of the principal colleges of the East are:—

Amherst, Atwood, halfback; Carlisle, Libbey, halfback; Colgate, Mac Donnell, end; Cornell, Tydemann, halfback; Dartmouth, Tobin, guard; Harvard, Fish, tackle; Holy Cross, Sweeney, guard; Lafayette, Blacher, end; Mass. State, Blaney, halfback; Princeton, Seigling, tackle; Tufts, Dittrick, quarter; U. of Maine, Cook, end; Michigan, Allerdice, halfback; U. of P., Miller, quarter; Vermont, Reed, end; Wesleyan, Joy, tackle; Yale, Coy, fullback; Williams, Brooks, tackle.

O. B. Dickinson, ex-'77, of Chester, is expected to be the Democratic candidate for Judge as there is an inevitable split among Delaware county Republicans over the Judgeship next spring.

Newton C. Fetter, Frank K. Gibson, John H. Mathias, and Chas. S. Roush, all of the class of '09, have entered the Theological Seminary at Rochester, N. Y.

STUDENT DISCOVERS BEETLE.

A clipping from the "Scranton Republican" of July 16 gives an account of the work that Hertzog, '10, has been doing during the summer. The tobacco packers of Lancaster, being alarmed at the damages done by an insect in their warehouses, called in Mr. Hertzog who found that the depredations were due to the tobaccco beetle. He was then in great demand for some time by the packers to superintend the fumigation of a large number of warehouses in that city.

BUCKNELL TRIUMPHED OVER GETTYSBURG

DOWN-STATE MEN CONFIDENT

Good All-around Football Won Saturday's Interesting Game With Old Rivals By Score of 9-3.

Bucknell once more triumphed over her old rival Gettysburg to the tune of 9-3. That the result came as a great shock and disappointment to the downstate men is apparent from the fact that their confidence of victory caused them to have wood collected and all preparations made for a big celebration. Their greatest disappointment, however, was that the game was all Bucknell, although the score does not show it. Two more touchdowns were made but were brought back because of some little technical point. Campuzano made a great fifty-yard run on a forward pass and took the ball over but the pass was declared illegal because of a question of distance and the touchdown did not count.

The game started off in its old time snappy fashion and Gettysburg succeeded in making a few slight gains during the first three minutes of play. Then the Bucknell men tightened up and settled down to business. Instead of being on the offensive as they had anticipated Gettysburg was put upon the defensive and the ball was in their territory nearly all the time. In the first half the scoring was very light. Gettysburg made her only tally on a field goal and O'Brien dropped a nice one for Bucknell. The half ended 3-3.

In the second half Bucknell went into the game with renewed vigor. Line plunges, trick plays and forward passes were all worked. The team showed a decided improvement over last week and outclassed their old rivals.

Before the teams had been in play two minutes in this half, as the result of an attempted forward pass on the part of Gettysburg, Bucknell secured the ball on the five-yard line and in three plunges took it over even though Gettysburg's big team resisted with all their strength. They attempted to dispute the touchdown but the ball was so far over the line that the officials readily decided in favor of Bucknell. After the 'Varsity had secured the lead they worked with such a vim that their oppenents were kept constantly on the defensive. Several times Bucknell nearly scored but each time something happened to prevent it.

Bucknell's defense was so good that when the opponents did get possession of the ball it was almost impossible for them to advance it. The one point where the team showed considerable improvement was in giving interference. The fact that the 'Varsity overcome this oldtime deficiency is largely responsible for Bucknell's victory Saturday.

One of the most prominent features of the Gettysburg game was the playing of O'Brien at quarterback. He not only used good judgement in running the team but he tallied four of the nine points. In the first half he tied the score on a nice goal fromfield. In the second half after Jordan made the touchdown, O'Brien kicked the goal. Jordan's punting was likewise one of the strong points in the game. Campuzano again did fine work on the end while Baskins at center showed promise of being well able to fill the vacancy caused by the injuries of Snyder and Tyson. Phillipy and Aldinger starred for Gettysburg.

The 'Varsity men upon their return shortly after midnight, were met at the new bridge by the students. The horses were removed from the stages and replaced by Freshmen who pulled the victors through the town and thence to the campus. Then followed one of the oldtime celebrations with a big bonfire and speeches by members of the team. Everyone was jubilant not only because of the victory over Gettysburg but also because the chances look good for the game with the University of Pittsburg next Saturday. The student body has not forgotten our two defents there and are looking for a chance to take a game from the Steelmen.

BUCKNELL RESERVES GET INTO PRACTICE

WILKES-BARRE WON FIRST GAME.

Prospects For the Scrub Team Are Good. Saturday's Game Lost Thru Slow Team Work. Score 17-0.

The prospects for a successful scrub season look good in spite of the fact that the team lost its first game. Richards and C. Steele promise to develop into a fast pair of ends. The back field is light but fast. S. Sweet at quarterback is showing his oldtime form and his skill in running the team. Thatcher is still on the job at punting and will be of considerable help to the team in that line.

There is so much good 'Varsity material that all can not make the team. The men who are forced to wait another year for positions on the big eleven will be a great help to the scrubs and should give us a fast and heavy team.

The game Saturday afternoon was won by Wilkes-Barre High school largely through their excellent interference coupled with a good share of luck.

Wilkes-Barre had much the better of the contest at the start and scored a touchdown in the first seven minutes of play. The Scrubs then settled down to work and held their opponents to the score of 5-0 until the end of the half. The second half was largely a repetition of the first except that the High School boys tallied 12 points and made the final score 17-0.

Twice the Scrubs had a chance to score but failed. In the first half they had the ball nearly over but through a misunderstanding in the distance to be gained they lost possession of the ball. Again in the second half Thatcher got the ball on a blocked kick. The team took the ball beyond the ten-yard line and seemed to be about to score when a "miscue" in signals caused a loss. S. Sweet then tried a drop kick but failed to make the goal. That ended the Scrub chances of scoring.

One thing which is of credit to the school is the fact that the Wilkes-Barre boys expressed a desire to publicly thank Bucknell for the square deal given and good treatment received from the players and the spectators.

| Bucknell | positions | Wilkes-Barre |

AMBASSADOR HILL AS BUCKNELL STUDENT

"HOW DAVID GOT HIS INNINGS."

Is the Title of an Article Written By Lewis Theiss in the "Circle" Magazine for September.

The article which follows centers about David J. Hill, a member of the class of '74 and president of the University from 1879 to 1888, who is at present United States Ambassador to Germany. It is written by Lewis Edwin Theiss, '02, son-in-law of Prof. Bartol, and appeared in "The Circle" magazine for September.

How David Got His Innings.

David J. Hill, Ambassador to Germany, and John B. Cook, clerk of the Supreme Court of Colorado, at Denver, were both members of the class of 1874 of Bucknell University. During a recent gathering of alumni Mr. Cook told the following story on Minister Hill:

"During our junior year at college our class, following the established custom, got out a burlesque on the seniors. This was printed and distributed among the college boys. To get the burlesque to the girls of the Female Seminary, an institution connected with the college, was a more difficult matter, however, but no prank would have been considered successful if not participated in by the 'Sem.' girls. It was decided that either Davy Hill or I, who were chums, should undertake the task, and we drew lots to decide which one of us should try. The lot fell to Davy.

"His plan was to take his stand on a certain corner past which the "Sem." girls went daily when returning from their walk, and after the teachers, who headed the line as chaperons, had passed, to hand out the posters to the girls in the rear.

"At the designated time Hill sauntered down to his corner, just a few minutes before the girls came along. The posters were hidden under his coat. As it was midwinter it grew dark early, and Hill, standing in the shadow of a tree with his hat pulled down over his eyes, was not recognized by the teachers.

"When they had passed he stepped quickly from the shadow and attempted to hand out the posters. The girls also failed to recognize him, and mistaking his intention, set up a shrill cry of alarm. Unfortunately for Davy, the janitor happend to be crossing the "Sem" campus and, hearing the girls' cry, ran up and grabbed Hill. Davy broke away and ran across the campus, but in the struggle he dropped his hat.

"This the janitor carried in triumph to the dean of the seminary. On the band was the owner's name plainly written. The dean took it to a light, turned up the hand, and read 'John B. Cook.' It was my hat which Davy, with his customary foresight, had purloined for the occasion.

"To this day I have never been able to clear myself with the dean. I sometimes wonder, also, if the loss of that hat was entirely an accident on Davy's part."—Lewis Edwin Theiss.

COLLEGE Y. M. C. A.

At the regular Y. M. C. A. meeting, Thursday evening ,Oliver, '11, addressed the members after the meeting had been opened by Pres., Pangburn, '10. The leader read from Matt. 21, taking "Prayer" as his subject. A quartet gave some special music after the helpful remarks of the leader. The good attendance gratified the cabinet very much, for they have been pushing the Christian work of Bucknell with all the energy possible.

A prayer meeting held every morning at 7 o'clock in 24½ East Wing is open to all who wish to join with the Y. M. C. A. cabinet in bringing about a religious awakening this fall and winter here at Bucknell. For a consideration of the progress and needs of this work a cabinet meeting was held on Thursday evening after the regular meeting.

BUCKNELL'S SUBSTITUTE TEAM.

If we were to get our information from some Philadelphia dailies concerning the varsity football eleven we might come to the conclusion that Bucknell must be using its Academy team as a 'Varsity line-up. Some of the above-mentioned newspapers, given to sensationalism as they are, take or seem to take peculiar delight in depicting an awful situation in our Varsity material. According to such reports Bucknell students must support a third team inasmuch as almost two teams have been crippled.

Such reports, untrue as they are, are unfair to all of Bucknell's friends and are unsportmanlike to the last degree. These stories have been circulated ever since the Carlisle game and are entirely unjust to the large squad of men who are practicing hard every afternoon, and who are making all efforts possible to develop a strong 'Varsity squad.

SOCIETIES.

There are in existence at Bucknell various societies whose membership consists of men who expect to follow a chosen profession after their college course is completed. The Ministerial Association, the Medical Society, the Chemical Society, etc., are all engaged in work that particularly belongs to their line of activity.

We also frequently hear of a Law Society doing work; and all this is good, but it is not good enough. Every one comes, or at least is supposed to come to college to prepare for some profession. His class-room work partly answers for this, but the more the student can supplement such work by outside and independent efforts the better it will be for him later.

There is ample opportunity for improvement along these lines. More interest and a better attendance at the meetings now held by such organizations is one way of doing better work. Furthermore, would it not be possible or rather ought it not be necessary for others to get together and form such societies. The civil and electrical engineers might have a splendid organization with the material in the various classes, and the future pedagogues could engage in very interesting discussions on what they would do when seated in the dignified arm-chair behind the desk.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was in charge of those who attended the Summer Conference at Mountain Lake Park. Interesting and helpful reports of the meetings, were made by the delegates, Miss Ruby Pierson and Miss Jane Chapman.

SEASON TICKETS.

Communication to the Orange and Blue:—

To those of us who have passed our freshman year, the words "season ticket" are as familiar as our own names, and to the newly-arrived Freshman even the command to buy a season ticket has assumed equal prominence with the one to "Honor thy father and mother." When the system of season tickets was first instituted here, every one thought our financial troubles were at an end; the till of the A. A. would surely run over with money, for who would not jump at the chance of securing ten dollars' worth of games for five dollars. They had not, however, reckoned with the student body. If Bucknell were a Woman's college instead of "coed," no doubt the plan would only have been necessary to announce bargains in season tickets and the entire supply would have been sold out before noon. Up to this hour, however, no word has come to us of a charge of the "noble 600."

Now we do not wish to be understood as saying that the idea of season tickets is wrong. No indeed. On the contrary we think it is good but our way of disposing of them is at fault. Just so long as the "local option "system of selling season tickets is in force here, only a portion of the students will buy and a large number will take chances on getting "comps" or else stay way. Much as this is to be regretted, it has been the case in former years and history stands in a fair way of repeating itself.

In a great number of other colleges and preparatory schools it is customary to put the athletic fee on the student's bill. in this way every member of the college contributes to the support of athletics and the A. A. is assured of a definite sum and calculations can be made with some degree of accuracy without coming out on the minus side of the balance sheet.

It is true that to a certain few the extra fee would be something of an inconvenience, but by a small amount of sacrifice the required amount could be made up and both the college and the person's moral fiber would be strengthened.

It is also claimed by some that a compulsory fee would turn away many prospective students. We think the claim is unfounded. It has not done so in other colleges and we can see why.

Compulsory fees mean a strong Athletic Association. A well-financed A. A. means better athletics and as athletics are an institution's best advertisement, we will have as a result an increased attendance of the best material, both for brain and brawn, and ultimately fame, honor, and success for old Bucknell.

Newton R. Quinton, '10.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

In the previous study it was shown that the Gospel sets forth the miracles not as ends in themselves. Besides suggesting by the facts an ulterior purpose, the Gospel also by its use of the miracles and by its comments advances an interpretation of the miracles; they were witnesses to Jesus or the Christ, the Son of God.

Two aspects of the use of the miracles throw light on their meaning. First, they were peculiarly adapted to the Jews who expected prophets and messengers from God to offer signs to establish their authority. Second, the signs, except the first one, constitute settings for discourses the sign suggesting the subject.

There are four witnesses in the Gospel: man, God through the Scriptures ,the words of Jesus, and the works of Jesus. The least valuable of these is that of man.

The witness of God through the Scriptures and the witness of Christ are of equal value; the acceptance or rejection of these is the final test of man's attitude toward Jesus. Of less value than these two is the witness of the works; for Jesus promised greater works than those he wrought and in themselves the signs were inadequate to establish permanent fellowship with Jesus.

The miracles, then, as interpreted in this Gospel were suitable to the age, but were inadequate; they were not so valuable as the teachings of the Scriptures and of Jesus; they were to be surpassed by the spiritual triumphs of the disciples.

The next topic will be the bearing of this interpretation on the modern problem of miracles.

MONUMENT ERECTED.

A handsome monument to the memory of the late Registrar Wm. C. Gretzinger has recently been erected in the cemetery in town.

Five fraternities at Brown University have agreed to postpone the season for rushing Freshmen until after the Christmas recess. The other fraternities are watching the experiment with much interest.

President Hadley, of Yale, gave a special talk to the Yale Freshmen at the opening of the University and warned the young men that "following the crowd" fixed upon them the habit of mental irresponsibility, adding that "disgrace is ten times oftener the result of carelessness than of intentional badness."

THE ORANGE AND BLUE

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOLUME XIV. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1909. NUMBER 4

SMOKY CITY ELEVEN BEAT BUCKNELL

PITTSBURG TACKLING STRONG.

Orange and Blue Team, Put Up a Clean and Spirited Game for Western Opponents. Score 18 to 6.

For the third successive year the Orange and Blue went down to defeat at the University of Pittsburg Saturday afternoon to the tune of 18-6. In 1907 the score was 12-0 and in 1908 it resulted 22-0 so that on the whole Bucknell showed a slight advance over previous years in that it at least scored against the "Smoky City" men. The game however was lost largely through the one weak feature in the team, which has not been sufficiently strengthened, namely, the tackling.

Bucknell was a little sluggish in the opening of the game, and after about five minutes of play, Ent secured the ball on a fumble and succeeded in making a great thirty-five yard run for a touchdown. Richards kicked the goal and gave Pittsburg the lead by the score of 6-0. Jordan then kicked off and dropped the ball over the goal line. The Pittsburg men failed to use their heads and made no attempt to get the ball, so Captain Coulson got it for Bucknell and dropped on it for a touchdown. O'Brien kicked the goal and tied the score 6-6. From that time on the game took on a different aspect and showed a little more real football. Pittsburg tallied one more touchdown and ended the half 12-6 in their favor.

The second half was a battle royal and the Orange and Blue settled down to work and held the sturdy opponents to one more touchdown made by a series of end runs and line plunges. A number of changes in line-up took place during this half. Both teams shifted quite a lot and drew heavily upon the substitute list, each using eight new men.

Regarding the playing of the two teams Pittsburg had the better of it in tackling throughout the entire contest. In other respects the two elevens were well matched, Pittsburg was the first team of the year, however, to pierce Bucknell's iron line. They succeeded in getting through several times but yet not much oftener than the 'Varsity pierced Pittsburg's line. The Pittsburg men were on the job at tackling and prevented Bucknell from gaining much ground on the end. Notwithstanding the opponents' fine system Clarke gave them a big scare when he took the ball through nearly the whole team and almost got away for a big run.

Pittsburg's playing at times was a little after the pugilistic style which caused them to be penalized several times during the game. Twice they were penalized when they had the ball on Bucknell's five yard line. The Orange and Blue eleven on the other hand was penalized very little and played clean ball throughout. The Bucknell men proved that straight football is better than the "rough-house" variety.

For Bucknell again the line was the strongest feature. Jordan and Clarke played well in the back-field but the former had to give away to Plez early in the second half. Captain Coulson is also to be commended for his head work in following up the ball and tallying a touchdown for the 'Varsity.

Pittsburg showed up well on end runs, interference and tackling. Ent, Lindsay, Richards and Galvin did the best work for the Smoky City eleven. Both teams, however, pulled off some sensational plays and added a little to the excitement which has been reigning on the famous "Forbe's Field," recently the scene of the great struggle between the Pittsburg Pirates and the Detroit Tigers.

With Baskins and Young probably back into condition and a little more hard work on tackling the 'Varsity should stand a good show for taking West Virginia into camp next Saturday.

Saturday's line-up was as follows:—

| Bucknell | positions | Pittsburg |
|---|---|---|
| Campuzano | . . . left end . . . | Roe |
| Young, Zehner | | Butler |
| Coulson | . . . left tackle . . . | Blair |
| Duff | | Vanoren |
| Groff | . . . left guard . . . | Gearhart |
| Kerstetter | . . . center . . . | Galvin |
| Cober | . . right tackle . . | Stevenson |
| | | Bailey |
| Schmidt | . . right end . . | Lindsay |
| Barton | | Bapgood, Porter |
| O'Brien | . . quarterback . . . | Budd |
| Watkins, Kelly. | | |
| Clarke | . . left halfback . . | Qualley |

BUCKNELL RESERVES

SCRUBS PLAY SHAMOKIN HIGH SCHOOL. SCORE 0-0.

The Bucknell Scrubs showed a great improvement over last week and played a tie game 0-0 against Shamokin High School, at Shamokin, Saturday. One week more of like improvement will put them in the winning class.

The Scrub line showed up very well and Shamokin could not get thru at all. The Orange and Blue boys on the contrary tore gaps in their opponents line very frequently. The game should have been a victory for the Bucknell eleven but for the number of fumbles. That was the one great draw back and lost them the ball several times at critical stages of the contest.

Arnold, Richards, and the Sweet brothers showed up well for the Scrubs while Eddy, Golden and Bremen did good work for Shamokin.

The line-up:—

| Bucknell | positions | Shamokin H. S. |
|---|---|---|
| Richards | . . . left end . . . | Bremen |

PUBLIC DEMONSTRATION OF COLLEGE SPIRIT

MASS MEETING AND PARADE.

Students In Lively Celebration Express Their Support to Varsity. Freshman-Soph. Game Oct. 30.

That Bucknell is experiencing a new revival of college spirit, is becoming evident. Wednesday night the Assembly Hall was the scene of the most enthusiastic Mass Meeting held for years. At nine o'clock the band started through the halls and soon a great train of students were following. The old cry of "Freshman Out!" gave way to "All Out!" and everybody crowded into line and marched into Commencement Hall to the song "Hail, Hail, the gang's all here" Manager Velte, after a lively selection from the band, called the meeting to order and introduced as "our giant and old stand-by," Edmunds. He spoke of the lack of spirit heretofore in Bucknell and showed that no football team could be successful unless backed by sincere college spirit. Edmunds always commands attention for he bears the distinction of having played on the Varsity in every game since his Freshman year and not having had a minute's time taken out for him.

Some of the new men; Jordan, Kelley, Kerstetter, and Perley were called upon and spoke their appreciation of the spirit and the loyal support of the students that back the team. The fact that on the gridiron there is the cleanest rivalry and most kindly feeling among both the varsity men and Reserves, was dwelt upon. This doubtlessly, has been working on the whole student body, emphasizing the fact that all is a means to an end, and the end, the honor and upbuilding of old Bucknell. When varsity men come out before a body of students and implore them to turn out and try to win their own places from them, matters begin to look encouraging and every drop of dormant spirit cannot fail to spring into new life at such sincerity and unselfishness.

The question of cheer leaders then arose and the crowd began to call for Langford and Reber. They will take their apprenticeship work under "Dunk" this year so as to take his place next. Later Abraham, Spurgeon and Baldwin, presidents of the Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes, spoke of the things needed to make home games spirited. The need of Bucknell men coming to the field in a body, wearing sleeve bands and carrying banners and pennants and sacrificing a perhaps more congenial position for the cheering section, was emphasized. The untiring work of the band came up and a generous sum was given to buy new music. The approach of midnight brought the meeting finally to a close and every man left the hall with a higher ideal of what a true college man owes to his school.

The spirit of Wednesday night burst forth anew Friday noon when the school turned out in a body to see the team off. The band led the way from the hill followed by the four classes drawn up in single file. The real Bucknell transferred itself from the hill to the station where a demonstration of spirit took place that will long be remembered.

Even the Muses who are said to slumber in everyone, have wakened and the following, to be sung to the tune of Pony Boy, has reached the editoral sanctum. Through modesty the author has withheld his name, but we hope that, like the lame Greek School master ,he may help us on to victory with his song.

Hold them boys; hold them boys.
The gang's all here to make the noise;
Don't say no; there we go
Straight across the line.
Rip them up; tear them up;
Take them right with you.
Break 'em up! Break 'em up! Break 'em up! go!
You Bucknell boys.
The mass meeting also brought to light that tickets for the State game will be fifty cents and not one dollar as reported. The Sophomore-Freshman game is scheduled for Oct. 30.

But no varsity game is scheduled for that date, as the Advisory Board has decided to give the players a day off before the big State game.

BUCKNELL ALUMNAE CLUB

MEMBERS DISCUSS SUBJECTS ABOUT AUTUMN.

An especially large gathering of Bucknell Alumnae members were welcomed by the President, Mrs. Dreisbach, Tuesday evening in the Seminary Parlors. Two of the members were appointed as delegates to the meetings of the Federation of Clubs in Philadelphia. All were invited to the Memorial Services of the Indian Massacre which was held at Winfield on Saturday. The following program appropriate to the Autumnal Season, was given by the members:—

Piano solo, Miss Boynton; Vocal solo, Miss Isaac; Mildred Shaffer, gave Bryant's "To a Water Fowl" and "October;" Mrs. Dreisbach read a paper on "Nature in Autumn;" Mrs. Steven's paper was on the "Preservation of our Forests."

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

In the two preceding studies this conclusion was reached: the signs pointed to something beyond themselves; some became followers of Christ without the evidence of signs; some who became interested in him because of the signs were tested by their attitude toward his teaching; to the disciples he promised works greater than the signs. In this study an attempt is made to find out what bearing these conclusions have on the modern problem of miracles.

The modern problem has a two-fold aspect: an attitude toward truth and a view of the world (Weltanschauung.) The attitude is this; the authority of a truth is commensurate with its consistency with known facts. For example we say, the Bible is inspired. Toward this statement the modern spirit assumes this attitude; if the statement is based on tradition, it has no authority for the individual; if the statement is based on the unique place the Bible has made for itself in history, it has some authority; if the statement is based on the experience of the individual, it has great value. The view of the world is this; the laws of nature are inviolable, "an order of nature is necessary and at once fatal to miracles." Therefore a man cannot walk on water, because, to use Anstotle's word, the act "interplodates" natural laws.

To the legendary and allegorical explanations of the miracles, the answer is, this Gospel and all the Gospels, when subjected to the severest historical criticism, purport to set forth the miracles as facts. To the widely accepted view that the miracles were phenomena in accord with natural laws unknown to the first generation of Christian and still largely unknown to us, this Gospel profers not a word.

Distinguishing various origins and kinds of faith, this Gospel brings this message to the man stumbling because of the miraculous: the first disciples before they saw signs, began to follow Jesus; the Samaritans believed not because of his signs but because of his word; Nicodemus, although he regarded the signs as an attestation, became only a timid believer; those who believed in him because of his teaching, Jesus tested no further but received them into full fellowship. Therefore if one because of his training has to lay miracles aside, still, according to this Gospel, he may believe in Jesus, the Christ, the Savior of the world.

LAW CLUB MEETING.

At a meeting of the Bucknell Law Club these officers were elected: Pres., Benson, '10; Vice-pres., Spurgeon, '11; Sec., Halliwell, '10; and Treas., Metzgar, '10. The club also took in the following new members: Rosenberg, '11, Shreve, '11, Hamil, '11, Peoples, '11, Tuman, '11, and Tyson, '11.

DEBATING LEAGUE BEGINNING WORK

FIRST MEETING WED. EVENING.

The Intercollegiate Series of Debates Will Eegin Jan. 14 When Bucknell Will Meet Gettysburg.

The first debate of the Intercollegiate series, held between the triangle of colleges which comprise Gettysburg, Lafayette, and Bucknell, will take place on Jan. 14. In this initial contest Bucknell will face Gettysburg. The debate is to be held at the latter place where Bucknell will appear for the first time since the Intercollegiate league was formed. Although that date seems far off, the men interested in this work realize how near it really is and that it is not at all a longer period of time than is really required for adequate preparation. In view of this a meeting of all members of the League and of all others who are interested in work of this nature is called for on Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock.

Several reasons present themselves why the students need bestir themselves and act. Bucknell this year has the privilege, according to arrangements made by the Bucknell representative at the last debate held last year at Gettysburg, of presenting the question for debate to Gettysburg. As all know who have had experience in literary work good debatable resolutions are hard to find. Questions with two fair sides wear no placards to proclaim themselves but travel rather incognito. We of Bucknell do not care to go through last year's experience of getting the wrong end of a lopsided question. We want to make use of a proposition interesting to the public and replete with arguments pro and con. To do this the best material of Bucknell must get together and cogitate, for the question for debate must be sent to Gettysburg shortly.

Another reason why Bucknell must be up and doing is the fact that the honor of the college as a debating school is at stake. In the first year of the League's history Bucknell carried off the laurels. Last year, although a hard fight was put up, our debaters gained no victory. Shall we take two out of the three contests this year and thus prove our supremacy? If so, immediate action is imperative.

Furthermore, besides bringing honor to his college, he who this year goes in to win and wins will be presented with a gold medal. This can, to be sure, not be urged as a motive. The gain in power to the individual who debates far transcends any medal in ultimate value.

The literary organizations, with which Bucknell is better equipped today than ever, will do well to advance their best men to try for the intercollegiate team. The training tables of the weekly meetings of these various organizations has certainly put our debating force in the pink of condition. It is hoped that they will be seen on the gridiron of the trial platform to make possible the selection of a winning team.

The question for debate at present really is: Resolved, that Gettysburg shall be defeated in debate as well as in football. Affirmative or negative for you?

NOX McCAIN.

HARVARD'S NEW PRESIDENT.

Before more than 250 delegates from American and foreign seats of learning, among them 125 presidents of universities and colleges, A Lawrence Lowell was inaugurated president of Harvard University, Oct. 6. This brilliant assemblage, far exceeding the notable event of 1869 when Charles W. Elliot, President Emeritus, was inaugurated, testified eloquently both to the increased interest in educational affairs and to Harvard's advanced prestige.

Furthermore, the public utterance of the head of America's leading educational institution has been a force much felt in educational activities for the past few decades; hence, great interest is being attached to the address of Harvard's new president at his inaugural. That he fully realizes the transitional state of our educational system is quite obvious, and that he is fully aware of the importance of scholarship in colleges and its ultimate result to the nation, is shown by these extracts from his speech, applying not only to Harvard men to whom they were addressed, but to college men over the whole country.

"The chasm," he said, "that has opened between college studies and college life has been pointed out. The instructors believe that the object of college is study. Many students fancy that it is mainly enjoyment, and the confusion of aims breeds irretrievable waste of opportunity. The undergraduate should be led to feel from the moment of his arrival that college life is a serious and in any sided thing, whereof mental discipline is a vital part.

"The most painful defect in the American college at the present time is the lack of esteem for excellence in scholarship. We do not make our students feel the romance of scholarly exploration, nor do we encourage productive scholarship enough among those members of our faculties who are capable thereof.

"The university touches the community on many points, and as the time goes on it ought to serve the public through ever-increasing channels, but all its activities are more or less connected with, and most of them are based upon, the college. A greater solidarity in college, more earnestness of purpose and intellectual enthusiasm would mean much for our nation. When the young men shall see visions the dreams of old men will come true."

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATING.

In another column of this issue the call is earnestly made by the officers of the Bucknell Debating League for greater interest and cooperation in the intercollegiate debates which will be coming off later in the year. And, to be sure, this appeal is neither made too early nor is it too strong. If we are to win any or all of the debates which we take part in, they must be won right at this time. The necessary attention must be given to the matter now. Candidates must get out in order that from a large number of aspirants the best men in college may be selected. Moreover, it is not at all too early for candidates to get down to work and prepare for what is coming later.

In respect to intercollegiate contests of this sort the student body is always only lukewarm and sometimes not even that. Many of us who will "yell" ourselves hoarse over a football victory and help to arouse great enthusiasm over the triumphant team, will turn a deaf ear to a "little" thing like debates. It is not meant here to say that big athletic celebrations are not the right thing. They are perfectly in order. Only what is wanted is, not a lessening of college spirit on the side of athletics, but increase of college spirit in other intercollegiate coatests that also bring honor to Bucknell.

LAST WEEK'S EDITORIAL.

The editorial, which appeared in last week's issue of the Orange and Blue concerning football articles in Philadelphia papers, was interpreted in a different manner and by different persons than what was expected. The article in question did not intend to refer to "reports" coming from Lewisburg and sent with direct information from authoritative parties, but only to such as were being circulated at other places.

To the University of California belongs the credit of the first organization of Chinese students in America. This was in 1901, when some of the Chinese students attending the University organized and gave their association the name of the Chinese Students' Alliance of America. There is also now an eastern organization with a membership of about 200 which with the westrn organization makes the number of Chinese students in this country at the large institutio about 300.

President Ricketts, of the Rensselar Polytechnic Institute, at Troy, N. Y., issued an edict that no student of the Institute would be permitted to take part in any intercollegiate games. The order was the result of finding class numerals painted on objects on the campus.

President Nichols of Dartmouth recently inaugurated a system of student self-government which was enthusiastically accepted by the students in a mass meeting. Representatives from each dormitory from the three upper classes will have direct charge of all student relations with the faculty and administration.

The University of Pennsylvania opened on Sept. 24 with an equipment superior to anything in its history. Two new dormitories were ready for occupancy, and important additions were made to the veterinary building and the University Hospital. The new veterinary buildings, now five years in course of erection, are on a plan which, when completed, will afford the most perfect plant of its kind in the United States and one only excelled by three or four in Europe.

The new athletic quarters at the Carlisle Indian School have just been completed. One of the most attractive features is the entrance hallway from which the stairs to the upper floors ascend. A large dining room, reading room, billiard room and reception hall are located on the ground floor. There is also a modernly equipped kitchen on this floor. The remaining space of the building is taken up with rooms for the athletes. Carlisle has spared no pains to make a comfortable home for the husky athletes.

The registration of Columbia University this year is 5987, an increase of more than 650 over last year's enrollment.

A fund of $100,000 has been raised by the alumni and friends of Haverford College for the purpose of pensioning old professors. Of this sum $35,000 was given by the late Wm. P. Henszey, and the remainder was contributed in smaller amounts by wealthy persons interested in the college. Since the establishment of the Carnegie Foundaion Fund pensioning the professors of non-sectarian colleges, many colleges throughout the country have been forming funds of their own. The Carnegie endowment bars professors in colleges that are run by religious organizations. Haverford is conducted by the Friends, and its professors, like those of scores of other colleges, cannot benefit from the iron-master's donation.

WEST VIRGINIA AND BUCKNELL TIE

PLAYED IN RAIN AND MUD.

Bucknell Showed Fine Form Against Southerners. Clarke Made Sensational Run. Score 6-6.

On an extremely wet and muddy field, and in the midst of a light rainfall Bucknell and University of West Virginia played an exciting 6-6 game, Saturday afternoon at Morgantown, W. Va. The Pennsylvania eleven had the better of the argument during nearly the entire contest, but the condition of the field interfered with the playing of both teams and aided in keeping down the score.

During the first ten minutes the southern team seemed to have the better of the argument, and by straight football succeeded in working the ball down the field to Bucknell's five-yard line where the Orange and Blue line held firm and took the ball from West Virginia. Jordan attempted to punt the ball out of danger but Cole succeeded in breaking through and blocking the punt. It quickly falling upon the pigskin, the big guard tallied a touchdown for the opponents. Munk kicked the goal and made the score 6-0. A little later West Virginia secured the ball on a fumble. They made a couple plays for slight gains and then tried a forward pass. Clarke was on the alert, however, and by a quick jump caught the ball and made a sensational 80-yard run for a touchdown. Pearcy was the only man who could keep near "Jimmie," but the speedy veteran halfback finally succeeded in throwing the little quarter off and then easily outdistanced the remainder of the southern eleven. O'Brien kicked the goal for Bucknell and tied the score 6-6.

The tie score seemed to put a little more ginger into the 'Varsity and during the remainder of the contest they kept West Virginia on the defensive. In the second half neither side could score but the playing was in the opponents' territory nearly all the time. The only change in the line-up was in this half when Kelly replaced Clarke who was slightly injured. The matter of substitution contrasted strangely with the Pittsburg game where each team used eight substitutes.

On the whole Saturday's game was very satisfactory. Kerstetter showed great improvement and his passes were first class. The back field worked out well and showed speed and skill. Clarke's playing showed that he is fast reaching his old-time clip and big things can be expected of the veteran. The line held well and in fact the playing in every respect was far superior to that at Pittsburg last week. Munk, who played quarterback for Bucknell last year, did great work for West Virginia Saturday.

The line-up:—

| Bucknell | | West Virginia. |
|---|---|---|
| Campuzano | left end | Hutchinson |
| Coulson | left tackle | Young |
| Groff | left guard | Swearinger |
| Kerstetter | center | Woodhouse |
| Cober | right tackle | Juliard |
| Schmidt | right end | Wiley |
| O'Brien | quarterback | Pearcy |
| Clarke | left halfback | Merrill |
| Kelly | | |
| Kurtz | right halfback | Munk |
| Jordan | fullback | Springer |

Touchdowns—Clarke, Cole. Goals from touchdowns—O'Brien, Munk. Referee—Denniston, University of Pennsylvania. Umpire—Moffatt, Princeton. Field judge—Young, Cornell. Time of halves—25 minutes each.

NOTICE TO JUNIORS.

All members of the Junior class are requested to be present at Bucknell Hall, Saturday morning, Oct. 30 at 9.15. A group picture of the class for publication in the L'Agenda will be taken. Every member should be present.

Signed,
THE PRESIDENT.

LECTURE ON MONTANA

DR. E. A. APGAR DISCUSSES MISSIONS IN WEST.

A lecture was delivered in chapel on Thursday evening by Dr. E. A. Apgar. Dr. Apgar comes from the frontier mission fields of Montana, and has had much experience as a missionary among the Indians of that state. He spoke of some of the phases of missions during his various experiences in the West. The work he said, has an heroic, a humerous, and a pathetic side. The Indian convert, who is willing to remain true to his belief in Christianity even among a whole tribe of pagans; the scattered members of the mission churches, as well as the mission preacher, who travels in all kinds of weather to be present at services; all display the highest kind of heroism. The humerous side of the work is found in the many predicaments in which the preacher is frequently placed. The pathetic side is found in the fact that the people are waiting for the gospel but that there are no workers to supply the need. Among the thirteen thousand Indians in Montana, there are at present but two missionaries working. There is in the far West ample opportunity for men who wish to devote their lives to the service of others.

BUCKNELL-STATE GAME.

The big State game is hardly two weeks off, and while the varsity team and Coaches Hoskins and Cockill are getting in their work, the students must be geting the support ready to compete with the big crowd of State rooters who are coming. State ticking with the U. of P. on Saturday makes them loom up as a big eleven and a worthy foe. The fact that the Varsity has no game scheduled for next week should put them in fine form to meet State on Nov. 6.

ACADEMY vs. BLOOMSBURG.

In a fast and exciting game at Bloomsburg, Saturday, the "Prep" team defeated the Normal eleven by the score of 5-0. The Academy team, although outweighed, outclassed its opponents. Criswell made possible the touchdown, which won the game, by cleverly falling on a fumbled ball. J. E. Boyer, right half, and Capt. Maher, center, also deserve mention for their splendid work.

PHILA.-BUCKNELL CLUB.

The Philadelphia-Bucknell Club will hold a meeting Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Theta Alpha Hall. All students from Philadelphia and vicinity are requested to be present.

DEBATING LEAGUE

PROMISE IS GIVEN FOR SUCCESSFUL TEAM.

On Wednesday evening, in Euepla Hall, a short meeting of the Debating League was held. Veltz, '10, read the constitution after which, in accord with its regulations, arrangements were made for a special meeting this coming Wednesday evening in Euepla Hall. It was decided that all intending to try out for Bucknell's team must hand their names to the president of the club, Earle, '10, before the special meeting. Also a committee was appointed to consult Prof. Helm as to a question for debate.

Since the adjournment considerable interest has developed throughout the college showing itself in that six contestants have already presented themselves. More men are yet to be heard from, but even then too many candidates could not appear.

Membership in the club is incident on payment of the yearly dues, twenty-five cents. The arrangement with Lafayette and Gettysburg is that each college bears a third of the total expenses. No debate will be held this year here. Consequently the treasurer will depend on the dues to meet our appointment.

UNDERCLASSMEN MAKE NEW SCRAP RULES

CIDER SCRAP NEXT SATURDAY.

After Sophomore-Freshman Football Game, Barrel of Cider Will Figure Prominently on Campus.

At a recent meeting of the "Upper Class Committee" several changes were made regarding the annual football game and the scrap between the two under classes. These changes have grown out of a general dissatisfaction with the old order of things.

The Sophomore-Freshman football game is to be played Oct. 30. This is expected to be a spirited contest, since both classes have been working out each evening. The Freshman are especially confident and for the last three weeks have been getting in much strenuous practice. Oct. 30 is an open date for the Varsity, and they will, consequently, have an opportunity to witness the game.

The most interesting feature, perhaps, of the afternoon will be the cider scrap. This will occur immediately after the game and is designed to take the place of the desultory fighting that usually accompanies the annual football game. A barrel of cider will be procured at the Freshman's expense and securely staked in the center of a fifty-yard circle. The two classes shall have half of the circle each on which to line up. The object of the fight will be to get a hand on the barrel. At the expiration of twenty minutes a pistol shot will mark the end of the scrap, and all contestants who do not have a hand on the barrel will move back to their places on the line; those having their hands on the barrel will remain quiet until counted. Moving after the signal will disqualify the contestant. The class having the largest number of men touching the barrel will be declared the winner. A strictly informal symposium will then be held on the field at which Upperclassmen and those of the winning class will drink. Woods, '10, will act in the capacity of chief spigot master and disseminate the good cheer. The Upperclassmen are desirous of making this a clean, entertaining scrap conducted with perfect fairness. To make this possible the field will be roped off and no one, except contestants and judges, are wanted within.

Changes have also been decided upon respecting Underclass banquets. The old method of holding these, especially since last year, has become decidedly unpopular. Both banquets this year must be held between the dates Jan. 15 and Feb. 1. It is also rumored that the place for holding these will be restricted to the immediate vicinity of Lewisburg.

The last Underclass contest of the year will be a tug of war, and will take place sometime in the spring term. The scene of the struggle will be near the mouth of Buffalo creek. A heavy rope will be stretched across the stream and the classes will pull from the opposite shores. The general aim of these changes has been to eliminate the rough personal elements in Underclass contests and to make them regular annual events with a definite aim.

WELSH PRIZE CHOIR.

A crowded chapel on Friday afternoon greatly appreciated several numbers given by the Llanelly Royal Welsh Prize Choir of twenty-six voices. The Choir sangs in Chapel chiefly to introduce itself to the students, and the rousing "Bucknell-ell" which the latter gave indicated that the choir's exceptionally artistic renditions were well received. The concert which it gave in the evening in the Methodist church was attended by many students.

SENIOR MEETING.

A meeting of the Senior Class is announced for Tuesday afternoon at 4.15, in the Chemical Laboratory. The business on hand is important, and everybody is expected to be out.

1911 L'AGENDA

CLASS PICTURES TO BE A NEW FEATURE THIS YEAR.

Class pictures are to be one of the new features of the 1911 L'Agenda which is now under course of preparation for publication next term. Letters suggesting the picture idea and urging the co-operation of the classes in the carrying out of the scheme, were received by the presidents of the respective college classes a few days ago, and steps are already being taken for the securing of the group photographs.

The object of the class pictures, according to those in charge of the publication, will be to make the L'Agenda a more thoroly representative college book. Heretofore the Juniors have been the only class officially represented in the book so far as photographs of the members are concerned. This year the third-year men will have a group picture of their class in addition to the individual photographs which go along with their write-ups. A motion, ordering this, was unanimously passed at a recent 1911 class meeting and the Juniors will pose for their picture on the campus next Saturday morning.

The heads of the three other classes—Seniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen—have the matter under consideration and will call class meetings within a few days when the members will be given an opportunity to vote whether they also want their picture in the L'Agenda.

Haste has been urged in the matter as so large groups must necessarily be photographed out of doors, which makes it imperative that the pictures be taken before severe weather sets in.

PEDDIE INSTITUTE.

Some of our students and friends will be interested to know that the trustees of the old South Jersey Institute have formally transferred title to the property to the trustees of the Peddie Institute. It is understood that Peddie will pay off all the pressing indebtedness and will then be able to acquire several endowments in years past.

It was thought that the city of Bridgeton would purchase the Institute for a high school, but it is now understood that the Peddie trustees will make an increase in the price and there will be no sale.

BUCKNELLIAN DANCE.

Every Bucknell student who enjoys dancing should attend the Bucknellians dance in the Armory, Friday evening, Nov. 5th. Dancing will start at 7.30 p. m. Subscription $1.00. Campbell's orchestra.

ALUMNI DINNER

PITTSBURG CLUB HAD PLEASANT GATHERING OCT. 15.

On Friday evening of Oct. 15, just before the Bucknell - Pittsburg game about thirty-five alumnae and matriculates gathered at the Fort Pitt Hotel and spent the evening in dining and telling stories of days gone by.

The past, present, and future of Bucknell was entertainingly pictured by the speakers. The fact that it was the eve of a great game drew the talk, largely to the athletic side of college days. There were present two of the eleven who defeated Cornell several years ago. The gathering listened to the following: "Shelley" Jones, who entered Bucknell in '58; Carl C. Law, '85; the Rev. A. B. Bowser, '88; the Rev. G. C. Horter, ex-'94; A. M. Wyant, ex-'94; Harry Wassel, '00; E. A. Morton, '05; Roy G. Bostwick, '05; R. W. Thompson, '04; and Manager Veltz, '10.

After dinner a short business session was held with Harry Wassel, '00, presiding. The Pittsburg-Bucknell Club was organized with Carl C. Law, '85, as President and Roy G. Bostwick, '05, as Secretary and Treasurer. An executive committee was appointed to arrange for a dinner to be given some tim ein January next.

UNIVERSITY BAND ACTIVELY AT WORK

TWO REHEARSALS A WEEK.

With a Membership of About Twenty Men Band Has a Bright Future if Properly Supported.

The call was issued the very first days of this term for students to join the University Band, and the number, including both old and new men, that has reported thus far, makes the outlook for the band this year exceedingly bright. Rehearsals are held twice a week, Tuesdays and Fridays, in Prof. Smith's Oratorium; about twenty men have been coming out to practice and others are still expected.

The movement to organize the Bucknell Band was started about a year ago, and from the beginning of last winter term the band has satisfied a long-felt need in the various activities of the institution. Under the leadership of Roy Long, '11, it came out to the basketball games and increased the attendance by enlivening the intervals between play with inspiring music. Also in the baseball season the band was not wanting when a large game was pulled of on the diamond or when a victory was celebrated at midnight. This fall, too, the band has been on hand on several occasions, and made mass meetings and the like more worth while.

Manager Banks, '10, is working energetically to put the band upon a good financial standing, and is also ready to book any engagements. The band is badly in need of new instruments. A bass horn and a baritone are especially needed to insure a good year's work, and uniforms are wanted too. The management will be glad at any time to receive financial aid in some form or other.

The appearance of a good college band at games and other events will probably depend upon the support which the band will receive from the student body. The men who devote their time to keeping up this organization do so merely for love of music and to give the institution what it needs and wants. They, therefore, promise to give full value at college events this year for all the backing which Bucknell students give them.

The names of the players are given here: Long, '11, leader, solo cornet; Houghton, Academy, solo cornet; DePierro, '13, solo cornet; Kendall, '11, 1st cornet; Fahringer, Academy, 1st cornet; Derr, '11, 2nd cornet; Jenner, '10, bass; Little, '12, bass; Loveland, '11, baritone; Ruth, '12, 1st trombone; Fisher, '13, slide trombone; Whitmeyer, '13, 2nd, trombone; Phillips, '13, 1st alto; Grondc, '11, 2nd alto; Hollenbach, '12, 3rd alto; Banks, '10, bass drum; Sprout, '10, and Ogden, '12, snare drums; Silvius, '10, solo clarinet; Powell, '13, piccolo and flute.

KAWASHIMA-IWAI.

Sweethearts when children in sunny Japan, and as the result of a chance meeting of the young pair two years ago, after they had not seen each other for many years, Isami Kawashima, ex-'06, of the Academy, and Moto Iwai were married on Oct. 14 at Philadelphia. The groom is a youth who has had a hard fight in this country, supporting himself during his schooling, a part of which he got at the Academy, by writing for Japanese magazines stories of the new world.

McCORMICK VISITED IN TOWN.

Harry McCormick, ex-'04, a member of the N. Y. National league team, arrived in Lewisburg on Tuesday for a short stay among old friends. Harry figured again in the game, and was near the top in hitting. He does not expect to play baseball next season, and intends to accept a position with a steel concern in Chicago, which city he left for on Wednesday. He has played professional ball for several years, and does not intend to follow the profession any longer.

CAP AND DAGGER.

Bucknell boasts of a dramatic club, but how far that boast is heard would be rather hard to surmise. The present club was permanently organized during the winter of 1909. The charter members being the caste of "Half-back Sandy"—given by the college men during the fall term of last year. There have been organizations of similar character at Bucknell in former years; but their ruins seem to have passed away with the dust of the ages.

The aim of the present club is to put dramatics on a permanent basis at Bucknell, and in so doing extend the college interests. It lies entirely with the students and the present members whether this club shall follow the examples of the past, or rise to a place of credit and excellence among the university activities. Other colleges and schools with smaller registrations than Bucknell successfully support and carry on dramatics. The question now is, why can't we "get together" on the proposition and do something worth while for ourselves and our Alma Mater? The time sacrificed is trivial in comparison to the experience and benefits derived. And then too, we want to get our college spirit in the forground and represent Bucknell on the road with a star caste every year. It is done elsewhere and can surely be accomplished here. Who would say that "Cap and Dagger" is not as suggestive of art as "The Mask and Wig?" But it must be remembered that not everything lies in the name; for it is the power behind that moves the machinery. And in this case the student body as a whole must "come up" with the support.

To carry on the work, and have Bucknell represented in the field every year with a good company, we must have material. Last year's class took some of the best with it, but surely there are others ready to take their places. In order to make this opportunity available to every fellow in college—Freshmen included—there will be a "try-out" on Wednesday evening of November 4th. This tryout is to be held in Euepia Hall before the present members of the club.

Now, fellows, every college man who has any dramatic ability at all is wanted to get in and try out. You need not have any experience—professionals cost money. But work up something in your own particular line and then make good. If you think you can't make a place for yourself, look around and send a substitute. This should interest every fellow in the University, and if we all work together we ought to get the best material there is and that means—Bucknell represented on the road. Doesn't that mean something to any college? So work it up for your college and the dramatic club, and hand in your names to Little, '11, on or before November 2.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

Following in our presentation the order of the Gospel we have now come to the beginning of the conflict between Jesus and his nation. This conflict, which begins in the second chapter, constitutes the tragedy of the Gospel.

The time that had elapsed between the death of Christ and the period in which the Gospel was written, seriously colored the author's view; for in that time the force that caused the death of Jesus issued in a division of the church of Jernsalem. Consequently in the tragedy of the Gospel there are only two actions, Jesus and the Jews, or light and darkness. The term Jews occuring very frequently has a peculiar signification: it stands for all hostility to Jesus.

The conflict between Jesus and his nation is set forth in specific acts involving a conflict of ideas. The cleansing of the temple was Christ's ervolt against the perversion of the sacred association of the temple; the interview with Nicodemus, corresponding with the Temptation in the wilderness, was Christs refusal to compromise with the Jewish hierarchy; the healing on the Sabbath was in assertion of the beneficence of God against the Institutionalism of the Jews. These acts presented as the embodiment of the conflict of ideas place the Gospel in the category of tragedies.

COMMUNICATION.

The Editor is in receipt of a letter which comes from a Gettysburg man, and which is here given in part, without the knowledge of the writer, to set aright, perchance, some of our views of the Gettysburg-Bucknell game, and also to give the courteous and generous writer a just hearing.

Dear Sir:—

Your write-up of our game was very fair except in the matter of that forward pass. One of our own players said the ball was not over the line when the whistle blew. But the referee allowed it and you won fair and square. I do not believe a snappier game was ever played on Nixon field, and the Bucknell players played a clean hard game. The whole team was out to win just as ours was, and the contest was a peach.

I would also like to state that we had no wood collected for a bonfire. I happen to be cheer leader and can vouch for that fact. Of course I do not blame you fellows for feeling good over the victory, for I know how I have felt in the past. I hope your team has a most successful season.

Sincerely,

Freshmen Beat Northumberland.

Freshmen speed and superior all-round playing triumphed over Northumberland weight on Saturday when the first-year men won from the down river eleven by the score of 6-5. The extremely wet field interfered greatly with the playing but the Bucknell men proved to have much the better team. The only score of the opponents was really illegal and the score should be 6-0. Foley, Fetter and captain Fisher showed up well for the Freshmen. The 1913 men are well satisfied with their showing and have high hopes of winning the game next Saturday when they line up against the 1912 eleven.

Captain Inman Sealby, commander of the White Star Line steamer Republic when she was sunk last February after a collision with the Italian steamer Florida, has entered the University of Michigan, as a freshman law student at 50 years of age. The collision, with the litigation which has followed to determine the responsibility for it, turned Captain Sealby's attention to admiralty law and its opportunities. "I want to be treated like any other freshman in Ann Arbor," Captain Sealby said; "If there is any ducking of freshmen done I want my share."

SOPHOMORES DEFEATED FIRST YEAR MEN

BOTH TEAMS WORKED HARD.

Victory For 1912 Uncertain Until the End. Interesting Scraps During the Afternoon. Score 8-6.

In a close and exciting football game, Saturday afternoon, the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen in the annual contest by the score of 8-6. The playing of both teams was good throughout and kept the excitement at top notch. It was one of the best interclass contests ever seen on the local gridiron, because of the fact that from start to finish it was either team's game.

Lister kicked off for the Sophomores and Fetter was downed on the thirty-yard line. After a couple plays the Sophomores got the ball on a fumble. They worked it down to the Freshman twenty-five yard line and Piez dropped a field goal, making the score 3-0 in favor the Sophs. Lister kicked off again to the Freshman ten-yard line. Fetter returned the ball fifteen yards. The Freshmen tried an end run and a line plunge after which Fisher punted. The Sophomores lost the ball on a blocked kick. Fisher next tried an onside kick and the ball was recovered by Egolf and advanced to the three-yard line. On the second line plunge captain Fisher took the ball over for a touchdown. Fetter kicked the goal making the score 6-3 in favor of the first year men. Fisher on the kickoff tried a short side kick and the ball was recovered by C. Steele. Because the ball did not go the required distance before recovered, the Freshmen were penalized five yards and forced to rekick. Fisher then kicked off for about fifty yds. After that the playing was done mostly in the center of the field.

In the second half the playing was very exciting and the teams were well matched. The Garnet and Steel showed speed while the Red and Black had the advantage in weight. The ball seesawed back and forth between the two teams, and the gains were slight. After twelve minutes of play, as the result of a bad fumble, Kinaman secured the ball with an open field before him and ran fifty yards for a touchdown, Lister failed to kick the goal, and the score stood 8-6 in favor of the Sophs. The sudden and unexpected scoring of the Sophs, seemed to cause a depression in the Freshmen eleven for they showed a tendency toward loose playing thereafter. The Sophs., although outplayed by the first-year men during most of the game, seemed to enter the contest with much more spirit after they had secured the lead and easily prevented the Freshmen from making much headway during the remainder of the contest. In fact the game ended with the ball in the Freshmen's territory.

There were several features of the game which stood out prominently. The punting of both Fisher and Dufton showed up well. The work of the two quarterback's, Lang and Fetter, was exceptionally good for an interclass contest. Both men handled punts well and both showed good judgement in directing the plays. Captain Lister showed himself fully deserving of his position by his excellent work at halfback. Courter, Conover and Sweet also played well in their respective positions. Richards, Goehring, Egolf and the two Steele's did good work for the Freshmen. One of the prettiest and most spectacular plays of the game was an end run by C. Steele who took the ball over the goal line after a thirty-five yard run. The ball had to be brought back however because one of the players was declared offside.

Previous to the contest and also immediately after the spectators were furnished with a little amusement by the underclassmen. At noon the Sophs. painted the goal posts. As a result the Freshmen, just before the game, tried to remove the paint, but were immediately set upon by the Sophomores and a lively wrestling match ensued The upperclassmen finally interfered because the scrap was delaying the game. Between the halves one of the Freshmen climbed up a telegraph pole near the gymnasium and put up a garnet and steel banner after which he smeared the pole with grease in order to prevent the Sophs from ascending to remove the flag. After the game a lively scrap ensued during which Langford climbed a nearby pole, walked along hte wires to the pole upon which the banner was fastened. After removing the banner he lighted and burned it. Upon descending he was given a great ovation by the Sophs including an automobile ride around the track in company with a party of 1912 girls.

The line-up:—

HALLOW'EEN PARTY

COLLEGE WOMEN DEVOTE SATURDAY EVENING TO FUN.

The Hallowe'en Party, under the management of Miss Schillinger and the "Frill and Frown," was an especially delightful affair this year. All Saturday evening was devoted to the fun. Each girl appeared in costume at dinner,—as Witches, Red Riding-Hood, Milk-maids, and other dress representative of the "Witches Eve."

All went directly to the New "Gym," after dinner where "spooky" entertainment was offered, and mirth provoking games indulged in. Goblins and Oracles were consulted by the curious ones, while the "Fates" handed out at the "Witches Post Office" were received with resignation by those who saw no use of resisting the inevitable. Abundant refreshments were placed where all could help themselves ,and everyone was happy.

The prize for the most original costume was awarded to Rebeccah Gibbons, '13, for the prettiest costume to Helen Clark; and for the prettiest booth to Florence Clum, '12.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY.

At a meeting of the Chemical Society on Thursday afternoon at 4.15 the production of chlorine was discussed. Wolf, '12, opened the subject with a paper telling about the Weldon and Deacon processes of manufacture submitting also a drawing of the Weldon apparatus. He showed how by this process the manganese dioxide used was largely recovered for use again, thus making the process cheaper. He said that the Deacon process was not in general use because it is too expensive.

After a general discussion of the subject and an announcement by the president, Reiter, '12, that Professor Hostetter would address the Society in two weeks, the meeting adjourned.

NEW FRATERNITY.

Kappa Delta Phi, recently organized, received the recognition of Pres. Harris last week. The members are: Benson, Baskins, Conover, Sherwood, Kresge, 1910; Kendall, Small, Bastian, 1911; Ogden DeLancey, Conover, Lister, English, 1912.

—All out for the State game.

STATE-BUCKNELL GAME NEXT SATURDAY

STATE HAS A STRONG TEAM.

Varsity Also Rounding Into Fine Form. Accommodations for Spectators. Large Cheering Section Wanted.

Plans for the State Bucknell game next Saturday, which will be one of the biggest athletic events that this section of the state has seen for some years, are fast nearing completion. And both elevens supported by the students are preparing for the battle royal which will take place on Bucknell's gridiron.

The coming of State to Lewisburg for the first time in ten years marks the second game between the two elevens since the athletic relations between the two institutions have been resumed. State's big team, with its scores to their credit in both the Carlisle and the Penn games is in excellent condition ,and is coming to Lewisburg in a special train confident of victory ,backed by about 800 enthusiastic students and the college band to keep things stirring.

L. J. Velte,
Football Manager.

Bucknell's team, on the other hand, is also rounding into fine form under the efficient coaching of Hoskins and Cockill.

Of the five games played thus far, the Varsity has won two, and tied the score in a third; and only one team, that it has met, has shown itself far superior to the Varsity. This team was Carlisle. Yet since then our team has been developing rapidly its new material, so that a comparison of scores will not at all show the strength of Bucknell's team at present, and consequently a grand contest is expected.

In view of the large crowds which are expected, arrangements are being made to accommodate the spectators. The general admission will be 50 cents. The North side of the field will be especially set aside for State students and supporters. These seats will be 50 cents. The South side of the field, which is the hill-side, will have a section of seats in the middle for 50 cents ,and at both ends there will be 25 cent seats. The Bucknell cheering section will be the end of the hillside toward the Gynasium.

Manager Velte and the cheer leaders are exceedingly desirous of having every student as well as all Bucknell supporters get together on that day and yell for old Bucknell. The students, headed by hte Band, are to gather in front of Main College at 130 and parade on the field in a body. The University Band has been practicing for the game, and will be out to help urge the team on to victory. The management also earnestly urges the Bucknell rootes to stay on the hillside during the game, and not to rush to the side lines so as to interfere with the playing or obstruct the view of other spectators. A fine array of Bucknell pennants will be the order of the day.

BUCKNELLIAN DANCE.

Every student wishing to aid a worthy cause should attend the Bucknellian dance Friday evening, Nov. 5. Dancing starts at 7.30. Campbell's orchestra of Sunbury will furnish the music. Subscription price, $1.00.

DEBATING LEAGUE.

On Wednesday evening the Bucknell Debating League met for the purpose of arranging the preliminary contests from which our team is to be chosen. The question suggested by Prof. Helm and Prof. Phillips was adopted as follows: "Resolved, that United States senators be elected by popular vote." It was further decided to hold the preliminary contest on Wednesday, Nov. 10. Each of the fourteen contestants is to choose whichever side of the question he pleases and prepare a presentation requiring not more than seven or eight minutes for deliverance. On the stated night the League will choose the best six out of fourteen for the finals.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

On Wednesday evening the Ministerial Association met at Prof. Owen's home. Reports were heard from Mitch, 10, and Crossman, '11, who attended the State Baptists meetings at Williamsport. Prof. Owens presented the matter of Sunday School teachers' training to the members and urged the formation of a class. The serving of refreshments closed the doings of the evening.

CLASS PICTURES FOR L'AGENDA.

In accordance with the plan of the 1911 L'Agenda Board to have class pictures in this year's publication, the Juniors posed for their picture on Saturday morning at the Library. The Senior class also decided at its meeting last week to have a picture in the Junior book, and theirs was taken this morning. The two underclasses have not yet done anything concerning the matter.

MASS MEETINGS

ENTHUSIASM FOR STATE GAME TO BE AROUSED.

The first Mass Meeting preparatory for the big State game next Saturday was held on Thursday evening, when the College Band interspersed the intervals, when there were no yells nor speeches ,with enlivening music.

Two more Mass Meetings are scheduled for this week to arouse college spirit so that Bucknell may hold her own against the large number of State rooters. The first meeting will be held this evening at 9 o'clock, and on Thursday night at 10 o'clock the final meeting is to be held.

Everybody is expected to attend these gatherings. The Band will be out again; there will be Alumni and other speakers; new college songs and yells will be practiced; and everybody is requested to secure copies of the songs and yells, which are being printed, and to become thoroughly familiar with them.

Stay Off the Field.

The football authorities urge all students to stay off the field during practice.

TWO ALUMNI AUTHORS.

During the summer months several articles have appeared in magazines from the pen of L. E. Theiss, '02, and his wife, Mary Bartol Theiss, '94, daughter of Prof. Bartol. The following articles signed by Mr. Theiss appeared in the August issues: "Feast days in the Italian Quarter," in the Bohemian; "The Last of These," a fresh air story, in Outing; and "The Fly Who Won't Wipe His Feet," in the Ladies Home Journal. In the Aug. and September issues of Good Housekeeping there appeared two articles signed by both Mr. and Mrs. Theiss, as follows: "The Restful Arrangement of Rooms," and "The Selection, Framing and Hanging of Pictures." The November Ladies Home Journal is also running an article by Mr. Theiss on "Dishonest Shopkeepers."

PIANO AND VIOLIN RECITALS.

Monsieur Flavien Vanderveken, a well known violinist of Brussels, Belgium, gave a recital before the teachers and young women at the Inst. on Friday evening. Also on Saturday afternoon in the schoolroom Miss Armstrong's pupils gave a violin and piano recital.

NO CIDER SCRAP ON SATURDAY

SOPHOMORE CLASS IS INDIGNANT

Freshmen Paint Town. Upperclassmen Make Rules for Painting, and Reestablish "Proc" Scraps.

The Orange and Blue last week announced a Cider Scrap to take place immediately after the Sophomore-Freshman football game followed by a symposium in which the sparkling apple juice was to play a prominent part. But even the intuitive sense of journalism could not foresee a possible hitch in the prearranged program. There was, however, such hitch and, as a result, there was no Cider Scrap on Saturday.

It came about in this way. The class of 1912, following up the custom of its predecessors, only with a little more paint to their credit, got busy in the early part of last week and gave the town an idea of how its numerals appear when traced on pavements in garnet and steel. The next day the Sophomores rounded up a bunch of the Freshmen ,intending to have them apply sandpaper and brush to their work of the night Some misunderstanding between Upperclassmen and Underclassmen arose; the Sophomores became indignant, held a class meeting, and decided that there would be neither game nor Cider Scrap. The game however, was played, but the Cider Scrap failed to come off.

The same affair was responsible for an Upperclassmen meeting last Tuesday evening, when some new rules were proposed and passed. The "Proc" Scraps, which were done away with at the beginning of the year, were restored. And concerning the matter of Underclass painting, it was decided that the town and class memorials, the new bridge across the river, and the buildings shall not be painted by Underclassmen.

4 DEATH OF OLD ALUMNUS.

Richard Henry Lee Atkinson, '59, a widely known mathematician and teacher, of Delanco, N. J., died on Oct. 17 in Philadelphia. His funeral was held Oct. 21 from the home of his son in that city.

Mr. Atkinson was born Nov. 24, 1835, and came of Quaker stock. He was graduated from Bucknell when it was still Lewisburg College. Having after graduation abandoned the idea of the ministry, he started a classical school in Richmond, Va.

The school was finally broken up by reason of the fact that all of the scholars enlisted in the Confederate Army at the opening of the Civil War. Mr. Atkinson tried to enlist with the Union Army, but as he could not pass the physical examination, he worked in the Commissary Department, and served to the end of the war. He then came to Philadelphia, and was made principal of Temple College, where also he taught mathematics and natural science. Later he taught at Temple Academy, in Camden. At different times he established classical schools in Booneville, Miss.; Camden, Del., and Huntingdon and Tyrone, Pa. His last school was at Delanco. Mr. Atkinson is survived by a widow, two daughters and a son.

The election of officers in the Senior class at the University of Iowa is to be conducted by the Australian ballot.

The University of Illinois has adopted drastic orders for the abolishment of hazing and recently expelled two sophomores for that offense.

The Daily Princetonian, records the death of C. C. Cuyler, by whose will the college receives $100,000, at present and approximately $3,000,000 more upon the death of Mr. Cuyler's widow.

An unnamed donor has pledged $150,000 to the proposed $600,000 endowment fund for Wooster University. The gift is contingent on the collection of the remaining $450,000 by January 1, 1911.

THE STATE GAME.

State is coming down next Saturday and expects to take Bucknell into camp. Our old rivals, having played tie games with both the Carlisle Indians and the University of Penna., are worthy of our best efforts. They are confident of victory. So are we.

Upon next Saturdays game, then, we ought to bend our utmost energy. It is Bucknell's great game. How much is every student going to share in that greatness? We all can do our part if we only take time to find out what that part is and do it.

By way of suggestion, each and every student can be a courteous host on the day of the game, and help treat the large State delegation in the most gentlemanly way, no matter what the results of the football contest may be. On this point too much emphasis can not be placed. The intense rivalry existing between the two institutions in athletics has, unfortunately, given rise to jealousies and suspicions which are not at all commendable. These have been augmented, far beyond what the real facts in the case warrant, by some newspaper talk. Now as far as Bucknell is concerned.—and we believe the same to be true of State, if we are to judge by the generous treatment accorded our team when they have formerly gone to State, —the greater mass of students have a feeling of only the healthiest rivalry toward State . We mean well by State, and it is quite certain that they feel the same way toward Bucknell. Saturday's great gridiron contest will give us a chance to put at ease some of the apprehensions which we occasionally hear. How much will each student help toward this end?

THE BUCKNELL BULLETIN.

The Bucknell Bulletin, hitherto issued quarterly will be issued Bi-monthly the first issue being for Nov. 1. Of this an edition of 15,000 will be issued. It is greatly desirable to have the names of young people likely to attend college, to whom a copy of the Bulletin may be sent. Students can render an important service by handing a list of such persons to the Registrar. The Bulletin for November will be devoted to the School of Engineering, giving an account both of the Courses in Civil and Electrical Engineering, and of the new Courses to be offered next year in Mechanical and Chemical Engineering.

MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The Medical Society last Friday afternoon listened to a very interesting talk by Prof. Smith, who spoke on the attitude of the clergy toward the medical profession. President Silman, '10, wants all medical students to attend these meetings, and help make them interesting.

This fall finds over 25,000 women and girls studying at the German universities.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

In our last study we arrived at this conclusion: the Gospel presents the life of Christ as a conflict of ideas and it dramatizes this conflict in a series of acts. The subject of this study is Jesus and his nation or the practice of religious liberty.

The conflict, according to the philosophical method of the author, has been analyzed into the underlying principles. In accounting for the refusal of the Jews to receive him Jesus said: "You receive glory from one another and the glory from the only God you do not seek." Again he said in the same context: "I do not receive glory from men." In accounting for the attitude of the Jews who believed in Jesus but who would not confess him, the author of the Gospel says: "Lest they should be put out of the synagogue; for they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God." The idea of "glory" in these passages is almost the same as the idea in our word reputation or the good opinion of others. The standard for the good opinion was superficial; "they judged according to appearance." In short the standard was traditionalism. Therefore when the blind man who was healed, was cast out of the synagogue, he lost his reputation, his religious standing; he lost the glory of men. When he believed on Jesus, he obtained abundant life in spite of his loss. In this parable the Jews are the thieves and robbers; Jesus, the Shepherd.

Nothwithstanding this conflict Jesus was loyal to the institutions of his nation. He breathed the uncongenial rabbinical atmosphere of the synagogue; he attended the perfunctory services of the temple and of the feasts; he recognized the nations sacred book as a legitimate revelation of truth; he interpreted the mission of the nation as unique, "salvation is of the Jews."

The permanent lesson of this conflict between traditionalism and life, between orthodoxy and truth is this: we should be loyal to the institutions into which we are born; we should not stand aloof from our native religious practices, but while loyal to them we should claim for ourselves and others the privilege of interpreting these usages in the light of their history, and we should hold the right to set forth their spiritual meaning.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr, in an address to the students at the opening of the term made reference to the voluntary abolition of hazing at that institution. She said:

"This year is marked out for me from other years by the decision of the students of the college through their self-government association to do away with what has been a blot on the fair escutcheon of Bryn Mawr and give up once and for all the silly and ungenerous practice of teasing, embarrassing and hectoring the younger and inexperienced students. However slight this hectoring may have been, it was uncivilized and barbarous."

"The real hero in university life is the student who conscientiously does his university work," said President Jacob Gould Schurman, of Cornell University, in his annual address to the students at the opening of college. The president rapped the outside activities which take up the students' time, and said that intellectual things were regarded more highly abroad than in this country. He said in part: "There are in our universities those who love what they call student activities. In many they take a larger place than they ought. The university exists for intellectual work to be done in the laboratory, the class room and at home. Every student activity that interferes with good scholarship is a mistake. I recognize no student activity of supreme importance except studious activities."

COMMUNICATION.

The following article was found in the Editor's box, and while we at all times give just consideration to such communications we cannot hold ourselves responsible for sentiments expressed therein.

"No person using our library has a right to mark the books in any way. No book belongs to any individual reader. He is not the only one to use it during his sojourn at Bucknell, nor are we of the present day the only ones ever to use it, for our institution will not die, but thrive forever. We must not forget neither the great cost of the different books, nor the impossibility of replacing so many of them. To us, of course, they may often seem to have no great value, because it costs us so little to enjoy the privilege of college study and because so many books are piled up around us. That is, however, a mistake. The fact, that friends of Bucknell, kind, charitable, and philanthropic have put a college education in reach of about everybody by such generous donations that the difference between the actual cost of a college course and the amount paid by the student, is found to be about as enormous as the difference in cost between the real expense incurred in transmitting a letter to Philadelphia and a two cent postage stamp, makes many of us fail to realize what the institution with all its property should really mean to us; how grateful we should be for our opportunity, and how carefully we should use the treasures put at our disposal.

"But there are other reasons for not marking books. Who, for instance, has a right to point out to me what he considers worth while in a paragraph? Who is conceited enough to want to show all comers by means of his dirty pencil marks what he thinks is the meat of a particular page? Who knows that the same point will attract me in a poem as struck the fancy of some previous reader? Why, even the individual changes from time to time. Have you ever examined a book marked in your younger days? You would not do it just the same way now? What right have you then to think that every reader of the book mutilated by you, will be just as you were when you read it and covered it with the tracks of your weakness? Books should, indeed, not be marked, for as to ownership and possession they are too sacred, as to price too precious, and as to message and contents too full of possibilities.

STATE COLLEGE WINS FROM BUCKNELL

IMMENSE CROWD SEES GAME.

Both Teams Play Great Football But State Has an Eleven of Veterans. Final Score 33-0.

Before one of the largest crowds that ever graced Bucknell's campus, the State College eleven, by superior all around playing coupled with good luck at critical moments, succeeded in trouncing the 'Varsity to the tune of 33-0. In spite of the score the game was rather good and at times was exciting. The contest was confined to straight football during nearly the entire seventy minutes of play and was likewise distinguished for the clean playing on both sides.

More than an hour before the game began the spectators began to assemble. From north and south, east and west the crowds poured into old Lewisburg and into the athletic field. About four hundred State students, accompanied by alumni and supporters took their places on the north side of the field, either in the bleachers or along the ropes. The Bucknell sympathizers occupied the hill. The students were assembled at the east end, from the goal line to the thirty-five yard line. Back of the college men the girls assembled and helped cheer for the Orange and Blue. At the foot of the hill the Bucknell Band was stationed, while the running track was occupied by nearly a hundred automobiles.

Just before the game the band of twenty-six men gave several selections When the teams came on the field they were greeted with hearty cheers from both sides of the field.

The first half opened by Captain Vorhis kicked off to Clarke who caught the ball behind the Bucknell line and touched it down. The ball was then put in play on the twenty-five yard line. Jordan kicked the ball out of danger but Vorhis soon returned it by kicking to Jordan.

Piolett got down the field nearly as fast as the ball and collided with Jordan and the latter dropped the ball which was then seized by the State end. In the collision Jordan was slightly injured but continued to play. By line plunges State advanced the ball as far as the Orange and Blue one yard line. Here the 'Varsity held firm and State lost the ball. Jordan attempted to kick out but State blocked the kick and Weaver fell upon he bll for a touchdown. Vorhis failed to kick the goal. During the next ten minutes the ball seesawed back and forth and the playing was in the center of the field. Finally by straight football State worked down the field to Bucnkell's twelve yard line. They tried three plunges but the Bucknell men yielded only slowly. On the third plunge State made a first down on a mere question of inches. On the second plunge McCleary succeeded in taking it across the line for the second touchdown. On the kick out State failed to catch the ball and accordingly lost the trial for goal. The half ended soon afterward with the score 10-0 in favor of State.

Between the halves the Bucknell men formed in line and executed a snake dance up and down the field, after which they gathered into a group and gave a few yells. States student's contented themselves with yelling and counting the score.

The second half was largely repetition of the first except that State seemed to keep her pace while the 'Varsity showed that they were beginning to feel the strain. Again in this half State had a streak of good luck. Once when State fumbled after an end run the ball bounded into the hands of Piolett who had no one between him and the goal line and easily tallied a touchdown. Again they were aided by a poor decision on the part of Field Judge Tyler who claimed that Bucknell failed in a forward pass although Schmidt touched the ball with both hands before it struck the ground. It should have been a first down for Bucknell but the official's decision meant a matter of thirty yards and forced the 'Varsity to punt. A few minutes later another penalty gave State the ball on Bucknell's ten yard line and resulted in a touchdown for the Blue and White. In this half State ran in a few fresh men and kept their team at its old pace. Bucknell was unable to do the same because of the number of injured men. Three of the four goals tried were tallied by State and gave them the score of 33-0. Only once during the game did Bucknell have a good chance to score which was in the second half when O'Brien tried a goal from field but failed by about four feet.

Considering the fact that the State men were heavier and in much better physical condition than the 'Varsity the work of latter was as good as could be expected. The team is rather to be congratulated for holding State as it did. The spirit shown by the student body was good too, for cheers were given up until the very close of the game. The spirit of the girls is especially commendable for they not only came out in a body and helped cheer but even held a mass meeting the night before and practiced songs and cheers.

Regarding the playing of the individual players, every man on the State team was "on the job." Vorhis showed great generalship while Hirshman and McCleary were their greatest ground gainers. Piolett showed up well in speed and tackling. For Bucknell Groff and Edmunds played their usual good game. The tackling of Zehner and Baskins was also one of the features of Bucknell's playing. Clarke and Daniels were the greatest ground gainers but both were handicapped. "Jimmy" has not yet recovered from his injury at West Virginia, and the State game was the first in which Daniels has played this season. O'Brien did good work at quarter. Schmidt made some nice tackles also. The strongest point of defensive work for the 'Varsity was in the matter of forward passes. State made six attempts at passing and succeeded in only one because their men were interfered with so readily by the home eleven.

Saturday's line-up:—

| Bucknell | | State |
|---|---|---|
| Campuzano | left end | Piolett |
| Kerstetter | left tackle | Brown Smith |
| Groff | left guard | Riddle Johnson |
| Baskins | center | Estept Watson |
| Edmunds | right guard | Gray |
| Cober | right tackle | Weaver Harlow |
| Schmidt Richards | right end | Very |
| O'Brien Watkins | quarterback | Vorhis Herman |
| Clarke | let halfback | Hirshman Barrett |
| Daniels | right halfback | McCleary Engle |
| Jordan Zehner | fullback | Mouthe |

Touchdowns—Weaver, McCleary, 3, Piolett, Hirshman. Goals from touchdowns—Vorhis 2, McCleary. Umpire—Tyler, Princeton. Referee—Denniston, Univ. of Penna. Field judge—Thorn, Haverford. Head linesman—Church. Linesmen — Shipp, Bucknell; Keller, State. Time of halves—35 minutes each.

The Bucknell-State Game, as Seen From the Side-lines.

For the first ten or fifteen minutes of the game the Bucnkell team, individually and as a unit, played almost perfect football. The line from tackle tackle charged with the ball, getting into State's territory very quickly, and breaking up State's formation before they were able to gain any momentum, thereby allowing the secondary defense to move up and defeat their plays, so that State was unable to advance the ball to gain the required ten yards in the four downs, and was compelled in consequence to punt in order to get the ball out of its own territory.

TWO NEW COURSES IN CURRICULM

BOTH COURSES IN ENGINEERING.

Old Course in Chemistry Changed to Chemical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering Added.

The University Bulletin for November which is just coming from the hands of the printers and of which 15,000 are to be sent out is an engineering number, and in addition to giving the curricula of the Civil and Electrical Engineering courses it also presents two new courses of study, one in Mechanical Engineering and another in Chemical Engineering. This makes the number of engineering courses at Bucknell four.

Heretofore Bucknell offered eight courses of study, each extending thru four years. The total number of courses now is nine instead of ten as might be expected by the addition of the two new courses in engineering. But the old course in Chemistry was dropped when the recent changes were made in the curriculm by the faculty, or rather it was changed to the course in Chemical Engineering. Both the new courses lead to the first degrees in their respective work.

The main features of the Chemical Engineering Courses are the fewer electives as compared with the old course in Chemistry and also two years of physics are required instead of one. Chemical preparations will be given throughout the entire senior year of this course.

The course in Mechanical Engineering is practically the same as the course in Electrical Engineering up to the Senior year when some changes take place. In this course, however, shopwork is required of students throughout the four years with a course for each year. The first consists of carpentry, cabinet work and the principles of woodcutting. The second covers pattern-making, simple moulding and machine shop practice, in the third a careful study is made of the various types of gasoline and gas engines, their theory history and design being discussed. The work in the fourth course is practically similar to that of the third.

With the introduction of these new courses, in thoroughness of instruction, in completeness of Courses and in equipment necessary for experimental work, the School of Engineering at Bucknell is on a par with the best.

DICKINSON GAME

BIG CONTEST EXPECTED NEXT SATURDAY.

Next Saturday the 'Varsity plays the strong Dickinson eleven on our own field. Earlier in the season Dickinson held the University of Pennsylvania to the score of 16-0, and on Oct. 30 made the Dickinson-Gettysburg score 14-0, in favor of Dickinson. It appears thus as if next Saturday's game is going to be closer than two years ago when Bucknell beat Dickinson by the score of 48-0. Last year's game, played at Dickinson, resulted 6-0 against Bucknell.

"Pat" O'Brien, '09, Bucknell's football captain last year, is playing center on the Dickinson team and did some classy work in the Gettysburg game. But Bucknell has also an O'Brien on its team whose work as quarterback is at least on a par with the doughty tackling of our former genial captain.

Dickinson is making arrangements to have a hundred students accompany their team to Lewisburg, and in all probability their college band will also come along. College spirit, especially since the defeat of Gettysburg, is running high at Dickinson. They expect to repeat the performance of last year, and to that end are putting forth their efforts.

Alumnae Club Meeting.

The Bucknell Alumnae Club will meet in the Institute parlors, Tuesday, Nov. 9th., at 7.30 p. m.

SOPHOMORE STUNTFEST.

At a meeting of the subcommittees of the Sophomore class about a week ago a general organization was affected. The general committee recommended that the class give a Stuntfest sometime in Nov. They then elected Langford, general director; Schreiber, stage manager; McNeal, business manager; Weiss advertising agent; Kinnaman, music committee. A program of striking novelty was roughed out, the details being left to the members of the class for execution. Every man will do his best to produce a funny entertainment. The high standard of last cal convention will encourage sideyear established by a unique politisplitting stunts by the present Sophomores.

MASS MEETINGS.

ENTHUSIASM BEFORE STATE GAME WAS HIGH.

In two of the largest Mass meetings held at Bucknell for some years, enthusiasm was at a high pitch last week in preparation for the State game. The cause of this intense feeling of rivalry was only such college spirit as is customary before great athletic contests, and the fact that Saturday's game was the great event of the football season as well as for this section of the state accentuated in an immeasurable degree the Bucknell spirit, and also demonstrated that when necessary, Bucknell students still have enough vivacity and force to make the old halls of the institution reecho with good old college yells and songs.

The first Mass meeting was held last Monday evening when most of the time was taken up with the practice of yells and songs also some speeches. Earle, '10, lead the singing which was accompanied for the most part by the band. Upon that evening there was an exuberance of college spirit which kept growing until the second Mass meeting on Thursday evening.

Thursday evening was reserved for members of the Faculty to make speeches. Those who responded were Professors Colestock, Lindemann, Smith, Johnson and Steininger. While anecdotes, including fish stories, made up a part of their talks, they told of former days of glory at Bucknell, and when all was over the students felt themselves anticipating the State game with buoyant hearts. The practice of songs and yells and the taking of a collection for the band ended the organized enthusiasm for the week up to Saturday noon.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

On Thursday evening the devotional meeting of the College Y M. C. A. was given over to Manager Veite, '10, and his squad of football men. He addressed the fellows taking as his subject "Weights" from the 12th chapter of Hebrews. After the interesting talk of the leader a number of fellows spoke, and almost all found some instructive feature in athletics worthy of notice. Prayer by the father of Hean, '12, closed the meeting.

DEATH OF BUCKNELL MAN.

A. Curtis Felnour ex-'06, died Sunday morning at Mt. Alto Sanatorium of tuberculosis. Mr. Felnour had completed his course at Bucknell up to the end of his Junior year. He is a Lewisburg man, and well known in this section. His funeral will be held in Lewisburg on Wednesday.

CLASS PICTURES.

Following the example of the Upperclassmen in respect to having class pictures in the L'Agenda the Freshmen had their picture taken last Monday and the Sophomores posed for theirs on Saturday morning.

PRESIDENT SPARKS OF STATE.

Dr. Sparks, President of State College, saw the game Saturday. He came from State in an automobile accompanied by several members of his family and some friends.

Debating tryout, Wednesday eve.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR ECONOMIC ESSAYS

THREE CLASSES OF CONTESTANTS

Hart Schaffner & Marx to Divide 2,000 Among Competitors. Subjects Suggested.

The opportunity to compete for the Economic Prizes offered by Hart Schaffner & Marx has been brought to the attention of students of this University by Professor J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago, who is chairman of the committee of the contests.

Papers for the prizes are to be submitted before June 1, 1910. There are five prizes, totalling $2,000. The contestants are divided into three classes, fuller details of which may be had from the head of the department of political economy. The prizes are divided as follows:—

Class "A," first prize $600; second prize $400.

Class "B," first prize $500; second prize $200.

Class "C," first prize $500;

Classes "A" and "B" refer particularly to college graduates and undergraduates, and the following subjects have been suggested by Prof. Laughlin's committee:

1. The effect of labor unions on international trade.
2. The best means of raising the wages of the unskilled.
3. A comparison between the theory and the actual practice of protectionism in the United States.
4. A scheme for an ideal monetary system for the United States.
5. The true relation of the central government to trusts.
6. How much of J. S. Mill's economic system survives?
7. A central bank as a factor in a financial crisis.

The members of the committee, aside from Prof. Laughlin, are:

Prof. J. B. Clark, Columbia University; Prof. Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Horace White, Esq., New York City; and Edwin F. Gay, Harvard University.

LECTURE ON PHYSIOGNOMY.

Prof. H. E. Willis, of New York, gave a lecture on Friday evening in Bucknell Hall on the subject of "Physiognomy." The talk from the very nature of the subject was quite interesting and an appreciative audience listened to the Professor developing his theme.

"The proper study of mankind is man" is the poet's way of expressing what Mr. Hillis has been following out in his many years experience as a student of human nature, and his talk, founded on observation, had four divisions; form, color, expression, and action. As to form, the character of an individual is indicated by the shape of the crown of the head. The Grecian, the Roman, and the business nose (broad Carnegie nose) stand, respectively, for culture, courage, and speculation. The eye gives expression to the mind, and its color is indicative of the temperament of the person. Even the lips, according to this speaker, show the intensity of the emotions; the thick lip expressing a high degree of emotion and the thin lip a cold nature.

By taking up the separate features of the head in this way the speaker explained that every thought in the mind has its expression in the face, which according to him, then, is the index of character.

STUDENT SECRETARY.

F. O. Koehler, State Student Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will address the meeting on Thursday evening in Y. M. C. A. Hall. There will be special music, and all are cordially invited to attend.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

The College Week of Prayer will be observed from Nov. 14 to 21. Prayer groups will meet each morning in different dormitories where those interested are asked to join.

THE STATE GAME.

The great State-Bucknell football game for 1909 is already a thing of the past. Bucknell's squad of plucky warriors were no even match for the onslaughts of State's veteran team, which, undoubtedly, takes rank with the best teams in the college world. State put up a classy game of football, and they are to be congratulated upon the splendid organization of athletes that represent their college. But despite the great score by which we were beaten, it was a magnificent game from start to finish, and Bucknell need have no cause for feeling disappointed over results, for even defeat has its elements of victory.

We fought and lost, but we lost while doing our best to win. And the grim determination which our team displayed against greater odds until the very last second of play was the main incentive which kept our large cheering section giving yell after yell for what they knew was a losing team. In fact the spirit of Bucknell rooters, although far from being what it might be, demonstrated clearly that Bucknell men can support their team if they take a mind to it. Even the College girls were loyal in that they came to the game in body and helped the boys root for the team. Shall the same spirit be continued and even bettered at the Dickinson game next Saturday?

To fall mentioning the good order and the sportsmanlike spirit shown by one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed an athletic contest on Bucknell field, would be overlooking the most commendable feature of the game, if the fact be taken into consideration that so much was said concerning the matter of a fight for several weeks prior to the contest. The State delegation showed themselves desirable guests, and the Bucknell students proved that they can be courteous hosts even in the face of defeat.

"A WONDERFUL BOY."

One of the great wonders in the college and educational world at present is the case of William James Sidis, a special student at Harvard at the age of eleven years. The fact that he is probably the youngest student ever accepted by Harvard is itself of unusual interest; but transcending that is the boy's remarkable mental development, which, according to the opinion of Dr. Sidis, the father, is not so much the result of innate talent as of special training.

The simple facts in the life of this "wonderful boy' are these: before he was three years of age he could spell and read; he wrote well, even on the typewriter, before he was five years of age; nad at six he entered the grammar school. There in six months he had passed through seven grades entering the High School when eight years of age.

Such extraordinary mental attainments are, according to Dr. Sidis, due to these educational principles: the proper time to begin education is as soon as the child shows an active interest in his environment. This involves no forcing process, but rather indicates that men simply have not made use of their "hidden energies." He says, there ought to be as much pleasure in the acquisition of knowledge as in the playing of games. Such views the father has put into practice in the education of his son.

This Harvard scholar boy is far advanced in mathematics, and at the university takes up the study of quaternions. But he is also proficient in history, astronomy, and the languages. Along with his devotion to learning he is sturdy and robust, active both mentally and physically.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

Following in our topics the order of the Gospel, we now come to the fourth chapter. Outside of the prologue we come in this chapter to the first universal messages of Jesus "The hour cometh and now is when the true worshipper shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth." At this point, then, we take up the subject: Jesus and those who knew him not historically.

Notwithstanding the Jewish limitations of the Gospel in territory and in thought, there are two passages that comprehend in their teaching both Jews and Gentiles who had neither seen nor heard Jesus. In 10:16 Jesus says: "Other sheep I have that are not of this fold." The term, "this fold," refers to the Jews and "other sheep," to the Gentiles. In 11:52 the author says: "And not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one the children of God scattered abroad." The term "nation" in the singular refers to the Jews and "the children of God" to the Gentiles. From these passages we infer that there were in the time of Christ Gentiles who had never hear or seen Jesus who had that peculiar ethical and spiritual character expressed in the term, "children of God."

This conclusion in confirmed by the teachings of this Gospel. The spiritual nature of God explained in the fourth chapter implies a spiritual relation that is accessible even to Gentiles. In 7:14-45 Jesus describes how men come to him; they are drawn by the Father, the Father draws them by teaching them. The Jews were so taught by God in the Old Testament that had they accepted its teachings, they would have received Christ. The Gentiles were also taught by God by that moral character with which he endowed them, which is described in this Gospel by the term "light." Of this "light" Jesus was the perfect expression; but every man receiving the "light" was a relative expression of it. Further this "light" had been given to every man in all ages. Paul's teaching concerning the conscience of the Gentiles is parallel to John's teaching concerning "light" in relation to Gentiles. Therefore some Jews, taught through the Scriptures, some Gentiles, taught thru the "light," were virtually children of God, although they had neither heard nor seen Jesus. Of this truth there is in the Gospel a conclative: those children of God who did not know Jesus historically, would receive him when he presented himself to them. In this conclusion and the conclative there is a permanent truth: as man's relation to God is spiritual, as man is greater than any form or institution he may create, so he may be a child of God in spite of creed or form or institution.

The next topic will be, the bearing of this conclusion on missionary work.

STATE COLLEGE WINS FROM BUCKNELL.

Concluded from first page.

Bucknell handled State's punts well and started in on offensive work. It was very noticeable, at this point, that the back field go off very slowly. They seemed to feel their way instead of moving with dash and precision, and in consequence were compelled to punt back to State. From this time on Bucknell seemed to lack initiative both defensively and offensively.

The fact that Bucknell's offensive machine was unable to do its work seemed to take confidence from the individual player. This was shown by the fact that Bucknell's line, instead of charging the instant the ball was passed, waited to see what State's back field was going to do.

State's charging machine was almost perfect—its back field quick to take advantage of Bucknell's slowness in charging and therefore the man carrying the ball for State and his interference were able to gain considerable momentum and cross the line of scrimmage at great speed. Bucknell's secondary defence, instead of moving up quickly to meet these plays waited for the plays to come to them.

To sum up: The first ten or fifteen minutes of play showed good football by Bucknell, but when it came to offensive work there was a manifest lack of dash, spirit and driving power. As the game progressed this would have improved very much as confidence was gained had the defence done its work. After this time there was too much hesitancy in every part of Bucknell's defensive machine, both individually and collectively; the line did not charge the instant the ball was passed; they did not "go to meet the play," but waited for it; they did not break up the interference so the secondary defence could get the man. In consequence the secondary defence immediately were up against a hard proposition, but instead of waiting for someone (not knowing who it would be) to break up this interference, they should have gone to meet the play and break up the interference.

Individually the players showed conscientious work and the loss of the game should not be charged to the team; it lies absolutely on the student body.

No team can be successful without an efficient scrub team. There cannot be an efficient scrub team without a large number of candidates, and these candidates must come from the student body itself.

No man knows what he can do in football until he has tried, and that not for a week but for a whole season.

In looking over the men on the side lines during practice the last few days it was very noticeable that at least one hundred men, conservatively speaking, were present who could and should have been out in uniform, to lend whatever help they could to make a winning team. These same men are now bemoaning the fact that Bucknell did not win, and criticising the team, individually and collectively, for the result, when in truth the loss and score can be attributed solely to themselves, because they did not come out and make up a team against which the 'Varsity could practice its offense and defense. Had they come out, the work of the Varsity might have been vastly different. So much, then, to the discredit of these one hundred or more men.

The season is not yet too far gone for these men to come out and partially redeem themselves from opprobrium by helping to round the Varsity into shape for the remaining games of the season, and laying a foundation for next years team and —VICTORIES.

DICKINSON AND BUCKNELL TIE SCORE

GAME LARGELY A PUNTING DUEL.

Visitors Score Two Goals from Field, While Bucknell Ties with Touchdown and Goal. Score 6-6.

With less than one minute to play in the Bucknell-Dickinson game, on Saturday afternoon, Captain Coulson secured the ball on a fumble and ran fifteen yards for a touchdown. O'Brien kicked the goal and thereby an apparent defeat was turned into a tie with the score 6-6. It was one of the closest and most exciting games ever played on the local gridiron. Brilliant and sensational plays were noticed very frequently. In most of these Clarke, Baskins or Mt. Pleasant figured prominently.

Though not so large as last week, the attendance was very good. The hill served as the Bucknell cheering section while Dickinson occupied the bleachers on the north side of the field. Both the Bucknell band and the Dickinson band rendered a number of selections during the afternoon.

In the first half the game was largely a kicking duel between Mt. Pleasant and O'Brien which resulted a little in favor of the Indian veteran. Mt. Pleasant kicked off to O'Brien at the opening of the game. Bucknell attempted a forward pass but lost the ball. After a couple kicks back and forth Dickinson made a fair catch on Bucknell's thirty-yard line and Mt. Pleasant kicked a goal from placement making the score 3-0 in favor of the Red and White. Twice again Mt. Pleasant attempted long goals but failed. The remainder of the half was confined largely to kicking and only two first downs were made by each side in this half. In the latter part of the half Dickinson received an unexpected jolt when Clarke, who has been nursing an injured ankle all season, suddenly began to kick in his old time form and immediately put the Red and White "on the run." Jimmie delighted the Bucknell rooters by showing that even with an injured ankle he is the equal, if not the superior, of the great Mt. Pleasant.

The second half opened with a kick off by O'Brien . Mt. Pleasant punted to Clarke. O'Brien attempted an onside kick but Dickinson recovered the ball. Mt. Pleasant punted again and Bucknell began to try line plunges. After making one first down they lost the ball while trying to repeat the trick. Mt. Pleasant then kicked to O'Brien. Clarke punted to Young who made a sensational run for 40 yards before he was stopped by Clarke. Dickinson attempted line plunges but failed, so that on the third down Mt. Pleasant kicked another goal from placement from the forty-yard line. With the score 6-0 in favor of Dickinson the local eleven went into the game with greater vim. O'Brien kicked off and Mt. Pleasant punted to Clarke who ran back about ten yards. Daniels then ploughed thru Dickinson for fifteen yards. Clarke followed with eight and Cober went through for another first down. Gradually the Orange and Blue pushed their opponents back. Mt. Pleasant punting ceased to count for he had met his match in Clarke.

Dickinson was forced back to their own fifteen yard line with less than one minute to play. Instead of punting they tried to advance the ball but Nebinger fumbled, and Capt. Coulson seized the ball and made the fifteen yards for a touchdown while the Dickinson eleven looked on in consternation and disgust. O'Brien kicked the goal and the game ended 6-6.

For Dickinson it was all Mt. Pleasant for he is nearly a team in himself. Two Bucknell men stood out very prominently Saturday. Clarke's general all around work was first-class and called forth rounds of applause. The work off Baskins at center was of the sensational order. Time and again the merry little center crashed through Dickinson's line and broke up their plays. A number of times he caught the man with the ball and threw him for loss before he could get started. The guards, Edmunds and Groff, likewise did great work on the defensive. Kurtz made several nice gains as did Daniels. O'Brien showed good judgement in handling the team. The superiority of the locals over the visitors is seen in the fact that in the second half Dickinson made only one first down. Another week of such playing should give Bucknell a victory over Swarthmore next Saturday.

The line-up:—

| Bucknell | | Dickinson |
|---|---|---|
| Piez | left end | Cook |
| Zehner, Campuzano | | Hertzler |
| Coulson | left tackle | Felton |
| Groff | left guard | Long |
| Baskins | center | O'Brien |
| Cober | right tackle | Gougler |
| Schmidt | right end | Hess |
| O'Brien | quarter back | Mt. Pleasant |
| Clarke | left halfback | Young |
| Daniels | right halfback | Nebinger |
| Kelly | | |
| Kurtz | full back | Mann. |

Touchdowns—Coulson. Goal from touchdown— O'Brien. Goals from placement—Mt. Pleasant 2. Referee—Gillender, University of Pennsylvania. Umpire Tyler, Princeton. Field Judge—Thorn, Haverford. Head linesman— Evans, Bellefonte. Linesmen—Mackin, Dickinson; McDonough, Bucknell. Time of halves—30 minutes each.

SENIOR RECEPTION

EVENING DEVOTED TO JOLLY ENTERTAINMENT.

An informal reception, given by the Senior girls in honor of the Senior men, was held in the Seminary Parlors Friday evening. The honored guests of the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Harris, Miss Bush, Prof. Edwards and Mr. Koehler the visiting Y. M. C. A. Secretary.

As each guest entered the rooms, he was handed a card upon which was found the name of each Senior present, but the letters were so mixed that even the French students had difficulty in deciphering them.

Scattered about the parlor in odd corners were twelve tables at which "stunts" of amusing character were performed. As soon as a couple performed the task satisfactorily they progressed to the next in order. To sew on buttons, draw objects while blind-folded, to thread needles, spear peanuts and the like were some of the tasks assigned at the tables.

The prize, a Bucknell Girl, (picture) was awarded to C. Park Edmunds as the winner of the most points. The booby prize went to Mr. Koehler.

After awarding the prizes the Senior girls drew peanuts decorated with orange and blue, in which they found the name of the man whom she was to take out to refreshments.

During the evening a beautiful violin solo was rendered by Miss Cathers, and a clarinet solo by Miss Mohring. Bucknell songs and yells were heartily joined in by all present. Before the party broke up, Miss Johnson gathered the company together in the schoolroom for a flashlight picture. More songs were sung by the men; then as the last notes of "Goodnight, ladies" died away the guests took leave, and voted it a jolly evening.

The supervision of the reception was looked after by Kathalyn Voorhis, the President of the Senior Girls.

REV. JOSEPH N. FOLWELL.

The Rev. Joseph N. Folwell, ex-'53, a retired Baptist clergyman, well known in South Jersey, died at his home in Kingston, N. J., Saturday morning. He was 84 years old, one of three brothers who were Baptist clergymen, and a graduate of Bucknell University and was formerly pastor of the Wynn Memorial and Emanuel Churches, Camden, as well as several other prominent charges. He had also written a number of religious hymns and poems.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN'S ANNUAL BANQUET

TWO EVENTS CELEBRATED.

Special Program to Commemorate Birth of Schiller. Toasts Responded to by Members of Verein.

On Thursday evening, November 10, the Deutscher Verein availed itself of the opportunity to celebrate, in connection with its annual banquet, two events of great interest to every German student.

The first of these events was the defeat of the Roman troops under Varus by the German Arminius, in the fall of the year 1759, A. D. This is particularly interesting because it marks, probably, the beginning of the independence of the tribes which formed the foundation of present Germany. When Augustus Caesar sent his army north under Varus to conquer the Teutonic tribes north of him, Arminius formed an alliance of German chiefs and, with the courage of libetry of our Teutonic ancestors, went to meet the Romans. The hostile armies met in what is known as the Teutoburger Schlacht. The Romans were completely destroyed and never again attempted a conquest of Germany.

The second event was the birth of Friedrich Schiller, on Nov. 10, 1759. In honor of this second of great German poets, a special program had been arranged.

After twenty-six members of the Verein had gathered in the parlor off the Cameron House, the following program was presented: Gesang, Fraeulein Radack; Maria Stuart, Act V, Scene 6, Fraeulein Hare; Musik, Fraeulein Cathers; Jungfrau von Orleans, Prolog, 4, Fraeulein Wright.

Then followed the banquet, during the course of which the toastmaster, Herr Hedge, introduced these toasts: Der Verein und die Universitaet, Herr Warmkessel; Der Verein, Gegenwart und Zukunft, Fraeulein Geis; Der Verein als Begeisterung zu Hoeheren Studien ,Herr Prof. Rockwell. Fraeulein Bush and Herr Professor Riemer also responded to toasts. The enjoyment of the evening ended with a flash-light picture of the Verein.

GOT A HANDSOME VOTE.

The Bucknell friends of Willard M. Bunnell, '97, of Scranton, will be pleased in the handsome vote given him at the election last week in his county, when he received a majority of over 5000 for a second term as prothonotary of his county. Three years ago Mr. Bunnell got the plum worth $6,000 a year by 300 majority and the second term with a decidedly flattering majority.

F. O. KOEHLER VISITS.

F. O. Koehler, State Student Secretary, spent a large part of the week on the hill. Thursday evening he conducted the Y. M. C. A. meeting, and then spent several days consulting the various committees of the Y. M. C. A. and is especially pleased with the great advance that has been made in Mission study.

RHODES TESTS.

Rhodes scholarship examinations were held at Haverford College, Oct. 19 and 20. Eight candidates representing five states and five colleges took the tests. Eight men is the smallest number of candidates that the examining board has had. Selection of successful men will be announced at the end of January, 1910.

PROF. COLESTOCK LECTURES.

Prof. Colestock was one of the instructors at the Union County Teachers' institute held in town last week. He gave two lectures on "The Meaning of the Revolutionary War."

DEUTSCHER VEREIN.

The following new members were recently taken into the Deutscher Verein:—Miss Whitaker, '11, Schreiber, '12, and Davies, '12.

BUCKNELL ALUMNAE CLUB.

The Bucknell Alumnae Club met in the Institute Parlors on Tuesday, Nov. 9. Owing to several social affairs occurring in the same evening the attendance was not very large but those who were there enjoyed a most excellent programe.

The general subject for the year is "Germany" and the progame dealt with "Early Germany" and "Martin Luther." Mrs. Bourne gave the history of early Germany, telling of the origin of the German race and tracing their growth, character, and achievements; while Miss VanGundy in a very interesting resume of the life of Martin Luther told of his boyhood, the circumstances which led to his conversion and the most important part he played in the "Reformation."

The musical numbers of the programe; a song by Miss Hopper, and piano solo, by Miss Dietrich were enjoyed by all.

SWARTHMORE-BUCKNELL GAME.

Next Saturday the Varsity will go to Swarthmore to play the Quaker team. The down-state eleven is not as strong this year as it was several seasons ago when it ranked with the best elevens of the country. Two years ago they beat Bucknell by the score of 35 to 5. They have played, practically ,a losing schedule thus far this year, and while Bucknell must put forth her best efforts, it has a good chance to redeem the defeat of two years ago.

PRETTY WEDDING

MISS JUDD BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. J. LEIGH SHIELDS.

On Thursday morning the home of the Rev. and Mr. and Mrs. Judd, on University Avenue, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when the daughter, Miss Sara Ethel Judd became hte bride of Mr. J. Leigh Shields, formerly of Lewisburg but now of Pittsburg. Dr. Judd, the father of the bride, and pastor of the Baptist church, officiated. The bridal couple were without attendants. Only the families and immediate friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony.

The bride and groom are well known in Lewisburg and are both graduates from Bucknell University, the former being a member of the class of '02, and the latter of the class of '06. Mr. Shields is at present connected with the Portland Concrete Construction company of Pittsburg. He and his bride left Thursday afternoon amid a shower of confetti for Wilkinsburg, a suburb of Pittsburg, where they will be at home after December 1.

PROF. SMITH SPEAKS.

Professor Bromely Smith addressed the Medical Society on the conflict between the physicians and the priests He took the position that the battle had been between those who believed in a natural cause and cure of disease, and those who upheld the doctrine of a supernatural cause and cure. He traced the conflict from the days of Esculapius and Hippocrates to Simpson and Koch. He showed that the war is still going on, though the victory seems to be largely with the physicians. In conclusion he declared there should be no conflict between pure religion and pure science, but there would be trouble when either upheld error.

WEDDING INVITATIONS ISSUED.

Invitations to the wedding of Miss Florence C. Callaghan, of Philadelphia, to Mr. Morris C. VanGundy, '98, formerly of this place, now of Port Arthur, Texas ,have been issued. The wedding will take place at the bride-elect's home in Philadelphia on Nov. 20. The bride is well known in Lewisburg, and for two years was art instructor at the Institute.

Y. M. C. A.

The College and Academy Y. M. C. A's will join in a union Thanksgiving service, Thursday evening. Edwards, '10, will be the leader.

FOURTEEN READY FOR DEBATING LEAGUE

PRELIMINARY TRY-OUT WED.

Considerable Interest Shown in Intercollegiate Work. Treasurer of League After More Dues.

The preliminary contest which was to be held last Wednesday evening for the intercollegiate debating team had to be postponed on account of some of the contestants not being able to be present. But it will be held this coming Wednesday evening in Bucknell Hall at 8 o'clock, when the question: "Resolved, that the United States senators be elected by popular vote," is to be discussed.

Up to this time fourteen contestants have presented themselves, and from this number, it is safe to predict, two excellent teams could be chosen. This will mean hustling to win first place, and furthermore it appears as if the debating spirit at Bucknell had resurrected. Before the Wednesday evening contest the president expects to have a meeting with the debaters to arrange upon a satisfactory means of choosing the team which is to represent Bucknell against Gettysburg in the first of the intercollegiate series on Jan. 14. It has been suggested that, instead of having the league elect the team, a number of competent judges be secured who should assist the members in the choice of the best debaters.

In view of the fact that considerable interest has developed about college in this line of literary work, the treasurer of the league should have no difficulty, when he shall make his visits in the near future, in securing the twenty-five cents, as membership dues. Upon this method he must depend entirely this year to get the necessary money to meet Bucknell's share of the expenses.

Those who have handed in their names as contestants are: Timlin, Cranmer, Smith, Hedge, Benson, Kresge, 1910; Spurgeon, Tyson, '11; Hean, Miller, Coll, McNeal, 1912 ; DelPierro, Smith, 1913.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY.

Professor Hostetter addressed the Chemical Society on Thursday afternoon on the subject of "Specialties in Chemistry." "Inorganic chemistry, he said, is the most important line in the field of advantage. This includes the study of mineral products and raw materials. Of the different branches of inorganic chemistry, metallurgy is the most important.

Next in the outline is Analytic chemistry, the basis of all chemistry and a field in which there is a great demand for more workers. Electro chemistry was next discussed. Under this head Electro metallurgy and Radio activity come, the latter of which promises in some future time a great addition to the present knowledge of matter. Chemistry of physiology was also discussed. It is the business of a chemist, either to make something new, or to make cost of production of present products cheaper by utilizing the by-products.

To succeed in chemistry a chemist must have a knowledge of mathematics ,German, French, and the English language.

PRES. HARRIS ON PROGRAM.

President Harris was one of the speakers on the program of the twenty-seventh annual session of the Baptist Congress, held in the Madison Avenue Baptist Church, New York, Nov. 9, 10 and 11. Dr. Harris addressed the session on Thursday on the subject, "Realizing the Presence of God."

FOOTBALL PLAYER KILLED.

NEWS.

Not infrequently there is some dissatisfaction arising from the fact that not all the news which is handed to the editor is put in the Orange and Blue. This is liable to happen and does happen in the case of every paper of this kind, simply because it is sometimes unavoidable. But much of this will not happen if the news comes in when it should.

We must to a great extent depend upon the student body for much of the news appearing in these columns, and indeed if the students would not assist in the matter a college paper would be almost impossible. We want all the news we can get, and we guarantee that the greater part will be used if it comes to us early enough. To be sure it can not be written up before it happens, but when once there is news, there is no necessity for waiting to give it to the paper until the very last minute before the paper is to come from the press.

As a weekly publication the Orange and Blue attempts to chronicle all the events that happen throughout the week. This really means that all news up to Saturday noon should also be handed in by that time. If it is not handed in an effort will be made to write up other material for the paper which would not be so necessary or which could wait. And this is done for this simple reason that it is impossible to set up the paper in a single day. A fixed amount of copy must be in by Saturday evening and the rest of the space is reserved for the events occurring over Sunday. Thus it can be easily seen that when a great part of the paper is made up on Saturday (and it is and must be so), the news, coming in on Mondays is dealt with as well as can be done under the circumstances.

The point to be kept in mind, then, is that we want all the news there is, but that in order to be satisfactory to all concerned it should be handed to us as soon as possible. Otherwise we will not hold ourselves responsible for the omission of news from these columns.

The majority of Cornell freshmen who have been examined by the physical department this fall suffer from indigestion; many of them have eye trouble, and there are a great many mild cases of spinal curvature. Such is the statement issued by the department. The report shows that among the 520 freshmen examined many are physically deficient, as follows: Right shoulder lower than left, 395; spinal curvature, 435; left shoulder lower than right, 80; flat chest, 33; uniformly contracted chest, 29; pigeon chest, 17; funnel chest, 10; barrel chest, 3; chest contracted on one side, 7; goitre, 9; weak arch, one or both feet, 155.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

The conclusion of our last study is this: there were children of God who did not know Jesus historically, but who would accept him when he would be presented to them. What bearing has this conclusion on missionary work?

Today there may be children of God among those who have never heard of Jesus. As evidence for this we may refer to the life of men like Neesima of Japan, and as further testimony we have some of the teachings of non-Christian religions. The educational ideal of the Mohammedan Educational Conference would be accepted by any Christian gathering; the ethical code off the bedic church is summed up in these words, "everyone should look for his own good in promoting the good of all;" Confucianism ranks among the best ethical systems of the world. The mystical philosophy of the Orient received from the late Dr. Hall this commendation: "The Fourth Gospel is finding today, in Hindu and Mohammedan circles of culture, students who approach its sacred mysteries with an enthusiasm and reverence worthy of the apostle age."

Approaching the people of the Orient not with an air of superiority, recognizing their indigenous truths, we may lead the people into the light. Church unity may come in the Orient through a want of Occidental individualism. "My meat is to do the will of him that sent me," may receive a finer interpretation in the Oriental's disregard of bodily comforts. "My Father and I are one,—this precious truth may find a home in the impersonal, mystical religious consciousness of the Orient.

The motive for missions is the worth and the possibilities of the people; the appeal is not to pity, but to courage for a mighty undertaking.

A letter from Carlos Alvarez, Civil bamba, Ecuador, says: "Eleven days after my arrival here I received a telegram from a man who wanted me to design a summer resort on the Engineer, '09, who is located at Rioseashore near Guyaquil; the proposition inclued the planning of about thirty-five cottages for the wealthy families who go out of the city during the rainy season, also the planning of the water supply system and drainage of the "cindadela" or little city, as it is called. This was quite an undertaking for my first commission, yet I, of course, did not tell him, that it would be too much for me but said I would be ready as soon as the instruments I had ordered from New York arrived."

Senor Alvarez then goes on with an account of his successful completion of the details of the project. He also states that one of the railroads there wants him to come to work for them at $150 per month, but he can not consider such an offer when he is earning three and four times that amount in his independent practice as a civil engineer.

VOLUME XIV. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1909. NUMBER 9

SWARTHMORE WINS FROM ORANGE AND BLUE TEAM

THE LOCAL TEAM OUTPLAYED.

Garnet's Style of Open Play Coupled with Many Accidents to Bucknell Players Made the Score 29-0.

Fast work in running back punts, in recovering the ball on onside kicks, sensational forward passes and incidentally the series of accidents to the local back field gave Swarthmore an overwhelming victory over Buckell on Saturday afternoon. The Garnet had the Orange and Blue outplayed in all points except in the line where the advantage was rather in favor of the latter. Just what the score would have been if the home team had been able to remain intact is only a matter of conjecture but the general opinion is that it would never have reached the actual score of 29-0.

In the first half O'Brien kicked off to Wickham who returned the ball 20 yards. Bucknell's line held firm and Swarthmore was forced to punt. Tarble sent a low quick kick to Bucknell's 20 yard line where Geig fell on the ball for the Garnet. Wickham next made a forward pass to Perkins who ran fifteen yards for a touchdown. Perkins kicked the goal. Swarthmore then kicked off to Kurtz. Clarke punted and the ball was recovered by Swarthmore out of bounds. Swarthmore fumbled and Bucknell secured the ball. About that time the disastrous series of accidents began. O'Brien was the first victim and was replaced by Kelley. Daniels, Clarke and Kurtz advanced the ball for a first down. Failing to make another down Bucknell tried a drop kick but the ball went wild and was recovered by Swarthmore. Again the accidents figured prominently. Clarke the star halfback and punter met a fate similar to O'Brien, the drop-kicker. Very soon afterward the husky right halfback Daniels was tallied as victim number three. Kurtz was now the only member of the original back-field in the game and yet there had been but little more than ten minutes of play. "The fates" seem to have been kind to John or else he is a little tougher than the three. Kurtz was shifted to left halfback, Jordan went in at fullback and McDonough took Daniel's place at right halfback. Plez also was forced to give way to Campuzano. Swarthmore's lucky touchdown semmed to inspire them with an unusual burst of ginger while the awful gap in the local backfield for a time took the life out of the team. Another onside kick was recovered by Geig and the big tackle took the ball over for a second touchdown. Perkins again kicked the goal.

Swarthmore developed another burst of speed and by open playing took the ball to Bucknell's one-yard line Here the Garnet was brought face to face with Bucknell's line and found it impregnable and lost the ball. Jordan punted and Schmidt recovered the ball. The Orange and Blue made another first down and then kicked to Wickham who ran 90 yards for a touchdown. Bucknell was not yet disheartened and went at Swarthmore in great shape and drove them back to their own 25 yard line. Geig again recovered the Wickham's punt and went 40 yards for the fourth touchdown

The second half opened like the first and a recovered punt gave Swarthmore her fifth touchdown Perkins failed to make the goal and the score stood 29-0 in favor of the Garnet. The playing charged a lot afterward and the Orange and Blue had the better of the argument but failed to score.

For Swarthmore, Wickham, Geig, and Perkins were the stars. Campuzano, Kurtz and Baskins carried off the honors for the local eleven. One noticeable fact was that Swarthmore was forced to use a fresh man at center in the second half in order to try to stop the fierce onslaughts of the "man from Nebraska."

The lie-up:—

| Bucknell | | Swarthmore |
|---|---|---|
| Plez . . . . | left end | . . . . Perkins |
| | | Campuzano |
| Coulson . . . | left tackle | . . . Geig |

Touchdowns — Boughton, Geig 2, Perkins, Wickham. Goals from touchdowns—Perkins 4. Referee—Dennisston, University of Penna. Umpire — Tyler, Princeton. Field judge—McCarthy, Germantown Academy. Time of halves—35 minutes.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

The following comment on Saturday's game at Swarthmore, taken from the North American, may be of interest to admirers of the game.

Geo. Brooke sprang something new at Swarthmore on Saturday. The end of the season at hand, the coach felt safe in trying an experiment he has contemplated for some time, to throw away the old football entirely and play only the most modern game.

The system was absolutely modern. There was no line bucking at all. The system was all end runs, onside kicks and long forward passes. The defense was the same old-fashioned stout line, with quick action backfield that Franklin Field has grown accustomed to.

Bucknell played the old-time game and was a mark for the Swarthmore forward passing. The throws were made overhand, low and swift, like a third baseman would shoot a ball to first. Wickham made throws fifty yards long, and those who made the catches were so fast that by no manner could they be caught.

On offense Swarthmore opened up almost like a soccer team, with the quarterback standing as if for a punt. But he didn't punt. Some times there would be two or three back passes before the forward pass was launched, but that was the one that did the trick, and the man who had the catchig to do wasn't covered. It looked like the football of the future.

MATRICULATION IN BUCKNELL HALL TODAY

DR. PERRINE DELIVERS ADDRESS

125 Students Formally Become Members of Univ. After Eight Weeks of Faithful Preparation.

This afternoon at 3.15 one hundred and twenty-five students matriculated in Bucknell Hall, after showing for eight weeks in classroom work that they were fitted to become members of the University. The Matriculation Address was delivered to the new men by Dr. Perrine who took as his subject, "Some Marks of an Educated Man," from which extracts are here given.

"There are at least four such marks—everywhere recognized. The first and fundamental is—the Power and the Desire to seek the facts in a given situation, and not to rest easy until they are found. I say the Desire as well as the Power, for one may have the ability but not the Willingness to do this; and the one without the other is like the shear-blade of the scissors—useless.

"And the second mark of an educated man is the Power and Willingness to deduce from the facts when found correct conclusions. I say Willingness as well as Power because the two curses of modern thought are these: first, a giving forth of what the proclaimer has not found to be true, and secondly, a giving forth of what the proclaimer has taken little or no pains to find out to be true.

"The third mark of an educated man is this: the Power and the Willingness to use correctly and with effect the Mother Tongue, whatever that may be. And here I say Willingness as well as Power because one, knowing better, easily slips into carelessness that pervades the air about him. In such case that which he has discovered, that which he has concluded remains much as though it were not. He cannot tell the truth, —he can tell only a perversion of the truth.

"The fourth mark of an educated man is this; the Power and the Willingness to do worthy things after one has thought them and said them; to reduce, or better, to exalt one's theory into practice; to provide the concrete example of his contention; to show that what he proposes is workable. I say Willingness as well as Power because so often when one has thought and said the true thing, there his anxiety ceases.

"But one may say, is not a man educated until he shows forth these marks — careful investigation, accurate thinking, attractive speech, successful deed,—can he make no claim unless he presents these credentials? This is a counsel of perfection; this is beyond us; this is disheartening; this is for the chosen few; are these the "sine qua non?" In one sense none is educated unless he is able to exhibit these marks,—and not even then for education is a ceaseless, unending development. But we need not be discouraged. One may be educated though he does not show all these marks, nor any one of them to a remarkable degree. Is there within him a longing to know?—then in the truest of senses, he is educated. Is he willing to pay the price—modesty and deprivation?—then he is educated."

DELEGATES TO CONVENTION.

Bucknell will be represented by five delegates at the Sixth International Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement which will be held at Rochester, N. Y., from Dec. 29 to Jan. 2. Those who have been selected are: Katharine Bailey, '10; Helen Ruth, '12; Prof. C. C. Fries, Earle, '10, and Hoffman, '12. The purpose of this convention is to bring together at Rochester representative delegations of students and professors from all important institutions of learning in Canada and the United States, and with these to consider the world's missionary problems.

COLLEGE Y. M. C. A.

Last Thursday evening the Academy Y. M. C. A. accepted the invitation of the College association, and combined with them in a rousing union devotional meeting which was pronounced one of the best of the term. Edwards, '10, was the leader and gave a very pointed and helpful talk on "What Christ is to a College Man," a very appropriate subject for the Week of Prayer. It was shown in a reverent manner that Christ is to a man what the root is to the plant ,that is, He holds us fast to God, He is a store-house of what we need, He feeds us daily.

From the large attendance there were a number of responses. After the meeting the cabinet met to consider plans for the coming concert, and also matters pertaining to the revival looked forward to next term.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TRY-OUT.

At the preliminaries for the intercollegiate debate held last Wednesday evening the following men made good: Timlin, Smith, Cranmer, '10; Spurgeon, '11; Heau, Coll, '12; DePierro, '13.

Next Tuesday evening the finals are to come off in Bucknell Hall at 9 o'clock. Profs. Phillips and Hamblin have consented to act as judges. The question to be discussed will be; Resolved , that United States Senators should be elected by popular vote. The candidates have the privilege of choosing their own side of the question, and each one will be given eight minutes.

The president of the league desires that the students turn out and form an audience for the speakers, as this would be one way of aiding the work, inasmuch that the candidates would not be compelled to speak to empty seats.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

The Ministerial Association met last Wednesday evening at the home of Prof. Colestock who gave them an interesting talk on "Celibacy." He treated the subject in an historical way, showing how celibacy entered the early church, and its influence up to modern times. After the address refreshments were served.

The attendance was not very good owing to the fact that several other meetings were being held on the hill at the same time. The next meeting will be held the last Wednesday in January.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

PROF. RIEMER ADDRESSES AUDIENCE IN CHAPEL.

Under the auspices of the Deutscher Verein Prof. Riemer on Saturday evening gave an illustrated lecture in Bucknell on Paris. The views which he showed belong to Prof. Nevins, formerly instructor in German at Bucknell, through whose generosity in sending the slides the lecture was made possible. A large and appreciative audience, invited especially by the members of the Verein, listened to the speaker for fully an hour describing the places pictured on the screen and especially pointing out the historic places of interest. The slides themselves were exceptionally good and showed modern Paris very well. In addition to being quite recent the selection of views covered the main points of interest in Paris. Just enough pictures of the buildings, streets ,squares, and monuments, added to those of palace rooms, art galleries, and interiors of cathedrals, were shown to give one a fair view of the great city of fashion on the banks of the Seine.

Y. M. C. A. CONCERT.

Prof F. VanDerveken and daughter Carmen Derveken will give a concert in Bucknell Hall, Friday evening, Dec. 3, under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A. Prof. VanDerveken is a very talented violinist as is known to many in this vicinity, while his daughter is an accomplished pianist. The Y. M. C. A. offers this entertainment for the low price of 35 cents per ticket.

BUCKNELL RESERVES LOSE TO WILKES-BARRE

OUTWEIGHED BY OPPONENTS.

High School Made a Touchdown in Each Half. Scrub Team Showed Itself in Good Form. Score 12-0.

The Reserve team showed a decided improvement over their playing early in the season and held the husky Wilkes-Barre High School team to the score of 12-0 as against the score of 17-0 here a few weeks ago. The men got into the game but found themselves outweighed by their opponents. They put up a great fight however and at the end of the first half Bucknell had the ball on the opponents five yard line. Wilkes-Barre made a touchdown in this half on a forward pass and kicked the goal and the half ended 6-0.

The second half was largely a repetition of the first and the High School had to confine itself to the open style of play since it found the local line unusually strong Another touchdown by Dunn and another goal by Chandler put the score 12-0

Dunn, Chandler and Rutstein did the best work for Wilkes-Barre. Richards, the Sweet brothers and Young did the best work for Bucknell. Although the team did not win they made a creditable showing against their husky opponents. Wilkes-Barre tried to repay the good treatment they received here by making the visit of the Reserves as pleasant as possible.

The lineup:—

| Reserves | | Wilkes-Barre |
|---|---|---|
| Richards . . . | left end | . . . Rutstein |
| H. Sweet . . . | left tackle | . . . Hessell |
| Thatcher . . | left guard | . . Ballbaugh |
| Morgan . . . . | center | . .. DuBois |
| | | Timberman |
| Weinstein . . | right guard | . . Weiss |
| | | Clark |
| Gibson . . . | right tackle | . . . Bloom |
| Steele . . . | right end | . . . Brown |
| S Sweet | | Stevens |
| Pearly . . | quarterback | . . Chandler |
| Egolf . . . | left halfback | . . . Dunn |
| Egolf . . | right halfback | . . Henney |
| Young . . . . | fullback | . . . . Miller |

Touchdowns—Dunn 2. Goals from touchdowns—Chandler 2. Referee — Pezick, Umpire—Dr. White, Timekeeper—Sweet. Time of halves—20 minutes.

CHEMCIAL SOCIETY.

On Thursday afternoon, Nov. 18, Mr. Morris VanGundy, '98, a graduate chemist who is now employed by a refining company in Texas, and who has returned for his wedding this week in Philadelphia to Miss Florence Callaghan, addressed the Chemical Society on "The Outline of Refinemeut in Texas."

He said that the Texas crude was much darker than the Pennsylvania crude, that it contained no parafine products. He then briefly described the process of distillation, cutting and purifying, and said that the making of lubricating oils was the most difficult, that the cutting for different grades of oil was a secret known only to a few oil men. He told that the flashing point and turning point tests are liable to differ in different states. Cylinder oils are compounded with from three to ten per cent of animal oils. Asphalt and fuel are products of still bottoms.

THANKSGIVING FOOTBALL GAME.

The Varsity will finish its schedule on Thursday when it will go to the National Capital to play the George Washington eleven who usually put up a fast article of ball. Last year's score resulted in a tie on 6, and a comparison of the teams would indicate that this years game will be close and interesting.

THANKSGIVING RECESS.

The Thanksgiving Recess will begin Wednesday noon and continue until Monday noon, Nov. 29. Students are already beginning to leave for their homes.

The next issue of the Orange and Blue will be two weeks from today on account of the Thanksgiving recess which begins this week.

DICKINSON COMMENT.

In the last number of "The Dickinsonian," the weekly publication of Dickinson College, there is an editorial of the spirit shown by Bucknell and Lewisburg people to the large number of football men and supporters who spent last Saturday in Lewisburg. From the article which is given here in full, we can readily see that Dickinson also as State College several weeks ago, was delighted with the treatment she received. Next to winning a game, and perhaps even taking first honors and glory, is to receive such praise from a sister college. The editorial referred to follows:—

The reports from the game on Saturday unanimously declare that never before was one college more royally treated by another than was Dickinson by Bucknell. Our band of one hundred rooters was met by a roar of greeting from hundreds of Bucknell throats as the train drew into Lewisburg. It seemed that no matter where Dickinsonians went a cry of welcome was heard. These courtesies were continued throughout the game. Bucknell was always ready to yell for a brilliant play, whether made by herself or her opponents. Our team left the town with the hospitable cheers of Bucknell ringing in her ears.

"As for us—we tried to return every courtesy, but our appreciation cannot be expressed by yells or words. We'll show you next year Bucknell, how you made us feel on Saturday."

MATRICULATION.

There is, apparently, to the new student who matriculated today, and especially so to the Freshman, nothing of deeper significance in formally becoming a member of the University than that he knows that he has made a good enough record since coming to college to be called, in reality, a student of Bucknell. This fact in itself,—of measuring up to requirements,—is not at all an unworthy accomplishment, and the anxious first-year man justly feels proud when he finds his name posted as one of the successful. There is something more, however, for the new matriculate to remember. By virtue of the fact that the University has recognized his efforts and has consequently given him her name ,he has, in a moral sense, obligated himself to the best interests, welfare, and success of the institution.

New matriculate, Bucknell has today given you her name, and that should spell to you opportunity in a hundred ways. Beyond its name and a glorious chance to become an educated man it can offer you nothing The rest depends all upon your self; and whether you will succeed in your college course and then go out into the world as a recognized leader in the various activities of life, or whether you will be a miserable failure both in college and out of college, must very largely be determined by the way this initial step of matriculation appeals to you.

Furthermore the future name of the institution is dependent upon your success. Shall Bucknell become greater and more influential because you have today matriculated as one of her students, or shall her course be in the opposite direction? Will you strive for her sake to possess some of the marks of an educated man, which were so inspiringly discussed by the speaker this afternoon, or will you be a despised weakling in society? Both courses are possible. Decide now which is yours.

EPLER GOES WITH PHILLIES.

Gusty Epler, the dark-complexioned outfielder and left-handed pitcher who played last season with Shamokin, and a former noted Bucknell player, has been signed for next season by the Philadelphia Nationals. Epler played in the Texas League for some time and made quite a reputation as a fielder and hitter.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

This study is an attempt to answer several questions, submitted in writing, which arose out of the discussion respecting Jesus and his nation. Two truths should be kept in mind: Jesus did not lay down rules but set forth principles, and the Fourth Gospel emphasizes the conflict in ideas.

The conclusion in regard to Jesus and his nation has in it three propositions. According to the first, if a man by birth or by natural association has become a Catholic, a Protestant, or a Hebrew, he should be loyal to the religious practices of his own church. According to the second, he should claim the privilege of the interpreting these religious practices in the light of their history. According to the third ,he should hold the right to set forth the spiritual meaning of the usages of his church. If he is a thinking man, he cannot be at his best until he has passed thru these stages.

By emphasis on the historical and the spiritual in religious institutions, a man may be led to change his religious relations. On the other hand it may be expedient for him to do as Jesus did; remain loyal to native consequence. If he must change, he should do it in the spirit in which Paul made his change: "I could wish myself anathema from Christ for my brethern's sake." The third resolution concerning ancestral worship in China, which was adopted by the Shanghai Conference in 1907 ,is an earnest of a future propaganda in harmony with the teachings of Jesus.

By the will of the late historian, Henry C. Lea, the University of Pennsylvania came into possession of a great and unique collection of rare volumes on history and economics.

Professor James J. Walsh, of the Fordham University School of Medicine, recently contested the claim of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine ot have been the first medical school of America, and put forward the claim that it has been anticipated by nearly two centuries by the Medical School of the University of Mexico.

A Graduates' Council, which has just been organized at Princeton University, is beginning an investigation of all undergraduate organizations from the football team to the glee club, the purpose being to devise means by which encroachments upon the students' time and attention, to the detriment of his curriculum work, may be avoided.

Last month the Harvard House at Stratford-on-Avon, England, the home of the father of the founder of Harvard University, was formally opened by Whitelaw Reid, American Ambassador to Great Britian. The house has been presented to Harvard University and restored to its original condition. It will be kept as a free resort for American tourists.

A Miss Margaret Hogan is an enthusiastic college girl of Barnard College, and though sightless since early childhood, she is making a fine record for herself in history and manual training, the latter to fit her to become an instructor of the blind. She attends lectures at college with unfailing regularity and ,writes out her work for the faculty on an ordinary typewriter. She has her books sent her from the New York State public library, and the State, too, gives her a pension of $300 a year to pay an assistant to read to her the lessons which she cannot obtain in books with raised characters.

Miss M. Cary Thomas, dean of Bryn Mawr College, chairma of a committee that has taken statistics on college women in the United States, reports that when men and women are educated together there is no greater number of marriages than when the sexes are educated separately; that 778 out of 1000 college women enjoy excellent health; only eight college women out of 1000 have ill health; that the health of women improves while in college; that college women in general have better health than women who do not attend college; that college women marry stronger men, and they choose more wisely.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOLUME XIV. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1909. NUMBER 10

'VARSITY ENDS SEASON WITH A VICTORY

WASHINGTON FIRST TO SCORE.

Bucknell Showed Superiority over Capital City Eleven. Open Style Used More. Score 12-6.

In spite of the prejudice against football which has been prevalent in the capital city recently, a good sized crowd turned out to see the Bucknell-George Washington game on Thanksgiving Day at the Washington American League Park. Owing to the slippery condition of the ground the playing was interfered with somewhat and caused ragged work at times. Bucknell, however, showed their superiority over their opponents and ended the season with a victory by the score of 12-6.

The local team profited by the lesson they learned at Swarthmore and played a more open game. Geo. Washington, however, held more to mass plays and end runs, which style gave Bucknell a chance to show the advantages of open playing. For a little variety the team worked the mass plays occasionally, since the Washington line had considerable difficulty in holding the Orange and Blue backfield in check.

The first half opened up with a little fast playing on both sides, and it appeared to be either team's game. After Bucknell had recovered a punt and returned the ball to the 40-yard line, Jordan attempted an onside kick. Hart, the big Washington tackle, broke through the line and, blocking the kick, gained possession of the ball and ran 40 yards for a touchdown. Ellis kicked the goal and gave Washington the lead by the score of 6-0. The lead of the Capital City eleven was short lived, however, for Bucknell came back into the game with a rush and swept the Washington team off its feet. Kurtz, Daniels, and Jordan were sent through the opponents' line for big gains. A clever forward pass netted the locals 15 yards more and Jordan was sent across the line on the final plunge. O'Brien kicked the goal and tied the score.

Once more the teams were upon equal footing as far as the score was concerned, yet there could be little doubt but that Geo. Washington was outclsased by her opponents. Bucknell maintained her speed and vim and drove Washington back to their 20-yd. line. Here Bucknell secured the ball on a fumble and soon decided the game. Only two plays were necessary to take the ball the remaining 20 yards for Daniels on the second plunge had little difficulty in plunging through the opposing eleven for a touchdown. O'Brien kicked the goal and gave the lead to Bucknell by the score of 12-6.

In the second half Washington took on a brace and was able to hold the locals in check a little better. Neither team played its best in this half, and the ball see-sawed back and forth, although most of the playing was in Washington's territory. Neither team was able to tally, so the score remained the same as in the first half.

Hart, the big tackle, was generally accredited with doing the best work for George Washington. Ellis also showed up in good form. For Bucknell Daniels, Kurtz and O'Brien did the best work in ground gaining. The line was up to its old stonewall strength as usual.

The line-up:—

| Bucknell | | Washington |
|---|---|---|
| Campuzano | left end | Crafts |
| Coulson | left tackle | Hart |
| Groff | left guard | Fowler |
| Baskins | center | Brandt |
| | | Bultough |
| Edmunds | right guard | Lucas |
| Cober | right tackle | Elckoff |
| Schmidt | right end | Whiting |
| Zehner | | White |
| O'Brien | quarterback | Morse |
| Kelley | | |
| Kurtz | left halfback | Bayliss |
| Daniels | right halfback | Ellis |
| Jordan | fullback | Farmer |
| Jordan | fullback | Farmer |

Touchdowns—Hart, Jordan, Daniels. Goals from touchdowns—Ellis, O'Brien 2. Referee—Gass. Umpire—Taggart, Rochester. Field judge Denniston, Univ. of Penna. Head linesman—Hopkins, Haverford. Time of halves—30 minutes.

MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Prof. Davis addressed the Medical Society on Friday afternoon on the subject, "What Medical Subjects Should Be Taught in College." He said this depended on the location and the equipment of the college. Colleges generally make the mistake of trying to teach too many rather than too few subjects. There are many subjects which colleges like Bucknell are not prepared nor equiped to teach. Such are experimental physiology and medical chemistry. Other subjects like human anatomy can be taught more thoroughly in colleges than in medical schools. As a rule subjects setting forth general principles should be taught. These will make the work in a medical college easier, clearer, and more interesting. He said colleges like Bucknell were handicapped by the state law requiring four years residence in a medical school. Many universities get around this by giving the baccalaureate and doctors degree in six or seven years.

THE REV. DR. J. S. JAMES

OLD ALUMNUS DIED LAST MONDAY AT ALTOONA.

Rev. Dr. John Sexton James, a former resident of this town, died at Altoona last Monday, where he was pastor of the First Baptist church for the last twelve years. He had enjoyed good health up to the time of his wife's death last February and then came the decline.

Dr. James was a son of Chas. S. James, Ph. D., and was born in Philadelphia on July 20, 1849. Shortly after his birth his parents moved to Lewisburg, where his father accepted the chair of mathematics at Bucknell. He was reared and educated here and when he had obtained a common school education he entered Bucknell, from which he graduated in 1868. While a student at Bucknell the Civil War broke out and the young man joined a special company composed of students and was in the field from July 20, 1864 until Nov. 25, 1864. He returned to college and completed his course. He then entered the Crozer Theological Seminary and graduated in 1871. He was married to Miss Anna Woodward Hakes in 1872, and their honeymoon was spent in Europe, and while abroad Dr. James took a course in theology at the universities of Leipsic and Erlangen. Upon his return to America he was ordained to the ministry of the Baptist church there. He served that congregation for ten years when he accepted a call to Germantown. After seven years he accepted a call to Hartford, Conn., and remained there until 1895.

Dr. James founded The Commonwealth, the official organ of the Baptist denomination in Pennsylvania. In 1892 he was honored by Bucknell University with the degree of doctor of divinity. Twelve years ago he accepted the pastorate of the Altoona charge. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and the Odd Fellows.

The remains were brought to Lewisburg on Thursday morning for interment. At the grave the Scriptures were read by Dr. Judd, pastor of the Baptist church and prayer was offered by Dr. Styles, of Altoona. The burial service was pronounced by Dr. Harris, and the benediction was given by Rev. J. R. Wood, of Hollidaysburg, who also preached the funeral sermon at Altoona.

REVIEW OF SEASON'S FOOTBALL RECORD

SCHEDULE OF NINE GAMES.

Three Were Won, Two Tied, and Four Lost. Statistics of 'Varsity Men Given by Coach Hoskins.

The victory over George Washington on Thanksgiving marked the close of the season for the 'Varsity, and while the present football eleven at Bucknell has not made a record equal to some of the former teams, it has done fully as well as its inherent strength, inexperience and weight would warrant. With two exceptions the players are far from the weight that is usually present in the line and back field.

Out of a schedule of nine games played on by three were won. The first game of the season with Susquehanna resulted in the score of 14 to 5 in favor of Bucknell. Two weeks later on Oct. 9 the 'Varsity went to Gettysburg and ine one of the hardest contested games of the term outplayed the plucky down-state rivals and beat them by the score of 9 to 3. The last victory, the write-up of which appears in this issue, came to the Orange and Blue team on Thanksgiving when George Washington University was defeated.

These are our victories, but the rest were not all defeats. Two scores were ties and both on 6. The game played with West Virginia University on Oct. 23 was a hard-fought battle, and although the outcome was not a victory for Bucknell, it showed the team's true mettle. The other tie was with Dickinson on Nov. 13. This game was played on Bucknell's field, and while it might be hard to tell which team had the better of the argument in all points of the contest, it was close at all stages and exceedingly interesting from the spectators point of view.

Four defeats also belong to our football record for 1909, but only one of these seems to have brought actual disappointment to the student body, and that was the victory which Swarthmore on Nov. 20 secured from the 'Varsity by using to remarkable effect the open style of play with which our team seemed unable to cope. The first great defeat of the term came in the second game of the year when the Carlisle Indians with their war slogan of "Remember the Baseball Defeat" won from the Orange and Blue eleven by the score of 48 to 6. The following Saturday, Oct. 16, in a great game the University of Pittsburg took us into camp by the tune of 18 to 6. On Nov. 6 in one of the greatest athletic contest ever pulled off on the Bucknell field State College with its veteran team, undefeated all season, accompanied by a large crowd of rooters, took off the honors of the day by the score of 33 to 0.

The defeats we suffered, with the possible exception of one, came from teams whose records for the term place them among the best in the country, and our showing against even some of these was farm from discouraging.

The following are some of the statistics of the 'Varsity squad for this term with a comment on the football situation by Coach Hoskins:—

Coulson, Capt., weight 178, age 21, height 5 feet 10 inches.
Baskins, weight, 168, age 20, height 5 feet 8 inches.
Edmunds, weight 200, age 22, height 6 feet.
Groff, weight 205, age 21, height 6 feet 2 inches.
Cober, weight 178, age 20, height 5 feet 10 inches.
Schmidt, weight 160, age 20, height 5 feet 7 inches.
Campuzano, weight 140, age 21, heighth 5 feet 7 inches.
O'Brien, weight, 127, age 20, height 5 feet 6 inches.
Kurtz, weight 160, age 20, height 5 feet 8 inches.
Clarke, weight 165, age 21, height 5 feet 7 inches.
Daniels, weight 165, age 21, height 5 feet 7 inches.
Jordan, weight 157, age 19, height 5 feet 11 inches.
Plez, weight 170, age 20, height 5 feet 11 inches.
Zehner, weight, 150, age 19, height 5 feet 7 inches.
Kelley, weight 150, age 19, height 5 feet 6 inches.
McDonough, weight 150 age 20., height 5 feet 8 inches.
Kerstetter, weight 150, age 20, height 5 feet 6 inches.
Watkins, weight 130, age 21, height 5 feet 6 inches.
Arnold, weight 170, age 20, height 5 feet 7 inches.

I find that the football season of 1909 was not a success. I think the students should support their team more,—not only by cheering the team when they are winning a game but also standing by their team when they are losing, and furthermore making them live up to the training rules.

Now is the time for the whole student body to try and get a good team together for next year. The first thing to do is to have a large number of students enter college next fall, and secondly to have the men take an earnest interest in their work all the year around.

I find that almost all the candidates for the football team,—with the exception of three or four men,—were not in good physical condition—a thing which is absolutely neccessary for a candidate for any athletic team. The same is true in respect to living up to the training rules all the time. A candidate should take for the entire year gymnasium exercise and cross country walks and running. In this way he will have his muscles in good hard condition when the football season comes around.

TEAM CHOSEN FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES

FINANCES NEEDED FOR WORK.

Other Institutions, Not in League, Express Desire to Meet Bucknell on Plaform.

A team to debate with Gettysburg and Lafayette next term was selected at the final try-out on the evening of Nov. 23. The men chosen to represent Bucknell are Timlin, '10; Cranmer, '10; DePierro, '13. Hean, '12, won the position of alternate. The selection of the team was made by Prof. Phillips and Prof. Hamblin.

During the past few days Earle, '10, president of the college debating club, has received communications from three institutions asking for a debate with a team from Bucknell. The colleges which wish to meet Bucknell on the platform are Notre Dame, in Indiana; Denison, in Ohio, and Muhlenburg. President Earle immediately replied that Bucknell would be happy to debate with them provided satisfactory arrangements could be made.

A special meeting of the debating club, of which every student in college is a member who pays the annual dues of one quarter, will be held at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, Dec. 8, to consider the three challenges received by the president. The matter of financing the debate with Gettysburg and Lafayette will also be considered. Wage, '12, treasurer of the debating club, will see the presidents of the fraternal and literary organizations this week to have them bring before their clubs the proposition that each member contribute the twenty-five cents per man needed to finance the coming debate.

If Notre Dame and Denison are to be debated by Bucknell, it is proposed that another team be selected from the college at large by competition. The only way these two institutions could be met would be by a single trip covering both places. This ought to be incentive enough to bring out a big number of candidates for the try-out.

VANGUNDY-CALLAGHAN.

The wedding of Miss Florence Callaghan and Mr. Morris VanGundy was performed during the Thanksgiving holidays at the home of the bride in Philadelphia in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives of the couple. Mr. A. A. Leiser, of Lewisburg, a classmate of the groom, was present. The bride is well known to Bucknell people, having been for several years teacher of art at the Institute. Mr. VanGundy, '98, is a native of Lewisburg, who for the present is located at Port Arthur, Tex., where he is employed as chemist for a large oil company, where he will take his bride for residence.

FOOTBALL.

With this issue of the Orange and Blue we have, perhaps, the last echoes of football at Bucknell for the season of 1909. In other columns will be found the general summary of this term's game. We refrain from an editorial comment concerning what Bucknell did and did not do this fall. All can and will pass judgement according to their own opinions. So it should be.

In order, however, to contribute a little to the criticism which the press of the country is directing against what has become the greatest college sport, we can look with the deepest regret only upon a long list of casualties,—including a score and a half of men killed and many times that number injured more or less seriously,—which has made the feeling against football deeper and more widespread than ever before. Bucknell, fortunately, has not shared seriously in the misfortunes of the season. It may, therefore, not be so vitally interested in the discussions concerning the subject. But we might all become interested, and even add our humble efforts to the pressure which is being put upon the Intercollegiate Rules Committee to revise the game and minimize the danger.

Of course much may and is being said upon both sides of the question. Still the tread of public opinion seems to be toward a different species of game. The mass play, to which many of the larger institutions are clinging, comes in for the most criticism, for statistics show that the greater number of men are hurt in these lightning-like line-piercing thrusts.

The argument runs somewhat like this:— "Is football played for the the players or for university members of the spectators? We believe the latter. If this be true, then some regard should be had for the spectators, and the open style of play as affording the greater interest to the spectators should be cultivated. The witness of a football game now is in much the same position as that reader of a novel by Henry James who asked a friend what it was all about. His friend replied, "The author doesn't say." The repeated, tiresome, trugid, deadly, dangerous mass plays provide a similar state of affairs.

"Under the present football rules both an open and closed game may be employed. The large universities with athletic fame to maintain, have been naturally most conservative. Hence the old game has been continued. Now, if the premise be granted tha, the open game is less dangerous, and at the same time more interesting from the spectators point of view, then this style of play wants to be encouraged.

EXHIBITION GIVEN ON ORDER OF MOVING PICTURE SHOW.

On Monday evening of Nov. 23 the Sophomores held their annual Stuntfest. The exhibition was on the order of a moving picture show, with Langford manipulating the crank on the Lenox Soap box which served for a magic lantern. The actors presenting the stunts were divided into three classes: the "Rubes," the "Weary Willies," and the' 'Coons."

The fest as a whole was enjoyable, there being some purple patches which shone afar; but on the other hand some of the troupe unable to present comedy extemporaneously without elaborate preparations, reserved their energies for the tragedies carried on behind the scenes.

It is difficult to state just when the circus would have closed had not the stage suddenly fallen during a prize fight between the "Terrible Turk" and the "Howery Kid." It was then announced that the play was probably over, and the audience was thanked for its attention, and at the same time invited to attend the same performance next year.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

In the first four chapters Jesus moves from Judea to Galilee. In his ministry in Judea and Samaria he so acts and speaks as to show the environment in which he had to work. In the sixth chapter he begins a fuller manifestation of himself in Galilee. There by feeding the five thousand he so aroused the ardor of the people that they wanted to make him king, and when he withdrew from them they followed after him.

When the populace, because they had been fed, sought for Jesus and found him, he commanded them: "Labor not for the food that perisheth, but for that which abideth unto eternal life, which the Son of man shall give you." In the Socratic discourse following this statement, the terms, "food," "labor," and "eternal life" are expounded. The "food" is the life and teaching of Jesus; "labor" is "believe on" or "eat and drink," and signifies assimilaton; " eternal life" is a life of devotion to man and fellowship with the Father, which has no end.

The command of Jesus, there, is not that we accept a conception of him ,but that we make his teaching the norm of our conduct, his life the inspiration of life, that we choose the normal rather than the physical, manhood rather than things.

FALL ELECTION.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY.

The Chemical Society held a very interesting meeting on Thursday afternoon. The subject discussed was "Diamonds." Huyette, '11, gave a talk on "Diamond Cutting," and Delancey, '12, had a paper on "Historic Diamonds."

The first speaker showed how diamond cutting is done, and that it involves much time and money, while it at the same time reduces the weight of a specimen. For instance, he said, the Regent Diamond was two years in the cutting at an expense of $25,000, and was reduced in weight from 410 carats to 136 carats. Henry D. Morse introduced the method of cutting diamonds into the United States.

Mr. Delancey then named and gave the history of a few noted diamonds. The Kohinoor is one of the most noted dating from 3001 B. C., valued at $700,000, presented to Queen Victoria, and now one of the chief jewels of the British crown. The Pitt, the Lancy, and the Orloff were also described.

The finest diamonds have come from India, but 98 per cent. of all the diamonds have come from South Africa. One half the diamonds in the world are owned by the people of the United States.

PAN-HELLENIC DANCE.

With the Armory tastefully decorated with fraternity colors, about thirty couples were present there at the Pan-Hellenic Dance Friday evening. Campbell's Orchestra of Sunbury furnished the music.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE ALMOST COMPLETED

SEASON'S PROSPECTS GOOD.

Important Changes Are Made in Rules. This Year's Game Should Be More Interesting.

For several years past there has been more or less dissatisfaction concerning the Intercollegiate basketball rules, and there has arisen a demand for a faster game. The players were seriously handicapped by such rules as that which forbade a player, who had dribbled the ball more than twice, from shooting for a field goal. The limit of two men in a scrimmage also detracted from the game and tended to make it a little slow. An attempt was made to better the dribbling rule but little was gained, for although a man was allowed to shoot after dribbling, yet he was not allowed to stop and turn aside and dribble in another direction.

The rules have, however, undergone a great change this year along certain lines. At the big Intercollegiate Conference held at Columbia University on December 3, President Schaeffer of the Eastern League was one of the delegates and assisted in interpreting the new rules which are quite similar to those of the Eastern League.

One of the most important of the rule changes is in regard to dribbling. Whereas last year a man could not stop and then begin to dribble again, this year the man can stop as often as he wishes but he must keep the ball in motion. Dribbling this season concerns only the ball and not the man. The ball must be in motion all the time or it becomes dead. After a man dribbles he is allowed to shoot for a goal the same as last year.

Equal to the above rule in importance is the rule allowing three men in a scrimmage instead of two as heretofore. This rule has its limitations, however, in order to prevent unnecessary roughness. The third man is not allowed to charge into the opponent but may only attempt to knock the ball from the latter's hand or else to take possession of it himself. As in dribbling, the playing must be confined to the ball and no attempt may be made by the third man to hold or block the opponent who may have the ball in his possession.

Third in importance is the change in the foul rules. The five foul rule of last year seemed to work fairly well ,even though it did cause a little dissatisfaction, and therefore it will be given another trial this year.

In previous years, if a player pushed an opponent in the back when the latter was about to try for a basket, the offence was merely called a foul. This year, on the other hand, the man committing the offence is disqualified.

Another change is that regarding the throwing for fouls. Under the new rule if an opponent crosses the basket the player has another free throw as before. In the same way if the man trying for the free throw steps across his line the goal does not count. To prevent the old trick of throwing the ball hard and catching it upon the rebound in order to try for a goal from field, the new rules does not allow the thrower to cross the line until the ball begins to rebound, so that he is now placed upon an equal basis with the rest of the players in that respect.

The game this year should be much faster and possibly cleaner than heretofore. Practically all the old slow and disagreeable features have been eliminated and college basket-ball should henceforth prove to be much more exciting and more interesting for the spectators.

Under the new rules the Bucknell team should be one of the best in the state and should keep up its record of former years. Although the squad thus far is not so large as in 1907 and 1908 yet the outlook is more promising than at this time last year. It will be remembered that O'Brien was the only "B" man to return last year and Coach Hoskins had to face the proposition of making a new team. This year, on the contrary, four of last years "B" men are back, namely, Captain Craig, Reber, Kurtz, and Thatcher. Among the new men are Fisher, last years center for Bucknell Academy, Zehner ,who played a star game for Millersville Normal school, and Foley, formerly captain of the Girard College five of Philadelphia. Sprout, '10, Clarke,. McCullen, Dreher and Barth lemew are also among the candidates for positions on the big five.

Manager Benson has experienced a little difficulty in arranging the schedule this year and has been unable to make definite arrangements for two of the dates which must therefore be regarded as open. The elimination of basket-ball at Carnegie Tech. and the University of Pittsburg has removed two teams from the schedule. Lehigh is also among the missing fives. State College, Swarthmore, Allegheny, and the Alumni should give the varsity fast games. The prospects are that Dickinson will also have a fast team. Gettysburg and Susquehanna are uncertain propositions although the game at Gettysburg on March 5 should be a fast one.

The schedule as thus far arranged is as follows:—

| | |
|---|---|
| Susquehanna at Lewisburg, | Jan. 14 |
| Open | Jan. 29 |
| Open | Feb. 4 |
| Allegheny at Lewisburg . . | Feb. 8 |

| Alumni at Lewisburg . . . . | Feb. 17 |
| State College at Lewisburg | Feb. 19 |
| Swarthmore at Lewisburg . . | Feb. 22 |
| Gettysburg at Lewisburg | Feb. 25 |
| Dickinson at Carlisle . . . | Mar. 4 |

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

TREASURER'S REPORT AND ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Saturday morning the annual fall meeting of the Athletic Association was held in the Gymnasium. The treasurer reported the receipts and expenditures for the football season and also gave an explanation of the standing of the Association. Its indebtedness last spring amounted to over $1300. This has been reduced to something like $600 outside of this fall's football equipment. The big State game was chiefly instrumental, according to the report, in lifting the Association partly out of debt.

After the report of the treasurer the nomination and election of officers was taken up. The result of the election was as follows:— Assistant football manager, Brewer, '12; Athletic Association officers, Pres. Morgan, '11; Vice-pres., Lloyd, '11; Sec., Waltman, '12; student members of the Advisory Board, Nester and Crossman, '11; alumni member of the Board, R. W. Thompson, '04; Faculty member, Prof. Hamblin.

CAUGHT THAT TIME.

A college professor who was always ready for a joke was asked by a student one day if he would like a good recipe for catching rabbits. "Why, yes," replied the professor. "What is it?"

"Well," said the student, "you crouch down behind a thick stone wall and make a noise like a turnip."

"That may be," said the professor with a twinkle in his eye, "but a better way than that would be to go and sit quietly in a bed of cabbage heads and look natural."

SOPHOMORE ELECTION.

The Sophomores held their L'Agenda election on Thursday afternoon with the following results:—Editor, Waltman and Manager, McNeal. Davis was also elected Basketball Manager.

ALUMNAE CLUB MEETING.

The Christmas meeting of the Bucknell Alumnae club will be held in the Institute parlors on Tuesday evening, Dec. 14, at 7.30 p. m.

LAW SOCIETY'S WORK FOR THE TERM

FOUR DIFFERENT CASES ARGUED.

Members of Legal Organization Are Very Active. Meetings Reported to be Live and Interesting.

The Law Society of the University has been working on the quiet, if the report that is given below is evidence to show what the members have been doing. The last of the four cases, which they argued throughout the term, was disposed of on Friday evening. A brief summary of the Society's work for the fall term is here given.

The first meeting, held early in the term, took up a case of Lateral Support. The plaintiffs were Tyson and Hamil, '11; the defendants, Baskins, '10, and Spurgeon, '11. This case involved the question of whether or not a railroad company is required to furnish lateral support to abutting land owners in case of excavation on a right of way. The case was very close, and as the two judges differed in their opinions, no decision was rendered.

The second meeting was taken up with a case of Fixtures. The plaintiffs here were Rosenburg, McAnulty, and Peoples, '11; the defendants, Young, Halliwell, '10, and Tuman, '11. The question to be decided in this case was whether radiation were real or personal property. The case was decided in favor of the defendant. Radiation was held to be realty and as such passed with a mortgage on the realty.

The Rule in Shelley's case formed the subject of discussion in the third meeting of the term. The defendants were Abraham and Terril, '10; the plaintiffs, Woods and Benson, '10. It was held by the court in favor of the plaintiff, that the factor in the case did not bring it under the Rule in Shelley's Case. Judgement ordered accordingly.

On Friday evening at the last meeting of the term the subject was concerning a Will: Life or Fee Simple. The plaintiffs were Metzgar, '10, and Shreve, '11; the defendants, Fetterman and Breimeier, '10. The construction of a will devising property to a person forever was the point at issue in this case. It was held in favor of the defendants that such a devise under a recent statute vested a fee-simple in the defendant.

NEW COMET DISCOVERED.

Zacheus Daniel, an exalumnus of Bucknell, class of '05, at present a graduate student in astronomy at Princeton University, announced last Tuesday that while at work during the night in the Princeton observatory he discovered a new comet. The news of the discovery was at once telegraphed to every observatory throughout the world, and it is expected the comet will be studied from other places.

Daniel, who began his astronomical work in his junior year at the Princeton University, is a graduate of the class of 1908. He holds the Thaw fellowship founded by Mrs. Wm. Thaw, the mother of Harry K. Thaw. It is the interest on a gift of $10,000. This is the third comet Daniel has discovered, the others having been located in 1907 and 1908, respectively. He has also recently computed the orbit on a small planet, which, with the consent of the discoverer, he named Newtonia. Daniel has been awarded a bronze medal by the Astronomical Society of the Pacific for the comet he discovered last June.

TRACK WORK.

Coach Hoskins last week in addition to making a call for the basketball men to report for practice also urged the track men to come out in the afternoon and engage in cross-country running. Many of the track men have been accustomed to take their daily sprints every day, and the interest shown by the men so early in the year is a good augury for next spring's track prospects.

COLLEGE Y. M. C. A.

The Rev. Dr. Seebach of the Lutheran church very kindly consented to address the College Association last Thursday evening. He made the men glad that they had come by his fresh and helpful remarks. Prayer for the college men by many of those present closed the service.

At the cabinet meeting the Rochester convention echo meeting was planned for next term. It is hoped to have a joint meeting of the three associations of the school,—College,, Academy, and Seminary,—in Bucknell Hall at which time the delegates would report. The date set is Jan. 13.

The delegates met Friday afternoon to plan for the trip. Chairman Hoffman, '12, of the Mission study committee had the necessary information on hand, and all arrangements were made.

BAND CONCERT NEXT TERM.

The University Band has for the last few weeks been practicing special concert music in preparation for a concert which it anticipates giving sometime in the beginning of next term. This concert will be given to raise funds to carry on the work of the organization; hence an admission price will be charged. In addition to having band music solely arrangements are already being made to secure musical talent from some of the neighboring towns ,and also to have readings by members from the School of Music. The earnest support of students and the general public will be depended upon by the management to make the affair a success.

SUMMER TOUR

PROF. GRIFFITH TO CONDUCT PARTY TO EUROPE.

Circulars announcing and describing a summer tour of Europe, have just been gotten out by Prof. Griffith, under whose personal leadership an American party will be conducted next summer through the principal European countries. The trip, including the Passion Play given every ten years at Oberammergau, is to extend over a period of seventy-four days at a total cost of $410. The party will set sail from Philadelphia on July 2, and return to New York about the second week of September.

Liverpool will be the starting-place of the tour, and after some of England's old historic towns have been visited, including a week's stay in London, the party will go to Paris via the principal cities of the Hague and Belgium. From Paris the trip will be made through Germany and Switzerland to the Austrian Tyrol where Oberammergau, the town of the Passion Play, is situated. From thence the direction will be southward through the chief points of interest in Italy. Aug. 31 is the time set for the sailing for home of the party from Naples.

Prof. Griffith,, who will lead this party, is fully competent, by his experiences of former trips to the continent, to conduct tours. Conditions and particulars can be had by addressing him.

DEBATING LEAGUE MEETING.

The debating League met on Wednesday evening and took action on the communications which were recently received from several colleges relative to engaging in debate with Bucknell. Upon motion the president of the league was ordered to go ahead and try to arrange for debates with Notre Dame, Denison, and Muhlenburg.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN.

At the regular meeting of the Deutscher Verein on Thursday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—President, Herr Hedge; Vice-praesidentin , Fraeulein Hare; Protokolfuehrin, Fraeulein Kales; Schutzmeisterin, Fraeulein Radack; Kritikerin, Fraeulein Geis.

STATISTICS OF COLLEGE FRATERNITIES

FIRST FRATERNITY IN 1825.

Growth Within Recent Years Remarkable. Membership of Nearly 300,000 with 1100 Fraternity Houses.

The New York Post recently published an article about the remarkable growth during the last 25 years in membership and influence of the national college fraternities. The number of members enrolled in these societies has risen from 72,000 in 1883 to 269,000 at the present time, and the social and moral problems presented by the enormous recent growth of these organizations, and the many novel and difficult questions brought up by the rapid increase in fraternity chapter-houses are being considered and discussed in conferences of college fraternities. A quarter of a century ago, but thirty-three chapters owned or rented houses, now there are over 1100 fraternity houses, valued at more than $8,000,000. This growth shows that the fraternity, once considered a hindrance and cause of grave anxiety to faculties, is now thought a distinct power for the higher development of the youth of the country.

The beginning of the modern fraternity came in 1825 with the establishment of Kappa Alpha at Union College, soon afterward the fraternity movement spread and chapters of various fraternities were established in many of the colleges. The former practice of initiating faculty members has been discontinued, and now new members are chosen entirely from among the undergraduates.

A national organization binds the various chapters together and the alumni officers of this organization looks out for the general welfare of the fraternity. National conventions are held and are attended by brothers of all ages and from all sections of the country.

The following statistics are from the New York Post:—

| Date of Founding. | | Active Chapters. | Members. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1832 | Alpha Delta Phi | 24 | 10,363 |
| 1865 | Alpha Tau Omega | 28 | 7,300 |
| 1839 | Beta Theta Pi | 74 | 16,395 |
| 1844 | Delta Kappa Epsilon | 21 | 16,000 |
| 1827 | Delta Phi | 11 | 3,600 |
| 1859 | Delta Tau Delta | 50 | 8,900 |
| 1834 | Delta Upsilon | 37 | 9,700 |
| 1869 | Kappa Sigma | 76 | 8,755 |
| 1848 | Phi Delta Theta | 71 | 16,548 |
| 1848 | Phi Gamma Delta | 56 | 10,300 |
| 1852 | Phi Kappa Psi | 43 | 10,200 |
| 1873 | Phi Sigma Kappa | 23 | 2,500 |
| 1833 | Psi Upsilon | 22 | 10,860 |
| 1848 | Theta Delta Chi | 25 | 5,000 |
| 1847 | Zeta | 22 | 5,500 |

CHALK TALK.

Prof. George Little, of Washington, D. C., gave an interesting chalk talk last Wednesday in Bucknell Hall, and the repeated applause, which his quick sketches drew from the large number of students who had gathered to hear him and to see his artistic figures, was evidence enough that his work was fully appreciated. Mr. Little is a recognized master in the kind of work he exhibited in chapel, and is much in demand at teachers' institutes and educational meetings.

He showed how nature may be illustrated on the blackboard or canvas by employing only a very few lines, and these are for the most part geometric forms. The characteristic way of the Professor, especially when drawing an animal is to complete the head first and then by adding a stroke here and there to have the entire drawing finished before one has time to think what it is going to be. In that way he keeps his audience attentive. Pure nature study is his special delight as was shown by his apt quotations of poetry.

HONOR IN EXAMINATIONS.

A certain individual was heard to say some time ago immediately after a test in a certain class how unfair it was for such and such a person to use helps in examinations. We can not refrain from taking up the subject, especially since this is examination week when the question of "honor" must come up in the mind of every student who is conscientious enough to think of his own actions and of those going on about him. It sounds hard to say openly that deliberate cheating is done at Bucknell, and according to strict pedagogical principles silence on the subject would be better in that it would not suggest a possible offence to innocent ones. But the fact nevertheless would remain, and moreover the same matter has been agitated at other institutions where the Honor System has been adopted.

The cause as well as the result of such action can be ascribed to the particular individuals. It arises for the most part from the fact that the work of a term has not been faithfully done by very many students, and then when the critical moment arrives, instead of accepting their fate manfully, some are cowardly enough, in order to reach the end which their sluggardly activity makes them unworthy of, to employ means which are dishonorable to the last degree. Much of this is possibly often done without serious thought. This would be especially true of the new men whose principle is to follow others along the lines of least resistance. A little reflection is sufficient to dispel any doubt on the question.

In the first place it is unfair to the professor who has spent his time and energy throughout the term and who does not care, when the examination papers are handed in, to look over what he often must suspect to be false work. Then again it is a wrong to the honest fellow-student who, when final reports are compared, can not help but feel the injustice of it all. And thirdly, it is unfair to the individual who deliberately weakens his own power of volitional action and at the same time dupes himself and others into the belief that he really can do things of which he knows little or nothing about.

It is not our aim here to preach. But as a college paper we endeavor to show up the facts of the institution and to suggest, if possible, means for a more ideal student body. Not that it is meant to say Bucknell is behind other institutions in this matter of honor in examinations. On the contrary we are ahead of very many. But the best, even those who have the Honor System as applied to the problem to deal with. What we want is the ideal situation,—not so much the Honor System as applied to the whole college; rather the Honor System as applied to every member in college.

ALUMNI.

The space devoted to alumni personals in the Orange and Blue, unimposing as it may be, is, nevertheless, an important, if not the most important, part of the paper. It is the only possible means for a great number of alumni and the student body to keep in touch with each other; and both parties should be interested enough to try to make this section of the college paper a handy reference page of alumni news.

We have been pleased thus far this year at the way in which this particular kind of news has come in. Very much came direct from the alumni themselves, and the rest was handed to us by such as saw the value of a large alumni column. Let all lend a hand in the matter so that we will be compelled to increase the paper if necessary.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The treasurers report at the annual fall meeting of the Athletic Association held on Saturday morning in the Gymnasium was more gratifying than such reports have been within the last few years; and the fact that the students, who heard it, applauded the announcement of the lowering of the debt by more than one-half goes to show that the student body is interested in the financial standing of the association as well as in the achievements of the various teams. Interest in both is absolutely necessary if Bucknell wishes to keep her standing with other colleges in athletics.

The handling of the financial situation in connection with the athletic association is undoubtedly the biggest proposition the Advisory Board has to deal with; and the present status of affairs, which too inadequately provides for the securing of funds from the students, is far from satisfactory, especially if we are to judge from the struggles and difficulties with which the management is constantly beset.

However in spite of all the drawbacks under which the officers of the Association were working this fall, they are to be commended upon the manner in which they carried on the business. We feel sure that if the same amount of seriousness is put into the work for the rest of the year the Athletic Association will soon see better days.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

From the Galilean crisis in the sixth chapter we pass to the Jerusalem controversies in the fifth and seventh chapters. Although these two chapters in their entirety do not belong to the same time, they do contain discussions about nearly the same subject:—Jesus' cooperation with the Father and his position and authority.

The controversy arose out of an act healing on the Sabbath. Such an act, according to the opinion of the Jews, violated the Sabbath. Their criticism Jesus answered in these words: "My Father worketh up until now and I work." These significant words express the perfect accord between Jesus and his Father. This cooperation consisted in his doing only what the Father showed him; it was founded on love, a love which the Father had also for the disciples. It implied a two-fold power: power to verify morally and power to condemn. This power of condemning was inherent in his presence in an evil world; men loved the darkness rather than the light.

The evidence for the claim of cooperation was the testimony of John the Baptist, of his own works, and of the Father in the Scriptures. To his claim the Jews offered him two objections: his want of rabbinical learning and their knowledge of his origin. Jesus declared that their inability to see that he was sent by God was due to their superficial judgement which grew out of their character.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

Flames at the Georgetown University several weeks ago caused a loss of $10,000 among rare books in the library building.

The class of 1913 at Wesleyan consists of men only; when 1912 graduates, the last "coed" will have left the old New England college.

The Chinese students of Lehigh University have recently established a club known as "The Chinese Students' Club of Lehigh University."

Dr. A. M. Tozzer, of Harvard will conduct an expedition into Central America this fall and winter. The expedition is taken in behalf of the Peabody Museum of Harvard. Much time will be given to original research.

Darthmouth recently laid the cornerstone of her new gymnasium, said to be totally different from any other college gymnasium in the country. The cost of the structure has been raised by the alumni and undergraduates themselves.

EDUCATIONAL BOOM.

The curves representing the number of students are astonishingly similar in the case of American institutions of higher education, whatever their character and location.

There is a normal increase in attendance corresponding to the growth in population until about 1885, when the curve takes a sudden leap upward, and in the case of the State universities assumes a parabolic form.

The curve for German universities shows the same peculiarity, with the sudden upward bend occurring in 1871. This is easily referable to the consolidation of the empire, but in the United States there was no such political revolution in 1885.

Where the authorities in different universities have been asked to explain this sudden increase of attendance in the early '80s they have attributed it to some local cause. "Oh, that was when our college got a new president," or "That was the year of the big corn crop," or "The new school law came into effect then," or "The Legislature was unusually generous."

But there is a difference of only two or three years between Harvard and California in the date when the curve started upward, and it is obvious that when Eastern and Western institutions, private and public, high schools and universities, classical colleges and technological schools, are affected almost simultaneously in the same way, the fundamental cause must be a general, not a local one. This cause, however, according to a writer in the Independent, remains to be discovered.

President Seeley, of Smith College, has entered upon his last year as President of the college. He will retire next June after a service of thirty-four years. The enrolment of the four classes is 1700, the Freshman class numbering 490. During the summer a new library building, costing $140,000, has been completed and work has been begun on an assembly hall which will cost $150,000.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS LOOK PROMISING

MANY TRYING FOR POSITIONS.

The "B" Men of last Year Are Playing Fast Ball and the New Material Is Very Promising.

'Varsity basketball practice opened up in earnest last week and showed some very good material. The playing has been fast and snappy owing to the large number of candidates out for positions. The effect of the new rules can readily be seen, and the game promises to be faster and of a higher quality.

Coach Hoskins is having a little difficulty in selecting the big five owing to the fact that several of the men are showing up well and are fighting for positions. The only two positions definitely decided upon are Captain Craig at guard and Kurtz at forward. Reber has been shifted from forward to guard and Zehner is being tried as Kurtz' running mate. Thatcher and Fisher are having a battle royal for honors at center, Rhodes, Sprout, and McCullen are also showing up strong. Loveland, Fetter, Steele, Dreher, Kase, '11, and McClure are most prominent among the other men who are trying out.

The interest seems to settle about the four "B" men of last year together with Zehner, Fisher and Rhodes. It is most likely that the five will be selected from these seven men. Rhodes is not new to the followers of the game, who remember that "Dusty" did some good work for 1911 in the interclass games. Fisher also is not entirely a stranger for he played fast ball for the Academy last year. Zehner is new to Bucknell but his playing during the past week shows that he "has the goods."

Regarding the old men only good things can be said. Kurtz and Craig are both playing consistent ball such as they did last year. Reber has not lost any of the whirlwind pace that he developed at the latter part of last season but is playing a strong game at guard. In the three nights' practice he was scored on only twice while he himself averaged about eight goals a night. Reber and Craig at guards should give Bucknel a defensive strength similar to that of two seasons ago when Harris and Clausen did phenomenal work. Then last among the "B" men is Thatcher who is not only able to drop numerous field goals but is fast developing as a foul-goal thrower. The big center's timely field goals have figured prominently in the practice thus far. Thatcher is having the hardest fight for position however, since his opponent, Fisher, has the advantage in height and has been making some sensational long shots. It will probably take another week of practice to determine which of the two will secure the coveted position.

Those of the student body who have been watching the practice feel that the material at hand should give us a team fully capable of dealing with the opponents of the season. Some of the games will be hard ones and a good team is required. Swarthmore and State College have to be met and taken into camp in retaliation for last years defeats. Allegheny and Dickinson will both have fast teams. Albright and George Washington will be new teams on the schedule and consequently the home team's prospects are uncertain as far as they are concerned.

Because of the small number of 'Varsity games early in the season it is proposed by the manager to have the class games early this year instead of toward the end of the term as heretofore. All or most of these will be in the evening, and considerable interest should be attached to them, as most of the classes show good material.

The Bucknell basketball season will open up on Friday evening in Tustin gymnasium by a game with Susquehanna. Mr. Turner, well known to all the old students, will referee the first game.

WELSH SINGERS COMING.

The Moelwyn Royal Male Voice Party, of North Wales, have just arrived in New York on a limited tour of the United States, and will sing in Beaver M. E. church Tuesday evening, February 8th. The choir is composed of 25 selected voices, and is assisted by Miss Jenny Parry, harpist and Miss Mary King Sarah, soprano. This will be the musical event of the year in Lewisburg and a large delegation from the Women's College have already arranged to attend.

Messrs. J. Edgar Probyn and W. G. Laye, of Lock Haven, are the managers, and have the co-operation of many of the faculty as well as our leading townspeople. More han 100 music-lovers have already expressed a desire to hear this famous chorus, and in all probability the auditorium of the church will be crowded.

CHRISTY MATHEWSON.

Christy Mathewson, ex-'02, premier pitcher of the world, has turned author and recently announced that the first of "The Matty Books" will be ready for the public in February. Mathewson intends to publish an entire series, each dealing with sports for boys. The books will be fiction stories, each one based on a particular line of sport. A hero in each case will be a western boy, who has come to an eastern college. The name of the first book on baseball has not been selected.

Christy Mathewson, who with his wife and little son were visiting at the home of the lady's parents over Xmas, after the holidays, left to join a club that will tour the principal eastern cities playing indoor baseball, a new game that is in season during the winter months.

Y. M. C. A. WORK

JOINT MEETING OF COLLEGE ASSOCIATIONS NEXT THURS. EVE.

The first Y. M. C. A. meeting of the term was held Thursday night. The leader, Young, '10, took as his subject "Wholeheartedness," and developed several interesting thoughts. A number of men took part in the meeting and Mr. W. G. Laye, of Lock Haven, sang a solo. The meeting proved to be very interesting and one of the best of the college year.

At the close of the meeting an announcement was made concerning the meeting to be held in Bucknell Hall next Thursday night at 8 o'clock. It will be a joint meeting of the University Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., and also the Academy Y. M. C. A. Addresses will be made by Prof. Fries, of the Academy, Earle, '10, and Hoffman, '12. These men were delegates to the Student Volunteer Convention held at Rochester, N. Y., from December 29 to January 2, and they will speak of the addresses and other special features of the convention. The music committee will provide some special music to assist in the service. All students and the citizens of Lewisburg are cordially invited to come out and hear of what is being accomplished by the great Volunteer Movement.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY.

Prof. Owens spoke to the Chemical Society on Thursday on "Wine." Wine, he said, is a beverage which ferments without adding anything such as sugar or yeast to start it. Wine was made and used as a beverage centuries before distills were invented. Therefore the process of making wines is much older than the process of making distilled liquors.

The grape wine of Germany, the Professor went on, is superior in quality to any other in the world. Altho it is lighter and contains less alcohol than the wine produced from the grapes raised in France, its flavor is far superior to that of the French wine. The quality of wine depends on the time, place, and circumstances under which it is made. The proper quality of grape is also of vital importance and depends on the climate, season, soil, care of the vine, and care in picking.

JUNIOR PRESIDENT APPOINTS COMMITTEES

SOCIAL PLANS BEING MADE.

Reports Predict Merry Doings for Class of 1911 During the Long Winter Months.

From present indications the gay and happy Juniors are going to enjoy to the full the various occasions which the long winter months and the prerogatives of the class make possible. At least they say they are determined to make the doings of former classes along social lines look somewhat dull. What's the use of being a Junior, they reason, if one cannot have a little leisure for the "outside activities?" After the staid days of Senior life come, they would regret the lost opportunities for good times. Such is the sentiment which is in the air right at the opening of the term. To what it is going to lead, even the imaginative mind of of our reporter is unable to conjecture.

With this in mind President Spurgeon has begun the New Year by appointing his committees to carry out these high ideals. The big event of the term will undoubtedly be the Junior Prom which is, as can be learned, scheduled to come off about the middle of February in Junior Week. The committee named for this affair is:—Redcay, Chairman, Baker, Little, Loveland, Sholl, Peoples, Shreve, Crowell, Thatcher, Paul C. Snyder, Pugh, and Bastian. This committee is requested to meet in Eneptia Hall on Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock.

Then one of these evenings when the thermometer registers zero and the drifted roadsleds are ready to receive victims, the jingling of sleighbells and the singing Juniors will announce the Junior sleigh-ride. The committee appointed to arrange for this is:—Tyson, Chairman, Kendall, and Sara Meyer. They are to meet in the Library on Tuesday evening at 4 o'clock.

Another annual winter event is the Junior Smoker where the band plays while the Upperclassmen accompany the rhythmic heaving of their clay pipes with right genial laughter. The committee for this is:—Tuman, Chairman, Lesher, App, Cragi, McFarland. This will take place late in the term.

WEDDING CARDS OUT.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Dreher, of Gordon, have issued cards to the marriage of their daughter, Edith May, and the Rev. Charles R. Meyers, '04, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, at Gordon, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Meyers, of Lewisburg. The wedding will take place on Jan. 12.

SENIOR SLEIGH RIDE.

The following committee has been appointed to arrange for the Senior sleigh ride:—Hartshorn, Chairman, Hertzog, Miss Bailey.

PRIZE ESSAYS.

The Committee to whom was assigned the decision upon the merits of the papers contesting for the prizes offered by Messrs. Hart Schaffner & Marx, of Chicago, for 1909, has unanimously agreed upon the following award:

Class A. The First Prize of Six Hundred Dollars to Frank H. Streightoff, A. B. Wesleyan University, 1909; Instructor of Mathematics in Bellefonte Academy, Bellefonte, Pennsylvania; for a paper entitled "The Standard of Living or Budgets of American Workingmen's Families." In this case, a paper in Class B, was considered superior to any of the papers in Class A. The Second Prize of Four Hundred Dollars to Isaac Fisher, Principal of The Branch Normal College, Pine Bluff, Arkansas; for a paper entitled "German and American Methods of Regulating Trusts."

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES

TWO COLLEGES NOT IN LEAGUE WILLING TO DEBATE.

Dr. Harris has given his consent to the proposed debates between Bucknell and the two colleges,—Notre Dame, in Indiana, and Denison, in Ohio,—which do not belong to the triangular debating league. Following this action by the President the call has been issued for candidates for another debating team and seven have thus far handed in their names.

The two western colleges are both anxious to meet us in debate. At Notre Dame they have a debating department, and within the last ten years have made for themselves in this line of work quite an enviable record. Denison also shows much interest along the same lines.

The trip which is to take in both places at once will be made in April or May, and as it will bring Bucknell into relations with practically strange institutions, it is desired to have the best possible team represent the school.

JUDGE MARTIN BELL FOUND DEAD

WAS SERVING SECOND TERM.

He Was a Classmate of Dr. Harris, a Widely Eminent Judge, and a Lover of Athletic Sports.

Martin Bell, president judge of the Blair County Courts, died suddenly at his residence at Hollidaysburg on Sunday morning from heart disease. The judge had been complaining of his heart for a few days and was found dead in bed when his daughter took his breakfast to him in the morning. Judge Bell was elected in the fall of 1893 to succeed Judge Augustus S. Landis, the Democratic appointee of Governor Robert E. Pattison, who succeeded the late Justice John Dean on the Blair county bench. Judge Bell was also elected for his second full term on the Republican ticket in the fall of 1903.

Judge Bell was the only son of the late Rev. Adie Bell, an eminent Baptist divine who was one of the early presidents of Lewisburg University, now Bucknell University, at Lewisburg, and was born in Lewisburg in 1849. He was graduated from the institution in the class of 1869, a classmate of Dr. Harris. Soon after admission to the bar he was elected District Attorney of Blair county and filled that office for three consecutive terms.

He was one of the most able, eminent and widely quoted judges of the Courts of Common Pleas of the State. When it became necessary to pass upon the recent act of Assembly increasing the salaries of the judiciary of the State, Judge Bell was selected to sit with Judge Robert VonMoschzisker, of Philadelphia, specially upon that question, and they sustained the constitutionality of that act. He was the first Judge in the State to declare the Tustin pure food law unconstitutional.

Judge Bell's decisions were well written, carefully considered and it was a rare occasion when he was reversed by an Appellate Court.

Judge Bell took an active interest in all athletic sports, was the most pronounced baseball "fan" in the country. He was a high officer in the Knights Templar, the Elks and the Eagles and served as captain in the State National Guard for fifteen years. At college he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

The funeral was held at Hollidaysburg on Wednesday. Private services were held at the Judge's residence and public services in the Presbyterian church. At a meeting of the Blair County Bar Association held in the forenoon eloquent tributes were paid to the memory of the Judge. He left to survive him a widow, three sons and three daughters.

PRIZES OFFERED.

The American School Peace League offers two sets of 3 prizes of seventy-five, fifty, and twenty-five dollars for the best essays of from 3,000 to 5,000 words upon one of the following subjects: 1. The United States, the Exemplar of a United World; 2. The History of International Arbitration; 3. The History and Significance of the two Hague Peace Conferences; 4. The Opportunity and Duty of the Schools in the International Peace Movement; 5. The Evolution of Patriotism. One set of the three prizes is open to seniors in the Normal Schools of the United States, the other to seniors in Preparatory Schools. The contest closes March 1, and the award will be made at the Annual Meeting of the League in July. Ample literature for study of these subjects can be obtained from the American Peace Society, 31 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

THE NEW YEAR.

By the merry faces that greeted us everywhere last week at the opening of the term we may very readily judge of the good experiences that most every one had over vacation. The Christmas memories may keep us for a little time from becoming too enthusiastic over the bulk of work and the strenuous times that the New Year is setting before us. But in spite of the enjoyable recollections of the holidays only a few days are necessary for the majority of students to buckle down to work. As is customary at the beginning of each term a few new faces are seen about the hill, and at the same time several of the old ones are missed from our midst.

Only these minor changes has the New Year brought to us, unless we count by this time the many good resolutions that have been broken, or perchance the stimulus to renewed energy which that neverfailing term report has given us in its precise records of "flunks" and "mods," or perhaps in its records of marks which we feel we do not deserve.

In all respects, however, it seems to be a right good New Year, and with the best wishes for success and prosperity the Orange and Blue extends to its readers in this first issue of the year its heartiest greetings.

ATTENDANCE.

One of the lamentable features of college life,—and this holds true probably of most institutions,—is the inconceivable poor attendance of students at entertainments or lectures of various sorts. As an example we may mention the Lyceum Lecture Course which the College Y. M. C. A. has been accustomed to run, and which it had to drop this year simply because it was losing money. And the reason for this was that the student body failed either to appreciate the first class programs given, or else carelessly passed the matter by.

What is true concerning this Lyceum course is also true in respect to other similar work. When the Y. M. C. A. last term secured a first-class artist to give a recital in Bucknell Hall, the profits after all expenses had been paid amounted to less than a dollar. It seems that when any organization outside of the Athletic Association wants to give an entertainment or the like, it must go begging for people to attend; unless it wishes to run the chance of losing money.

We realize that the money side of the question is only secondary in importance. But what is strange about the thing, is that a group of intellectually inclined young people could fail to miss the culture which such opportunities give, which the college student cannot be without, and which is after all the real reason why entertainments and lectures are given.

Recent observations tend to show that Bucknell students must wake up along the line mentioned above, or they will fail to get out of their college life all that there is in it.

ALUMNI NEWS.

It is a pleasure for us to be able this week to publish so many Alumni Personals. And we cannot be thankful enough to those who take the trouble to hand such notes to us. There is at all times abundant news of this kind, only it is necessary to depend on the Alumni themselves for it. Keep it up always like this week.

Medico-Chi College has offered to sell to the city of Philadelphia its hospital buildings for $1,330,000. The site of the institution is needed by the city for a parkway. A new site for Medico-Chi has already been acquired and a new college could be built within two years.

At the Univ. of Penna. there are six national clubs, Chinese, British, French, Japanese, Latin-American and Russian, and a cosmopolitan club besides. The students from different localities in the United States are similarly organized. There are about twenty-five State and as many more Pennsylvania county clubs among the undergraduates, many of them working in co-operation with the local alumni organizations at home for the greater glory of their Alma Mater.

The Whiskey Ring of Delaware county is worried by the constant reports regarding Republicans who in the past have been supporters of the party candidates, declaring in favor of the election of O. B. Dickinson, ex-'77, to the office of Judge. Mr. Dickinson has always been in the fight against the granting of licenses and has several times come near making the judgeship.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOLUME XIV. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, JANUARY 17, 1910. NUMBER 18

BASKETBALL BEGINS WITH A VICTORY

'VARSITY BEATS SUSQUEHANNA.

Fast Team Work and Consistent Shooting Wins Game for the Locals. Score 45-16.

By outplaying their opponents in every point of the game the 'Varsity administered to Susquehanna the most crushing defeat which the latter has ever received at the hands of Bucknell. Friday night's score of 45-16 was even better than that of two years ago when the fast team of 1908 rolled up a score of 46-22. All doubt as to the ability of the local quintette to cope with the opponents of the season was swept away when the 'Varsity amply demonstrated that their team work is the best which has been developed here in years.

One strong feature of the game was the improvement in passing which was shown. Although that was one feature of the Susquehanna team yet the 'Varsity clearly outclassed their opponents in that line of the game. The Bucknell men all showed much ability in taking the ball down the floor. The goal throwing was good too, and several pretty shots were made.

For about the first two or three minutes of the contest it seemed as though the 'Varsity would have a little difficulty in holding down the Susquehanna men. In fact Dick Kaufman had tallied a field goal and a foul goal before the locals scored. Thatcher then tallied a foul goal and almost immediately afterward Rebert led the score with a field goal. After that the game was all Bucknell. The locals showed superior team work, dribbling, passing and goal throwing. Kurtz began to locate the basket and drop in an occasioned goal. By way of variation Zehner, Reber, Thatcher and Captain Craig all registered. The first half then ended with the score 23-7 in the favor of Bucknell. The locals had scored more points in the first half than the team last year tallied in the whole game.

The second half opened with a rush and Bucknell began to draw further away. Coach Hoskins early in the half began to send in the reserve men until finally Kurtz was the only man left of the first five to continue the game. The reserve men also were too much for the visitors, for the latter could only score 9 points in this half as against 22 made by the home team.

For the local team Kurtz easily starred in goal throwing. John tallied eleven field goals or twenty-two points, just six points more than were made by the entire visiting team. Zehner did some fast floor work and scored two field goals in addition. Thatcher at center played a good game and had his man "on the run." The big fellow threw two field goals besides the three foul goals scored. The two regular guards had held the opposing forwards to one field goal while they themselves each scored twice. Reber found little difficulty in playing all around Sunday, and he also helped the team a lot by his floor work. Captain Craig also got into the game and did some pretty floor work. He likewise tallied one of the longest shots of the game.

For Susquehanna Captain Dick Kaufman was the star. He made ten of the sixteen points scored by the visitors. Six of the points he secured on foul goals by making six baskets out of twelve chances. One of his field goals was exceptionally good. The other guard, Crawford, also did fast dribbling, but he was no match for Kurtz. Sunday played a nice floor game but he was powerless against the local guards.

Seeing that the team has started the season in such fine shape Bucknell should be able to make an excellent showing this year. Provided that none of the regulars are injured the locals have the best of chances to win all the home games and possibly all three of the games away. Although Albright held Lehigh to the score of 23-17, recently, yet there is little reason why Bucknell should not take the Myerstown men into camp in the near future.

The line-up Friday night was as follows:

| Bucknell | | Susquehanna |
|---|---|---|
| Kurtz | forward | Aikens |
| Zehner | forward | Sunday |
| Dreher | | |
| Thatcher | center | C. Kaufman |
| Fisher | | |
| Craig | guard | Crawford |
| McCullen. | | |
| Reber | guard | R. Kaufman |
| Rhodes. | | |

Goals from field—Kurtz, 11, Zehner 2, Thatcher 2, Fisher, Craig 2, McCullen, Reber 2, Sunday, Aaikens 2, R. Kaufman 2. Goals from fouls—Thatcher 3, R. Kaufman 6. Fouls called—Bucknell 12, Susquehanna 11. Referee — Moorehead, of Sunbury. Timekeeper—Hoskins. Time of halves —20 minutes.

RHODES COMMITTEE.

Haas, Muhlenburg College; President E. D. Warfield, Lafayette College; President Isaac C. Ketler, Grove City College. The selection of A. P. ## INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

ENTIRE SERIES OF GAMES TO BE PLAYED IN THE EVENING.

Manager Benson has completed the schedule of basketball games which is to make up the series that is to be played by the classes. There are seven scheduled this year. But the seventh will only be played if the record of the series is of such nature as to make doubtful what class has won the championship.

All or most of these interclass games are to be played in the evening, and instead of following the custom of having a student referee at the majority of these contests, there will this year be an outside official. The first of the series will be played between the Seniors and Freshmen next Friday evening at 8 p. m. Admission will be 15 cents, reserved seats 15 cents.

The 'Varsity schedule just given out by H. F. Donehower, the 'Varsity outfitter, shows the addition of Geo. Washington University to our schedule. The open date on the schedule previously published was Feb. 4, but instead of that the Capitol City five will play here on Jan. 31.

The interclass schedule is as follows:—

Jan. 21. Seniors vs. Freshmen.
Feb. 3. Juniors vs. Sophomores.
Feb. 15. Seniors vs. Juniors.
Mar. 1. Sophomores vs. Freshmen.
Mar. 8. Juniors vs. Freshmen.
Mar. 15. Seniors vs. Sophomores.
Mar. 18. Championship Game.

B. U. MEN AT ROCHESTER.

The recently issued catalogue of the Rochester Theological Seminary for 1909-1910 shows that there has been a marked increase in the number of enrolled students and of institutions represented. Forty-one colleges and universities have graduates in the Seminary. Denison University leads the rank with twelve men, while Bucknell holds the second place having eight students to her credit, which number is the high water mark for the university.

The Bucknell men are as follows: Griffith, Riggs, Whitby, '07, Bromley, '08, Fetter, Gibson, Mathias, Roush, '09.

Fetter, Gibson and Mathias with Rees, '09, of Denison compose the Seminary Quartette and are filling a number of engagements in Sacred and Secular concert work.

Prosser, who spent several years in the Academy and afterward graduated from the University of Washington, is a member of the Junior class.

SOPHOMORE BANQUET ON FRIDAY EVENING

WAS HELD AT WILLIAMSPORT.

Eluding the Vigilance of the Freshmen the 1912 Men Got Away Friday Morning.

According to the rules made at the beginning of the fall term by the Upperclassmen to the effect that the the old method of holding banquets before the students return for the work of the winter term be discontinued, the first Underclassmen banquet was held by the Sophomores on Friday evening at Williamsport at the Crawford Hotel. The affair was pulled off without the exhibition of a scrap. The foxy Sophomores who intended going to the banquet had all pulled out for Williamsport before it became generally known to the Freshmen that there was going to be such a thing as a banquet. By Friday noon, however, crowds of Freshmen who had become wise concerning the matter were seen collecting about the halls and trying to locate some of their rivals. The search proved vain, and only a few minor clashes took place between the classes.

By Friday evening things at the other end of the line were becoming more interesting. A goodly number of the men of 1912 gathered into the hotel dining room which was beautifully decorated with flowers and with orange and blue bunting mingled with black and red, the colors of the class. A five-piece stringed orchestra, of Williamsport, furnished excellent music for the festivities. Abraham, the Senior president, and also Metzgar, '10, were present. Bertin, '08, of the Williamsport High School, and Sprout, '08, were guests at the banquet. The evening's program was as follows—

WHITNEY-BURGESS.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burgess have announced the marriage of their daughter Sadie Emerson to Merle Bush Whitney on Thursday evening, December 30, 1909. The bride graduated from Bucknell Institute in 1907. The bridegroom is a 1908 graduate of the University.

PORTICO TO EAST COLLEGE.

The students coming back at the beginning of the winter term found the new portico, begun last fall already, at the north end of East College finished. While affording no entrance to the building from that point the addition enhances the appearance of the place considerably. It is built of brown stone supported on arched columns which allow entrance to the basement of the building. The enclosed porch or portico at the first floor door presents such an appearance as to be a comfortable place when the spring months come around and a nice shady nook is desired, or it might not be a bad spot for the freshman stunts at the very beginning of the year.

MEYERS-DREHER.

The wedding of Miss Ethel M. Dreher and the Rev. Chas. Meyers, '04, took place last Wednesday at Gordon, Pa. The groom is pastor of the Lutheran church at that place. He is a former Lewisburg boy and well known here. Miss Mary Meyers, of Lewisburg, was maid of honor, and Arthur E. Harris, best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. Hipsey, of Red Hook, N. J.

BASEBALL SCOUT IN TOWN.

Arthur Irwin, of New York, scout for the New York American baseball team, and one of the best known professional ball players of the country, was in Lewisburg on Wednesday looking after some material for his team among the members of the Bucknell aggregation.

ALUMNUS AS JUDGE

BALDRIGE APPOINTED AS SUCCESSOR TO MARTIN BELL.

Governor Stuart on Wednesday appointed Thomas J. Baldrige, ex-'95, of Hollidaysburg, President Judge of the Blair County Courts to succeed the late Martin Bell whose death was announced in these columns last week. Mr. Baldrige was the choice of the County Barr Association and the Republican organization.

The new Judge was born in Hollidaysburg April 5, 1872. He is the son of the late H. Malcolm Baldrige, who was one of the foremost attorneys in Central Pennsylvania. He was educated in the public schools, Hollidaysburg Academy, took a college course at Bucknell, finishing in the University of Pennsylvania. He was a member of the Government Topographical Survey along the headwaters of the Missouri River.

He was a law student in the office of his father, and was admitted to practice in the Blair County Courts in 1895. He has been treasurer of the Bar Association ever since his admission. He has been treasurer of the the First Baptist Church, of Hollidaysburg, for many years.

In politics Mr. Baldrige has always been a staunch Republican, but never sought political preferment, having confined himself strictly to the practice of his profession, in which he has been eminently successful. His brother, Howard H. Baldrige, '84, is a lawyer in Omaha, Neb., where he was twice chosen District Attorney and represented his district in the State Senate.

FRILL AND FROWN.

After several try-out plays given by the students of elocution, the following persons were elected to the "Frill and Frown:" Hannah Bubb, Hannah Berlin, Alberta Bronson, Cecil Childs, Jane Irey, Margret McClure, Hester Pyles, Olive Long, Kathryn Ryan, and Joletta Arthur.

The "Frill and Frown" will give a Benefit on February 11, 1910, entitled, "Among the Gypsies."

BUCKNELL GRADUATES AT U. P.

Of the 945 students at the University of Pennsylvania who have studied at a college or university prior to matriculation at that institution twenty-one are from Bucknell. These are all students in the professional departments. Bucknell stands with Muhlenburg as sixth in the list. Princeton heads the list with forty-two.

ROCHESTER DELEGATES GIVE THEIR REPORT

MEETING HELD IN B. U. HALL.

The Three Christian Asso. of the College Listened to Addresses. Special Music by School of Music.

Last Thursday evening in Bucknell Hall the delegates who represented Bucknell at the Sixth International Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement held at Rochester, N. Y., from Dec. 29 to Jan. 2 gave their report of the great gathering and their impressions of the missionary problems as presented to them at the convention by some of the best speakers of the country. The six persons who went to the convention from this place are: Miss Katharine Bailey, '10; Miss Helen Ruth, '12, Prof. C. C. Fries, of the Academy; Earle, '10, Fetter, '10,; and Hoffman, '12.

The salient facts of the movement, as it impressed the delegates, were its bigness, its earnestness, its enthusiasm, and the singing of the vast convention afforded sight which will never fade and a sound which will never die in the memories of those fortunate enough to have been present.

"The eager, intelligent faces of the thousands of college students, boys and girls, who filled Convention Hall to the topmost gallery at the sessions presented a sight never to be forgotten. Rochester had entertained many conventions in recent years, but never had there been so large a gathering of delegates and never had greater interest been manifested in the proceedings by the delegates."

Messrs. Fries, Earle, and Hoffman spoke at the meeting Thursday evening. Earle gave a very interesting talk on "The Missionary Situation." He said it was not a Macedonian "come over and help us" call that was urging men to the mission fields, but there were synchronizing crises; in the Levant is the problem of Mohammed against Christ; in South America it is immorality due in great measure to the illiteracy and ignorance of the people; in China a molding of a new nation out of the ancient China, a process which involves the education of the open-minded Chinese students. Universal peace, modern facilities of intercommunication, and dissatisfaction of present conditions, in those countries make missionary work as compared with former years easy.

After a violin solo by Miss Armstrong, Mr. Hoffman spoke of the place the personal equation takes in the missionary movement. Each one of us is a missionary. Our personality in our relations with our fellowmen is essential in the creation of that spirit upon which mission work rests. A life of obedience to God, giving Christ his place in life, is the power that overcomes the world.

Miss Lutz then gave a vocal solo, and Mr. Fries followed with a talk concerning the tasks the church has before it in foreign fields. The first of these is the evangelization of the primitive peoples. This finds its parallell in the work of the early Christian churches. The largest pagan population is in Africa and the islands of the Pacific where the wonderful natural resources, offering great possibilities, make a cris's inevitable. The second task is the evangelization of the scholars, the cultured people of the Orient. In these fields three conditions make the sending of big, strong men necessary. These conditions are the marked development of modern education, the unrest and overthrow of the old order of things, and the new racial consciousness and self-pride. The third task is the missionary's adjustment of himself to the modern conception that all religions are but a natural seeking after God.

JUNIOR SLEIGH RIDE.

The Junior Sleigh Ride is to be held on Wednesday evening starting promptly at five o'clock. All wishing to go are to have their names handed in to the chairman of the committee, Mr. Tyson, by Tuesday noon.

ALUMNI ENDOWMENT FUND.

It has undoubtedly occurred to many an alumnus and undergraduate in the past what concerted action on the part of Bucknell men might do for their Alma Mater. With the growth of the University, however, the desire of the Alumni to give Old Bucknell a mighty boost has become more apparent and, if expressions which we hear on all sides may be reasonably interpreted, that desire needs but a shaping hand to bring about results that will be a fitting memorial of the loyalty of Bucknell men.

When the class of 1889, College, at the University of Penna. held its twentieth annual reunion last spring, it decided to raise the sum of $5,000 during the intervening five years before the twenty-fifth reunion. The annual minimum subscription to the fund was made ten dollars, an amount which the committee considered would not throw an unreasonable burden on any one member of the class. The committee believed at the same time that this plan would establish the custom of annual contributions to the Alumni Fund by a method that has met with so much success at other universities. Circulars giving the details of the plan were mailed to each member of the class. They stated among other things that the use of the '89 Class Fund is not to be determined until the fund is completed.

Thus we see what one class in the college of Liberal Arts alone is planning to do in five years at Pennsylvania. Consider this question: What could five hundred loyal Bucknell men do in five years, contributing, say, the annual minimum sum of five dollars?

At the end of five years Bucknell men would be in possession of at least $12,500, with which to express in a fitting manner their loyalty to their Alma Mater. That the sum would be very much larger than the minimum is easy of belief.

What would be the results of such a plan?—

First, a more widespread interest among Alumni in the growth of Bucknell.

Secondly, a material addition to the resources of the university.

Thirdly, a permanent custom that will furnish a means for the expression of Alumni loyalty at all times.

What does Bucknell need?—

First of all, a new chapel with a capacity capable of accomodating the whole college in its present state of growth.

Secondly, a new biological laboratory.

Thirdly, a new gymnasium and athletic field.

Now let all Bucknell men think it through. These things are bound to come; the Alumni can make them come; and a half dozen loyal men among the Alumni to take the lead can start the ball rolling. The Orange and Blue offers its services in boosting the plan in any form in which the Alumni may conceive it.

BASKETBALL.

The basketball season opened up in fine shape last Friday evening when the 'Varsity in its first game so completely outclassed its opponents that a few moments after the whistle to start had blown there was no possible doubt as to the outcome. It means much for a team to begin the season well. Only in that way is it possible to secure the interest and cooperation of the student body. And for that reason we are highly pleased to see such good prospects for Bucknell right at the start.

Manager Benson can be complimented upon the schedule which he has been able to arrange. While not all the games are going to be what we might call big, it is quite evident that there are enough strong teams scheduled to satisfy the most enthusiastic admirers of the sport. The arrangement made for the interclass contests will also this year add considerable to basketball at Bucknell.

Nor is the Band lacking in its spirit to help things along. This they showed by turning out right at the beginning of the season when no big game was on hand. To the Band we would say that their efforts are very highly appreciated, and so desirable have their services become at the games since they started last year to furnish music for the spectators that most would be disappointed if upon entering they should fail to see it present. Keep up the good work, band members.

A passing word concerning the "prize fight" incident might not be out of place. It is unfortunate that such a thing should happen. It is almost certain that an affair like that could be avoided if all would wish to avoid it. At any rate when a difference between the players arises there are always enough officials about to cope with the situation without demanding the rushing upon the floor of the students who can in no way help the mater.

ALUMNAE MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bucknell Alumnae Club was held Tuesday evening, Jan. 11th, in the Institute parlors. The inclemency of the weather prevented the usual goodly attendance, but those who came out felt well repaid by the benefit derived from the most excellent programme.

An intensely interesting paper was read by Mrs. Wm. E. Martin on the subject of the evening: "German Artists." Another paper on "Castles and Cathedrals" was read by Miss Slifer. A vocal solo by Miss Lutz helped to make the evening a most enjoyable one.

The University of Christiania has appointed a committee to co-operate with similar committees from Denmark, Sweden and the United States with the object of facilitating the plan for the interchange of professors and scholarships between Scandinavian and American universities.

"Patsy" O'Brien, '09, of Dickinson Law School, took in the basketball game Friday evening.

Rambo, '01, and Johnson, '04, visited their Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity brothers last week.

Underclassmen banquets are bringing a look of worry on the faces of freshmen and sophomores these days.

Wilson, '12, who was compelled to drop out of college last term on account of sickness, has left and will not resume his studies until next fall.

ALUMNI PERSONALS.

Dr. Mary M. Wolfe, '96, has been appointed lecturer on psychiatry at the Woman's Medical College, Philadelphia.

Miss Mary Stanton, '07, and Miss Anne Galbrath, '07, together with several other friends, spent their Christmas vacation at Havana, Cuba. They express great pleasure with the new surroundings, which had every appearance of a foreign land.

Miss Iza Martin, '00, was one of five cabin passengers on the "Main" of the North German Lloyd which sailed last Saturday from Baltimore. Miss Martin is en route for Germany, the cities of Bremen, and Berlin, to attend lectures for the winter semester.

One of the leading ministers in connection with the big Dixon-Towner revival in Scranton is Rev. J. S. Wrightnour, '69, pastor of the First Baptist church of West Scranton, who delivered an open-air address in front of the Delaware and Hudson railroad station on the principal avenue of the city.

Charles D. Koch, '98, is to be director of the Summer Session for Teachers at State College this coming summer. He was selected by Dr. Schaffer to be one of the two high school inspectors, and he has served in that capacity for three years, making him especially fitted for the work he is to do at State.

The Rev. Dr. J. Henry Haslam, '90, celebrated yesterday a week ago the seventh anniversary of his pastorate in Gethsemane Baptist church, Philadelphia. Five hundred new members have enrolled with the congregation, and the missionary contributions have increased more than 100 per cent. during his ministry.

The Rev. Wm. F. Gibbons, '89, has tendered his resignation to the Presbyterian church of Dunmore, Pa., after a pastorate of nearly fourteen years. Continued ill health impelled Mr. Gibbons to take this step which is much regretted by his congregation. The resignation will take effect on May 1st, the fourteenth anniversary of Mr. Gibbon's pastorate.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

The Socratic discourses of the Gospel begin in the fifth chapter. These discussions, continuing through the tenth chapter and answering the opposition of the Jews, have as their general subject, the character and conduct of Jesus. The eighth chapter considers these questions: Whence is he? Whither does he go? Who is he?

The first question is answered in the words, "He that sent me;" he was sent by God to fulfil a purpose. The second is also explained by a clause of action: "I go away;" he merely passes to another state to which the Jews because of their character cannot go. The third calls forth astounding claims. To the urging, who is he, he replies, "I am;" to his death he ascribes the manifestation of his Messiahship on its human side; in association with him who is the Truth, he claims there is freedom. In defense of these claims he declares: "I know Him," and "Abraham saw my day and was glad," and again "Before Abraham, was, I am."

The meaning of these statements will be a subject for further study.

CLASS OF 1910 BEAT THE CLASS OF 1913

CLASS BASKETBALL BEGUN.

Interclass Contests for Championship Promise to be Lively. The Final Score of First Game, 17-16.

The interclass basketball series began Friday night with a Senior victory over the Freshmen by the score of 17-16. The Seniors took the lead early in the game and were never headed although the Freshmen succeeded in tying the score shortly before time was called. A timely foul goal settled the contest in favor of 1910.

Although in some respects the game was slow, yet there were enough brilliant features to keep the interest alive. The Seniors were sadly in want of practice but the vim with which they entered the contest and their superior weight, enabled them to successfully break up the good team work of the Freshmen. There would have been little doubt as to the result had it not been that for a time in the second half the Senior men seemed to become over confident and careless. The Freshmen took advantage of the weakness and pulled up fast. The Seniors recovered their vigilance in time, however, to save the game.

Shortly after the first half opened Maplesden caged a pretty goal for 1910 and gave them the lead. Reber quickly followed with a long shot. Fisher then threw a pretty one and made the score 4-2. From that time on the contest was waged back and forth until at the end of the half the Seniors led by the score of 9-1.

The Freshmen came back into the game with renewed strength and after some lively playing the score stood 16-14 in favor of 1910. With about three minutes yet to play, Goehring tallied a lucky goal and tied the score. After that there was little playing under either basket and it looked as though extra time might be required. Zehner then had a chance to give his team the lead by a foul goal but luck was against him. When time was nearly up Goehring fouled and captain Sprout had the chance to take the game for his men. In spite of the yelling on the part of the Freshmen, "Sprig" dropped in the winning goal.

The general playing of both teams was good for this time of the season. The work of the Seniors is especially commendable since they have not practiced together as a team more than one night. Yet they worked together well and at times played all around their lighter opponents. Sprout, Conover and Reber did the best work for the team. The Freshman team also showed signs of developing into a fast five but at present their speed is not sufficient to overcome their lack of weight. Every man of their five gets into the game and all play well together but if they are to figure prominently in the Interclass series they shall have to find some way to make up for their deficiency in weight.

The general opinion of the school seems to favor the Juniors as the winners of the interclass series. They appear by for the strongest on paper On the other hand the Sophomores appear to be the weakest team. It is very likely, however, that the series will not be at all one-sided. It will be remembered that 1911 was the general favorite last year and yet they lost to 1909 although the latter team was in some respects weaker than either 1910 or 1913 .It looks now as if the main contest will be centered about 1910 and 1911. If history repeats itself, as they say, 1910 should have a good chance of winning since 1908 and 1909 both took the interclass championship in their Senior years. The defeat of Friday night by no means puts the Freshmen out of the race. If they win the next two games and 1910 should drop one, there would be a chance for 1913 to tie for the first place. The Sophmore class has to be reckoned with to some extent too for they might spring a surprise on the other men.

The line-up of Friday night was as follows:—

| 1910 | | 1913 |
|---|---|---|
| Northrop | forward | Zehner |
| Conover | forward | J. Fetter |
| G. Fetter | center | Fisher |
| Sprout | guard | Richards |
| Reber | guard | Goehring |

Goals from field—Maplesden, Conover, G. Fetter, 2, Sprout, Reber 2, Zehner 4, Fisher, Goehring 2. Goals from fouls—Sprout 3, Zehner 2. Fouls called—Senios 7, Freshmen 6. Referee—Kurtz, 1911. Timekeeper—Hoskins. Time of halves—20 minutes.

ALBRIGHT AND SWARTHMORE.

Our games with Albright next Friday evening and with Swarthmore on Feb. 22 promise to be hard ones. Albright on Friday beat Susquehanna by the score of 49-13. The Swarthmore team has beaten the Indians by a score of 29-23 and are playing a fast game. Their center, Gilchrist, who was mainly responsible for Swarthmore's victory here last year, had nineteen points to his credit against the Indians.

Some other basketball scores are: Univ. of Pittsburg 38, State, 35; Gettysburg 35, Indians 25.

ACADEMY VS. KUTZTOWN.

On Jan. 29 the Academy basketball team will meet the strong Kutztown Normal five at Tustin Gymnasium. The Academy has won three out of four game played, and expect an exciting contest in that they consider Kutztown as one of the strongest teams in the eastern part of the state in their class.

GETTYSBURG DEBATE

FINAL PLANS FOR CONTEST ARE NOW BEING MADE.

Feb. 25 has been settled on as the time for the clash in debate between Gettysburg and Bucknell. Delays have unfortunately postponed the affair over a month beyond the time which our representative had fixed last year.

Our men request the cooperation of every student while they are preparing themselves for the platform at Gettysburg. The literary societies are especially urged to lend assistance. The League wants the team's speeches heard in the societies and criticised. Also a public demonstration of what our men are going to do at Gettysburg is wanted, inasmuch as we cannot be with them when they win so that we may as well cheer them before they leave.

Expenses figure somewhat in our agreement with Gettysburg and Lafayette. We must bear our third. It can be easily done if all adopt the plan of Wage, '12, Treas. of the League. He wants the various organizations to vote twenty-five cents per man to the Debating League. One literary society has already done so. Let the rest follow suit immediately. Quarters are trump, and are called for.

DR. ST. JOHNS COMING.

Following up the Student Volunteer Convention at Rochester, the Volunteer Movement will send to Bucknell Dr. St. Johns, a missionary to Burma. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago and is working in Burma under the auspices of the Baptist Missionary Union. He will arrive in Lewisburg today and will remain until Wednesday.

NO BASEBALL AT CARLISLE.

Lovers of sports at Bucknell, as well as in the sporting world in general, express surprise at the announcement of the Carlisle Indian school that hereafter baseball will be cut off the list of sports in which the school will be represented by a regular team, and that in its place lacrosse will be taken up.

COLLEGE Y. M. C. A.

Waltz, '12, was the leader at the Y. M. C. A. meeting. Thursday night He took as his subject, "Thoughts." A number of men took part in the open meeting and some interesting points were brought out in regard to thoughts in our everyday lives.

LETTER FROM A CHINESE MISSIONARY

HARVEY, '00, ASKS FOR AID.

He Is a Bucknell Man Who Is Accomplishing Something. Efforts to Raise Harvey Fund Are Being Made.

The following is an extract from a recent letter from Mr. Charles W. Harvey, a Y. M. C. A. Sec. in Tiensin, China. He is one of Bucknell's illustrious sons, being a member of the class of '00. He was sent as a missionary to China by the College Y. M. C. A's of this State. His expenses were to have been continually paid by them, and to this sum Bucknell promised to pay yearly $100. Within the past few years our association could not meet its obligations in this respect, but the attempt to do so will this year be made, and solicitations for the Harvey Fund will soon begin. In speaking of his work in China Mr. Harvey writes thus:—

That the doors are opening ever wider for our work is shown by the situation here at Paotingfu where as yet we have opened no work. Two incidents illustrate this. We recently planned a meeting for one of our secretaries who was passing through. The suggestion was taken up by the official, or "Mayor" we should say, of the city. He assumed all responsibility, arranged for the largest hall in the city, which was erected to the masonry of former Viceroy Li Hung Chang, and his soldiers in the Taiping Rebellion. He sent carts to take us to and from the meeting; all of the officials both local and provincial, resident here, attended, and the highest official presided. There were about 1200 present, largely students of the many Government schools and colleges in whose interest the meeting was held. Had we men free to man the field, the doors are wide open. We dare not even suggest opening work now, having no one to man it. We are, however, giving such attention as we can privately to the students particularly. I have an intensely interesting Bible Class consisting of men from the Government College, studying the life of Christ. They are very bright men from good homes, very anxious to learn and open minded. You will not fail to pray for them.

There are also perils confronting these men, Idolatry among them is almost if not entirely gone. I never meet one who acknowledges the slightest belief in it or who admits that he ever worships at the temples. I have not seen one in the temples worshipping. The priests of the Buddhist and Taotist temples tell me they never come to worship anymore. The temples are the most deserted places here and the priests seem to be little more than beggars. In talking with these students and with those who know them well, we constantly hear it said they belong to the "Wu Shen Tang," or "No god association." Atheism is supplanting Idolatry. Worship of false gods is giving place to belief in no god. Faith in the old has been so completely shattered that one does not wonder at this new attitude. I believe it is the conviction of every informed person that our movement can best help these Government students to a real faith in a living Savior. They are now open to our help.

Another peril is the cigarette. It fills one with admiration and hope to see the heroic fight which is being made by China's best men against the opium curse and the measure of success they are attaining. The address of Tong Kai Con, one of the Commissioners representing China at the Opium Conference recently held in Shanghai, and also a very active leader in our Association, should be read by every one and ought to fill every friend of China with new hope for her future.

The opium curse, however, is being supplanted by the cigarette curse, introduced and pushed by American and

CHEMICAL SOCIETY.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Chemical Society was held in the Laboratory on Thursday afternoon. Soap-making was discussed in its various phases. Starkweather, '12, gave a short acount of its history. Although soap was probably made by the early Germans, who used it as a hair dye, it was not commonly used until Chevreul advanced the theory of saponification, and the soap industry was established.

Fitch, '11, described several methods of manufacture used at the present time. Much of our perfumed toilet soap is simply made of a poor grade of laundry soap which has been remelted and highly perfumed. It is at the disposal of the soap manufacturer to make soap containing two to three times as much water and other adulterates, so that integrity in soap making has nearly been beaten out of the market.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN.

The regular meeting of the Deutscher Verein was held on Thursday evening. Herr Waltman, '12, read a discussion on the subject, "In wiefern ist Grillparzer's Abufrau eine Schicksalstragoedie?" Herr Professor Riemer then gave a very interesting talk on the life and customs at the German universities. A student can secure work to pay for his passage across the ocean if he desires it, and will find that he will be able to live with less expense than at an American university. But the relation between the student and professor, and between the students themselves is more restrained and formal.

KOEHNE LECTURES

TALKS ON CHRISTIAN EVIDENCES. WELL ATTENDED.

The Rev. Dr. John B. Koehne began his series of lectures on Christian Evidences on Saturday evening, when his subject was "The Tragedy of a Race." These lectures are being given in the Presbyterian church, but have the patronage of all the pastors and many prominent men of town.

These talks are already proving quite popular. No admission is charged. It is an "Honor Course," depending upon voluntary contributions for the payment of expenses. At the lecture on Sunday afternoon, when the subject was "Ecce Homo," the church was crowded to the doors.

There will be five more talks during the week, one each evening at 8 o'clock until Friday evening when the series will end. The students are especially taking great interest in the speaker.

THE WOODPECKER.

That good old bird, commonly knowa as the Wood-pecker, has been seen in this locality and we think it will make its public appearance the latter part of this week or the early part of next week. The bird will do its work well if properly nourished by the support of the studentbody. The trainers will frequently exhibit the wonderful knowledge and attainments of this highly cultured fowl, provided the students show efficient appreciation.

STUDENTS IN N. G. P.

Considerable interest has always been and is at present being shown by students in Company H., Twelth Regiment, N. G. P., of town. At the regular weekly drill held last Monday evening Edmunds, '10, was elected Corporal of the Company, of which Groff, '10, is 2nd. Lieutenant. Prof. Homer Smith, of the Academy, is also a member of this company, and Tyson and Coll, '12, have just joined.

1912 L'AGENDA ASSISTANTS.

Editor-elect Waltman of the 1912 L'Agenda has appointed as his assistants Alberta L. Bronson and James P. Harris.

NOTICE.

All members of the Medical Society and medical students are requested to meet in 49, West College, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

SENIORS AND JUNIORS ENJOY SLEIGH RIDES

ON WED. AND THURS. EVENINGS.

The Juniors Made Their Trip to Mifflinburg, While Seniors Went to Sunbury.

To the tooting of horns, the "jolly Juniors" started from the Seminary Wednesday at 5.30 p. m. on their sleigh ride to Mifflinburg.

With the ideal conditions for sleighing, the ride was very enjoyable. Each one seemed to vie with the other in helping to make the party a success, as far as a good time was concerned.

After a ride of an hour and a half the Juniors arrived at the Commercial Hotel. Here the committee had arranged for a fine chicken and waffle supper at 8.30 p. m. Departing from the usual custom of after-dinner speeches, everyone joined in making the occasion one to be long remembered. Several of the party entertained with musical selections and games were also played adding to the general merriment.

With great reluctance and at a late hour jollities ceased at the hotel and the return was made to the college. All joined in pronouncing the sleighing party decidedly successful.

The Junior Sleigh Ride was followed on Thursday evening by that of the Seniors who enjoyed one of the most successful social functions in the history of their class when sixty of their members gathered at the Seminary for the annual Senior Sleigh-ride.

In return for the royal reception which the "1910" girls gave to the "1910" men last term the Senior men sent a general invitation to the ladies of the class to a sleigh-ride. As a result almost the entire Senior class turned out and filled to overflowing the three large sleighs which awaited the jolly crowd. After a delightful trip on a perfect night the party arrived in Sunbury where they feasted in the dining parlors of Stahl's Cafe. At the close of the dinner the class was entertained by music from Long's Orchestra, by recitations from some of the talented elocutionists of the class, and by various other amusements as arranged by the committee.

Early the next morning the class arrived in Lewisburg and ended their jolly ride by giving the Senior yell for the committee, which consisted of Mr. Hartshorn, Miss Bailey, Mr. Hertzog, Mr. McDonough, Mr. Pangburn Mr. Wiant and Mr. Baskins, for their excellent management of the successful event.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

The controversies in the ninth and tenth chapters manifest Jesus as the Light and the true Shepherd. To the disciples the blind man bespoke a theory of sin and disease; to Jesus, an opportunity to manifest the works of God. To the Jews the act of healing was a violation of the Sabbath; to Jesus the act was a manifestation of the Light. To the Jews the act was condemnatory because they would not see its reality; to the man who was healed and to others who shared in his belief it was Light because in recognizing the beneficence, they opened themselves to the mural of the act. The Light is the symnol for the directing force in spiritual life and Jesus' claim to give this Light rests on his sense of his mission and his relation to the Father.

The parable of the Good Shepherd is also a series of contrasts. On one side we have the Jewish hierarchy, the refusal of the people to follow them and the destructiveness of their works. On the other hand we have Jesus, the loyalty of the people, and the abundant life. The claim in this parable is based on the mutual love of the Father and Jesus, and this love rests on Jesus' voluntary surrender of his life.

INDEPENDENT BASKETBALL.

Considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed by some students concerning reports in the daily newspapers about basketball games between Bucknell University and some small high school teams. The fact of the matter is that certain players do occasionally go out and have games with other teams. Against this nothing can be said, for each person is free to do as he sees fit. There is, however, serious ground for objection against such independent basketbal; teams playing under the name of the institution, or at least being represented in the papers as being the University's team.

As to the account of such a game in a Philadelphia newspaper of last week, which says that a certain high school "defeated the Bucknell University in a game of basketball by a" certain score, we can only say that we were not aware that such a game had been on the 'Varsity's schedule, nor did the 'Varsity as we know it play the game. Yet any one not acquainted with the facts in the case would see the thing only in one light, and this decidedly unfavorable to the institution.

We do not wish to cast a blame on anyone. We do not know who is to blame for a like blunder. We merely wish to emphasize the care that needs to be exercised in this respect by whomsoever it may concern.

1910 CLASS MEMORIAL.

To the Editor of the Orange and Blue:

Your editorial on the "Alumni Endowment Fund," which appeared in the last issue of the Orange and Blue, ought to stir up not only the Alumni but the undergraduates as well. At the present time our class has begun to consider what it is going to donate to the university in the way of a class memorial; but no definite idea has yet been hit upon. Your editorial, however, suggests a splendid plan how the class of 1910 can start the ball rolling in the matter of an Alumni Endowment Fund.

It has been the custom for the past few years for the classes to present to the University on graduation a memorial costing anywhere from seven to eight hundred dollars. Our class is planning to do the same thing. There is an opportunity, however, for the class of 1910 to erect a memorial that will far surpass anything that has ever been donated before by any class.

Suppose, instead of erecting a memorial in the spring, the members of the class of 1910 form an alumni association, place a fund of $800 in the hands of the Registrar, and contribute individually five dollars a year for five years. Then, at the fifth annual reunion, let the class decide what it will do with its endowment fund. It will then have more than $2,500 to work with. At that rate, a new athletic field itself would not be an impossible feat for our class. Or, in combination, with one of the other classes, working along the same plan outlined above, a joint class memorial in the shape of a new athletic field, or something of equal value, would be an assured fact.

Member of 1910.

ALUMNI ENDOWMENT FUND.

The following is an extract from a a letter which we received from an alumnus concerning the movement we began last week for concerted action for an alumni endowment fund:—

My Dear Sir:— I have read with great interest and appreciation the editorial on the Alumni Endowment Fund, to every word of which I heartily agree, save that in the case of some of us alumni there may be need of a "downward revision" of the amount suggested; however you may count on me to do all I can for such a praiseworthy undertaking. With best wishes for the ever increasing prosperity of Alma Mater, I am

Eighty per cent. of the assistant professors in American Universities must supplement their salaries by outside work in order to "make ends meet," and 74 per cent. of them are married and have families to support. These are statements made recently by Prof. Guido Marx, of Stanford University, in a paper on "The Problem of the Assistant Professor."

ALUMNI PERSONALS.

A. M. ("Dutch") Smith, '01, has been re-elected city engineer of Elkhart, Ind., where he has been residing for several years.

The Rev. A. W. Hand, '94, who closed his service of the Memorial Baptist church, Salem, N. J., on Jan. 2, has accepted a call to the First Baptist church at Keyport, N. J.

Miss Amelia Wensel, '08, of Lewisburg, departed recently for Crown Point, N. Y., where she has accepted a position as instructor in languages in the high school at that place.

Jay Wolfe, Civ. Engrg, '07, after a successful experience in the maintenance of way department of the Vandalia Railroad, accepted a position as civil engineer in the city inspection Department of Chicago.

Broaddus Institute, of which Prof. Elkanah Hulley, '92, is principal, has been removed from Clarksburg, W. Va., to Philippi, the same state, where a new $175,000 building has just been completed for the use of the school.

George W. Wagenseller, '92, editor of the Middleburg Post, was one of the speakers at the annual convention of the Penna. State Editorial Association at Harrisburg, on Jan 18. The subject of his address was "Circulation."

Franklin and Marshall College on Jan. 7 inaugurated its new president, the Rev. Dr. Henry H. Apple.

The University of Pennsylvania has gained more students in the last five years than Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Stanford, Johns Hopkins, Chicago and California all put together, and its advance in other respects, although not commensurate with its growth in numbers, has been surprisingly great.

LETTER FROM A CHINESE MISSIONARY.

British companies with all the energy and money which such companies possess, until it is spreading like wild fire into every province, city and village, far into the interior. The appetite is being created and fostered by the free gift of cigarettes to small boys and girls. Every little shop seems to be selling them, all classes are learning to smoke them and they are seen on every hand. We, here, never see an opium place anymore but the cigarette seems to be everywhere. To the students they come with peculiar peril. A cigarette saturated mind, especially of the class sold here, will not be conducive to the Gospel message or indeed to anything very high. This therefore becomes a new foe or the old one in a new form, with which every friend of China must contend.

The great outstanding need of our work in Tientsin now is proper equipment, to which I had hoped to give attention while at home but from which I was shut out as you know. We have the men, the open doors, the contact, the need is on every hand. We have demonstrated beyond question that the Association not only meets the need but that it is recognized as meeting it, and that it can be locally self supporting if properly equipped. We are not yet in a position to secure buildings here, nor would it be wise. We are just now laying plans for a canvas for a lot which will probably cost $25,000, gold or more, situated as we must be to serve the field. This we are planning and hope to raise locally, conditioned on the fact that a building be secured in America. A short term canvas is being planned to secure the money. When this letter reaches you it will probably be in full force. Pray for its closing days. Victory in this line will put us many stages in advance, defeat would be disastrous. I have hoped that Pennsylvania would give the money for the building which should cost not less than $75,000 and this in a city of 1,000,000 as we all know is very modest. We must have it in the next year. What better thing could our State do than erect such a building for this great city, at the gateway of the capital and one of the most advanced cities of the new China, open to us as few, if any, are.

May I not lay this on the hearts of the men of our State, many of whom are among my closest friends and with most of whom I have had some fellowship in service in this work among young men.

This opportunity will never come again. Some one must and will soon meet it. I should count it a rare privilege to lead some in our State to do this great service.

Sincerely yours
(Signed) CHAS. W. HARVEY.

VARSITY WON ITS SECOND GAME

ALBRIGHT SHOWED FINE FORM.

The Visitors Kept the Local Quintette Going a Fast Clip. The Final Score Was 34-22.

In a fast and exciting game the local quintette triumphed over Albright Friday night by the score of 34-22. The visitors showed unexpected speed and passing ability, and during the whole first half they kept the 'Varsity guessing.

The game started off at a fast clip and the visitors took the lead on a foul goal by Kelcher and a field goal by Milnor. A foul goal and a field goal by Thatcher and a field goal by Zehner then gave Bucknell the lead. After that the local five were never headed but succeeded in keeping at least a couple points ahead of their speedy opponents. In the first half the teams were even on foul goals, having scored three each. The 'Varsity had the advantage of one field goal and ended with the score 13-11.

The cleverness of the score and the possibility of the visitors repeating the trick that they sprang at Lehigh where they outplayed that team in the second half, kept the excitement at fever heat. Then between the halves the band kept things lively and must have had the double effect of inspiring the local team and of bewildering the visitors. At any rate the outcome of the game was practically decided soon afterward.

The second half had scarcely more than begun when Kurtz and Thatcher began a goal throwing contest and swept the Albright five completely off their feet. Seeing the game fast slipping away, the visitors hurried to attempt to overcome the local lead by changing their line-up. Captain Heindel moved from forward to center, Kelcher went to forward and Saylor entered the game at guard. The change had a peculiar effect upon both teams. Thatchers scoring was stopped but on the other hand Kelcher was also checked. Kurtz and Zehner were still free and able to score. The visitors therefore gained little by the change but rather weakened in some respects. The 'Varsity slightly increased the lead they had secured and carried off the honors of the night by the final score of 34-22.

The general playing of the 'Varsity although very good at times, seemed to show a slight tendency toward looseness. The one fault that marred the contest was a reappearance of the old individual playing. Had there been the team work as manifested in the Susquehanna game the contest would have been a little more Bucknell and the game would never have been very much in doubt. It may be that the absence of Captain Craig was partly responsible for the decrease in team work. With the one exception of occasional loose teamwork the work of the night was good. Thatcher excelled in the number of points scored by making 19 of the 34. Big "Rube" tallied seven field goals and five foul goals. Zehner stood next with eight points and Kurtz ended the list with seven. Zehner played an exceptionally strong floor game also. Rhodes did well for his first full 'Varsity game while Reber again showed his ability to take the ball down the floor.

For the visitors Milnor, Kelcher and Captain Heindel did the best work. Milnor showed up well in floor work and in goal throwing likewise. Kelcher made two pretty field goals and tallied four points on fouls. Captain Heindel tallied three field goals and did some pretty dribbling and passing. On the whole the visitors' style of play was new in several respects and at times the 'Varsity did not know what to expect. In passing and dribbling Albright worked some fancy plays to advantage. Likewise they were sly in trying to break up the local team work.

One distinctive feature of the Albright game was the clean playing of the local five. Only six fouls were called upon Bucknell, one of which was for running with the ball. The visitors however had thirteen fouls called upon them, twelve of which were for holding. Holding seemed to be one of the characteristics of Albright's playing and they seemed to have the trick down well for several times they escaped the vigilance of the referee.

In foul goal throwing the visitors had the advantage in percentage. Kelcher made four goals out of six chances. For Bucknell Thatcher tallied five out of ten and Kurtz one out of three.

Friday nights' line-up was as follows:—

| Bucknell | | Albright |
|---|---|---|
| Zehner | forward | Heindel Kelcher |
| Kurtz | forward | Milnor |
| Thatcher | center | Beeckr Heindel |
| Rodes | guard | Hummel Kehler |
| Reber | guard | Kelcher Saylor |

Goals from field—Zehner 4, Kurtz 3, Thatcher 7, Heindel 3, Milnor 4, Kelcher 2. Goals from fouls—Thatcher 5, Kurtz, Kelcher 4. Fouls committed—Kurtz, Thatcher, Rhodes, Reber, Heindel 3, Milnor 2, Becker 3, Hummel 2, Kelcher 3. Referee—Turner, Williamspor. Timekeeper—Hoskins. Time of halves 20 minutes.

BASKETBALL GAMES

GEO. WASHINGTON THIS EVE. JUNIOR-SOPH. THURS. EVE.

Tonight the 'Varsity lines up against the Geo. Washington University five for the first time in the history of Bucknell basketball. Little is known here as to the ability of the visiting team but if they can play basketball as they do football they will be a team to try the mettle of the local five. One new team has been met and conquered, so now it is up to the 'Varsity to repeat the trick tonight.

On Thursday night the second of the interclass games will be played. The Juniors will go up against the Sophomores for a battle royal. The game should be a good one for the strength of the Junior five is a little impaired and they may be compelled to play without Craig and McCullen. The loss of these two men should put the two teams on a more even basis and prevent the Juniors from having the game entirely their own way. The importance of the contest lies in the fact that the loser may be put out of the championship race while the winner will tie with the Seniors for first place.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

Between the controversies with the hierarchy and the esteroic discourses to the disciples there are two pictures of the Messiah: the popular Messiah and the sacrificial Messiah. The multitude, stirred by the resurrection of Lazarus, hailed him as the Messiah. Jesus, moreover, riding in state yielded to the popular conceptions only so far as he could without being inconsistent with himself; for he rode not as a conquering king, but as a prince of peace.

The triumphal entry took place on Sunday. On Tuesday of the same week some Greeks requested to see him. The thought of the Greeks coming to see him led him to reflect on the future, when all men would be drawn unto him, on his death when he would be glorified, and on the principle involved in his death. This principle he explained as life thru death, as life attained through disregard of mere physical existence and in preference for the conditions and possibility of the physical existence. Because of this principle the multitude, who hailed him as Messiah, broke with him.

DON'T FORGET.

Don't forget the benefit play, "Among the Gypsies," given by the Frill and Frown girls, Feb. 11 in the Institute Chapel. A novel and entertaining little play. Don't fail to see it!

CLASS OF 1913 HELD BANQUET

AT WILLIAMSPORT MON. EVE.

First Year Men Had No Trouble in Getting Away. The Gathering is Reported a Success.

Contrary to expectation the Freshmen had little trouble in getting away to Williamsport last Monday evening for their first class banquet. Profiting by the example of the Sophomores, some left town as early as Sunday evening, and the rest early Monday morning. The date and the place for holding the banquet had been kept a secret so well that none of the 1912 class knew of it, until all of the Freshmen had departed in safety. At 11 a. m. Monday the Sophomores organized small parties and watched the Milton trolleys and the trains but their efforts were fruitless.

In the meantime the dining-hall of the Park Hotel, Williamsport, was being decorated with garnet and steel, the class colors, and everything was being arranged to make the banquet a success.

Promptly at the time set the members of the class together with their guests, the Junior President, Spurgeon, Sweet, '11, and McNair, '11 took their places around the board. Campbell's orchestra, of Sunbury helped to enliven the occasion with excellent music. After a fine menu, the following program was given:—

Toastmaster F. Raymond H. Richards
Faculty Leslie W. Stout
"The greatest can but blaze and pass away."
Our Esteemed Guests Harry X. Kelly
"Here's our chief guest,
If he had been forgotten,
It had been as a gap in our great feast."
Response Jesse K. Spurgeon
Our Girls Friedman Cathrall
"Be to her virtues very kind;
Be to her faults a little blind."
Class Spirit Ralph A. Still
"Tried and True."
Varsity Football Albert M. Cober
It is the first that ever I heard
Breaking of ribs was sport for ladies.'
Class Scraps George W. Potts
"Once defeated but not vanquished."
Class Games Howard Fisher
"Victory is sweet. Defeat is——"
Class History James McClure
When the Green Button Ripens Howard Goehring
"Slow but sure."
Our Football Trips Charles Steele
"Our antagonist is our helper."
Our Boys Miss Bertin
"A little curly-headed good-for nothing,
And mischief-making monkey from his birth."
Wit and Humor John McCullough
"Look, he is winding up the watch of his wit;
By and by it will strike."
Class Poem Miss Irey
Basketball Herman Zehner
"Enough of merit has each honored name
To shine untarnished on the rolls of fame,
And add new luster to the historic page."
Class of 1912 Jerome L. Faulhamus
"Best ever.."

ACADEMY vs. K. S. N. S.

In a fast game the Academy clearly outplayed the Keystone State Normal five. Fulmer starred for the Prep. with fourteen field goals to his credit. The line-up:—

| Academy | | Normal |
|---|---|---|
| Goodwin | forward | Thomas Criswell |
| Fulmer | forward | Kessler |
| Loewen | center | Spancake Seeman |
| Sutter | guard | Morris |
| Boyer | guard | Yoder |

Goals from field—Goodwin 8, Fulmer 14, Loewen 6, Sutter 1, Kessler 2, Thomas 2, Spancake. Goals from fouls—Fulmer 3, Thomas 3, Kessler 2. Referee—Zehner '13. Scorer—Prof. Thomas.

MISSIONARY FROM BURMA.

Dr. St. Johns, Ragoon College, Burma, spoke to the students here on Tuesday afternoon in Bucknell Hall, and at the Seminary in the evening. In his message, "A Call to Save a Destitute Humanity," he adequately described the needs of Burma, emphasized the pressing needs of more men and women going to that country to labor, and showed the endless possibilities for greater usefulness of a life wholly surrendered to Christ in serving a heathen-blighted humanity.

At the close of his impressive address he held a conference in which by answering the questions of those interested he cleared up mistaken ideas regarding missionary service and showed that every man and woman if he or she were sincerely consecrated, could find a place to work. Dr. St. Johns' stay with us for a few days was not unattended with good, a senior was led to sign the declaration card, whereby signifying his purpose to become a Student Volunteer.

ALUMNAE CLUB MEETING.

The Feb. meeting of the Bucknell Alumnae Club, consisting of a "Musicale and Social" will be held in the Institute Parlors on Tuesday evening, Feb. 1 at 7.30, instead of Feb. 8.

1911 L'AGENDA

PUBLICATION OF ANNUAL IS WELL UNDER WAY.

The 1911 L'Agenda Board is at present busy gathering in the remaining material for the book. A large part of the literature and illustrations has been handed in very promptly, and those who have not yet made the contribution assigned to them are urged to do so now in order that the book may be published early. The Board will be glad to have any suggestions or new ideas for the book from any one who may be interested in the annual. One of the new features of the book will be a history of baseball at Bucknell.

A thorough canvass of the buildings will be made shortly for subscriptions, and the board urges every member of the college to give the book the support it needs from the student body. So when you are asked to subscribe don't leave the canvasser go without ordering from him at least one L'Agenda.

NEW FOOTBALL RULES

To divide the game into quarters, with a five minutes' rest between each quarter, a total playing time of 60 minutes; to prevent "hiking"; to prevent "piling up"; to rule out the body check on forward passes; to eliminate tandem plays; to prevent line shifting, requiring seven men on the line at all times; to remove the penalty from forward passes; to examine every candidate physically before the season; to prevent boys from playing against men—in other words, preparatory schools against colleges; to place the responsibility for an injured man continuing in the game on the athletic director; to prevent swearing, and to change the scoring rules.

These were the salient features in the new football rules adopted recently at Atlanta, Georgia, by the S. I. A. A. Rules Committee. The changes were made to lessen the dangers of the game. The Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee will come together for the same purpose in New York City on February 4 and 5.

STATE COLLEGE EXTENSION.

Trustees of Penna. State College, in annual session recently, indorsed the movement for college extension, including a night school in Williamsport and an apprentices' school in Altoona. It was also decided to support the train for instruction in safety appliances to be run through mining regions.

MINISTERIAL MEETING.

The Ministerial Association will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

KOEHNE LECTURES PROVE POPULAR

MANY STUDENTS ATTENDED.

Series of Eight Addresses Given in Presbyterian Church. All Deal With Christian Evidences.

Dr. Koehne's lectures on "Christian Evidences," begun on the 22nd., closed last Friday evening. Although this series of talks was not given under any college management, many of the professors and students were regular in their attendance and most enthusiastic in their appreciation of him. The Presbyterian Church, where the lectures were given, could with difficulty hold the people that flocked every evening to hear this forceful speaker. Even the best students were so eager to hear him that they rather neglected their college work than miss his talks.

Dr. Koehne has eight lectures in his series, all dealing with some of the great themes of religion discussed by Christian people. No particular one of these can be called his best, and yet it could hardly be said that all are of equal merit. Every one seems to have its special advocates.

The first lecture to be given was on "The Tradegy of a Race." This was followed on Sunday morning by one concerning "The Crucifixion." Sun day afternoon it was "Ecce Homo." Then throughout last week ending with Friday evening the remaining lectures were given in this order: "The Conflict between Caesar and the Christians," "The Reformation," "Agnosticism," "Popular Phases of Doubt," and "The Miracle Problem."

One of his lectures, which is on "Immortality" he could not give, but promised his audience to return at some other time and complete his series. He expects to publish a book in the near future which will contain much of the material of several of his lectures. Dr. Koehne goes from Lewisburg to Corry, Pa.

STUDENT RECITAL.

FRILL AND FROWN BENEFIT.

Frill and Frown will give a benefit play, "Among the Gypsies," in the Seminary Chapel Friday evening, Feb. 11 at 8.30 p. m. As there are a limited number of tickets and none will be sold at the door all persons desiring them should see the President, Ruby Pierson, or one of the Frill and Frown girls at once. It is hoped that all friends of Frill and Frown will patronize this play.

DEBATING TRYOUT.

The President of the Debating League requests all those who wish to try out for the debates between Bucknell and the two western institutions to meet in Euepia Hall on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. He is especially anxious that a large number of candidates be present, as a date for the first tryout is to be fixed upon.

AMERICAN COLLEGES.

Pres. Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton, at a dinner recently tendered him, spoke in a significant address of social conditions in American colleges.

He declared that they reduce men to a standard which if maintained would impoverish the nation, deprive it of all originative action. He further stated that the colleges are trying to do something for which the country has no use, and that America does not like her colleges.

"What impresses me most in traveling through the country," he said, "is that the country is radically dissatisfied with the colleges. It is universally felt, not by the little coteries of men who love the place and cannot, therefore, be critical, but in those larger circles on whose view our very life depends, that the colleges have lingered at a past point of view and are trying to do something for which the country has any use.

"I want to have the men who are engaged in the various organizations realize the realtivity of things—what relation sport bears to intellectual effort, what relation things in which you are interested bear to those in which we are interested, how there is something admirable, beautiful, enticing in the things ahead of you which are of the same kind as the things which you are interested in now.

"For that reason I have suggested that we take out of our lives here only the undesirable things. The first of these is social ferment, social anxiety, the doubtfulness of what is going to be the fortune of a lad when he enters the university; whether he will have the field of university life thrown wide open to him or whether he will be shunted onto a side track and made to play a minor part where he will feel, if not mortification, at least that there is something that he missed, not by reason of something that he has done, or that he has not done, but because somebody did not choose him into the greater privileges."

What is worse than social ferment, he said, he could find no better expression for than standardization. "The first principle of university life," he declared, "is individual freedom and individuality. If you reduce men to a standard you impoverish the nation. You deprive it of all particular genius, of all original action. If you have a social order, the chief characteristics of which is to standardize men, you have what no university can afford to retain. I do not know of any means of removing the incubus of standardization, except to take out of it this one thing: That a man has to be elected to these privileges."

The thing which he considers the worst, standardization, is what we all must be on our guard against. In our endeavor to follow the crowd of fellow-students, we reach the point where we are afraid to speak forth our own individual beliefs concerning student activities, unless those beliefs agree with the opinion of everybody else.

THE KOEHNE LECTURES.

The students can be congratulated for the unusual interest they have the past week shown in the Koehne lectures. Whether it was the agreeable manner of the speaker, his oratorical power, or the nature of the subjects he dealt with that drew the college men is hard to tell. It may have been these three reasons that influenced the students. And it is very good. In the response that Koehne got from the students, he may in great part feel himself repaid for coming to Lewisburg.

Perhaps his coming at the time when he did come was opportune. The Y. M. C. A is planning to have a series of meetings this term just like the Woelfkin meetings of last winter term. The success of these will depend in large measure upon the interest and attendance given to them. Therefore we say that Koehne ought to have prepared the way for a real spiritual awakening at Bucknell this term.

The Oklahoma legislature has appropriated $25,000 to install a printing plant in the State University, and college publications will have the use of this plant.

"INDEPENDENT BASKET-BALL."

To Editor of The Orange and Blue:

In answer to the editorial in the last issue of the Orange and Blue under the above heading it is only necessary to call the attention of the various athletic managers, captains and also the members of the Executive Board to the Constitution of the Athletic Association Article IV Section 3 which reads as follows: "It shall be the duty of the Executive Board, subject to the control of the President of the University, to regulate and control all matters pertaining to the membership and management of all Athletic teams, in which any member of the student body shall officialy represent the University, or any class or organization in the University." Let the various members of the student body and of the Executive Board do their duty and live up to the Constitution and there should be no further complaint as to false reports in the press. Should the above fail in their duty then let the college authorities do their duty by enforcing "The Laws of the College, enacted by the Board of Trustees" and one of which the writer believes to be to the effect that no student during the school term can leave Lewisburg without the consent of the college President. Any team other than the varsity finding themselves advertised Bucknell should refuse to play any teams so advertising them. There has been in the past at least one instance where a body of students upon reaching a certain town found themselves advertised as the varsity and refused to play under any consideration. Those students footed the loss out of their pockets. They had true college spirit and something which should be had by every student.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

The University of Penna. now has a motor cycle club. The organization is prospering and every Saturday takes a trip to some point of historical interest.

Harvard Law School officials do not favor co-educationalism. Recently they refused admittance to a Vassar graduate solely because she was a woman.

Univ. of Chicago plans to have a $1,000,000 physical laboratory. This money is to be furnished by the president of the board of trustees of the university.

Mrs. Russell Sage gave $50,000 to Syracuse University on her last birthday. The money is to be used as an endowment fund for the teachers' college.

Steps were recently taken by the Senate Committee on Military Affairs in dealing with hazing at West Point to have Noah Webster and his dictionary adjudged obsolete. The definition given to "hazing" by that authority is not satisfactory to the committee, and Congress is asked to make a new one.

The student body of Case School has presented a petition to the faculty for an extra five dollar assessment to be levied on each student. This will go to the support of the athletic association, musical clubs, band and general fund, and is planned primarily to increase the interest in athletics. The petition has the approval of the faculty and has been submitted to the trustees for their consideration.

Present day child prodigies at Harvard University promise to maintain greater Boston's appellation of "the Hub" of the intellectual universe. Included in a quartet of phenomenally developed child mentalities is Norbel Weiner, aged 14 years, a graduate of Tufts, the youngest known person to attain the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Another youthful student at Harvard is W. J. Sidis, 11 years old, a marvelously precocious lad in the most advanced problems in mathematics. Two other abnormally educated children completing this unique group are less widely known. They are a brother and a sister—Linn Berle, 15 years, and Adolph A. Berle, 14 years old, members of the freshman classes at Radcliffe and Harvard colleges respectively.

GEORGE WASHINGTON DEFEATED BY 'VARSITY

IN MOST AMUSING GAME.

The Capital City Five Were Clearly Outplayed by the Locals' Fast Pace. Score 49-17.

"I would not have missed it for anything" is the remark generally made by those who witnessed the 'Varsity triumph over Geo. Washington last Monday night. The game itself was a little one-sided, which many had anticipated, as the score of 49-17 shows. Yet the redeeming feature was the genuine amusement shown in the second half. No one can give a description of that period. The best theory seems to be that it was an old time three-ringed circus.

The game began fairly well and the visitors took and maintained the lead for the first five minutes. At last Kurtz and Reber began to drop a few goals. Not to be outdone Zehner then got into the free-for-all goal throwing contest and spurted to the front. The visitors' lead was quickly overcome and the half ended 27-14, in favor of the local quintette.

The second half had scarcely begun when the Washington men were left far behind. In a little more than ten minutes the Bucknell team had run the score up to 45-17. Then Coach Hoskins began to send in the substitutes. A goal each by Fisher and Zehner ended the scoring for the night. During this time things had been going from bad to worse. The visitors became more and more bewildered and the game gradually took on the appearance of a circus.

The spectators began to laugh more and more heartily and even the players became so amused at one another that they played more recklessly than ever. Even the referee found difficulty to straighten his face long enough to blow the whistle. When the show finally ended Bucknell had won the funniest game ever seen in Tustin gymnasium by the overwhelming score of 49-17.

Little can be said about the work of the team, for the visitors could not force the locals to exert themselves very much. Zehner put up a great game and tallied nine field goals against Washington's veteran captain. Kurtz also made six baskets. Reber in addition to playing a fast floor game tallied five field goals. For the visitors Ellis did the best all-round work while Prince led in the number of points scored.

The line-up:—

| Bucknell | | Geo. Washington |
|---|---|---|
| Zehner | forward | Ellis |
| Dreher | | |
| Kurtz | forward | Lucas |
| Sprout | | |
| Thatcher | forward | Prince |
| Fisher | | |
| Rhodes | guard | Marsh |
| Reber | guard | Fowler |

Goals from field—Zehner 9, Kurtz 6, Reber 5, Thatcher 2, Fisher, Ellis 3, Lucas, Prince 4. Goals from fouls—Thatcher 3, Prince 1. Fouls committed—Zehner, Dreher, Kurtz, Reber 2, Ellis, Prince 2, Marsh, Fowler. Referee—Turner. Timekeeper—Hoskins. Time of halves—20 minutes.

JUNIORS VS. SOPHOMORES

1911 DEFEATS 1912 BY SCORE OF 57-12.

Although it was not so funny as Monday night's game the Junior-Sophomore contest Thursday evening was also amusing. The way the Juniors toyed with their opponents and the futile efforts of the Sophomores to shoot goals when given open chances made plenty of fun for the spectators. The goal throwing contest between Kurtz, Thatcher and Loveland had its funny side too. It likewise enabled the Juniors to roll up a score of 57 to their opponents' 12.

The game started off well and the Sophomores took the lead on two field goals by captain Bartholomew. Then the Juniors got started and fairly swept their opponents off their feet. Thatcher and Loveland had a merry goal throwing duel which, coupled by a long shot by Clarke, gave the 1911 men a lead of 26-6 when the half ended.

In the second half the Sophomores substituted three new men but the change weakened rather than strengthened the team. The Juniors now had a very merry time of it and could afford to take turns in resting and watching the game. In this half Kurtz began to find the basket and tallied nine field goals. When the show finally ended the score stood 57-12.

Captain Bartholomew was the only Sophomore who gave the opponents much trouble. For the Juniors Thatcher lead in goal throwing with Kurtz a close second. Loveland too showed speed and ability in scoring. Clarke also surprised the spectators by showing some of his old time form. Jimmie had the distinction of making the longest shot of the season.

| Juniors | | Sophomores |
|---|---|---|
| Loveland | forward | Bartholomew |
| Kurtz | forward | Goehring |
| | | Igler |
| Thatcher | center | Dreher |
| Rhodes | guard | Schmidt |
| | | Jordan |
| Clarke | guard | Roberts |
| | | Musser |

Goals from field—Loveland 5, Kurtz 9, Thatcher 10, Rhodes, Clarke 2, Dreher, Bartholomew 4. Goals from fouls—Thatcher 3, Bartholomew 2. Fouls committed—Kurtz, Thatcher 2, Rhodes, Clarke, Dreher, Schmidt 3, Jordan 2, Roberts, Musser. Referee—Reber, 1910. Timekeeper—Hoskins. Time of halves—20 minutes.

MOELWYN SINGERS

WELSH SINGERS WILL RENDER SPLENDID PROGRAM TUES.

Probably the greatest musical treat Lewisburg has ever had will be the singing of the celebrated Moelwyn Male Voice Choir of North Wales, at Reaver M. E. Church next Tuesday evening. This organization is composed of twenty-eight artists and has sung before many of the crowned heads of Europe. While in this country they have received flattering ovations everywhere, and a glance at the following varied program will show the high character of their work.

"The Destruction of Zaza" is one of the most thrillingly dramatic male choruses ever written, while "Men of Harlech," the great Welsh War Song, will enthrall the audience with its intense martial spirit. "The "Pilgrims" is a wonderfully descriptive recital of the fears and doubts, the hopes and yearnings, and finally the triumphant enthusiasm of those brave knights of olden time who pilgrimaged to the Holy Land. The program:—

JUNIOR WEEK

INTERESTING SCHEDULE OF EVENTS ARRANGED.

Junior week is scheduled to come next week beginning with Feb. 14th, and ending on the 19th. Arrangements for the week's social and other stunts are about completed, and the program mapped out will be varied enough to please all.

In the first place there will be two basketball games played at home that week. The Alumni game which usually draws a large crowd will be pulled off on the 17th. Then on Saturday evening, the 19th, State College plays on our own floor, and from the fast clip at which the 'Varsity is going at present that should be one of the greatest games of the season.

On Thursday evening immediately after the Alumni game the Juniors will hold their smoker in the Armory. The College Band furnishes the music and all Seniors and Alumni are invited to attend. The Juniors especially, since it is a class affair, are urged by the committee to be out.

The next evening, the 18th, the Junior Prom, the great event of the week, will be pulled off. Invitations are not being sent to the men in school, but the Prom Committee takes this method of extending to every student in College and in the Prep. an invitation. Arrangements for the affair are complete. Since the Prom comes between the Alumni and State games, it is expected that many out-of-town persons will be present as well as alumni and State men. Campbells orchestra of Sunbury is engaged. Mr. Reed of town will be the caterer. Decorations will be in the class colors.

The following Wednesday, Feb. 23, right after the Swarthmore game on the 22nd, the Bucknellian Benefit will be held in the Orpheum Theatre, where a program will be offered that is bound to please the most fastidious.

SOPHOMORE-SENIOR PARTY.

The girls of 1912 gave to the Senior girls one of the most delightful parties held this season. Each Senior was escorted by her own particular "Red Jacque" to the "Gym" where a surprise awaited her. The usual everyday array of clubs, dumb-bells, "horses," etc., had disappeared under a gay profession of banners, pennants, class colors and flowers. Even the lights had been transformed into huge Jacque Roses and Black-eyed-Susans. The dance program, a large Black-eyed Susan, was filled for each Senior by her admiring "Jacque" and then the fun began.

All joined in the Grand March, a charming scene to the onlooker. Then came the Waltzes and Two Steps, vigorously encored. During the intermission refreshments were served and "our best" stories told. After several more numbers the party came to an end with cheers for the Sophomores and a final waltz by the light of the "moon."

JUNIOR PUBLICATION TAKING FORM

NEW FEATURES INTRODUCED.

"Fifty Years of Baseball at Bucknell," and Personal Letters From College Presidents.

What is the greatest value of a college education?

Presidents of the leading colleges of America, including Princeton, Yale, Michigan, Brown, Syracuse, and other large institutions of learning, will answer this question in personal letters in the 1911 L'Agenda which is now under process of publication and will be completed early in the Spring term. These letters are in response to inquiries sent out by the L'Agenda Board asking the opinions of the college presidents on this question.

According to information given out by the Board last week, efforts will be directed towards making the new Junior publication of general interest to students in all departments of the University. Full group photographs of the Senior, Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes will make their appearance for the first time. Another new feature of promising interest, it is said, will be a special base ball anniversary section, "Fifty Years of Base Ball at Bucknell." A letter giving a hisotry of base ball in the '60's at Bucknell, then the University of Lewisburg, has been received by the Board from one of the cleverest players of those days, when runs were made so fast that the sport was more like a track meet than a base ball game. This letter will be published along with a general review of the national game from the time of its feeble beginning at the University of Lewisburg to its present high standing among the present-day sports at Bucknell.

With these additional features to the L'Agenda, there will be no crowding out of the regular departments which will be given as full space as in previous publications. In the literary department there are promising suggestions of interest in such topics as "Facts and Frivolities About the Faculty," representing in an unobjectionable way a glimpse of the human side of the professors; "To Philadelphia Via the Beef Train," telling the experiences of a party of students who made the trip from West Milton to Philadelphia by freight to attend the Bucknell-Penn game at Franklin Field; "Letters from a Self-made Beauty to her Emulator" and an assortment of other storylets and jingle brim full of mirth and fun, and all with a touch of college color.

A startling departure in the manner of illustrations has been made by Artist Lose, who has prepared a set of clever sketches in which the various departments and activities of college life are portrayed in the characters of devils. These sketches are bizarre to say the least and their very originality lifts them above the mediocre.

Information elicited from Manager Traugher after his visit to the publishing house at Williamsport last week, reveals the fact that something new in a cover design and in the general make-up of the L'Agenda is promised this year. No definite time has yet been fixed for the placing of the book on sale but every effort is being advanced towards having it out at an early date.

DECLAMATION CONTEST.

So much good material was discovered in the Freshman class during the preliminary contest last week that a few will be asked to stand a second test. The list of speakers will be published after the selection has been made.

"FRILL AND FROWN" BENEFIT.

The members of "Frill and Frown" invite their friends to their first benefit Feb. 11, at 8.30. The proceeds of the benefit will be used in purchasing new club properties and assist in the presentation of the bi-ennial play which occurs in 1911.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was received from one of a large number of students who seem to protest somewhat justly on the matter of using the new entrance to the gallery of the Gymnasium. This correspondent writes thus:—

Editor of Orange and Blue—

May I make a request on behalf of my kind? I ask simply that we be allowed to use the new entrance to the gallery of the Gymnasium as an entrance to the basketball games. Why? Is not the way via the basement and winding stairs sufficient? No, that way is good but not the best. A man does not mind it, but no woman goes through the process without wondering why she should be put through such a stunt when we have on the outside such an easy and pleasant avenue of entrance. This is no knock. We think the folks in charge who do so much to make things pleasant on the basketball occasions have just overlooked the matter. We wish for the sake of our Bucknell girls that this suggestion were carried out.

Yours Truly,
A GALLERY GUY.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

The Thursday night before the Gethsemane experience Jesus spent with his disciples in most sacred companionship. Even Judas, according to this Gospel, left early in the evening. An epitome of all that was said is this: ye are my friends. To Jesus this friendship meant a love that issued in service even though the persons loved did not fully appreciate the love. To the disciples this intimacy implied fellowship among themselves and an impulse to action, an impulse that came forth from Jesus. To both Jesus and his disciples it implied a share in each others purposes. The basis of their friendship was their mutual love of the Father.

Being the friendship it glowed with emotions: joy or satisfaction in seeing ideals fulfilled, peace or consciousness of the mastery of opposing forces, comfort or confidence in Jesus as the manifestation of the end in all things.

In review during the rest of the term the following topics will be considered: Jesus, the Father, the Spirit of Truth, Prayer, Christian Fellowship, and the Future.

THE WOODPECKER.

The Woodpecker has made its first appearance for the college year when on Friday morning it flew into Fegley's Book Store. We will not attempt to review its contents, inasmuch as reviewing a work too closely has the tendency to keep it from becoming a "best seller." It contains articles from the athletic situation up to matters pertaining to College Day of Prayer, from the Sophomore Stuntfest to poetry. Its tone has become more conservative compared with former copies, and on the whole it is a good sheet. Congratulations to its editors from the Orange and Blue.

A $50,000 Association building has been started at the Univ. of Texas.

COMING GAMES

ALLEGHENY TUES. EVE. DICKINSON FRIDAY NIGHT.

The first real test of Bucknell's strength will be tried this week when the 'Varsity lines up against the Allegheny quintette on Tuesday night and Dickinson on Friday night. Both visiting teams are playing fast ball and the contests should be far different from the three games already played.

Both games will be called at 7.15 to accommodate those who will want to hear the Welsh Choir on Tuesday evening and then on Friday evening the Frill and Frown play.

The Allegheny game is attracting a great deal of attention since the two schools stand tie on games won and points scored. In '04 Allegheny played at Lewisburg for the first time and won by two points. After a lapse of five years Allegheny again met Bucknell last year and lost to the locals by the score of 28-30. The game Tuesday night will therefore be the one to decide the tie.

In Friday night's game Bucknell will have to keep up the record of former teams. Thus far Dickinson has never won a basket-ball game from the Orange and Blue although some of the contests have been very close. Last year the team won by only nine points.

The scores of the games played with Dickinson are as follows:

| Year | Where Played | B. U.—D. |
|---|---|---|
| 1900 | Lewisburg | 15—12 |
| 1900 | Carlisle | 15—12 |
| 1901 | Lewisburg | 33— 9 |
| 1901 | Carlisle | 28—16 |
| 1902 | Carlisle | 21—13 |
| 1902 | Lewisburg | 46— 3 |
| 1905 | Lewisburg | 46—11 |
| 1906 | Lewisburg | 38—13 |
| 1909 | Lewisburg | 28—19 |

CHEMICAL SOCIETY.

At the regular meeting of the Chemical Society last Thursday afternoon Prof. Bromley Smith, a former member of the society, gave an outline of Cosmic Evolution. For convenience he classified the theories into supernatural creation and natural evolution. The former method given here, holds that God made the worlds in the beginning out of nothing. According to the Deists he departed after creation. The Theists contend that He continues to sustain and rule by law. The Pantheists maintain that He abides in his creations. There are several schools of Theists and Pantheists. Some hold that two acts were necessary—the creation of inorganic and organic matter. Others believe in three acts—heaven, earth and man being the order. The account in Genesis gives seven days for the work. Still another has followers: a creation and catastrophe for each geologic epoch. Lastly, the individual theory, that each plant, animal, and man is a separate creation, is widely current.

The latter method is the natural evolutionary theory which adopts the nebular hypothesis without a beginning and without any supernatural impetus. This theory holds that matter always existed everywhere, that there is no space, that motion is innate in matter and always was. It points to the conservation of matter and of energy as proofs. Changes in the earth's crust, the advent of organisms and of man are natural evolutions, discussed in detail by anatomy, embrology, and palaeontology. This theory declares that as matter and energy are indestructible there will be no end of the universe as there was no beginning. The future will be like the past a series of cycles forever.

ONE VICTORY AND ONE DEFEAT

ALLEGHENY OUTPLAYED B. U.

Dickinson No Match for 'Varsity. Score of Allegheny Game 48-20. Dickinson Score 38-17.

Allegheny's speed and lucky goal throwing gave the 'Varsity an unfortunate case of "stage fright" Tuesday night and allowed the visitors to outplay the locals in every stage of the game with the single exception of foul goal throwing. Allegheny took a spurt at the very beginning of the contest and swept the Bucknell quintete completely off their feet. The score at the end of the half was 21-6 and the locals were practically out of the contest. Bucknell made a little better showing however, in the second half but the final score was in favor of the visitors by the wide margin of 48-20.

In the first half Allegheny took the lead early and was never caught. Their fast pace seemed to daze the local five for the latter at no stage of the game attained the clip at which they had been going in three previous contests. The visitors therefore took advantage of the looseness of the locals and ran up the score for a comfortable lead. In this first period Maxwell and Weidler were the principal score makers. Maxwell was especially conspicuous by making four pretty shots in about five minutes.

The second half was simply a free-for-all goal throwing contest. The visitors relaxed a little and the locals took an occasional spurt and seemed to be threatening to wake up. Then Allegheny would brace up again and continue to pile up the score. The playing of this latter period was marked by two distinctive features, pretty goal throwing on the part of Baker, Hawk, and Kurtz, and also unfortunately a little unnecessary roughness upon both sides.

The three points which stood out prominently in the playing of the Allegheny team were their speed, their ability to tally numerous long shots, and their great defensive work. When the locals secured the ball the whole Allegheny five were immediately upon the defensive. The Bucknell forwards were seldom able to break thru the strong line of defense and were unfortunately not able to locate the basket upon long shots.

As to the individual playing of the two teams the only comment to be made upon the visitors in that every man was "on the job." The local guards did some very good work at defense but were unable to cope with the luck of the visitors in the matter of long shots. Zehner also helped the guards to some extent and rendered good service at critical moments. Scarcely ever did the local guards allow the opposing forwards to work their way in for short shots. Kurtz and Thatcher were as usually the leaders in scoring, in fact they divided the honors between them.

The line-up:—

| Bucknell | | Allegheny |
|---|---|---|
| Zehner | forward | Baker |
| Kurtz | forward | Weidler |
| | | Phillips |
| Thatcher | center | Hawk |
| Craig | guard | Maxwell |
| Rhodes | | |
| Reber | guard | Leffel |
| | | Firestone |

Goals from field—Kurtz 4, Thatcher 3, Baker 6, Weidler 5, Hawk 4, Maxwell 5, Phillips Firestone. Goals from fouls—Thatcher 5, Kurtz, Baker 4. Fouls committed—Bucknell 12, Allegheny 10. Referee—Turner. Timekeeper—Hoskins. Time of halves—20 minutes.

The Dickinson Game.

Bucknell 38, Dickinson 17. That tells the story of the triumph of the Orange and Blue over the Red and White. The locals showed a decided improvement over their playing of Tuesday night. At scarcely any stage of the game were the Dickinson five very dangerous and the final outcome of the contest was assured almost from the very start. The home team secured a lead of 17-7 in the first half and more than doubled the lead in the second.

As in all the other games of the season it took the 'Varsity about three minutes to get their bearings and get down to work. The visitors were the first to score on a field goal by Hoffman. About a minute later the score was tie at 3-3. After that Bucknell left the opponents behind and had little trouble in gaining a good lead.

With the exchange of baskets the local five took an extra spurt and ran away from the Red and White quintette. Every man of the big five tallied at least once in this half. Kurtz and Reber were especially prominent as "John" ran up his total of field goals to nine while "Cotton" tallied the longest shot of the game by a pretty goal from side center. In the middle of the half both sides changed centers. Fisher relieved Thatcher and Hoffman gave way to Henderson, a brother of Henderson, ex-'12. The change made little difference in the playing of either team for the 'Varsity continued to "roll up the score."

The game as a whole was one of that peculiar variety which is hard to describe. It could hardly have been called a good contest and yet at times there were some brilliant plays made which brought forth the applause of the spectators. The Red and White men were outclassed and outplayed. Yet there were one or two disappointing features in the plays of the home team. At times the locals seemed to have difficulty in holding the ball. Again there were times when a little more passing would have meant an increase in the score. There is still a tendency on the part of one or two of the players toward individual work rather than team work. The fault was less prominent Friday night, perhaps, than in some former contests but yet there is still room for improvement.

For Bucknell Kurtz led in the number of points scored, making nineteen of the thirty-eight. Thatcher was second with eleven points, seven of which were from foul goals. Reber, in addition to playing a great floor game, added four points to the score and made the longest shot of the game. Craig and Zehner each tallied one goal. Zehner especially delighted the crowd by his method of relieving himself of opponents who persisted in hanging too close to him. Although he is the smallest man on the team "Whitey" has proved that he lacks nothing in strength. Reber also caused some fun at the expense of the opponents by the way he tricked them into giving him the ball upon several occasions.

For Dickinson the two men most in evidence were Hoffman and Gilman. The big center was "on the job" and kept Thatcher busy. Gilman did not get loose very often in order to get a shot at the basket but he showed that he was dangerous when such an opportunity was afforded for he tallied three field goals and seven foul goals, making in all thirteen of the seventeen points.

The line-up:—

| Bucknell | | Dickinson |
|---|---|---|
| Zehner | forward | Gilman |
| Kurtz | forward | Boell |
| Thatcher | center | Hoffman |
| Fisher | | Henderson |
| Craig | guard | Garrison |
| Reber | guard | VauHook |

Goals from field—Kurtz 9, Zehner 1, Thatcher 2, Craig 1, Reber 2, Gilman 3, Boell 1, Hoffman 1. Goals from fouls—Kurtz 1, Thatcher 7, Gilman 7. Fouls committed—Bucknell 12, Dickinson 14. Referee—Turner. Timekeeper—Hoskins. Time of halves—20 minutes.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN.

An interesting meeting of the Deutscher Verein was held on Thursday evening. Herr Bowman, '11, read a paper on "Der Charakter Appolonius in Zwischen Himmel und Erde," and Herr Trauger, '11, also read a discussion on "Das Dramatische in Zwischen Himmel und Erde."

JUNIOR WEEK BEGINS TODAY

THREE GAMES SCHEDULED.

Class, Alumni, and State Games. Junior Smoker after Alumni Game. Prom Comes Friday Eve.

The events of Junior week begin with the Senior-Sophomore game tomorrow evening. According to the interclass schedule the Senior-Junior game was to come on this date, but owing to the hard schedule the 'Varsity has on hand this week and as there are quite a number of Juniors on the 'Varsity squad, it was decided to change the dates of these contests.

After the Alumni game on Thursday evening comes the Junior Smoker in the Armory. This is followed by the Junior Prom on Friday evening, the big social event of the week. In addition to the arrangements made known last week in these columns concerning this affair the Junior Prom committee, following the examples of several other colleges, has decided to do away with flowers in school functions. This means that flowers will not be used at the coming Junior Prom.

PORTER L. BENSON.
Basket-ball Manager.

The local basketball team meets two of its strongest opponents this week in the Alumni and State College fives. These two games have always been followed with much interest on the part of the student body. Most of the past games have been close and exciting. The Alumni have the opportunity to send here this year the strongest team of "grads" that has ever appeared on the local floor.

The State game is however, the one which is awakening the greatest interest. State defeated Allegheny last week by the score of 24-20. Allegheny on the following night defeated the local five 48-20. To overbalance these figures there is the fact that the playing of the local five was much improved Friday night. There is also the fact that State College has never defeated Bucknell at Lewisburg. The scores with State to date are as follows—

| Year | Where played | B. U.— | S. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1897 | State College | 4 | 24 |
| 1897 | Lewisburg | 10 | 7 |
| 1898 | State College | 4 | 12 |
| 1898 | Lewisburg | 18 | 5 |
| 1899 | State College | 6 | 17 |
| 1899 | Lewisburg | 12 | 8 |
| 1900 | State College | 8 | 11 |
| 1900 | Lewisburg | 19 | 6 |
| 1908 | Lewisburg | 20 | 12 |
| 1909 | State College | 16 | 28 |
| | Total points scored | 117 | 131 |

A LIE NAILED.

There is no truth in the report that the Bucknellian Benefit has been postponed until Lewisburg has a new Opera House, but it will come off as advertised in last week's issue of the Orange and Blue. Wednesday February 23 is the date. Two different programs will be given; one in the afternoon, the other in the evening. Save your dime for this big entertainment. You will surely find something amusing in it.

MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Dr. Groff addressed the society at the meeting on Friday afternoon. He took for his subject, "Medical Colleges As They Were When I Attended Them." In 1865 there were no legal requirements to practice medicine. The colleges required two courses of lectures for a degree, but the courses were short and both could be taken in a year. Other requirements were a thesis at graduation; each student had to have a preceptor; he had to pay each professor for lectures instead of a registrar for all; he had to pay a fee for occasional quizzes to insure final passing; they also had to dissect the entire human body. The professors owned the college and each had to be satisfied individually before graduation, and after these individual examinations the students were examined by the faculty as a whole. They were required to attend Commencement or send a substitute. Graduates in some colleges were required to take the "Oath of Hippocrates." The orthodox number of courses and professors was Seven.

BUCKNELL ALUMNI BANQUET.

The Executive Committee, consisting of Mr. Harold Perrine, Chairman, Dr. E. L. Nesbit, the Rev. J. Davis, the Rev. Dr. Soars, and Mr. R. G. Slifer, are planning a great gathering to be held at Kugler's on March 18 next: Reception at 7.30 p. m., Banquet at 8.30 p. m.

The speakers will be Pres. Harris, Senator E. L. Tustin, President M. G. Evans, Professor Phillips, Professor Rhoades, the Rev. Dr. Haslam, Dr. Herbert Stanton, and Mr. Wm. Kelly. It is hoped that all alumni in or near Philadelphia will be present, and they are requested to send their names to Mr. Perrine, 620-623 Stephen Girard Building, Philadelphia. Further announcements will be made.

COLLEGE Y. M. C. A.

Stockebrand, '10, was the leader at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening. His topic was, "Render unto Bucknell the things that are Bucknell's." At the Cabinet meeting it was decided that no revival meetings could be held this term because it was impossible to procure a man to conduct them. It is quite likely, however, that such meetings will be held early in the spring term.

Next week's meeting will be a Junio meeting, and because of the Alumni game on Thursday evening it will be held Wednesday evening. McNair, '11, will be the leader. All Juniors are especially requested to be out.

INSTITUTE FACULTY.

"Toot-te-toot, toot-te toot,
We're the teachers of the Institute."

This hearty yell awakened the "Sem" girls from their dreams in the wee hours of the morning when the teachers at the Institute dispersed from their jolly Valentine party Saturday evening.

On Saturday evening several of the teachers entertained the remainder of the Institute Faculty in a very pleasing manner. A progressive dinner of five courses, daintly served in as many different rooms, which were prettily decorated in various colored schemes, kept the guests surprised and delighted during the entire evening. Those entertained pronounced the function one of the most delightful of the year. The hostesses were Miss Boynton, Miss Scott, Miss Berkley, Miss Kalp and Miss Lutz.

THETA DELTA TAU.

Dufton Schreiber, Waldner, Sweet, Meyer, Parke, Smith, Llewelyn, Sprout, Paul, and Correy all of 1912 were initiated into the Theta Delta Tau fraternity on Saturday of last week. After the initiation the annual banquet was held at the Ye Lochiel Tavern.

LECTURED AT MIDDLEBURG.

President Harris delivered his noted address, "Abraham Lincoln," at Middleburg on Saturday evening, the anniversary of the birth of the martyred president of the United States.

FRILL AND FROWN PRESENT PLAY

LARGE AUDIENCE PRESENT.

"Among the Gypsies" Makes a Charming and Entertaining Program, Friday Evening.

The charming little play "Among the Gypsies," given Friday evening in Study Hall for the benefit of the Dramatic Club proved a most successful venture. The large and appreciative audience filled the room to overflowing. The hearty applause expressed but mildly the pleasure of those present as the program was carried out in a manner which showed hard work on the part of those who had part in it.

ACT III

Again in the forest a half year after the last scene

To tell the story of the play briefly would be as follows:

The opening scene of Act I reveals Nino Brevetta, a Bandit, insisting upon his supposed sister Lucia selling flowers in the streets. He commands her to make an appointment with a young noble, Alberti, to meet her in a lonely spot in the forest in order that Brevetta may rob the noble. Alberti has been paying marked attention to Lucia, and she returns his love, and, therefore, will not bertay him.

Shortly after this a party of four enter the forest and lose their way. Lady Katharine, Countess Alberti, Alberti her son, and Francesco a young noble. Two gypsy maidens Starlina and Zingarella find them and direct them to the highway. But before leaving them Starlina gives Lady Katharine her gypsy knife that the party may pass thru the woods unharmed. Lesho a gypsy finds them and would rudely seize their valuables when Lady Katharine shows him the knife and immediately everything is restored and Lesho offers himself as guide. Scene II is the gypsy camp. The gypsies are busy with their basket weaving, fortune telling, and lace making. The village maidens come and buy and have their palms read. A youth visits the camp in search of a wife and is offered in turn the wise and the foolish maiden, the College Girl, the Suffragette, and others. He is not suited, however, until the winsome bride appears, then he is pleased indeed. Another young gentleman is offered a wife from every nation, but none will do until America, respendient in the

A SOCIAL HALL.

Every alumnus of whatever institution, is decidedly interested in the welfare of his college. He feels incapable of paying back, even in the smallest degree, the debt which he surely owes to his Alma Mater. Not until he has left her walls and has exchanged that environment for the larger activities and increasing responsibilities of life does he look with such deep concern upon the making of his college.

The tone of the social life of a student body means much, pro or con, to the institution of which that student body is representative. An institution bears the reputation of its students. Consequently we speak of the social life of a university or college as characteristically cultured or as smacking of rowdyism. The opportunities for social enjoyment are determining factors in producing such culture or rowdyism. By social life is meant an extended fellowship, a fellowship which includes all the men, not only fraternities or social clubs, but whatever else might restrict or circumscribe sociability.

Now it cannot be denied that some means should be afforded for all the college men to congregate in some hall or parlor specially fitted for the purpose, a room where the men could meet, talk, smoke and shoot pool. Probably less than half of the men at B. U. "make" a fraternity. The social life of a Greek letter society is an admirable thing and serves well to break the monotony of the daily routine. That other remaining majority however are endowed also with the social instinct and by way of diversion, would be just as apt to turn away from the textbooks in the afternoon or evening for a short time in a social mingling one with another, if they had the opportunity. As it is, many of the men at B. U. assemble at the pool-rooms down-town and it is there that the peculiar temptations and vices creep in, as is very likely to happen at such public places for recreation.

Recently the writer has conversed with men from Brown, Dartmouth and Colgate upon this very subject. At Brown they have "The Brown Union," a splendid large room for reading, smoking and playing pool. Here the men congregate early in the evening for a thoroughly good time instead of patronizing similar places of amusement in Providence where they would be thrown in with all sorts of men.

Drinking among Brown students is at a minimum which is largely due to "The Brown Union." At Dartmouth there is a similar retreat for the men called Social Hall. In this hall every Saturday night some distinguished speaker addresses the men. A committee has been created to furnish such speakers. Colgate, too, has a social room.

College men are a class by themselves, separated, as it were from the outside world for the time being, and it is good that they are so separated. A great educator recently said in addressing a body of all men, they constituted an unnatural life, and as they were all men, they constituted an unnatural community. The President urged an extended sociability, and a lively interest in every other man's social life as a correction for the mistakes which such an unnatural life might produce. Men will be sociable, and college men should be sociable as college men, and if possible within their own college. Then temptations and incentives to wrong conduct would be greatly minimized.

Just where the money could be procured for fitting up such a hall is of course the question. If perchance some alumnus upon whom Dame Fortune has smiled, should realize this present need, yea almost a necessity, a generous donation sufficiently large to do the work might make its appearance, or such a person, if titions as he may now seem, might at least head a fund for the purpose discussed. Every true need, if of sufficient importance, is met and satisfied, and the writer hopes to see ere long the fulfillment of his desire.

AN ALUMNUS.

USE OF NEW ENTRANCE.

The basketball management had it announced at a game last week that the new entrance to the Gymnasium would be open for use by those on the gallery. It was also stated at the same time that in order to use this for an entrance tickets had to be bought in advance, as none would be sold at the door. This makes it possible to get to the gallery without climbing those narrow winding stairs which because of their inconvenience had become decidedly unpopular.

WASHINGTON-LINCOLN DAY.

Hon. Emerson Collins, of Williamsport, will deliver the address on Washington and Lincoln Day, Tuesday evening, February 22 at 7.30 p. m. in Bucknell Hall.

The University of Washington has the latest thing in a freshman-sophomore scrap. A pennant enclosed in a strong box will be buried one foot underground and above it the sophomores will mass to protect it from the freshmen who, at a given signal, are to rush forward, without any tools whatever, in an attempt to unearth the trophy.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

We now consider in review the fundamentals of Christianity. Each writer having in mind a peculiar purpose, consequently presented a portrait peculiar to that purpose. The author of the Fourth Gospel put into his picture of Jesus two unique touches: the pre-existence of Jesus and the Divinity of Jesus. The pre-existence may be interpreted as either real or ideal. Though real pre-existence seems to be preferred, there is no imperative in this Gospel that requires a man to accept that interpretation.

The Divinity of Jesus which in our discussion is used to express Jesus' relation to God is ethical and unique. Of course if real pre-existence be accepted this ethical relation becomes metaphysical. Ethically Jesus is one with the Father in Love, the nearness of Jesus' relation to the Father consists in claims which this Gospel would not allow another man even in possibility.

Beneath these peculiar lines there is a personality warm with the humanity and love of the Synoptic Gospels.

The next topic is the Father.

THE MOELWYN CHOIR.

A large number of students heard the musical treat which the Moelwyn Male Voice Party gave in the Methodist Episcopal Church. Every member of the party performed his part like an artist, and the choir was generous in responding to the encores which the crowded church repeatedly demanded.

The professors of the University of Chicago, according to a member of their athletic board, will consider dropping football if the 1910 season shows as many accidents and deaths as the last year.

Fielders' Gloves and Mitts

Some of the one-hand stops made by the big league fielders are most sensational—ten years ago they would have been deemed impossible. The great secret of perfect fielding lies not only in ability, but in the right gloves and mitts. Reach Fielders' Gloves and Mitts are perfect. Their superiority is evident through use by such star players as Wagner, Cobb, Lajoie, Collins, Crawford, Magee and Keeler.

Also used by well-known college players.

FRILL AND FROWN PRESENT PLAY.

Star Spangled Banner stands before him.

When these have departed Lesho ushers in the lost party from the forest. They are given food, a place to rest in. They are waited on by Starlina, and they being surprised at her pale features, question the gypsies as to her parentage. Countess Alberta thereupon discovers that Starlina is the daughter of her husband's first wife who was a gypsy. She induces the gypsies to permit Starlina to accompany her home and promises to treat her as her own daughter. The party leave the camp for their home. On the way Alberti comes upon Lucia in the woods and makes an appointment to meet her the following day near a certain convent in Naples.

In the first scene of Act II Lucia and Alberti meet but Lucia sends him away knowing that her bandit brother intends to rob the nobleman. As Alberti leaves her, Nino Brevetta comes to her and accuses her of betraying him. In his anger he stabs Lucia and leaves her for dead. She is found thus by Lady Katharine, who has Lucia carried to her home nearby.

Scene II is in Lady Katharine's Chapel where Lucia under the influence of a sleeping potion lies on the couch as one dead. Alberti comes to her and declares to Lady Katharine his love for the dead girl. He goes away again promising to return shortly. In the meantime Lady Katharine sends for the bandit and accuses him of killing Lucia and compells him to tell her the parentage of Lucia. He confesses that he stole Lady Katharine's daughter, whom she had supposed drowned in Naples Bay, when Lucia was a child in revenge for a whipping he had received by the order of Lady Katharine. Upon hearing this Lady Katharine falls upon the couch of her daughter as though dead. The bandit departs believing that the shock has killed her. But Lady Katharine recovers almost immediately and waits Alberti's arrival. To him she gives her daughter when she is aroused from sleep. At this moment the Bandit reappears and accuses Lady Katharine of having deceived him, whereupon Alberti draws his sword upon the villain and after a short combat thrusts him thru the heart.

Act III is the gypsy camp half a year later. Starlina has returned to her people, much to the regret of her noble friends. She is gladly welcomed by them and after a few regrets over the friends and the life of that short half year, she enters once more upon the wild, free life of the Romanes.

ALUMNI GAME WON BY THE LOCALS

ROUGH BUT INTERESTING.

The "Grads" Used Their Superior Weight Against Varsity With Good Advantage. Score 20-17.

A rally in the last three minutes of play gave Bucknell a victory over the Alumni quintette Thursday night. The game was the closest and roughest 'Varsity contest of the season. The excitement became more and more intense as the game progressed, and had reached a climax when the sound of the whistle proclaimed the local five victors by the score of 20-17.

For a few minutes in the first half neither side was able to score. When O'Brien finally tallied a foul goal Thatcher quickly dropped a field goal and gave the locals the lead. The game then continued to increase in speed and roughness. The Alumni took advantage of their superiority in weight and held and blocked the Varsity five at every opportunity. Occasionally, however, the home team got an opening and scored. When the half ended Bucknell had the lead by the score of 14-5.

Between the halves the Bucknell band gave several selections and a few students employed the time in a stag dance.

With the change of baskets in the second half the Alumni came back into the game with a rush and soon began to close up the gap in the score. O'Brien was the star of this half in the matter of goal throwing for his work added by a field goal by Nipple finally tied the score at 17-17. Just at that critical moment Capt. Craig received a severe injury and was forced to retire from the contest. Rhodes then entered the game for the first three minutes. By that time both teams were tiring under the strain and since Rhodes was fresh he threw the advantage a little in favor of the 'Varsity. "Dusty" had hardly been in the game a minute when he dropped a pretty field goal and decided the game in favor of the home team. To clinch the victory Thatcher tallied one more foul goal and ended the half with the score 20-17.

For the Alumni O'Brien was the star. "Pat" not only played a good floor game but he also scored thirteen of the seventeen points made by the "grads." Cockill likewise got into the game and used his weight to great advantage. Smith gave the crowd the usual amusement at his rough and tumble style of playing.

The local team played the best game they have put up yet with the possible exception of the game with Susquehanna. Thatcher got into the game with a little more life and kept O'Brien busy. Though he was only in for a short time the work of Rhodes was especially commendable. Reber played his usual consistent game and held his weighty opponent. Cockill, to a single chance field goal. Kurtz did not get many chances to shoot for he usually had Smith riding upon him. Zehner led the locals in field goals. Craig played well but was unfortunate in receiving another painful injury. It is hoped that he will be in shape again before the Swarthmore game Tuesday night.

The line-up:—

| Bucknell | | Alumni |
|---|---|---|
| Zehner | forward | Nipple |
| Kurtz | forward | Cockill |
| Thatcher | center | O'Brien |
| Craig | guard | Smith |
| Rhodes | | |
| Reber | guard | Johnson |

Goals from field—Zehner 2, Kurtz, Thatcher, Craig, Rhodes, Nipple, Cockill, O'Brien 4. Goals from fouls—Kurtz, Thatcher 7, O'Brien 5. Fouls committed—Bucknell 13, Alumni 21. Referee—Turner. Timekeeper—Hoskins. Time of halves—20 minutes.

TWO DAYS VACATION.

College work is suspended for two days this week; today there is no school because of the funeral of Dr. Groff. Tomorrow, Washington's birthday, is a regular holiday.

BUCKNELLIAN VAUDEVILLE.

The program for the Bucknellian Vaudeville show to be given in the Orpheum Theatre, Wednesday, Feb. 23rd, is bound to please every one. Ruth Traub who has had considerable experience on the vaudeville stages of this State will be there both afternoon and evening. Helen Traub, said to be the youngest girl cornetist in the state will favor you with selections.

MacFarland the Wizard of Bucknell, "Dunc" Eakely in some of the latest song hits, "Ted" Little in Italian dialect songs, Singerman with Jewish 'hits'," Sables Mandolin and Guitar club, alone worth the price of admission, moving pictures, all of them for ten cents. Some others not in the above list will help to amuse you.

JUNIOR SMOKER.

After the exciting game with the Alumni on Thursday evening most of the upperclassmen assembled in the Armory for the Junior Smoker. The committee, of which Tuman was chairman, had made adequate arrangements for a large representation from both classes, and it was not disappointed. Excellent music was furnished for the occasion by the College Band. Throughout the evening the two classes joined in dancing and in this way kept up the general feeling of merriment. Besides the Seniors and Juniors the Alumni and 'Varsity teams were present, also several former members of the Junior class who had returned for the "Prom." At a late hour the pipes were laid aside and the annual smoker was at an end. The Smoker Committee take this means of publicly thanking the Band for the kindness of furnishing music upon this occasion.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

SWARTHMORE AND GETTYSBURG PLAY ON B. U. FLOOR.

This week the 'Varsity has two more hard games when they meet Swarthmore tomorrow night and Gettysburg Friday night. So far Bucknell has a little the better of the argument with both teams, since they have taken three of the five games played with Swarthmore and have only lost one game to Gettysburg in nine years. Both teams are, however, exceptionally strong this year. All games played with Swarthmore have been upon the home floor with the following results:—

| Date | B. U. | S. |
|---|---|---|
| 1904 | 23 | 17 |
| 1906 | 16 | 22 |
| 1907 | 19 | 15 |
| 1908 | 29 | 9 |
| 1909 | 16 | 20 |

The scores with Gettysburg are as follows:—

| Date | Where played | B. U. | G. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1901 | Gettysburg | 20 | 11 |
| 1901 | Lewisburg | 54 | 11 |
| 1902 | Lewisburg | 38 | 7 |
| 1902 | Gettysburg | 30 | 24 |
| 1903 | Lewisburg | 55 | 20 |
| 1903 | Gettysburg | 33 | 10 |
| 1904 | Lewisburg | 21 | 16 |
| 1905 | Gettysburg | 19 | 13 |
| 1905 | Lewisburg | 34 | 17 |
| 1906 | Lewisburg | 18 | 10 |
| 1906 | Gettysburg | 17 | 23 |
| 1907 | Lewisburg | 42 | 12 |
| 1908 | Gettysburg | 17 | 15 |
| 1909 | Lewisburg | 28 | 12 |
| | Total points scored | 446 | 261 |

NEW CATALOGUE.

The 1909-1910 Catalogue of the University was given out this week. It differs very little from former catalogues outside of the outline of the new courses in chemistry and engineering announced last fall in a bulletin published at that time. There have also been changes made in college expenses. Instead of $110 the college charges will now be $120. A fourth study will require an extra charge of $10 instead of $5 as formerly.

DR. GEORGE G. GROFF DIES SUDDENLY

DEATH DUE TO HEART TROUBLE.

His Life Record is Wide and Varied Funeral Services on Sunday. Interment at West Chester.

The first news on Friday afternoon of the sudden death of Prof. Groff caused considerable excitement about College and town. Only a few had known of the illness which had come over him late Thursday and which he himself diagnosed as heart trouble. The end came Friday noon on the same date, and only about two hours earlier in the day, as occurred the death of Mr. Gretzinger a year ago.

DR. G. G. GROFF.

The death of Dr. Groff makes a vacancy in the Faculty of Bucknell which it will be hard to fill; for he was a man of wide reputation along various lines of work and has had an experience that peculiarly adapted him for the head of the Department of Organic Science.

The history of Dr. Groff's life is an interesting and varied one. He was born on "Welsh Tract," near Valley Forge, in Chester county, April 5, 1851. He was educated in the public schools, Freemont Seminary, Norristown, also West Chester Normal School, and Ivy Institute. He was a student at the University of Michigan, Long Island College Hospital, and the University of Leipsic. He received degrees from Long Island College Hospital, Lafayette College, Judson College, State College, Franklin and Marshall College, and Susquehanna University.

After a few years of teaching in the public schools, and a year as laboratory assistant in the University of Michigan, Dr. Groff, in 1879, was made Professor of Organic Sciences at Bucknell which position he has held ever since. Many prominent State and County positions were very creditably filled by him in the long course of his career: Coroner of Union County, Assistant Surgeon of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, member and Sanitarian of the State Board of Agriculture, of the State Board of Health, and Entomological Expert of the State Board of Agriculture. He has also been editor of the publications of the State Board of Health since its organization, and for the last twenty-five years has lectured at teachers' institutes on health and scientific subjects. He is the author of a large number of pamphlets, charts, maps, and diagrams intended to aid science teachers.

When the Spanish-American War broke out Dr. Groff responded to the call and served as brigade surgeon with the rank of major. In the same year he was field agent National Relief Commission and special relief commissioner for Porto Rico. Later he was appointed as superintendent of instruction in Porto Rico.

Dr. Groff's work in connection with Bucknell has been just as productive of results as his work throughout the State and country. He built up the Department of Organic Science, introduced from time to time new branches of study with laboratory methods of instruction. He was also the originator of the system of lectures for class instruction which have become so popular in his courses.

Former President of the University David J. Hill has declared Dr. Groff to have been the father of co-education at Bucknell, he having at once begun to agitate in favor of the movement on becoming a member of the Faculty.

Beside belonging to a large number of medical and scientific societies Dr. Groff was a member of the Sons of the Revolution, the Pennsylvania German Society, and of the Welsh Society of Philadelphia.

On Sunday at 3 p. m. the funeral services were held at the Groff residence. The Rev. Dr. Judd, after prayer and scripture reading, spoke on the life of Dr. Groff as a specialist — a student of life, and gave several of his early maxims: "Guess at nothing; investigate and know; write down only what you see and not what you think." A student of nature he was at the same time a strong believer in God.

Miss Schillinger by request then read Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar." In behalf of the Faculty and at the dying request of Dr. Groff, Professor Martin then made an address.

He related the early life of the deceased; his response to the call from the sufferers at the Johnstown flood, the call of the nation to Porto Rico; the long years of service at Bucknell; and the spread of his teaching throughout the country.

The casket was draped with the American flag and surrounded with many floral tributes from the Faculty.

JUNIOR PROMENADE IS A BIG SUCCESS

HELD FRIDAY EVE. IN ARMORY.

For a Number of Years no Class Has Had so Large a Social Event as the One by 1911.

The Twelfth Regiment Armory in town was the scene of the largest social event of the year at Bucknell when on Friday evening the class of 1911 held their Junior Promenade. Long before nine o'clock the parties began to arrive, and when at 9.30 Campbell's Orchestra, of Sunbury, struck up a two-step more than fifty couples were ready for the march.

The room was very tastefully and artistically decorated with school and class pennants. The class colors, blue and white, were worked into beautiful combinations, and the cozy corners in their bright colors made places much sought after.

There were twenty-four numbers on the program and four extras were given. The moon dance, when all the lights were turned out except those forming a large "B" at one end of the room and "1911" at the other end, made a very pretty scene.

A description of the "Prom" without mentioning the pretty gowns of the women would be omitting one of the chief things of this social affair. Also the congeniality of spirit shown by everybody went far toward making this the big success that it was.

The Patronesses were: Mrs. Harold M. McClure, Mrs. Robert Halfpenny, Mrs. William Leiser, Mrs. P. B. Linn, Mrs. Weber L. Gerhart, Mrs. H. D. Crane, Mrs. Chas. J. Wolfe, and Mrs. William Foster. The Prom committee consisted of: Fred B. Little, Chairman, W. Neil Baker, Harry S. Bastian, J. Leslie Crowell, Chas. J. Loveland, John W. Peoples, Clarence K. Pugh, Lyman C. Shreve, P. C. Snyder, Benjamin R. Thatcher, and Jose A. Villalon.

DEBATING NEWS.

On Friday evening, Feb. 25, the question, "Shall United States Senators be elected by popular vote," will be debated at Gettysburg. Bucknell will be represented by Cranmer and Timlin, 1910, and DePierro, 1913. These men have gone over their debate under the direction of several members of the faculty, and with full confidence in the strength of their arguments they declare that Bucknell will come out of this contest with victory.

The surprising interest shown in the western debating trip is coming to a head on Wednesday evening, when the preliminary try-out will be held in Bucknell Hall at 8 o'clock.

The Debating League extends its thanks for the return of the material on the question of debate to its proper place in the Library. Contestants improperly keeping out such reading matter will declared ineligible.

DEATH OF DR. CHRIST.

Dr. Theodore Christ, a student at the Academy in the 50's, a physician of wide reputation, died at his home at State College last Wednesday, aged nearly eighty years. He was a native of Union county and was well known in this vicinity. His funeral took place on Saturday at State College.

PIANO RECITALS.

On Monday afternoon, Feb. 14, the pupils under the instruction of Miss Boynton, gave a very excellent private recital in Bucknell Hall. Later in the same afternoon a recital was given by Miss Berkley's pupils. Both recitals showed evidence of the thorough work done by teachers and pupils.

FRESHMAN ORCHESTRA.

Several members of the Freshman class have got together and formed an orchestra, with Glover, pianist; Stout, violinist; Keen, cello; DePierro, cornetist; Powell, flute.

AN APPRECIATION.

Before the students of Bucknell have ceased mourning for Mr. Gretzinger, they are called upon to mourn for another member of the Faculty, Dr. George G. Groff. The news of his death came sudden and sadly startling to the student body. The entire college life is deeply moved by a wave of sorrow as this beloved professor embarks to pass beyond the realm of earthly life. By his death there passes from our midst a character which was firmly attached to the students' life.

To the student in the class room he was a teacher, kind, patient, forceful, inspiring. Deep, sparkling and invigorating was the fountain of knowledge he opened to his pupils. To the student on the street he was a friend, cordial, companionable, enthusiastic, dignified. Frank, genuine, and hopeful was his cherished companionship. To the student in need of advice he was a father, obliging, sympathetic, confidential, sincere. Experience, wisdom, and love added strength to his advice.

In the hearts of all who knew him will long be cherished the memory of a worthy teacher, a true friend, a loving father. "Large was his bounty and his son. sincere," and when we as students will mark "the heavy change" which his absence "on the customed hill" has caused, we can call to mind the lines of Matthew Arnold:

"O strong soul, by what shore
Tarriest thou now? For that force,
Surely, has not been left vain!
Somewhere, surely, afar,
In the sounding labour-house vast
Of being, is practiced the strength
Zealous, beneficent, firm.
Yes, in some far-shining sphere,
Conscious or not of the past,
Still thou performest the word
Of the Spirit in whom thou dost live—
Prompt, unwearied, as here!

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

The starting point for our second fundamental, the Father, is Jesus. In his intimacy with the Father he had authority and power to represent God to men. Therefore he is the way, he leads to the Father; he is the truth, he imparts knowledge out of a perfect communion with reality; he is life, he expresses complete devotion to God in supreme service to man. Jesus is God to man.

Representing God to man he shows us the nature of God. God is love; the cultimate reality in the universe Jesus expressed when he took a little child in his arms and blessed it. This love expresses itself in sacrifice; love does this because of the nature of society. Because God is love He is the Father. To all men, good and evil, God is fatherly; to those who are ethically his sons, He is Father. Thus Jesus, the Word, is the measure of the highest worth.

The Rev. Charles K. Newell, ex-'91, pastor of the First Baptist church, Lansdale, will conduct a private European tour to France, Switzerland, Germany, and other European countries this coming summer.

1910 CLASS MEMORIAL.

Editor of the Orange and Blue:

Some time ago a corresponden suggested in your paper that the class memorial of 1910 take shape as a fund accumulating for a period of years. Such a memorial would be very worthy of 1910, but the scheme is impractical and for these reasons.

In the first place class loyalty is a real entity only at certain times. When the senior class nears the close of its four years' work, the class spirit runs high. Measures needing concerted action then receive attention. But let Commencement pass and time scatter the individuals of said class to the "here and there and everywhere;" let the intense interests of real life take, as they will, the front position as regards attention, and class loyalty shrinks smaller than Alice in Wonderland. With this fact before us, let us ask ourselves, who shall collect the assessments each year, and will anyone volunteering to do the collecting be able to pry loose the required amount from the members of the graduating class? Class loyalty could only work these miracles and class loyalty would not be.

It is for us, then, to choose while here what we want and to pay for it at once. It has been suggested that an arch and doors be placed at the entrance to Main College. This dedicated to the memory of Mr. Gretzinger would fittingly serve as a memorial. To the committee, however, belongs this work, and it is hoped that they will not make the mistake pointed out above.

Y. M. C. A. PROTEST.

Breaking into the Y. M. C. A. Hall and taking out a piano may be "college spirit" to some, but it is no such college spirit as exists at other colleges; State and Lafayette, for instance. We are willing to grant that this rowdyism may not have been committed out of malice or spite to the association, but it is the association, nevertheless, that suffers because of it. Our patience in not mentioning the matter sooner, just as in the case of the ice cream deal last fall, seems to have been unwarranted.

The Y. M. C. A. is trying its best to help Bucknell in more ways than one, and to such good ends we invite the cooperation of all in the work. But if you will not cooperate, please have enough manhood and respect not to interfere with us in our efforts.

(Signed) Y. M. C. A.

SENIORS VS. SOPHOMORES

CLASS OF 1910 DEFEATED CLASS OF 1912. SCORE 29-19.

In a fast and exciting game the Seniors triumphed over the Sophomores Tuesday night by the score of 29-19. The playing of both teams was improved over the previous contests. The Sophomores especially showed an increase of strength and were aided greatly by the addition of O'Brien.

The first half was a nip-and-tuck battle in which the Seniors had a little the advantage in speed while the Sophs had a slight advantage in weight. The Seniors were handicapped a little too by the arrangement of the line-up for nearly every man was playing out of his regular position.

Although the Seniors led at the beginning of the second half by the narrow margin of 12-11, they placing their men in their regular positions, soon pulled away from 1912. Each team used two substitutes in this half. The change was a little disastrous to the Sophomores for it threw the advantages of weight and speed both on the side of the Seniors and soon decided the game.

Fetter, Reber and Conover did the best work for the Seniors. For the Sophomores O'Brien was the star. Dreher, however, aided his team a lot by his goal throwing.

The line-up:—

| Seniors | Sophomores |
|---|---|
| Fetter . . . forward . . . | O'Brien |
| Maplesden . . . forward . . . | Goehring |
| Northrop | Bartholomew |
| Reber . . . . center . . . . | Dreher |
| Sprout . . . . guard . . . . | Schmidt |
| | Plez |
| Conover . . . guard . . . | Bartholomew |
| McDonough | Roberts |

Goals from field—Fetter 4, Northrop 3, Maplesden 2, Reber, Sprout, Conover 2, O'Brien 4, Goehring, Dreher 3, Bartholomew. Goals from fouls—Sprout 3, Bartholomew. Referee—Kurtz, '11. Time of halves—20 minutes.

'VARSITY QUINTETTE WON TWO GAMES

SWARTHMORE HAD FAST TEAM.

The Locals Beat the Quakers by Score of 16-13. The Result of Gettysburg Game Was 26-18.

For the second time in the history of intercollegiate basketball at Bucknell it was necessary to play an extra five minutes in order to decide a game when on Tuesday night the locals lined up against Swarthmore. A sensational goal by Reber and a foal by Thatcher, decided the game in favor of the Orange and Blue by the score of 16-13.

The game was fast and close throughout. At no time was either team more than four points ahead. The teams seemed to take turns in running up points so that the contest was always in doubt. When, however, the game seemed to be decided in favor of the home team, the visitors suddenly took a spurt and tied the score for the third and last time. Before the tie could be broken time was up. In accordance with the rules the game had to be continued five minutes longer without intermission.

From the very start of the contest it looked as though the game would be fast. Bucknell scored first on a foul goal by Thatcher. A little later Kurtz tallied a field goal and made the score 3-0. Soon afterward Smith tallied his only goal of the game by a long shot and then Moore tied the score on a foul goal. Another foul goal by Moore and a field goal by Broughton ended the scoring of the half with Swarthmore in the lead 6-3.

When the teams came back upon the floor exeitement was beginning to rise high. Shortly after the half opened Moore tallied his third and last foul goal and made the score 7-3. A field goal each by Kurtz and Moore placed the score at 9-5 with about eight minues to play. Fisher was then sent in to relieve Zehner. The aid of fresh strength coupled with Fisher's height seemed to put new life into the home team, for they suddenly took a spurt and tied the score on two goals by Kurtz. John then threw his fifth goal and gave Bucknell the lead. About this time Reber was injured but continued to play. Although it was his eye that was hurt "Cotton" saw the basket well enough to tally a long shot and make the score 13-9. The thirteen seemed to bring its usual misfortune, however, for Moore immediately tallied a field goal and just as time was about up Broughton made a long shot and tied the score at 13-13.

Without any intermission the team began a great extra period struggle. So fast and furious was the pace that for a time neither side could score. More than three minutes had passed when Reber received his second injury but continued to play. There must have been some connection between the injuries and "Cotton's" luck for he caught the ball and took it to the center of the floor from whence he made the most spectacular goal of the game, and decided the contest in favor of Bucknell. Just as time was about up Swarthmore fouled and Thatcher added another point to the score and ended the game at 16-13.

The work of Reber and Craig was especially prominent throughout the entire game. The fact that Reber continued to play after his injury and then scored two sensational goals, the latter of which won the game, makes him deserving of special mention. Kurtz comes in for his regular share of glory, for John led the scoring as usual with ten of the sixteen points. Thatcher did well too. He played a good floor game even though he did lose his foul throwing eye. As a whole the team showed more life and speed than in any other contest this season.

For the visitors Moore, Smith and Sprowl did the best work. Broughton figured some to by tallying two field goals. Moore was the leader in scoring however, for he made seven of the thirteen points for his team.

The line-up:—

| Bucknell | Swarthmore |
|---|---|
| Zehner . . . . forward . . . . | Smith |
| Fisher | |
| Kurtz . . . . forward . . . . | Moore |
| Thatcher . . . . center . . . . | Darnell |
| | Baker |
| Craig . . . . guard . . . . | Broughton |
| Reber . . . . guard . . . . | Sprowl |

Goals from field—Kurtz 5, Reber 2, Smith 1, Moore 2, Broughton 2. Goals from fouls—Thatcher 2, Moore 3. Fouls committed—Bucknell 7, Swarthmore 9. Referee—Wingard, of Carlisle Indian School. Time of halves—20 minutes. Extra time period—5 minutes.

The Gettysburg Game.

In marked contrast to the Swarthmore game, the contest with Gettysburg Friday night was marked for its slowness and roughness. From the very start the visitors showed a tendency to hold and "rough it." When the home team began to retaliate all life went out of the game and it assumed the appearance of a foul throwing contest rather than basketball. Only occasionally would there be any real life manifested and then it would not continue very long.

For several minutes the game proceeded without either side making a field goal. Foul goals were counting nevertheless. Thatcher tallied the first four in succession. Only five goals were made, three by the home team and two by the visitors. The half ended with the score 14-9 in favor of Bucknell. One striking feature of this half was that twenty-three points were scored and twenty-two fouls were called.

During the second half both teams made changes in their line-up. Fisher was sent in at center and Thatcher was transferred to forward. Soon afterward Gettysburg sent Baughman in at forward and moved Fluhrer to center. McCarney later took the place of Brumbaugh at guard. The change in the local line-up was beneficial and added a little life to the game, for Thatcher was free to throw field goals. Fisher also played Bream

Concluded on fourth page.

ACADEMY RECEPTION

MANY PERSONS ENJOY INFORMAL GATHERING.

The members of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Caleopian Literary Society of the Academy put their entertaining powers to the test when on Friday evening they joined in giving a reception. About eight o'clock the parties began to enter the Academy parlors which were beautifully decorated with school, fraternity, and class pennants.

The program was so arranged as to make the gathering quite informal. While Longs Orchestra of Sunbury furnished excellent music all interested themselves in answering questions concerning authors, and also entered into friendly rivalry to secure the largest number of autographs.

About one hundred and fifty persons were present among which were several members of the College Faculty. Throughout the evening teachers and students entered into the spirit of the occasion with a congeniality that helped much toward making the reception the great success that it was.

The reception committee consisted of: C. K. Boyer, Chairman, D. G. Morse, N. E. Page, J. H. Auslander, W. H. Jones, and H. D. Hallbreath.

BUCKNELL DEBATERS LOST TO GETTYSBURG

DEBATE HELD AT GETTYSBURG.

The Down-state Team Excelled in Delivery. Bucknell's Arguments Were Judged to Be Superior.

The first debate of the series in the intercollegiate debating league, consisting of Gettysburg, Lafayette and Bucknell, was won on Friday evening by Gettysburg from Bucknell. The debate was held at Gettysburg in Brua Chapel in the presence of a large audience.

The question was: Resolved, that United States Senators should be elected by popular vote.

The Bucknell debaters, S. U. DePierro, '13, C. W. Cranmer, '10, and I. A. Timlin, '10, upheld the affirmative; while the negative side was defended by C. C. Knipple, '10, C. M. Allabach, '11, and J. T. Jenkins, '10, for Gettysburg.

The outline of the affirmative arguments in brief was: the present system is theoretically unsound. By the present system, (a) there is a confusion of national and state issues, (b) the work of the state legislature is very much injured which would be remedied by change to popular election, (c) by change of system to popular election, bribery and corruption in senatorial elections would be minimized, (d) and as the people are ready for a change and demand this change it should be made.

The negative maintained that, (a) the constitution was wisely and judiciously planned, (b) the system has worked well by placing strong men in the United State Senate, (c) a change to popular election would place younger men in the senate, and the periods of service would be much shorter than they are now, and (d) no government has ever trusted its people to elect its upper house.

The chairman of the meeting was Dr. P. M. Bikle of Gettysburg. The judges were Dr. P. L. Kaye, Dickinson; Prof. P. L. Kaye, Baltimore City College; Dr. E. E. Campbell, Irving College. Their decision was two to one in favor of Gettysburg.

From the reports of the debate the Bucknell men showed themselves very able; and the close decision coupled with a few other things indicate that they came within a hair breadth of winning the debate. In delivery Gettysburg excelled, but in actual argument even the opposing side admitted Bucknell's superiority. In rebuttal especially did our men put up a strong fight. Ex-state Treasurer Berry and Clarence Gibboney, who were in the audience, declared Bucknell to have won the debate. But the judges evidently based much on delivery and decided accordingly. Bucknell's team is to be commended for their earnest efforts and good spirit even in defeat.

This sum does not quite cover the indebtedness of the League but it goes a long way toward the sum necessary to uphold Bucknell's share in the expenses of this year's debates. The League extends its thanks to all who have responded to the call for funds.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN.

After Fraulein Whitaker had read a paper on "Christiane" from Zwischen Himmel und Erde at the regular meeting of the Deutscher Verein on Thursday evening, Herr Prof. Rockwell followed with a "Critique" on the same work. The meetings of the German association are well attended this year, and the literary work that is done there is of a high character.

PICTURE FOR ORATORY HALL.

With the proceeds of entertainments given by the classes of 1911 and 1912 Professor Bromley Smith has purchased a handsome engraving of Patrick Henry addressing the House of Burgesses and has placed it on the walls of his oratory room. The engraving by Ayers was taken about sixty years ago from a painting by Peter F. Rothermel. This celebrated artist painted many famous pictures, such as the Christian Martyrs, Cariolanus, and Mary Queen of Scots. Possibly his most noted work is now in the Capitol at Harrisburg. It is a huge painting of the Battle of Gettysburg valued at $50,000.

It is interesting to know that two cousins by marriage of the artist reside in Lewisburg. Mrs. Louis Rothermel and Mrs. Ellen Rothermel married brothers. Both families at one time lived on the same square with the artist in Philadelphia. As a result of their acquaintance and relationship Mrs. Louis Rothermel has upon the walls of her parlor on Market street three original paintings by the artist: The Dream of Penelope, The Farmer, and the Judgment Scene in the Merchant of Venice.

Professor Smith would like to locate for future purchase engravings of Webster and Clay addressing the Senate, Mark Antony's Funeral Oration, Alma Tadema's Reading from Homer, and other pictures appropriate for a Hall of Public Speaking.

PROF. SMITH LECTURED.

Professor Bromley Smith delivered the evening educational address at an institute held at Ralston last Saturday evening. Among the teachers who were present in the audience and who took part in the discussions of the day were Hiram A. Spotts, '04, Superintendent of , and W. W. Baker, '07, Principal of the Lycoming County Normal School at Muney; C. B. Renn, '04, Principal of the South Williamsport High School; Walter Fertin, '08, Acting Principal of the Williamsport High School; and A. W. Dawson, ex-'10, Principal of the Ralston High School. In the absence of the Supervising Principal of McIntyre Twp., William C. Hulley, '07, County Superintendent Allnor conducted the exercises.

LEGACY TO LIBRARY

THE JOHN SEXTON JAMES, D. D. LIBRARY GIVEN BY SONS.

The John Sexton James, D. D. Library, the gift to the University, by his sons, Arthur Evans James, and Henry Hakes James, former students of the University, has been accessioned to the number of six hundred volumes. These, with duplicates and pamphlets aggregating over a thousand items, are available in the Theological Alcoves.

It is rich in German works of the period of Dr. James' student residence in Erlangen, in 1870, including Beck, Cremer, Delitzsch, Herzog, Myer Commentar, and many others; also in lectures on preaching, beside the usual range of a minister's tool books.

The scholar, the student is everywhere evident in the selection; yet interest in fields outside the study is not wanting. The friend of the public schools, the champion of the temperance movement, the warrior in the cause of municipal reform, is manifest in the books he used.

The institution is richer in the legacy of such a life-work, of which these books are the witnesses and memorials.

WASHINGTON-LINCOLN ADDRESS.

Hon. Emerson Collins, of Williamsport, delivered the address for Washington-Lincoln Day last Monday evening in Bucknell Hall. Although a Washingtons Birthday address, it was concerned chiefly with the life of Lincoln. The orator took up the latter's life more in the light of his characteristics as a man than his connection with national life. His audience was small but select, and pronounced his lecture as one of the best heard in Bucknell Hall for a long time.

ACADEMY WON FROM HARRISBURG TECH.

HAS HAD SUCCESSFUL SEASON.

The "Prep Basketball Team Lost Only One Game this year Out of a Heavy Schedule.

The Philadelphia Press of Feb. 20 gives considerable credit to the good work of the Bucknell Academy basketball team. In addition to printing pictures of the team it has the following to say of them:

Bucknell Academy this year has perhaps the fastest basketball team it has had during its history. It is certainly one of the best of teams of preparatory schools, for in practice games the 'Varsity of Bucknell University, which has itself this season made a good record, finds that the Academy players are no mean opponents, and, in fact, superior in many ways to the college teams it has played.

Under the leadership of Capt. Goodwin the Academy team has developed a strong system of passing and that, in part, is the secret of its success. From the last game played with Harrisburg Tech., at Harrisburg, resulting in a victory for the Academy, a fair idea may be had of the strength of the team. Harrisburg Tech. recently defeated Central Manual and lost its first game to Bucknell Academy by the score of 28 to 27. Although there has been a hard schedule, the Academy has lost none of the games played on the home floor and but one of those played away from home.

The following is a record of the games that have been played:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Academy 37 | Sunbury Collegians | 28 |
| Academy 37 | Milton High School | 20 |
| Academy 38 | Sunbury High S. | 20 |
| Academy 37 | Lewisburg C. | 16 |
| Academy 61 | K. S. N. S. | 15 |
| Academy 26 | Williamsport H. S. | 11 |
| Academy 22 | Williamsport H. S. | 24 |
| Academy 28 | Harrisburg Tech. | 27 |

Having had a remarkably successful football team, with a basketball team that is measuring up to every hope, and with an abundance of material for a winning baseball team, Bucknell Academy has every reason to expect this to be its most successful year in athletics.

ZACCHEUS DANIEL'S WORK.

The following clipping from a western paper was sent to the Orange and Blue, from Ogden, Utah, by Harry E. McCormick, '04:

Zaccheus Daniel went to Princeton from Bucknell University in time to be graduated from old Nassau in 1908. At Bucknell he had taken up astronomy as a fad, and later as a real vocation in life. To this end he made strenuous efforts to win the Thaw fellowship in astronomy, the the annual income of a gift of ten thousand dollars by Mrs. Wm. Thaw of Pittsburgh, and was successful. Since then he has devoted all his energies to this pursuit, although it has been his favorite study ever since he was a boy. In fact, long before he came to the university he possessed a four-inch telescope mounted on a tripod. Every fine evening, winter and summer, he scans the skies with a five and three-quarter inch telescope, and once more his efforts met with success, in the capture of the comet of last month.

He estimated that the comet was probably about three times as large as the earth, or some twenty-five thousand miles in diameter, and was traveling through space at a distance of fifty-six million from the earth. It was apparently composed of such filmsy material as to be literally transparent, as Daniel saw a bright star through the comet, somewhat as one might perceive the gleam of a diamond through the filmy gauze of a veil. The comet was seen the day after its nearest approach to the sun, and was therefore starting on its return journey to the region whence it emerged before it came within our ken.

COLLEGE SPIRIT.

In the minds of some students the mention of the subject of this editorial will suggest buying a season ticket and "rooting" the loudest for the team; to others college spirit means "making things hum" in various ways about college; while to a third class, very much in the minority, it is the faithful following of their studies, first for the good of themselves, and secondly for the future honor of Bucknell. This latter class will take care of itself; and the first mentioned is also not liable to overdo things. It is the second that needs attention.

Things have "hummed" considerably about Bucknell, especially after midnight when even all "dark-loving" Sophomores have sought their beds. This then would be considered by a certain class as the ideal college spirit. Breaking into the Y. M. C. A. Hall and making use of the piano for midnight carousals may be looked upon as a kind of joke, akin to such a thing as ringing the bell and arousing students from their sleep. But doing damage to Y. M. C. A. property and bringing "stunts" to pass as were enacted several nights ago can be regarded as nothing but criminal vandalism against which the student body ought to rise. Ought we who have the true welfare of Bucknell at hearty tolerate such "college spirit?"

We do not wish to knock. We have refrained perhaps too long from calling attention to a matter which needs looking after. Even if statements like some of the above look hard in print, it is better that they should appear in the college publication and be the means of bettering conditions rather than get into outside papers where the unsparing criticism of the the world will cast a reflection upon the fair record of Bucknell. Quite recently rowdyism in another institution of this state succeeded in having the student body of said institution severely censured for a lack of manliness, and a favorable comparison was made with the good-behaving class of students that we have in college here. But a continuation of our exhibitions of "college spirit" will result in a changed opinion of the standards that Bucknell students have set for themselves.

Y. W. C. A. SECRETARY.

Miss Elsie Voorhies Jones, Territorial Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. for Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Delaware, spent Monday evening and Tuesday with the Y. W. C. A. of the Womens College. Miss Jones addressed the members Tuesday evening on the subject of the work as it is carried out by the different branches of the Y. W. C. A. The meetings were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed, Miss Jones being a very interesting speaker.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

The term, Spirit, described to the Jews the powerful operation of God among men. In accord with this conception John the Baptist declared Jesus to be the Messiah because he saw the Spirit of God descend upon Jesus. This Gospel enlarges the content of the term by the use of the synonymous terms, Helper and Spirit of Truth.

Upon the two divisions of men, believers and unbelievers, the Spirit operates differently. The Spirit takes the place of Christ in the lives of believers, continues within them the life of love, leads them out into moral and religious truth. The Spirit so affects the lives of disciples that they so raise the moral standard in the world that those who do not accept this standard are condemned by their attitude.

Whatever theory we may choose to hold concerning the Spirit, we are allowed only this conclusion in this Gospel: the Spirit is God himself acting spiritually in the world. No one can receive the Spirit unless in some manner he recognizes Jens as the expression of God.

Jefferson, Medico Chirurgical and Polyclinic Medical Colleges are negotiating with Lehigh University with a view to becoming the medical department of that university.

Fenton B. Turck, Jr., seven-year-old son of Dr. Fenton B. Turck, of the Post Graduate Medical School of Chicago, exhibited bacteria mounted by him on slides and adjusted by him under compound microscopes at the microscopical soiree given at the Chicago Academy of Sciences. According to scientists there Master Turck has an excellent claim to be classed with the mathematical prodigy, the son of Professor Sidis, of Harvard.

THANKFUL.

Ambassador David J. Hill, crossing from Germany on the Geo. Washington, said in the smoke room of the steamer that he would be glad to spend his Thanksgiving at home. Then, apropos of Thanksgiving Day, Doctor Hill told a story on the subject of football.

"At a Thanksgiving Day game at Bucknell," he said—you know I'm a Bucknell man—a beautiful girl in sables and black velvet uttered a low cry of horror.

"'My brother! my poor brother!' she moaned, as a halfback was carried unconscious from the field.

"'Ah but how thankful we should be!' her escort, an old player, cried gayly.

"'Thankful? Thankful for what?' exclaimed the girl.

"'Thankful that it wasn't the fullback,' said he. 'We haven't a decent fullback sub, you know.'"

COLLEGE Y. M. C. A.

The Rev. Dr. Judd addressed the Y. M. C. A. at the regular meeting last Thursday evening. His talk concerning the professions and their use for the advancement of the kingdom of God was enjoyed by a larger number than usually turn out to these meetings.

'VARSITY BASKETBALL.

There will be no 'Varsity basketball game on the home floor this week. On Thursday evening the local team plays Gettysburg at Gettysburg, and on Friday evening will play Dickinson on Dickinson's floor.

Ursula D. Parmley, '07, and Missouria M. Wolfgang, ex-'08, will spend a few days visiting friends at the Seminary.

Saturday, February the twenty-sixth, the New Cameron House was the scene of a very pretty luncheon given to the Institute Faculty by Dean and Mrs. Edwards. Mr. Moe, Mrs. Edward's brother, and Miss Bottorf were also guests.

The dinner at the Women's College dining room Tuesday evening took the form of a George Washington affair. The decorations of the room and tables were appropriate to the occasion. The guests of the evening were: Laura McGann, May Wright, Sue Weddell, Margaret Weddell, Nala Webb, '08, and Miss E. V. Jones.

so hard that he soon forced the big fellow to retire. With the entrance of Baughman and McCarney the contest became a little more like a basketball game and fouling decreased. The last few minutes were the fastest and best. In this second half the locals increased their lead and won out by the score of 26-18.

Little can be said regarding the work of the players individually, for all were more or less hampered by the excessive fouling. Thatcher however was very prominent in the second half. The big fellow scored nineteen of the twenty-six points. Fisher did good work also while he was in the game. "Fish's" height again proved to be a valuable aid to the team. Captain Craig likewise played a good game at guard. Bell starred for the visitors and tallied twelve of Gettysburg's eighteen points.

The line-up:—

| Bucknell | | Gettysburg |
|---|---|---|
| Zehner | forward | Fluhrer |
| Thatcher | | Baughman |
| Kurtz | forward | Bell |
| Thatcher | center | Bream |
| Fisher | | Fluhrer |
| Craig | guard | Brumbaugh |
| | | McCarney |
| Reber | guard | Rudisill |

Goals from field—Zehner 2, Kurtz 1, Thatcher 5, Bell 2, Bream 2, McCarney 1. Goals from fouls—Thatcher 9, Kurtz 1, Bell 8. Fouls committed—Bucknell 17, Gettysburg 21. Referee—Turner. Time of halves—20 minutes.

SOPH.-FRESHMAN GAME.

The only basketball at home this week is the fourth of the interclass series. On Tuesday night the Sophomores play the Freshmen. Considerable interest centers about this game because of its bearing upon the interclass championship and also because of the natural rivalry between the two classes. Thus far neither class has won a game, the Sophomores having lost two and the Freshmen one. Both classes are playing good ball and should be well matched. Upon the result of the game depends the chances for the Freshmen to land tie for first in the series. Should they lose, both underclass teams will be out of the race entirely.

At present the standing of the teams in the interclass series is as follows:—

| | W. | L. | Per. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Seniors | 2 | 0 | 1.000 |
| Juniors | 1 | 0 | 1.000 |
| Freshmen | 0 | 1 | .000 |
| Sophomores | 0 | 2 | .000 |

BUCKNELL TEAM LOST TWO GAMES

BOTH PLAYED AWAY FROM HOME.

The Score in Gettysburg Game Was 46-17. Interesting Contest at Dickinson Ended With Score 18-16.

The local basketball team received a serious setback last week by dropping both games played away from home. Gettysburg and Dickinson got back at Bucknell for the defeats received here earlier in the season.

The Gettysburg Game.

On Thursday night Bucknell played on Gettysburg's "toy" floor and rough playing, together with the fact that the out-of-bound limits extend entirely around the little floor, were too much for the local quintette.

During the first half there was not much basketball playing. The floor was so small that there was little chance to dribble. Besides whenever the Bucknell men secured the ball, their opponents shoved them out of bounds and claimed the ball. It was then merely a matter of passing the ball in bounds to some player who would try a long shot or a short one as the case might be. By such means Gettysburg ran up a score of 32-4. They tallied fourteen field goals to one lonely goal by Reber for Bucknell.

In the second half the game was much better and the local team scored thirteen points to their opponents' fourteen. Bucknell had worked up at last and employed the same tactics as the Gettysburg men. The result showed itself in that the Gettysburg forwards secured but three field goals in the second half while their center was blanked by Fisher. "Fish," on the other hand, dropped a nice goal and got the better of his big opponent.

As far as the general playing of the teams was concerned Gettysburg had the better of the argument, because of their familiarity with the little floor and because they have learned to shoot from nearly one end of the "cigar box" to the other. Brumbaugh at guard was especially adept in tallying long goals. Bream likewise did great work for his team by his ability to use his size in blocking an opponent. Bell also did great work for his team.

For Bucknell it is hard to determine who did star. In general all-around work, however, honors seem to be divided between Fisher and Craig. Reber was not in condition to play because of injuries received in practice Wednesday night. "Cotton" saved Bucknell from a shut out in field goals in the first half. He tallied the only goal upon a long shoot in the game.

| Bucknell | | Gettysburg |
|---|---|---|
| Thatcher | forward | Bell |
| Kurtz | forward | Baughman |
| | | Fluhrer |
| Fisher | center | Bream |
| Craig | guard | Brumbaugh |
| | | McCarney |
| Reber | guard | Snyder |
| | | Rudisell |

Goals from field—Thatcher 2, Kurtz 2, Fisher 1, Reber 1, Bell 4, Baughman 4, Bream 4, Brumbaugh 7, Fluhrer 1. Goals from fouls—Thatcher 2, Kurtz 3, Bell 6. Referee—Barnes, of York. Time of halves—20 minutes.

The Dickinson Game.

From Gettysburg the battered and bruised Bucknell team went to Dickinson and suffered a second defeat in a close and exciting game. The scoring was nip-and-tuck throughout and with about two minutes to play the score was tie at 16-16. Hoffman then made a sensational onehanded shot and won the game for his team by the score of 18-16.

From the very first the game was close and exciting. At the end of the first five minutes the score stood 5-3 in favor of Dickinson. Reber had scored one goal for Bucknell, but his battered condition then forced him to retire from the contest in favor of Zehner. From that time on the playing was fast and exciting. Neither team could secure a lead and the half ended tie at 12-12. Bucknell had the advantage in field goals in this half but Dickinson made up the difference by Boell's foul throwing.

In the second half both teams covered their men very closely and very little scoring was done. Kurtz broke the tie by a foul goal. Fisher then followed with a pretty field goal and gave Bucknell the lead of 15-12. Boell then tallied a foul goal and next a field goal by Hoffman again tied the score. Kurtz put the Orange and Blue ahead by another foul goal, but Boell immediately tied the score again at 16-16. As the game was near its close Hoffman leaned back and made a great one-handed throw over Fisher's head. Luck was with the Red and White for the ball went through the basket and made Dickinson the victors.

During this latter period a guard upon each side was injured. Captain Craig gave away under the severe strain caused by his injuries and the fast pace at which he was forced to play. He was then carried from the floor and Rhodes was sent in to finish the half. Captain VanHook, of Dickinson, received a gash in the head as the result of a fall and had to have two stitches taken in his scalp. He continued to play, however, and held Thatcher without a field goal.

For Bucknell Kurtz led in scoring by making nine of the sixteen points. Captain Craig did well too and held his man without a goal. At center there was an interesting duel between Fisher and Hoffman. Fisher had the better of it throughout the contest and it seemed as though he was going to shut out his opponent in the matter of field goal scoring. The fates willed otherwise, however, and Hoffman tallied two difficult goals and tied Fisher in scoring.

For Dickinson Boell was the greatest point gainer. He made twelve of the eighteen scored by his team. Hoffman also played a great game but he had his match in Fisher. Captain VanHook showed up well too. He shut out his opponent and tallied one goal himself. Dickinson's playing was, on the whole, a little superior to the game they played here recently. Although they played well, the general opinion is that they would have met a second defeat from Bucknell if the game had preceded the Gettysburg game as it was arranged on the schedule.

| Bucknell | | Dickinson |
|---|---|---|
| Thatcher | forward | Boell |
| Kurtz | forward | Henderson |
| Fisher | center | Hoffman |
| Craig | guard | Garrison |
| | | Rhodes |
| Reber | guard | VanHook |
| | | Zehner |

Goals from field—Kurtz 3, Fisher 2, Reber 1, Boell 3, Hoffman 2, VanHook 1. Goals from fouls—Thatcher 1, Kurtz 3, Boell 6. Referee—Barnes, of York. Time of halves—20 minutes.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING

COLLEGE ASSOCIATION VISITS MILTON ORGANIZATION.

The College Y. M. C. A. held the meeting in Milton on Sunday afternoon that was planned for the previous Sunday. The meeting, held in the Family Theatre and under the auspices of the Milton Y. M. C. A., was well attended. About sixteen fellows from the College Association were present.

The meeting opened with a short song service led by Secretary Martz. After a selection of the quartet, consisting of the Fetter brothers, Lloyd, and Reiter, Mr. Lloyd sang a bass solo accompanied on the piano by Mr. Wolfe. Max Wiant then gave the address on the subject: "Jesus Christ, as Man, Teacher, and Savior." Pangburn led in prayer, and after another piece by the quaret the meeting was dismissed.

FRESHMEN WON FROM SOPHOMORES

1913 MEN OUTCLASSED RIVALS.

Winners Took and Maintained the Lead Early in the Game. Second Half Closed with Score 39-17.

Fast playing upon the part of the team as a whole and the accurate goal throwing of R. Goehring enabled the Freshmen to win a comparatively easy victory over their rivals, the Sophomores, in the fourth game of the interclass series last Tuesday night. The 1913 men outclassed the 1912 men at every stage of the game, and the result was never in doubt.

The Freshmen took the lead very early in the game and maintained it throughout. In the first half, however, the score was close enough to make things interesting. The Freshmen had one field goal more than their opponents but had the advantage of seven foul goals to two.

In the second half the game was very one-sided. The Sophomores could score only three points while the 1913 men tallied eighteen. R. Goehring tallied five goals in this half and his brother secured the only goal for the Sophomores. The half ended with the Freshmen victorious by the score of 39-17.

Capt. Bartholomew was easily the star of the Sophomore team. He secured thirteen of their seventeen points. For the Freshmen Richards excelled in floor work. R. Goehring did great work at goal throwing.

Captain Zehner had an excellent chance to try out as a foul thrower owing to the number of fouls called upon his opponents. "Whitey" showed his ability by tallying eleven goals out of twenty trials.

| Sophomores | | Freshmen |
|---|---|---|
| Bartholomew | forward | Fetter |
| | | Shaffer |
| O'Brien | forward | R. Goehring |
| Dreher | center | Fisher |
| Jordan | | McClure |
| Schmidt | guard | Richards |
| Dreher, W. Goehring | | Fernhadrt |
| Musser | guard | Zehner |

Goals from field—Bartholomew 5, Dreher 1, W. Goehring 1, R. Goehring 9, Fetter 3, Fisher 2. Goals from fouls—Bartholomew 3, Zehner 11. Fouls committed—Sophomores 20, Freshmen 7. Referee—Turner. Timekeeper—Hoskins. Time of halves—20 minutes.

ACADEMY WINS AGAIN.

In a very fast game Saturday evening the "Prep" team again showed its superiority by defeating the strong Bellefonte Academy team by the score of 45 to 13. Although one-sided throughout, the game was interesting. Fulmer for the Academy showed remarkable form, caging nine field goals.

| Academy | | Bellefonte |
|---|---|---|
| Fulmer | forward | Myers |
| Goodwin | forward | Bauer |
| | | Negley |
| Loewen | center | Weston |
| Sutter | guard | Dillon |
| Boyer | guard | Elsenbels |

Goals from field—Fulmer 9, Goodwin 5, Loewen 4, Sutter 1, Myers 1, Weston 3, Elsenbe's 1. Goals from fouls—Fulmer 7, Bauer 3. Referee—McCullen. Timekeeper—Fisher.

SEMINARY RECEPTION

SENIOR CLASS OF INSTITUTE HELD SOCIAL FUNCTION.

The Annual Reception given by the Senior Class of Bucknell Institute was held Friday evening, March 4 in the Institute Parlors. The rooms were beautifully decorated with greens among which hung large bunches of grapes. The halls and stairs were tastefully arranged in the greens relieved at intervals by tall palms. The orchestra hidden behind a bank of potted plants helped by the many choice selections to make the evening a pleasant one.

The guests present numbered over one hundred and fifty. Besides the members of the faculty of College and Seminary, there were present quite a number of people from town; friends and relatives of the members of the present Senior class.

Refreshments were served in the charmingly decorated dining room. The color scheme of green vines and purple grapes was also carried out here, and as a whole presented a very pleasing scene to look upon.

AERONAUTIC CONVENTION IN PHILADELPHIA

AERO CLUBS BEING ORGANIZED.

Purpose of Convention Is to Bring About Closer Relations of Clubs. Bucknell Invited to Join.

The following letter, which is self-explanatory, is from the University of Pennsylvania Aero Club.

It has always been the province of the American College to lead in the promotion of a new science and to carry on research along progressive lines. A new science has seemingly suddenly sprung up from the earth and now it promises to revolutionize transportation. Its effect will probably be felt more vitally than any other invention in bringing the farthest corners of the earth in closer touch.

Aerial navigation has been dreamed of for centuries. Now the dream is realized. It seems but fitting that the trained American College man should take up the work and try to perfect it.

Emubed with this feeling, many of America's leading universities have already organized Aero Clubs and many more are rapidly following suit.

In order to bring about closer relations between the Aero Clubs of these various Universities, to stimulate organization in new places and unite with big International movement by affiliating an Intercollegiate Aeronautic Associaion with the Aero Club of America; We the Aero Club of the University of Pennsylvania, acting in unison with the Aero Clubs of Columbia and Cornell, extend to your college a most cordial invitation to join us in an Intercollegiate Aeronautic Convention to be held here in Philadelphia, Friday and Saturday, April 1st and 2nd. The purpose of this Convention will be to effect the organization of North American-Collegiate Aeronautic Association and to arrange its affiliation with the Aero Club of America. Further we hope to arrange a series of Intercollegiate Meets and Model and Gliding contests.

If you have an Aero Club in your college, will you kindly refer this letter to it. We should like an answer from all college Aero Clubs whether they can be represented or not. If you have no Aero Club, will you be so kind as to turn this invitation over to the person or committee who would be most likely to be interested in it. It may be that your college would be glad to fall in with the movement.

MUSEUM FOR THE STATE.

The establishment of a first-class State museum has been a long-felt want. Much has already been accomplished, although the work is in its infancy, and with the hearty cooperation received from its many friends it is laying a foundation for future years.

It is hoped that the near future will see a State museum building suitable for its needs where each division can be properly exhibited and exhibits scientifically arranged. The divisions to be as follows: division of zoology; division of geology; division of anthropology; and a division of botany.

Aside from these various divisions the buildings should include a large auditorium with committee rooms where all kinds of scientific, historical, agricultural and art societies can meet, having access to the different departments.

DR. GROFF'S CLASSES.

According to the spring term schedule which was posted the past week Prof. Davis will take charge of the classes formerly taught by Doctor Groff, with the exception of forestry which will not be given in the spring term. Prof. Davis is teaching two of Dr. Groff's classes this term; Prof. Lindemann is finishing the term's work in physiology.

COLLEGE MEN'S RECEPTION.

One of the many things around Bucknell that is to be regretted is the fact that there is no occasion during the year when all the members of the University can come together for a social evening. Several years ago there was a custom established which answered this purpose. This was in the form of a College Men's Reception. But for some unknown reason the custom was discontinued. This year it is again the intention of some to revive the custom and to hold a reception early next term. The success of this undertaking, will, however, be dependent upon the interest the student body takes in it.

At a function of this kind there are many advantages to be gained. To dwell upon them is needless, as they are quite obvious. All the other branches of the University hold receptions, and why then should the branch that represents the mass of the student-body be so inactive and negligent as to let an opportunity of this kind pass? A College Men's Reception would tend to arouse a more congenial spirit among the fellows, a thing which needs to be emphasized where nearly all the men belong to their little circles whose circumferences hardly touch. The Bucknell men of former years were able to unite in giving splendid receptions. A little effort on our part this year can bring about another reception equally successful.

There are, of course, some who will object to this proposition on the ground that we have no suitable place for an affair of this kind. The lack of a Reception Hall on the Hill is, indeed, quite an unfortunate affair, but experience has proved that the classrooms on the second floor of Main Hall can be so fixed up and decorated as to equal or surpass any other place that might be procured around Lewisburg.

Another consideration in connection with a College Men's Reception will be the matter of expense. But if a sufficient number of men can be got to take part, this item can be reduced to a minimum. It is the duty and privilege of every college man to express his opinion on the subject, and to give each one an opportunity to do so a meeting of the College Men will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Wednesday evening at 9.00 P. M.

A gift of $1,000,000 for the establishment of the George Peabody College, for teachers, to be located at Nashville, Tenn., was made by the board of trustees of the Peabody Fund for the Advancement of Education in the South. This gift was conditional on the granting by the State of Tennessee, the county of Davidson and the city of Nashville of a sum approximating $750,000.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

While explaining to his disciples their relation to God after he would leave them, Jesus touched on the subject of prayer. He taught that prayer is personal communion with the Father. This communion embraces petition the content of which is born of the believer's union in affection and will with Jesus in the supreme purpose of establishing the Kingdom of God. The basis of prayer is the Fatherhood of God.

The modern conception of natural law in the material world, the Christian may accept with the reservation that the author of the laws is the Father. Recognizing the Father as the ultimate in the universe, recognizing Him in this ultimate as He was in Jesus, believing that He is what Jesus was and withal omnipotent, longing for the advancement of the Kingdom, desiring what often seems insignificant, holding fast to the conviction, not my will but thine be done, we may turn to our Father and ask that He grant our petition.

THE STATE GAME.

The Varsity will play its first game away from home on Saturday evening, March 12, when it will meet the State College team at State College.

The debating try-out for Denison and Notre Dame debates will be held this evening.

AMBASSADOR HILL.

David Jayne Hill, '74, Ex-President of Bucknell, at the Washington's Birthday celebration given at the American Embassy in Berlin, was told by Ex-Vice Pres. Fairbanks which made the celebration address of his popularity among the Germans generally and of the praise of the German Kaiser for him. Mr. Fairbanks said: "Among all of our Ambassadors none is better qualified than Mr. Hill to represent the United States worthily.

The high regard in which the Ambassador's family stands with the court was also shown in the unusual favors accorded to Miss Katherine Hill at the diplomatic ball given by her father largely to launch the daughter in cosmopolitan society at the German capital. She has become a new star in German society.

The University of Wisconsin is trying an interesting experiment in student government. A student court has been instituted for the purpose of trying student offenders on complaint of either faculty or students. The court will be composed of nine students (six Seniors and three Juniors), who will be chosen by the student conference committee. Any student can bring a complaint directly to the court, and any member of the faculty can bring a complaint, but it must be brought with the approval of the dean of the department in which the offending student is registered.

COLLEGE LOCALS.

Lose, '11, spent Wednesday at home.

The class schedule for the spring term was posted last week.

The concert by the University Band is booked for Friday, March 18.

Dr. Perrine was a speaker, Friday and Saturday, at a teachers' institute at Nanticoke.

While on a recent lecture trip Prof. Smith visited Montrose, Factoryville, and Wilkes-Barre.

Saylor was appointed chairman of the Senior Memorial Committee to take the place of Earle who has left school.

Wiant, '10, was the leader at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Thursday evening. His topic was; "Crises in Life."

Dr. Koehne who recently delivered a course of lectures in the Presbyterian church, will be in Milton during the week of April 10.

Hertzog, '10, gave a talk Saturday evening before the Justisia Grange, of Lewisburg, on the subject; "Pruning and Orchard Management."

The local chapter of Pi Beta Phi was entertained at the Delta Theta Upsilon house Saturday evening. Euchre was the principal feature.

ALUMNI PERSONALS.

Chas. O. Long, '09, is with the Pennsylvania railroad at Fellwood.

James Lose, Civ. Engrg. '08, is with the Penna. R. R. in the Williamsport office.

B. M. Ogden, ex'09, is employed at the Westinghouse Electric plant in East Pittsburg and is attending Carnegie Tech.

The March number of the Popular Science Monthly contains an article entitled, "The Relation of the Law to Public Health," by Alfred Hayes, Jr., ex-'95, of the College of Law, Cornell University.

JUNIORS vs. SOPHOMORES.

The fifth of the Interclass games is scheduled for Tuesday night when the Juniors and Freshmen meet. The Juniors are confident of victory, but the showing that the 1913 men made against the Sophomores would indicate that the game will be far from one-sided. The game will be the most important thus far because of the possibilities which may result from the outcome. A Junior victory would put the Freshmen out of the race. On the other hand a Freshman victory would cause the possibility of a three cornered tie at the close in case the Juniors should defeat the Seniors.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

The Ministerial Association held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Prof. Bromley Smith. At the business session the officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: president Crossman, '11; vice-pres., Waltz, '12; secretary, Gronde, '11; treasurer, Igler, '12. After the business session Professor Smith addressed the association upon the subject of "Cosmic Evolution."

TRIBUTE TO DR. GROFF.

We print the following minute of the Faculty on Dr. Groff, which is prepared by Dr. W. C. Bartol, as an excellent tribute from his co-workers.

In the ripe maturity of his powers, before age had in any way broken his efficiency, Dr. Groff taught his classes to the last,—ending his college work on the evening of the day before he died. Thus closed the labors of our friend and co-worker, one who had attained eminence as an instructor, and wide recognition as a scholar, a lecturer, and an author.

As a young man his best energies were employed in study and research. He comprehensively regarded himself as storing up, for use, many good years which he should know how to keep and to spend. His effort was an honest, earnest, faithful, determined one, to be abundantly prepared for his chosen work. That he might miss no essential, we find him diligently seeking, from place to place, that equipment in mind and heart, which would make him most useful to his fellows. The preparation he sought, was to be, not simply a means to his own personal success, but rather one whereby he might be helpful to others, whereby he might indeed make manhood.

He came to Bucknell, in 1876, as instructor in chemistry. He was made Professor of Science in 1879, and has been a member of the faculty almost continuously ever since,—serving from 1888 to 1889, as acting president. His term of service is unequalled in duration by that of any other professor.

As a teacher he was always forceful, enthusiastic, successful, and to many inspiring. He had that fidelity to his work which is used not simply to secure a desired end, but which is an element of conscience, and which, indeed, belonged to every part of his life. He loved the truth, not only in its wide ranges of religion, society, science and philosophy, but in personal affairs, in small matters, in daily thought and feeling, in trifles as well as in things of magnitude, in realms of germs as well as those of maturity. Fairness, uprightness, purity, frankness, sincerity, characterized ed our brother and made his teaching instinct with moral power upon the disposition and character of his pupils.

As we look upon the many years of our tarrying together, we must think upon the broad way which he trod, upon the many humanitarian activities which engaged him, upon his evident purpose to know the wants of men, their occupations and their feelings, that he might be useful to them in the best way a ripe experience could suggest. We bear witness that, standing in the way of no man's good, he strove to fill to the full, the measure of his own manhood, and to teach and do as much as was in him. Who, indeed, can do more?

VARSITY LOST TO STATE COLLEGE

GAME ENTIRELY ONESIDED.

State's Team Took and Maintained the Lead Early in the Contest. Final Score, 52-13.

In a onesided and listless game Bucknell lost to State Saturday night by the overwhelming score of 52-13. After the first five minutes of play the game was never in doubt. State's luck in goal throwing and the big floor seemed to daze the Orange and Blue and thereby took much of the life out of the game. During the last five minutes of play, however, the local team woke up and held their opponents practically without any increase in score.

The first half opened with some fast playing upon both sides. Bucknell scored first upon a foul goal. Kurtz then tallied a field goal and gave the Orange and Blue the lead of 3-0. State then got into the game with a little more vim and tried to run away with things. Reed led in the scoring but every man on the team tallied at least one goal. One more foul goal was the best that Bucknell could do until Fisher came to the rescue with another of his famous long shots. When the half ended State had practically clinched the game for they had a lead of 25-6.

The second half was nearly the exact counterpart of the first half except that Bucknell did her best work in the latter part of the half instead of in the early part. McIntyre led in field goal throwing yet every man tallied again. For Bucknell Kurtz added five points and Zehner also contributed one field goal. When the smoke of battle had cleared away State had rolled up a score of 52-13.

For Bucknell Fisher was again the star in all round work. The big fellow had little difficulty in outjumping his opponent and helped make things interesting for the State men. Kurtz once more led in the number of points scored by making three field goals and three foul goals. For State Reed did the best work in that he held his opponent to one field goal while he himself made eight tallies. Herman and McIntyre also did great work and aided in running up the score.

Some of the disadvantages under which the local team labored, will be removed in the contest here Tuesday night. Bucknell will not only be playing upon her home floor but State will be at the disadvantage of playing upon a smaller floor than they are used to. It is also likely that Reber will be able to get into the game tomorrow night and add a little vim to Bucknell's playing.

The lineup:—

| State | | Bucknell |
|---|---|---|
| McIntyre | forward | Thatcher |
| | | Zehner |
| Herman | forward | Kurtz |
| Amidon | center | Fisher |
| Blythe | guard | Craig |
| Reed | guard | Zehner |
| James | | Rhodes |

Goals from field—Herman 4, McIntyre 6, Amidon 2, Reed 8, Blythe 3, Kurtz 3, Fisher Zehner. Goals from fouls—Herman 6, Kurtz 3. Fouls committed—State 9, Bucknell 11. Referee—Turner. Time of halves—20 minutes.

HILL FOR GOVERNOR.

A despatch from Albany to the New York Press says that according to a man high up in the councils of the state "machine" the organization has picked David Jane Hill, '74, the present Ambassador to Germany, as their candidate for Governor. This man declares that no man quite as close to Gov. Hughes as Clark Williams, the Controller, or Frederick C. Stevens, the Superintendent of Public Works, or even Wm. H Hotchkiss, the Superintendent of Insurance, will be nominated.

INDOOR CIRCUS

EXHIBITION GIVEN IN GYMNASIUM WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The circus held in Tustin gymnasium Wednesday night for the benefit of the relay team, was a success in every respect except financially. The Bucknell band played several good selections. The various clowns afforded the spectators almost constant entertainment by means of their funny antics and also by their speeches.

The special features were a three round boxing bout between Campuzano and Schmidt, and three interesting wrestling matches. In the latter the contestants were McDonough and Sweet, '12, Jordan and Thatcher, and Bastian and Read, Academy. The good work of the wrestlers brought forth rounds of applause.

During the course of the evening the annual gymnastic contest was held, O'Brien, C. Pfez, Smith, '10, and Griffin were the contestants. All the men received applause for their exceptionally good work. At the close of the contest the judges awarded a "H" to O'Brien for excelling in all around work.

The evening's performance concluded with an exhibition in high jumping given by Dufton. The ease with which the big fellow cleared the pole called forth considerable applause from the crowd.

DR. FOWLER TO HOLD SERVICES.

The Y. M. C. A. has secured the services of Dr. Arthur F. Fowler, of Mt. Vernon, New York, who will hold a week's meetings at Bucknell. He will begin his meetings April 11 and continue for a week, Saturday night excepted. Dr. Fowler comes highly recommended by Dr. Woelfkin whose meetings last year were so well liked by the student-body.

The expenses incurred by these meetings will be paid as last year by collection from the students. Each student is asked to give only twenty-five cents. The services will be of such a nature that no student in the institution can afford to withhold his support both in respect to contribution and attendance.

COLLEGE Y. M. C. A.

Middleton, '12, was the leader of the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening. His subject was: "Rolling Away the Stone."

This week's meeting, on Thursday evening, will be the last of the term. There will be the annual election of officers, and the reports of committees will also be heard.

The department of rhetoric and oratory has completed its selection of contestants who will try for the prizes that are awarded in public speaking during the spring term. These prize contests are four in number; two by the Junior class and one each by the Sophomore and Freshman classes.

Those selected for the Junior Exhibition Contest are: E. A. Snyder, Pugh, McAllister, Shipe, MacFarland, and Traniger; Misses Bronson, Kates, Dodson, and McGann. These speakers will have their first rehearsal on April 28.

The members of the Sophomore class who are selected for the Oratorical Contest are: Davis, Iglar, McNeal, Broslus, Hollenbaugh, and Starkweather; Misses Clum, Oldt, Stahl, and Stuck. Their first rehearsal will be April 18.

In the Freshman Declamation Contest will be: Fetter, Middleton, W. Smith, Beck, Jackson, and Cober; Misses Gibbons, Park, Mitchell, and Galer. The first rehearsal for these contestants will be on April 12.

JUNIORS DEFEATED THE CLASS OF 1913

GAME CLOSELY CONTESTED.

In Interesting Contest the Freshmen Led the Juniors a Merry Race. Score 18-16.

By the narrow margin of two points the Juniors triumphed over the Freshmen in a fast and exciting game Tuesday night. From start to finish the game was replete with brilliant plays and strong defensive work. Many of the spectators are of the opinion that it was the best game of the season with the possible exception of the Swarthmore contest.

Early in the first half the Juniors scored on a goal by Kurtz. Quickly Fisher evened matters up by a sensational goal from the center of the floor. Rhodes then placed 1911 in the lead, but another long shot by Fisher again evened up matters. The playing had by this time become extremely fast and both sides were more or less upon the defensive. Neither team could get a lead. The Freshmen guards held the 1911 forwards to one field goal, while the Junior guards blanked their opponent and each scored one goal himself. All the goal throwing for 1913 was done by Fisher who tallied four shots from the center of the floor. Zehner tallied two foul goals during the first period and enabled his team to finish the half on even terms with its big opponents.

The score of 10-10 at the beginning of the second half seemed to make the Juniors desperate for they came back into the contest with new fire. Their pace was so fast that for a few minutes it looked as though they were going to run away with the game. They quickly ran the score up to 18-10. The victory was not to be so easy. The Freshmen took a brace and held their opponents without a score during the remainder of the game. Two foul goals by Zehner placed the score at 18-12 with about three minutes to play. Fetter then got loose for a lucky shot under the basket. The 1913 men were throwing wildly then to attempt to tie the score but could not score again until Fetter dropped another pretty one about one minute before time was up. The Juniors then tightened up for the final struggle and succeeded in holding the Freshmen without another score and thereby won the game by the score of 18-16.

The main features of the game were the guard work of both teams and the goal throwing of Fisher. Craig and Richards were especially prominent in the guard positions. Fetter also deserves mention for the two pretty goals he tallied near the close of the game.

| Juniors | | Freshmen |
|---|---|---|
| Loveland | forward | Fetter |
| Kurtz | forward | Goehring |
| Thatcher | center | Fisher |
| Craig | guard | Richards |
| Rhodes | guard | Zehner |

Goals from field—Love'and 2, Kurtz 3, Thatcher 2, Craig 1, Fetter 2, Fisher 4. Goals from fouls—Zehner 4. Referee—Reber, 1910. Time of halves—20 minutes.

PRIN. THOMAS TO LEAVE.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Keystone Academy, at Factoryville, Principal Thomas, of Bucknell Academy, was elected principal. His term of office will begin next fall.

Principal Thomas succeeds H. Loren Fassett, at Keystone. A movement is on foot to boom that institution. It is especially planned to build a $15,000 gymnasium and to get the Alumni of the school interested in the work.

Prof. Thomas is well qualified to take this position. He has been very successful in raising Bucknell Academy to a high standard. At present he has more students in the place than ever before. All the rooms of the Academy are filled and many are obliged to occupy college dormitories.

WOMEN'S RECEPTION

SOCIAL EVENT OF SEASON HELD FRIDAY EVENING.

The social event of the season the College Women's Annual Reception, occurred Friday evening, March 11. The beautifully decorated rooms were thronged with the numerous guests of the College Women who proved themselves delightful hostesses.

The schoolroom was transformed into an immense bower of laurel; and nestling among this were great clusters of crimson Ramblers. The latticed windows also furnished support for the wayward flower. At one end of the room a great arbor sheltered several cozy-corners and easy chairs where one might withdraw for a moment to rest. In another corner the orchestra was stationed behind the arching trellis of a summer house. The crimson Rambler was not to be confined to the parlors alone, but preceded the guests through halls and into the dining room. Here refreshments were served amid the ideal surroundings of light and color.

In addition to those present from town, from the College and Seminary, there were also the following: Mr. Frank Gibson, '08, of Rochester, N. Y., Horace Sheppard, of Renovo, Miss Blanche Heller, of Factoryville, Clara T. Wright, of Scranton, Sue Hamill, of Norristown, Frances Blackwell, of Jersey Shore, and Miss Ruth Jones, of Mahanoy City.

COLLEGE MEN'S RECEPTION.

Following closely the movement for a College Men's Reception in the Orange and Blue last week, a mass meeting of the college men was held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall Wednesday evening to discuss the advisability of holding such a social function. Sentiment, in general, was in favor of reviving the reception idea and action for same was immediately taken.

Hartshorn, '10, was selected chairman of the Committee which consists of the following: Lose, Coulson, Parke, McAnulty, Street, Lee Sprout, Hain, John Banks, Baskins, Hertzog, Rosenberg, and Gorton. April 8 was the date selected for the reception; and it was also decided to have the affair informal.

The Chairman of the Invitation Committee, Mr. Herzog, requests all names to be handed to him by tomorrow evening.

DON'T FORGET.

Don't forget Bucknell Hall, Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, for the Band Concert.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

PROF. RIEMER ADDRESSED BUCKNELL ALUMNAE CLUB.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Bucknell Alumnae Club on Tuesday evening Prof. Riemer gave an illustrated lecture before the organization. The meeting was held in Bucknell Hall and was open to any interested in German subjects. The Deutscher Verein of the University attended in a body and sang some of its German songs.

The excellent slides which Professor Riemer showed were pictures of some of the interesting places of Germany. In connection with the first views which were of Berlin the Verein sang "Deutschland ueber Alles." Then the lecturer who visited all these places introduced his audience to the interesting sights of Berlin, Potsdam, Dresden, and Leipsic. From Munich he went through Swabia to Strassburg, Heidelberg, and Mainz. Miss Radack at this point favored the audience with a vocal solo.

Perhaps the most pleasing part of the program was the Rhine. The clear views of this picturesque and romantic stream with its castle ruins and battlemented towers, added to the legends and history given by Mr. Riemer, were appreciated to the full. In the pictures of the Rhine the Verein could find occasion enough for singing "Die Wacht am Rhein" and "Die Lorelei."

BUCKNELL BAND TO GIVE CONCERT

GOOD PROGRAM IS ARRANGED.

Friday Evening Is the Date. Proceeds of Entertainment to Be for Benefit of Band.

On Friday night our band will make its debut upon the concert platform. The boys have been practicing diligently for two months in order to present something of a better grade than is ordinarily demanded. Some of the best talent in the college and institute has been engaged to assist in giving an evening of pleasure. Every student and teacher who feels the thrill of music in his soul should come out to help the band. The organization is purely voluntary. No member receives any remuneration or any college credit for his work. The primary motive that holds the musicians together is a love of sweet sounds. They are willing to give their time and talent to the college free. They have already enlivened many athletic and festive occasions. In order to increase the efficiency of the band, to buy music and supplies, money is necessary. This the boys expect to earn by giving a concert. All are cordially invited to attend or to subscribe.

The following program will be rendered:—

1. Dance of the Nile Maidens . . . . . Band
2. Selection . Aeolian Symphonica
3. Recitation-Selected . Miss Bubb
4. Selection . The Phoenix Club
5. Haunted House . . . . . Band

Synopsis.

Approach of midnight. Moaning of the winds, dying away to silence. Twelve o'clock. Rousing of the ghosts from their day sleep. They are heard in the distance approaching the assembly-room. They draw near and their groans and chains are heard. They enter and all send out a deep moan accompanied by the rattling of chains. To while away the time they begin a ghost dance, at the close of which the trumpeter announces the arrival of the King Ghost. He enters and makes a short speech. They tremble and vow to obey. Tour through the house making night hideous with their cries, which are given and answered from different parts of the house. The King calls out to cease just as the cock announces the dawning of another day. They scramble from all parts of the house to reach the assembly-room, and then begin their ghostly march away.

SENIORS vs. JUNIORS.

The final clash in the Interclass series will come Saturday night when the Seniors meet the Juniors in the championship battle. Neither team has been defeated. The contest, therefore, should be a warm one. The Juniors feel confident of victory, but after their narrow escape from defeat at the hands of the Freshmen it is the opinion that the Seniors can make things interesting for their old-time rivals. Should 1910 win it will make the third consecutive year that a Senior team has won the championship, and, incidentally, the second time that 1910 has won the Interclass championship.

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

The lack of College spirit shown by the small number of the students present at the circus, arranged for the purpose of raising funds to send a relay team to Philadelphia in the spring, is to be deplored. This season we have even better prospects of a winning track team than in previous years and yet the student-body seems to show by its indifference, that it does not care to be represented at the intercollegiate meet. Last year several of our alumni tried to stir up sufficient spirit and support to send our team to Philadelphia, but they were unsuccessful. Reports from the Univ. of Penna. say that the meet will be better this year than ever before. Already many colleges have responded. Shall we let this opportunity of having B. U. represented slip by? If not, then let the students rise to the occasion and show by liberal support that they wish their college to be in the line-up.

This Friday the band will give a concert at which the students will again be given an opportunity to support a worthy cause. At the baseball games we will expect the band to furnish us with music; they in turn expect the student body to encourage them by their support. Let every one be present on Friday and show they are interested.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

We students of Bucknell are earnest workers and possess considerable ability in many phases of the college work. At least we naturally think ourselves equal, if not superior, to students of other institutions in the same lines of work. This may or may not be true.

There is, however, one thing the majority of us fail, for no reason whatsoever, to develop. It is oratory. The recent debate with Gettysburg, it is claimed, was lost just because there was a lack of forceful speaking to accompany superior argument. It is after all not always what we say that counts. It is the saying of the little we have to say in language and tone of voice, that will convince others, that counts most.

The literary societies of the school died because of lack of interest in them on the part of the students. Secret literary societies with a limited membership are said to continue such work. But this means that the mass of students are without continual practice in this most important phase of college activity. The remedy for a betterment of conditions can only be found in the individual students. They can make efforts to win places in the prize contests which the department of oratory offers every spring term. And if they do not make places, they can still derive much benefit by assisting the more fortunate ones, and then attending the contests in Bucknell Hall.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

The preceding topics constitute in thought the ideal life on its religious side; namely, fellowship with God; the topic we now consider expresses the ideal life on its ethical side; namely, fellowship with men. This fellowship is not primarily the church: for neither the word church nor any other word for organization occurs in this Gospel. In nature Christian fellowship is based on love created in a personal relation with Jesus and implies a oneness maintained by the constant presence of God in the Spirit. Within this fellowship each member loses in service his life of selfishness and experiences peace and joy.

By their unity Christians are to lead the world, which is apart from Christ, to recognize that God expressed Himself in Jesus and is expressing Himself in them.

Any church doctrine or any form of church government that interferes with Christian fellowship in the Spirit, is inimical to the mission to which Jesus appointed his followers.

The final topic, next Sunday, will be, Christianity and the Educated Man.

TRACK AND RELAY.

Coach Hoskins wants all candidates for the track and relay teams to report four times a week, at 4.15, at the Gymnasium for practice.

JUDGE MARR DIES.

William A. Marr, '60, of Ashland, Judge of the 21st District, died in Philadelphia, March 12. Services will be held in Lewisburg Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Of the class that graduated at Harvard last June, 125 went into business, 99 into the law, 54 into engineering, 43 into teaching, 41 into medicine, 18 into journalism, 16 into architecture, 12 into the ministry, and 9 are devoting themselves to the varied forms of chemistry. The records show that the wide term "business" is claiming more college graduates each year.

The Harvard faculty has recently passed a measure carrying out Pres. Lowell's policy with respect to curriculum requirements. According to the new scheme of work the student will be required to specialize by taking one-third of his total work in some single department. The remaining work is so distributed as to produce an all around development. This innovation of the faculty is aimed to remedy the scattered, aimless choice of work possible under the old system of free election.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE.

Prof. and Mrs. Phillips took dinner at Women's College, Tuesday evening, as guests at Miss Slifer's table.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A., held on Tuesday evening, proved to be one of unusual interest. Professor Phillips gave the talk of the evening, his subject being "The Golden Rule."

PENNSYLVANIA RELAY RACES.

Pennsylvania's Relay Races promise to be better than every this year. Already many of the big colleges have been heard from, and when the pistol starts the first class race on April 30th, it is altogether likely that there will be hardly an absentee from either the east or west. The college championship races will bring together the very best runners in the entire American college world, while the special events will give the field men, the sprinters and the hurdlers a chance to prove their worth when pitted against the very best men of the country, both from the east and the west.

More colleges will be there than there will be found at any other two meets, while the same can also be said of the school teams. This is due to the fact that but four men are necessary for a team, and even at schools and colleges that have but little money to spend on track sport, it is often feasible to send a team to these great sports. In many places the runners are sent through popular subscription throughout the institution.

For several years some one or other world's record has been made at the "Relays," and with such high-class athletes as will compete in the college events, it is very probable that old Father Time will have to move up a peg higher, or the existing marks in the field events be placed at a more astounding figure than they are at present.

Such a high standard is being maintained that this country can produce at any time more first-class quartermilers than all the other countries of the world put together. Such is the calibre of the teams that visit Franklin Field, and each college and school should make an effort to be represented.

STATE COLLEGE TAKES THE SECOND GAME

TEAMS WERE BETTER MATCHED.

From Start to Finish Spectators Saw Fast and Brilliant Playing. Score 23-10.

The fates were once more kind to State and gave them another victory over Bucknell Tuesday night when they defeated the local quintette by the score of 23-10 in an exciting game. From start to finish the game was full of brilliant and fast playing. In floor work the teams were well matched. In goal throwing, however, State had much better luck. The ball seemed determined to roll about the basket or else bound out again whenever the home team tried to make a goal.

From the very opening of the first half the spectators were sure of seeing a good contest. The Orange and Blue team had been well shaken up for the occasion and the new combination worked to perfection. The only drawbacks were the hard luck in shooting and an occasional failure to pass the ball.

State took the lead early in the game on a foul goal by Herman. Shortly afterward they secured two more foul goals and had the lead of 3-0. Bucknell then scored on a foul goal by Kurtz. The game was fast and furious thereafter and neither side could gain much in the matter of field goal throwing. With about two minutes to play State had run the score up to 11-1. Bucknell then took a little stronger brace and Kurtz tallied two successive field goals and ended the half with the score 11-5 in favor of the Blue and White.

In the second half the game for a time seemed to increase in speed. State slightly increased her lead and then the local combination was broken by the substitution of Rhoades for Clarke. State still continued to have her luck too and the home team was, upon the other hand, still unable to make the ball go through the basket. Near the end of the game an unfortunate change was made in the local line-up. Big Fisher was taken out of the game and was replaced by Thatcher. The change seemed to have a three-fold effect, the home team seemed to lose some of its confidence; State took on an extra spurt; for their work had been somewhat crippled by the local big center; the crowd too felt the effect. A gloom seemed to pass over the hall and cheering practically ceased. The strange effect produced gave State a chance to score five additional points and to end the contest by the score of 23-10.

For the home team Kurtz again led the scoring making eight of the ten points. Craig deserves special mention for the way he succeeded in shutting out State's star guard, Reed, who did so much damage in the previous game. The general opinion is that the honors of the night go to Fisher for the manner in which he kept the great Haddow upon the defensive throughout the game. Clarke played well for a man almost entirely out of practice. He held captain Herman to one lonely goal. Zehner also did good work at guard and held his man to two goals.

Blythe did the best work for State and was in the game from beginning to end. Herman and McIntyre did very good work also. Reed and Haddow were the men who were expected to do the most for the Blue and White but the two "stars" did very little shining when they had to face Fisher and captain Craig.

| Bucknell | | State |
|---|---|---|
| Craig | forward | McIntyre |
| Kurtz | forward | Herman |
| Fisher | center | Haddow |
| Thatcher | | |
| Clarke | guard | Blythe |
| Rhoades | | |
| Zehner | guard | Reed |

Goals from field—Kurtz 2, Fisher 1, McIntyre 2, Herman 3, Haddow 1, Blythe 2. Goals from fouls—Kurtz 4, Herman 7. Fouls called—Bucknell 11, State 11. Referee—Turner. Time of halves—20 minutes.

ALUMNI BANQUET

ANNUAL DINNER OF ALUMNI HELD FRIDAY EVENING.

The annual dinner of the Bucknell University Alumni Association, of Philadelphia, was held on Friday evening last at Kugler's. The street-car strike in the city prevented some of the members from attending the banquest, but in spite of trouble, twenty-six guests were present. Of this number, the recent graduates of the University predominated. The spirit of loyalty was very manifest throughout, in preparation for the dinner as well as in the toasts. Harold Perrine, as chairman of the executive committee is to be highly commended for his management.

Rev. C. A. Walker, '89, of Malvern, presided, and the speakers included President Harris, '69, and Prof. Phillips, '92, of Bucknell; Dr. E. L. Nesbit, Bryn Mawr; Senator E. L. Tustin, '84, Rev. T. C. Hanna, '95, and C. K. Robb, Philadelphia; and Stanton R. Smith, '09, West Chester.

The officers elected prior to the dinner are Dr. A. R. Garner, Norristown, President; Herbert Harris, Camden, Vice-President, Dr. E. L. Nesbit, Bryn Mawr; Secretary, Harold Perrine, Philadelphia, Treasurer.

BAND CONCERT

PROGRAM RENDERED BY BAND WAS WELL APPRECIATED.

Those who did not attend the Bucknell Band's concert on Friday evening, missed a very enjoyable occasion. Quite a number of town people and students were present and showed their interest in a worthy cause.

Professor Bromley Smith made the address of welcome, after which the program was as follows:

1. Dance of the Nile Maidens Band
2. Declamation, "Ino. W. Jones" G. F. Mitch
3. "My Song Has Come" The Phoenix Club
   "Pretty Good World"
   "My Lady Clo"
4. Selection from Wagner Oscar Wolfe
5. Haunted House . . . . . Band
6. Recitation—"The Final Victory of Old Virginia. Miss H. Bubb
7. Violin Solo. Prof. Campbell, of Sunbury
8. Selections—"The Village Blacksmith"—"Skeeters am a Hummin." . . . . . Troubadours
9. Aniba (Egyptian Serenade) Band
10. Star-Spangled Banner . . Band

The program as rendered was very good, as shown by the liberal applause of the audience. Almost every member was encored. The selections by the Phoenix Club of the Seminary deserve special mention as being very well rendered.

Much credit is due Long, '11, for his masterly leadership of the band and for the interest he has aroused among the students in this organization. Not only is the student-body interested, but also others, at Sunbury, as shown by the presence of Professor Campbell who favored the audience with two violin solos, which drew forth a round of applause.

Prof. Smith made the announcement that if possible, the Band expected to give open-air concerts in the spring term.

The management wishes to thank all who took part in the program and those who by their liberal support, helped to make the concert a success.

Students at Washington, Pa., whipped a sophomore who had said that his purpose in attending school was to study rather than fight. Of course, there are things no self-respecting body of students may endure.

BASEBALL CANDIDATES OUT FOR PRACTICE

PROSPECTS ARE ENCOURGAING.

Season Opens April 3. Many New Games Scheduled Among Which are Yale and Army.

With the closing of the basket-ball season all eyes are turning to baseball and to the chances of a successful season. Already the candidates are turning out for practice. Judging from the work thus far the team looks as though it might be the best that Bucknell has ever had. Both the old men and the new recruits are in good form for this time of the year.

Several of last Year's squad have reported, among whom are captain Loveland, Northrop, Sprout, O'Leary, and Lister. Jimmie Clarke, last year's captain-elect, is also back into the game with some of his old-time vim. Among the new men are O'Brien, who covered second for Dickinson last season, the Plez brothers, two of captain Loveland's teammates at their home town, Hammond of Sheehan, '08, Daniels formerly of Notre Dame, Egolf and Seabright. Fisher and Cober, of last year's Academy team are also in school and may be able to make places on the squad. Zehner, who caught at Millersville Normal, promises to make O'Leary hustle a little. From his work thus far "Whitey" looks as though he could hold his own. It is quite likely that he and "Tim" may be used interchangeably.

Not only does the team look like "the best ever" but the schedule will undoubtedly be the best that Bucknell has ever had. The schedule is not quite completed but will be ready by the first of next term. The team will play two games with State and two with Dickison as last year. The Navy, Cornell, Gettysburg, Alumni, and Millersville Normal will also be upon the list. The new teams scheduled are Yale, Armory, Georgetown, University of Vermont, Washington and Jefferson, West Virginia, and Manhattan College. Games have also been secured with Ursinus and Stetson Hall. Both these teams defeated Bucknell in 1908 and therefore the team this year will try to turn the tables upon the former victors.

The baseball season opens early this year. The first game will be at home on April 6, when the "Varsity" faces the University of Vermont nine. On April 9 the team goes to Ithaca where they play Cornell. If the home team can land both these games they will make the prospect of a successful season assured. The hope of the student body is that the team will make a strong part and keep up the work throughout the entire season.

DEATH OF WM. A. MARR

BUCKNELL ALUMNUS AND NOTED JURIST OF SCH. CO.

After an illness extending over a period of three years, Wm. A. Marr, of Ashland, a former judge of the court of common pleas of Schuylkill county, youngest brother of the late Attorney A. G. Marr, of Shamokin, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Harbour, 2308 Broad street, Philadelphia, on Saturday night.

The remains were sent to Lewisburg from Philadelphia on Tuesday, and were taken to the home of the deceased's sisters, Mrs. Lister, the old Marr homestead, on South Front street, from which place the funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon.

The obsequies in Lewisburg were attended by a large concourse of attorneys and officeholders of Schuylkill county. The attending delegation nearly one hundred and fifty in number, arrived here and included the judges of the courts as well as county officials and others prominent in that section.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. W. E. Thomas of the Presbyterian church. Many floral pieces were banked about the bier of the deceased jurist. The honorary pallbearers were Messrs. John K. Kremer, Daniel F. Green, W. R. Follmer, John P. Ruhl, A. W. Brown, and Judge H. M. McClure. The Union county court adjourned on Wednesday noon until after the funeral.

The late Judge Marr was a son of Rev. P. B. Marr, who for many years was a minister of the Presbyterian faith, and in charge of the Lewisburg church. He was educated at Bucknell University, graduating in the class of 1860, and then entered the law office of his brother, the late A. G. Marr, ex-'64, at Ashland, and was successful in the practice of law. He was elected President Judge of Schuylkill county in 1899, and retired from the bench on account of failing health at the completion of his term in 1909. After leaving the bench Judge Marr retired from active life, and came to Lewisburg, residing here with his sister, Mrs. Hettie Lister, at the old homestead. The deceased was aged 73 years.

BASKET-BALL SUMMARY

BUCKNELL WON SEVEN OUT OF TWELVE GAMES.

The basket-ball season was not quite so successful as the student body wished but yet up until the beginning of March the team had met with but one defeat. During this month, however, the 'varsity suffered four successive defeats and thereby prevented Bucknell from equaling her record of last year.

During the season Kurtz has led in field goals, with Thatcher second and Zehner third. In the last month Fisher stepped into second place in scoring while Reber tied Thatcher for field goals. Thatcher led the foul throwing with 44 and Kurtz was next with 18. The number of field goals scored by the team was as follows: Kurtz 50, Thatcher, 24, Zehner 21, Reber 13, Fisher 7, Craig 4, Rhoades 1, McCullen 1. With the foul goals Kurtz made a total of 118 points and Thatcher was second with 92.

The scores of the season were as follows:

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON HOUSE PARTY

MANY GUESTS ENTERTAINED.

St. Patrick's Day Reception and Formal Dance in Armory Given by Local Chapter.

The second annual house party given by Sigma Alpha Epsilon began on Thursday March 17 and ended this afternoon. The guests began to arrive in the morning and continued to come during the afternoon, so that by evening all were comfortably settled in the chapter house. From the time of the arrival of the guests at 11 a. m. one continuous round of entertainment was furnished them, the first of which being a St. Patrick's Day Reception.

To carry out this reception in true Erin style, the dining room was decorated in green, and the table had for its center-piece, an original "Blarney" stone beautifully embedded in greens. The progressive card party was introduced in a unique manner. For the occasion potted shamrocks were obtained from the city, one for each guest. Each plant had been decorated with green crepe paper, a yard of green ribbon attached to each, and a shamrock card with the nickname of each gentleman placed in concealment. They were placed on a large table and so arranged that the ribbons extended over the edge, while the plants themselves were covered. After getting the ladies "enthused" by songs and rimes of Erin, they all gathered round the table. Each pulled a ribbon and got a shamrock together with a partner for cards. In the refreshments the color scheme was carried out too. Olive and lettuce sandwiches made in the shape of the shamrock, and green mint wafers were among the things used to carry out the plan.

On Friday night the event was the formal ball. The Armory was artistically decorated with the fraternity colors, royal purple and old gold. To get away from the usual method of decoration, the ceiling was latticed with crepe paper and the sides panelled with the same, while in the center of the panels were placed pennants and banners. The orchestra was put in the center of the hall surrounded by palms. At one end of the Armory was a reproduction of the fraternity pin, and above the main entrance an eight foot electric sign with fraternity letters in Greek. About four dances during the evening were dubbed "Sig Alph," and all lights were put out except those in the pin and in the changing sign.

The attraction for Saturday evening was a mock initiation at which time the guests were given an "idea" of the nature of fraternities. During this event the favors were given out.

The following is a list of the guests: Chaperon, Mrs. L. T. Butler; Misses Hazel Galloway, May Wright, Lewisburg; Helen Peterman, Helen Rogers, Marian Painter, Williamsport; Belle Watson, Sue Blackwell, Mary Sebring, Julia Trump, Jersey Shore; Nellie Eckert, Harriet Burrows, Sunbury; Florence Peters, Lancaster; Madelyn Sleppy, Northumberland; Florence Dyer, Harrisburg; Elsie Metzgar, Montgomery; Margaret Hutchinson, Salt Lake City, Utah; Dr. J. M. Baughap, Muncy; Mr. Emerich, State College; Butler, '98, Kosier, '01, Murdock, Wilcox, and Browning, '04, Dunlap, '05, alumni of the chapter.

THE DEMOSTHENEANS.

On Thursday evening the Demosthenians entertained in their clubrooms a number of ladies from the Seminary. One of the most interesting features of the evening was a comedy entitled "Lend Me Five Shillings" which was rendered by the following members of the club: Messrs. Wiant, Abraham, Hamil, Oliver, Davis, Tegmeier, and Davies. The players were trained by Miss Schillinger. Carl Sprout, '08, of Williamsport, was among the guests.

THE EDITOR'S AFTERWORD.

Almost a year ago the present editor of the Orange and Blue assumed the responsibility of guiding the destinies of this college publication. With this issue he gives over those duties into the hands of his successor, and in this his last editorial bids farewell to the readers of the Orange and Blue.

But before closing up the work a few words might be said for the benefit of such who constantly criticize and who would do things better, were they only given an opportunity.

A college publication like this is like any newspaper in some points. Its main purpose, like most newspapers is to gather and give to its readers in tangible form all the news which has some connection with the student life of its particular college. If such news is wanting,—and this frequently happens,—the columns must still be filled with readable material. The editor may not in order to fill space have a sensational story written up. Secondly, the paper may not be like most daily newspapers are, partisan. It must give all factions at college a square deal. For that reason not the entire paper is filled with athletic news for our athletic friends. For the same reason also is published weekly the proportionate amount of Y. M. C. A. news, so odious o some "good" college men.

Even if, however, the primary function of newspaper work is to collect and publish news that is of interest to its readers, there is a third consideration to be borne in mind in connection with a college organ. It ought to be and is of necessity moral in its tendencies. Its editorials, without being of a "knocking" kind, should try as much as possible to raise the moral standard of the school. If this were not so, it would be making quite a "hit," sometimes, as the sensational dailies do, by giving a column to the midnight performance of drunken rowdyism, and on the other hand be satisfied by relegating the "call for intercollegiate candidates" to two lines on the last page. These are some of the things it may be well for some critics to think of.

The present editor taking the above points into consideration has conscientiously tried to put out as good a paper as was possible under the circumstances. How far he has succeeded, he is not able to say. The method of getting out a paper is known to few. The work devolving upon the editor, who is nearly the whole staff, is too much to be first-class in connection with his college work. If he does his best, the results can in most cases be only mediocre.

But laying all these matters aside ,the outgoing editor wishes to take this means of thanking those on his staff who have faithfully lent their assistance, and also all others who have taken sufficient interest in the Orange and Blue to send in items of news from time to time.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

The educated man subjects h's religion to the intellectual test. If he does not so test his religion, he begets indifference. If he does, he may beget conceit, which is common to conservatism and radicalism, or he may exercise an intellectual freedom which allows him to leave the old for the new without despising the old.

Practical religion is man's interpretation of the world. The world is interpreted in this Gospel in the Father, in an unseen Presence, and in a social order that is brotherhood. This interpretation satisfies the realities of evolutionary religion: namely, a Deity, an unseen World, and the notion of Right and Wrong. Further this interpretation posits as final in the universe what man deems most worthy; namely, love.

If, therefore, an educated man is willing to follow truth tested intellectually, should he not find in Jesus the supreme object his devotion?

—Remember Dr. Fowler April 11th.

Y. M .C. A. BUSINESS MEETING.

The annual business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held Thursday evening with President Pangburn presiding. After a brief song service the reports of the committees were read.

An interesting fact brought out in several reports was that there were more men enrolled in Bible and Mission Study classes this year, in proportion to the number of students, than for several years.

After the reports were read, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Pres., N. G. Oliver, '11; Vice Pres., N. K. Crossman, '11; Sec., H. Johnson, '12; Treas., W. H. Miller, '12. The retiring president then commented on the work of the year. Velte, '10, also spoke on the policies of the association and the meeting was then adjourned until the spring term.

NEW EDITOR APPOINTED.

Following the custom of last year of appointing a new editor for the Orange and Blue in the spring term the present editor of the paper will end his term of office with this issue and the first issue of the spring term will be under the responsibility of the new editor. Mr. Frank C. McNair, '11, has been selected as the next editor.

Columbia University will soon have a new course in agriculture.

SENIORS WON THE INLERCLASS SERIES

GAME WAS NEVER IN DOUBT.

Juniors with Much Better Prospects for Winning Disappointed their Supporters. Score 29 22.

History repeated itself Saturday night and for the third successive year a Senior team has carried off the interclass basketball championship The triumph of 1910 came as a big surprise to the crowd, since the Juniors were thought to have much the better prospects of winning. The game at times was fast and exciting, but the way in which the Seniors covered their opponents especially brought forth cheers from the crowd. The 1910 quintette took the lead at the start and maintained it so well throughout that scarcely any time was the final result in doubt.

The game opened with some pretty playing upon both sides. The Seniors guarded so well that for a while their opponents were powerless. while captain Sprout tallied but two field goals and five foul goals. Kurtz finally opened up for 1911 with a foul goal. After Conover tallied a long shot, Loveland dropped a field goal and Kurtz added two more foul goals. Northrop hen secured a goal and Sprout followed with another and a foul goal in addition. Craig in the meantime tallied a goal and the half ended 16-7 in favor of 1910.

In the second half the Juniors rearranged their line-up slightly and went into the game for all they were worth. Just before the end of the game they succeeded in pulling up within five points of the Seniors. Then the latter pulled away again on a goal by Fetter and ended the game 29-22.

Conover and Sprout starred for 1910. The work of "Con" was particularly noticeable in that he not only shut Kurtz out but tallied a goal himself. Northrop and Fetter also did good work in goal throwing. Reber was handicapped by his recent injuries but nevertheless played a fair game. For 1911 Loveland, Clarke, and Craig did the best work and divided the field goals among them.

| Seniors | | Juniors |
|---|---|---|
| Northrop | forward | Loveland |
| Sprout | forward | Kurtz |
| Fetter | center | Clarke Rhoades |
| Conover | guard | Craig |
| Reber | guard | Rhoades Rhoades |

Goals from field—Northrop 3, Sprout 3, Fetter 3, Conover 1, Reber 1, Loveland 4, Clarke 3, Craig 2. Goals from fouls—Sprout 7, Kurtz 4. Fouls called—Seniors 7, Juniors 16. Referee—Turner. Time of halves—20 minutes.

The final standing of the interclass series is as follows:

| | W. | L. | Per. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Seniors | 3 | 0 | 1,000 |
| Juniors | 2 | 1 | .667 |
| Freshmen | 2 | 1 | .667 |
| Sophomores | 0 | 3 | .333 |

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOLUME XIV. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, APRIL 11, 1910. NUMBER 23

BUCKNELL WINS FIRST GAME OF SEASON

GAME WAS CLOSE BUT SLOW.

Vermont's Nine Tally But One Run Owing to Fast Fielding by the Locals. Score 2-1.

The 1910 baseball season opened up with a victory over the strong University of Vermont nine, on Wednesday afternoon. It was the first game for the home team while Vermont had already engaged in several contests, the last two of which were both tie games with State College.

Although the visitors outbatted the home team, yet through their poor baserunning, they spoiled their chances for following up their hits to advantage. On the other hand, the Bucknell nine used better judgement when they were on base and, aided by good sacrifice work, they scored two runs to their opponents' one.

In the first inning neither side scored, but in the second, both teams did some pretty stick work. It looked as though the visitors would tally at least one run, for Northrop started bad by hitting McDonald, who then stole second. Dutton then sent a hot grounder to center. McDonald tried to score but an accurate throw by Clarke enabled O'Leary to make an easy victim of the runner. Next O'Dea hit to center and Dutton foolishly tried to score, but thanks to Clarke's throwing, O'Leary retired the second runner. Flaherty ended the danger by striking out. In Bucknell's half, Piez led off with a pretty two-bagger down the left field line. Clarke bunted and sacrificed Piez to third. O'Leary drove along fly to McDonald and Piez tallied. Zehner then went out by the Dalley-Dutton route.

In the third inning Bucknell had three men on bases with two out but failed to score. They had a little better luck in the fifth, however, for Flaherty started off by hitting Sprout. Northrop promptly sacrificed. Loveland then drove the ball to Lyons who failed to catch Sprout at third. O'Brien then hit to short and Sprout beat the ball to the plate, while Loveland went to third. O'Brien tried to steal second. O'Dea threw the ball to Dailey and Loveland attempted to score but was caught at the plate. Daniels then flied out to McDonald.

In the eighth inning the visitors secured their only run. After Flaherty was out Dailey hit to right for two bases. Lyons followed with a hit back of short and then stole second. Williams drove a hot one to Sprout who fumbled and Dailey scored. Sprout attempted to catch Williams at first but failed. Lyons tried to score but was easily nailed at the plate. Haynes then went out on a foul fly.

For the visitors Flaherty, Dailey, O'Dea, and McConnell did the best work. Flaherty was especially effective in the box. Clarke and O'Leary starred for Bucknell. "Jimmie's" work in the field was of the sensational order, while his throwing to the plate was such as to bring forth the cheers of the crowd. As for O'Leary, many are of the opinion that his work behind the bat was even superior to his work of last year. Daniels and Loveland showed great form too. Although they each had an error, Sprout and O'Brien redeemed themselves by fast work during the rest of the game.

CORNELL TIED IN 14 INNINGS.

In a great fourteen inning battle on Percy Field, Ithaca, Bucknell tied Cornell 1-1, Saturday afternoon. The Orange and Blue not only outplayed their opponents but should have taken the game but for a little hesitation a couple times.

It was Piez's first appearance in the box for Bucknell and "Wally" certainly acquitted himself with credit. He pitched the full fourteen innings and held his big opponents to eight hits, only three of which were secured in the last eleven innings. During this latter period not a Cornell man passed second and only five men were able to reach that stack. Piez was of such a calibre, as to wring from the Cornell men themselves the admission that the Bucknell man had somewhat the better of their star pitcher, Goodwillie.

It was in the second inning that the exciting part of the game began. Goodwillie started bad by walking C. Piez. Clarke sacrificed. Then O'Leary hit to centre and Piez tried to make home but was caught at the plate. Sheehan was thrown out at first. Cornell opened up in their half by Watson beating out a slow infield ball after Matchner had flied to Northrop. Watson stole second and then made home on Howard's sacrifice. Goodwillie fanned and ended the inning.

After the second inning, Piez became more and more invincible while the Bucknell men began to find the ball frequently. It was not until the eighth though that they were able to score.

After W. Piez had gone out at first, Captain Loveland bit safe to center. Northrop followed with a drive in the same direction and Loveland went to third. Daniels then surprised Cornell by bunting and Loveland crossed the plate while Northrop landed on third. C. Piez flied out to Howard and cut off Bucknell's chances for taking the lead.

The game, from the eighth inning on, was fought stubbornly. From the way matters were going Cornell's chances to score were very meager. The Ithaca men exerted themselves to the limit in order to keep their opponents from rallying. In the tenth and again in the twelfth Bucknell had two men on bases but could not score. In the thirteenth C. Piez died on second. In the fourteenth the hopes of the Orange and Blue rose high. Sheehan led off with a hit and was sent around to third on O'Brien's sacrifice. W. Piez then drove a long fly to center and Sheehan started for home but, mistaking the words of the umpire, he returned to third before he discovered the mistake. It was then too late to go in and Bucknell lost its chance to score, for Loveland flied out to Jordan.

The general work of the Bucknell nine was highly commendable. It is true that four errors were made but yet none of them came at critical moments and they were scarcely noticed. If one takes into consideration that Saturday's game was only the second of the season for the home team, while Cornell had played six previous games, the work of the Orange and Blue nine looks all the better.

Magner, Gordon, and Watson did the best work for Cornell. O'Leary and Clarke again did sensational work for Bucknell. Loveland, Northrop,

SPECIAL MEETINGS IN BUCKNELL HALL

DR. A. T. FOWLER WILL SPEAK.

Meetings Every Evening in Chapel at 7.30. Open to All. Arranged by Y. M. C. A.

Beginning with this evening, Dr. Arthur T. Fowler of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., will address the students in Bucknell Hall at 7.30. Dr. Fowler comes with a great reputation which he has made by his work throughout the country. He speaks with great clearness, force and power. "Judged by any of the usual standards this was a most noble address, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who heard it. Each listener received an impression that will doubtless be a permanent influence upon his life motives," is the comment that R. M. West, D. D., '89, of Rochester, N. Y., made on

DR. ARTHUR T. FOWLER.

Dr. Fowler's address, "The Supreme Motive in Life." "In all he said there was the very highest purpose. The lecture was entertaining as well as instructive and inspiring. He held the entire audience spell-bound with his priceless pearls of truth and matchless oratory," is the criticism that another made.

Among the various subjects that Dr. Fowler speaks on, are the following: "The Luxury of Being Poor, The Sunny Side of Life, The Man for the Hour, The Romance of a Minister's Life, The World's Debt to America and Jesus Christ After Twenty Centuries." No doubt a select'on will be made from these subjects, together with others, which will be interesting to those who attend.

These meetings will be held every evening except Saturday in Bucknell Hall. Dr. Harris has invited Dr. Fowler to address the College Bible Class, April 17. An address will also be given in the Baptist church in the evening. The Y. M. C.A. has secured the services of Dr. Fowler and has made an appeal to each fraternity and club in the school for their financial support. Each student is asked to contribute twenty-five cents to this work and a list will be published later of those contributing.

"B'S" AWARDED.

The following men were awarded "B's" for basketball: Craig, '11, Kurtz, '11, Reber, '10, Thatcher, '11, Zehner, '13 and Fisher, '13. The election of the captain for next season was held April 2 and Kurtz, '11 was chosen.

VARSITY TENNIS.

The manager of tennis has issued a call to the various class teams to report for practice, preparatory to a tournament in doubles. From the winners the Varsity team will be picked.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE

INTERESTING SEASON OF BASEBALL PLANNED.

With the final arranging of the schedule and the selection of the team, the baseball season opened up in earnest last week. The schedule is undoubtedly the heaviest and the longest which Bucknell has ever attempted. With scarcely an exception the teams are of the first class. If then the locals can win the majority of the games, they can claim a successful season.

That Bucknell has the team to face the strong schedule was amply demonstrated in Wednesday's game. Daniels greatly strenghtens the team by the fast all-around work. O'Brien looks good on second too. Sprout and Sheehan are having a merry race for third, while Lister also stands a chance to secure that coveted position. Captain Loveland, Northrop, and O'Leary need no recommendation, for their ability is well known. In the outfield Clarke is nearly half a team in himself, while C. Piez, and Zehner make good running mates for "Jimmie." W. Piez is a pitcher of no mean reputation and can materially aid Northrop in twirling. Knoble and McCully are two new men and it is uncertain as yet, just what part they will play in the work of the season.

The complete schedule is as follows:

| Date | Team | Place |
|---|---|---|
| April 6 | Univ. of Vt. | Lewisburg |
| April 9 | Cornell | Lewisburg |
| April 15 | Georgetown | Georgetown |
| April 16 | Navy | Annapolis |
| April 19 | Manhattan | New York |
| April 20 | Yale | New Haven |
| April 30 | Trainus | Lewisburg |
| May 7 | Dickinson | Lewisburg |
| May 14 | State College | Lewisburg |
| May 19 | Gettysburg | Lewisburg |
| May 26 | Wash. & Jeff. | Lewisburg |
| May 27 | Dickinson | Carlisle |
| May 28 | W. Virginia | Morgantown |
| May 30 | W. Virginia | Morgantown |
| June 3 | Seton Hall | South Orange |
| June 4 | Army | West Point |
| June 11 | State College | State Col. |

SIGMA CHI DANCE.

The Sigma Chi fraternity held an informal dance in their halls, Wednesday evening, April 6. The occasion was a farewell dance in honor of Miss Mary Halfpenny, who left today for Parsons, W. Va., where she will reside.

DEATH OF DR. D. D. WOOD.

The death of Dr. D. D. Wood, the famous blind organist, reminds one that in Bucknell's College Songbook, there is a song "Susquehanna Fair," words by Mary Thelas Bartol, '94, and music by Dr. Wood.

COLLEGE MEN'S RECEPTION IN MAIN HALL

MIRTH AND MUSIC HOLD SONG.

Former Custom Revived After Discontinuance of Three Years. A Pleasing Social Event.

"Hence, loathed Melancholy," was the paean on Friday evening when, after the interval of three years, the college men held a reception for their friends in the main building. The numerous gay couples, as they strolled up the time honored path to Main College, realized that this event was quite appropriate to usher in the spring term.

On the hill a transformation had taken place. With pennants, banners and seals adorning the walls, portiers hanging before the windows, costly rugs covering the marks which shuffling feet had worn, inviting cozy corners and palms artistically arranged, the Eucpla and Theta Alpha halls together with the recitation rooms of Profs. Smith adn Ballentine were arrayed in palatial beauty, while the head of the flight leading patt way to Commencement Hall was changed to a throne. For a night at least, all suggestions of classic "plugging" disappeared from the college.

Thither thronged students, faculty and friends, with all barriers of class and coterie tabooed, to enjoy a hearty social time. Commensurate with the feeling of equality was the informality of the occasion. The guests whiled away the pleasant hours in meeting friends old and new, exchanging wit, humor and good cheer. An orchestra also helped to enliven the occasion. Kantian good will was everywhere in evidence and from all appearances the former custom was a decided success.

NEW ENGINEERING EQUIPMENT.

In the department of City, Mining and Railroad Surveying, new equipment has been purchased which is the best adapted to the needs that it was possible to get. Among the new additions we have a "Buff" transit and level, a "Kand E" transit and level, level-rods, tapes, hand-level and solar attachment. These instruments are the latest approved in engineering work and are high grade in every respect.

A comparison of the number of students per instrument at Bucknell and at other engineering schools would be very favorable to conditions here. From the variety of the field work last fall and the work as outlined for this term, it is evident that special efforts are being made to bring the engineering department up to the highest degree of excellence. It is planned that later on, an exhibition will be made of the maps etc. which have been made by the students.

Judging from the success which our alumni engineering students have had in the last few years, and from the interest which is and will be shown by the faculty, we have every reason to believe that our courses in engineering will soon be as thorough as at any other college.

RELAY RACES.

The prospects for a big event this spring at the University of Pennsylvania are bright. Lists for the relay races have been made out and are the largest they have been in years. Bucknell is entered and is in the class with the following: Carlisle Indians, Haverford College, New York University, Johns Hopkins University, Carnegie Technical School and University of Pittsburg.

FRESHMAN CLASS ELECTION.

At a meeting of the Freshman class Friday, April 8, the following were elected: Baseball Manager, Coudlet; Captain pro-tem. Cober; Track Manager, W. Smith, Captain pro-tem. Arndt; Tennis Manager, K. Banks, Captain pro-tem. McClure.

Keep in mind the Y. M. C. A. concert in the near future.

With this issue, the new editor of the Orange and Blue assumes the responsibilities of his office and with the co-operation of his staff, will try to give the student-body, alumni and others who are interested, the news from old Bucknell.

The former editor has outlined well the main purpose of the college paper and so it is useless to speak of this. Sufficent to say that we will aim to publish all news which has connection with the student life.

In order to do this, we must have the hearty co-operation of the student-body. News sent to the editor from time to time will receive his attention. However he will reserve the right to publish any communications sent to him. We desire to keep in touch with the alumni and will be glad to have a continuance of their interest.

Realizing as we do, that a college is judged to some extent through its publications we will endeavor to keep from giving broadcast any accounts which may prove detrimental to Bucknell. The alumni of the school do not want to hear unpleasant things which concern the student-body alone, but rather, wish to call to memory the pleasantries connected with their Alma Mater.

Our aim shall thus be to have an account given of the college activities each week, with a square deal for all factions and for every department, endeavoring to voice the sentiments of the student-body. Having in mind the good of the institution, we will try to take an unbiased point of view of the many questions that arise during the year and be fair to all concerned.

We believe that the editorials of a college paper can help in improving the general conditions existing, and for this reason, will comment occasionally on matters suggested. To be content to drift along with the tide of the natural course of events, and to accept the existing conditions as the inevitable and final decree of fate, we do not propose to do; but will try for a higher level in every phase of the life at Bucknell, whether with reference to the moral, to athletic activities, to the lack of interest in a worthy cause or in any other line.

ENGINEERING.

With the announcement some time ago that an effort was being made to obtain funds for a new engineering building, comes evidence on the part of the Institution, to show that they really want to give the student-body better opportunities for engineering work. The addition of the new equipment will add materially to the department and it is up to the students, to realize that the institution is with them to obtain the best results in this line of work. The fact that in railroad surveying we have two assistants, which enables corps to be organized in such a way that students receive more personal attention than they hope for in larger schools, is a point in our favor. No doubt that with the increase of the number of students, care will be exercised that the same personal attention be given, as at present.

COLLEGE MEN'S RECEPTION.

The success which marked the revival of the custom of having a college men's reception justifies the continuance of the same next year. From all sides come comments upon the good spirit shown on every hand. The college men joined with the committee in doing everything possible in order to have the occasion one to be remembered. As a result of the efforts put forth none but favorable criticism has been heard. Shall we remember this delightful occasion and next year have even greater spirit shown and a larger representation of the college men?

—Dr. Fowler in Bucknell Hall tonight.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

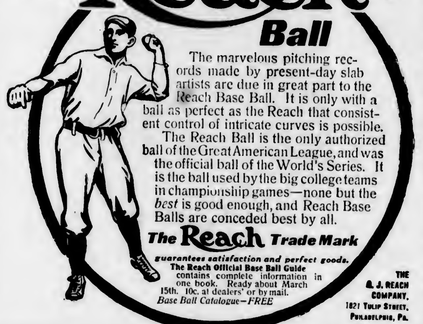
Subject: The Eternal Christ. When Christianity came westward from Palestine it met the philosophy of the Greeks and the Romans, prominent among whom were Plato and Aristotle. Now the apostle John ministered in a measure to the Greeks, and wrote with a knowledge of their philosophy, accepting part of it and refuting the rest. While Plato said that eternal reason was fundamental in the universe, John said that the fundamental was the Father, the God of love. Plato taught that in the world part was rational and part was irrational. "All things are made through Him and without Him was not anything made that was made," was John's teaching. This complete rationality of the universe makes possible moral life and gives man an unconscious faith in the order of the world. Just as the sower proceeds with his work confident in the order of seedtime and harvest, so the Christian needs to go forward with faith in the Eternal Christ.

Approximately 1,450 men are engaged in some form of athletic activity at Yale, either in the major or minor sports, according to figures compiled at the university for the year 1909-1910. The statistics include the academic and scientific departments and the graduate schools. Detailed figures show a preponderance of academic men in the various sports.

The Reach Ball



The marvelous pitching records made by present-day slab artists are due in great part to the Reach Base Ball. It is only with a ball as perfect as the Reach that consistent control of intricate curves is possible.

The Reach Ball is the only authorized ball of the Great American League, and was the official ball of the World's Series. It is the ball used by the big college teams in championship games—none but the best is good enough, and Reach Base Balls are conceded best by all.

The Reach Trade Mark guarantees satisfaction and perfect goods.

The Reach Official Base Ball Guide contains complete information in one book. Ready about March 15th. 10c. at dealers' or by mail.

BUCKNELL WINS FIRST GAME OF SEASON.

Concluded from page one.

O'Brien, and W. Plez also figured largely in the good playing of the team. "Tim" surely had his batting eye, for he hit safe the first three times up. C. Plez got another of his two-base hits but unfortunately it did not come at the right time, for the bases were empty. Daniels was unable to hit safe, but h's timely sacrifice work in the eighth allowed Bucknell to tie the score.

BUCKNELL WINS GAME FROM GEORGETOWN

HOME TEAM GOES UP IN EIGHTH.

Georgetown's Nine Get But One Run Through an Error. Result Was Never in Doubt. Score 8-1.

Bucknell found little difficulty in winning from Georgetown on the latter's grounds Friday afternoon. But for an error in the ninth, it would have been the first coat of whitewash administered by the Orange and Blue this year. There is little complaint to be made however, since the 'Varsity took the game by the score of 8-1.

The show began in the second inning when C. Plez got two bases on an error by O'Connor. After Clarke went out on a foul fly, O'Leary hit to right and scored Plez. Northrop sacrificed and O'Brien drew a walk. W. Plez then struck out.

In the third another run was tallied Loveland went out at first, Balzer passed Manning who promptly stole second. Daniels then drove the ball to centre field for two bases and scored Manning. Daniels stole third but the next two batters fanned.

Georgetown had a good chance to score in the fourth inning but failed. Murphy led off with a hit and stole second. Sitterding hit for one base and sent Murphy to third. Sitterding next stole second. With a man on third and another on second Plez settled down and struck out the next two. O'Connor flied to Northrop and cut off Georgetown's hopes.

Neither team had a very great chance until the eighth when the Southern nine "went up in the air." Daniels led off with a hit to left field. In an effort to catch "Danny" stealing second, Waldron threw wild and the runner was safe. C. Plez then drove the ball to left and Daniels crossed the plate while Plez went on to second. Plez stole third. After Clarke had gone out at first, O'Leary bunted and scored Plez. "Tim" being out at first. With the bases empty and two out, Balzer walked Northrop. O'Brien then drove the ball to Gibson, who fumbled and allowed "Jake" to reach third. W. Plez then hammered onto clean home run and cleared the bases. Captain Loveland finally ended the fun by being thrown out at first.

Each team scored a run in the ninth. Manning flied out to O'Connor. Daniels next repeated W. Plez' trick and hit for a homer. C. Plez flied out to center field and Clark went out Cogan to O'Connor. For Georgetown Murphy began by knocking a fly to C. Plez. Sitterding then hit safe and stole second. Dugan struck out. Sitterding tried to steal third. O'Leary threw to the bag to catch the runner but the signals did not seem to work right for Manning let the ball pass and Sitterding beat the ball to the plate. Gibson then ended the game by being thrown out at first by Loveland.

The playing of the Bucknell men was very satisfactory and all acquitted themselves with credit. Plez kept his opponent's hits well scattered and struck out eight men. In batting Daniels, O'Leary and W. Plez were the stars, their averages for the day being .750, .667, and .500 respectively. Daniels and Plez each had a home run and a two-bagger while Daniels threw in a single for good measure. Sitterding starred for Georgetown by securing three hits out of four times at bat. Pitcher Balzer, the man who defeated Cornell earlier in the season, pitched good ball for his team in spite of his one bad inning.

GAME AT ST. JOHN'S

ANNAPOLIS CANCELLS. GAME ARRANGED WITH ST. JOHN'S.

Owing to the death of Midshipman Wilson, the game scheduled with the Navy at Annapolis, Saturday, was cancelled. The team was already in Annapolis so they played a four inning exhibition game with St. John's College. The "Johnnies" were hardly fast enough to make things interesting and accordingly at the end of the fourth inning, with the score standing 20, the Orange and Blue men left to catch the train north.

In the first inning neither side scored but Bucknell began in the second when C. Plez walked, Clarke sacrificed and O'Leary knocked in the first run. In the fourth inning there was a little variation. C. Plez walked and stole second. Then Clarke lined out a hit and scored Plez.

TRACK CANDIDATES OUT FOR PRACTICE

PROSPECTS ARE ENCOURAGING.

Great Interest Shown in the Work. Men Working Hard for a Place on Relay Team.

That Bucknell is to be represented this year in the annual Penn relay races which are to be held in Philadelphia on April 30, has aroused some of the oldtime enthusiasm in track work. Every afternoon the numerous candidates are out trying to make the coveted positions on the team. There is an unusually large number of Freshmen candidates while the other three classes are all contributing well.

There is still some doubt as to which four men will run the relay. McDonough and Terrill are practically assured of positions but there is a hot fight for the other two places. Weinstein is doing good work. Three of the Freshmen, Arndt, E. M. Richards, and Bullard are all running well and all have some reputation in high school track work. Dunkle, formerly of Bucknell Academy, is likewise trying out but is a little handicapped in weight.

It is quite probable that Captain Butt and Dutton may be entered in the other events at Pennsylvania. Butt has been making fast time in the two mile and promises to make an excellent showing if he enters the meet. Dutton likewise should be heard from on the high jump.

If Bucknell takes first or second in her relay race the Orange and Blue would have good cause to feel proud since the opponents are no mean ones. According to the recently published classification Bucknell is placed in class 2 along with the Carlisle Indians, Haverford College, New York University, John Hopkins University, Carnegie Technical School, and University of Pittsburg.

In order to send a good team to Philadelphia, the financial cooperation of the student body is required. Coach Hoskins is personally soliciting cash to pay the expenses. A number of the students have responded to the appeal but yet an appeal should not be required. If the students wish to be represented in the big meet every man should do his part voluntarily and for the honor of old Bucknell.

DECLAMATION CONTEST.

The Academy held a declamation contest in Bucknell Hall, Saturday evening, April 16, for the David P. Leas' prize. The program was as follows:

March . . . . . Miss Louise Marsh
Invocation
Valse Impromptu . . . Miss Marsh
"The Honor of the Woods"—
C. K. Boyer
"The Lost Word" . . . M. M. Lewis
"Nice People" . . . . Harold Myatt
"The Danza" . . . . . Miss Hopper

Violin Trio a—Melodyin F.
b—Moment Musical
Miss Armstrong, Miss Cathers, Mr. Rockwell, Mr. Breimeier
"Joan Da Costa" . D. J. Mactalman

The speakers all showed that they had worked hard on their selections, from the way in which they rendered them. Much credit is due Miss Schillinger for the success of her efforts in training the contestants. From the impartial applause of the audience, it was evident that the contest was interesting to a high degree.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS.

The list of Commencement speakers are announced as follows:—Misses Bailey, Champman and Geis; Messrs. Benson, Hedge, Edwards, Fetter, Spurgeon, Warmkessel and Wiant.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

DR. C. W. LARRISON DIES.

Dr. Cornelius W. Larrison, well known among the medical fraternity of this and other states, died recently from paralysis. He was 73 years old.

Dr. Larrison was born January 10, 1837, near Sandy Ridge, Hunterdon county, and his early life was spent upon the farm. He entered the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1856, but finding that a course in a high school would be beneficial, returned to Flemington, N. J., and began a course in the Reading Academy High School. He was fitted for college and entered Bucknell University, at Lewisburg, Pa., in 1858, remaining two years. In 1860 he was appointed associate principal and teacher of mathematics and natural science in the Flemington High School. At the end of the term he entered the medical college at Geneva, N. Y., where he graduated in 1862, and began practice at Rhigoes. He organized the Rhigoes Seminary in 1870, was appointed professor of natural science in the University of Lewisburg in 1874 and two years later was appointed professor of zoology. He was a member of the Hunterdon County Medical Society, and was the first County Superintendent of Schools. He is survived by a widow and two children, Benjamin Larison and Mrs. Harry Blackwell.

ILLUSTRATED CONCERT

AN INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT PLANNED FOR APR. 30.

After a long tour of various parts of the country, Prof. Geo. K. Maluf and Miss Maluf will give an entertainment which promises to be something which Bucknell students have not had the opportunity of enjoying for some time. Prof. Maluf and his sister are natives of Damascus and will give "A Trip to the Holy Land," dressed in the native costumes.

The entertainment will be in three parts, as follows:—Part one—Music (including singing and native tongue); Part two—Illustrated Pictures (Stereopticon views of the Holy Land. A most interesting description of each view will be given as it is shown, and considering the interest of all mankind in this, the oldest inhabited spot on earth, this exhibition is something which every one should see); Part Three—Acted in Native Costumes—Bride and bridegroom's first sight of each other, veiling the face on the street, wearing native costumes of Mohammedans, the shepherd's life fully explained—helping one to better understand the true shepherd's life.

In addition to the views described above, 2000 feet of moving pictures will be given. The program will be pleasing, educational and varied.

Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. this entertainment will be rendered in the Methodist church, Saturday evening, April 30. A thorough canvass of the college will be made and tickets can be purchased for twenty-five cents. Do not miss this opportunity to enjoy a good entertainment. A certain portion of the proceeds from the tickets sold prior to the evening of the entertainment will go to the Y. M. C. A., so buy your tickets early.

DR. FOWLER SPEAKS IN BUCKNELL HALL

MEETINGS ARE WELL ATTENDED.

Beginning With Wednesday Evening Noted Speaker Addressed Students in Chapel.

Owing to unavoidable circumstances Dr. Fowler was prevented from being at Bucknell until Wednesday evening. However at the first meeting a large number of the students and town people were present, considering the time of the year.

The topic for the first meeting was "The Supreme Motive for Manhood." Dr. Fowler said that the conception of the world today is dynamic. Force is the prevailing element and man is the force among forces; but the value of a man's life is the motive power behind it and this power furnishes the test of the quality of a life.

He cited the motives of Plato and Aristotle; the motive of friendship of David and Jonathan; of filial love; of patriotism or love for the flag, which leads men to give up their lives, yet all of these fail as true motives for life.

The highest motive is "For the love of God constraineth us." This is the supreme motive in life because it is the highest in its origin, it inspires one to attain higher things. Not only is it the highest but also the strongest. "Christ once found is always the supreme motive—the ideal of life."

The second subject, on Thursday evening was "The Young Man Four Square." Dr. Fowler used for his text "The length, the breadth and the height thereof are equal." "Character," he said, "was what God sees us as." The greatest need is symmetry—harmony—perspective. The end of Christianity is to produce a harmony of spirit which will bring us in line with God.

There are three qualities to develop. Man's relation to himself; h's relation to his neighbor and his relation to God. By breadth we mean our relation to our fellow man, but by height we take God into consideration. All of these qualities find perfection in Christ." As illustrations, the live of Bunyan, Livingstone and Judson were taken. These men although their environment was small, had height reaching to the heavens. A fact emphasized in Christ's life was that "he never developed one quality at the risk of another."

On Friday evening, Dr. Fowler's subject was "A King on Trial," the text being "With but little persuasion wouldst thou make me a Christian." "Agrippa," Dr. Fowler said, 'although judging Paul, was really the one on trial. His danger came from a superficial knowledge of Christianity. Christ does not call a person to perfection but rather to be a learner. A switch moved tow inches will send a train in a different direction and it is just as true of a small decision. The power of choice is the rudder of the soul."

Dr. Fowler spoke with great clearness and emphasis, clinching his points with apt illustrations. Everyone's interest was fixed on him, while speaking, because he made his talks so practical.

BASEBALL ENTHUSIASM.

Just at this time of the season, while we are all waiting with anxious ears for news from our team, as it plays its various games away from home, let us bear in mind several things.

First of all, although there may have been a lack of spirit shown at times, yet when the team wins—and of that we are sure—let us remember that a victory is generally celebrated by a bon-fire. Let the true Bucknell spirit be evident and let the team feel that they have our loyal support to the very last. It is up to us to show that when they go away, we are with them and await eagerly the news of the contest.

Then again, if it is possible, let us remember the former custom of stirring-up each player by the student-body turning out and escorting the players to the station. There with our college yells and enthusiasm we can show that we are back of them with all the spirit that we can muster.

At the Vermont game just a little more enthusiasm might have been shown. We have the cheer leaders who can direct the cheering and let us follow them, in their efforts to encourage the team and show that we appreciate a good play when made. Just a little more volume and snap to the cheering to let the team know we are on the hill.

Lastly let us not forget that the members of the visiting team are our guests. It is up to us to show them our hospitality and respect at all times. If a decision of the umpire is protested, let the captains of the two teams do the talking and whatever is decided, let that be final. As the game draws to a close, give both sides a fair and square chance to play, by keeping on the hill and not gathering around the players' bench, thus interfering with either the catcher or third baseman. Then the visiting team will go away and say of Bucknell, that they were well treated by the team and the student-body.

COMPARATIVE SCORES.

Naturally at this time of the baseball season, the student body is beginning to wonder what our coming opponents have been doing. A few of the scores made by the different teams are as follows:—

West Point 3—Manhattan 2.
Yale 2—Trinity 0.
Dickinson 2—Lebanon Valley 1.
Yale 6—Cornell 4.
State College 6—Vermont 0.
State College 4—Vermont 4.
Yale 6—Pennsylvania 3.
State College 20—Carnegie Tech. 1.
Princeton 10—Dickinson 5.
N. Y. Nationals 14—Yale 0.
West Point 7—Vermont 1.
Princeton 4—Ursinus 3.
Villa Nova 1—State College 0.
State College 6—Lehigh 2.
Dickinson 11—Albright 0.
State College 3—Fordham 0.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY.

In accordance with established custom the committee on the Class Play has chosen the play to be rendered this year and practice will be begun this week. The committee met with some difficulty in the selection of a play, for account had to be taken of the inconveniences incident to presenting the play in Commencement Hall. Taking into consideration these inconveniences, the committee has finally decided on a four act play of simple settings; in this way the settings will not appear incongruous with the character of the play and the facilities at hand may be utilized to the best advantage.

"A Story O'Plymouth-Town" is the title, and the plot centers about Plymouth in New England. The period is the early part of the seventeenth century, and hence the costumes will be the Puritan type of Colonial times. At a rough estimate, considering the lack of "scene-shifters," the rendition will take about two hours. There are eight characters in the story, four males and four females.

The play on the whole is quick and spicy. It is a romantic comedy and in some instances the situations are humorous in the extreme. The interest is held until the end; in fact the plot is not entirely disclosed until the curtain drops on the last word. In addition to this, it is charming in its simplicity; and the life it depicts is entirely a romance compared to the life of the present. Being of a type different from any other play heretofore rendered at Bucknell we hope it will meet with the approval of the student-body and we earnestly solicit your support.

The dramatis personae are as follows:—

Miles Standish, Capt. of Plymouth—
P. J. Abraham.
Garrett Foster, of Weston's Men
F. W. Breimeier.
John Maregson . . . . Max Wiant
Philippe DeLaNoye of the Plymouth Colonists— E. S. Hartshorn
Miriam Chillingsley, cousin to Cap. Miss Platt
Barbara Standish, wife to Captain Miss Stage
Resolette Story, aunt to captain— Miss Hare
Rose de La Noye . . Miss Pierson

President Hadley of Yale says: "The college is governed by the men who take the trouble to think. Every man who thinks for himself, whether on the right side or on the wrong side, is exercising a power over the lives of scores of others. It is because the majority of the men who think are thinking on the right side, that the influence of the college is a good one.

Columbia has the largest enrollment of all the colleges. Pennsylvania, Michigan, Harvard, Cornell and Yale follow in the order named.

May 28—Intercollegiate meet at Franklin Field.

Columbia University has recently received an anonymous gift of $350,000, designated to be used for a new building for the School of Philosophy. Also an anonymous gift of $15,000 has been received for the proposed Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Isaac J. Schwatt, professor of mathematics at the Univ. of Penna., has recently published a pamphlet on "Newer Ideas of Education." He attacks the colleges for raising entrance requirements, and deplores the large size of text-books and the sending of children to school at too tender an age. The pamphlet is being widely circulated in educational circles throughout the State. "The present tendency seems to be toward higher entrance requirements," the pamphlet argues, "which, as I understand it, implies more ground to be covered. This can, in general, only be accomplished at the expense of thoroughness. We should increase the intensity and efficiency of a student's knowledge rather than extend the scope and quantity of the subject covered."

SENIOR CLASS DECIDES UPON THEIR MEMORIAL

PRACTICAL ALSO ARTISTIC.

Memorial Will Be a Concrete Walk Between Main Building and Library.

On Wednesday afternoon the Senior Class voted to accept and build as the official memorial, the one proposed by the committee. Briefly stated, the memorial will be a concrete walk ten feet wide laid between the main building and the Library. Midway between the two buildings the walk will be expanded to a circular shape, in the middle of which, space will be left for a horticultural display. Several minor details as to the ornamentation of the memorial are in the hands of the committee and they will make such a selection, as in their discretion, they shall deem compatible with the design of the memorial and the natural beauty of the surroundings.

Working in conjunction with the University, the memorial will conform to certain improvements, which will be made during the coming summer. These proposed improvements will be the union of the present centre hallway with Room 6. A new and enlarged doorway will pierce the southern wall and supplant the two exits now in use. The new walk will lead directly to this new doorway, instead of to the present one.

This memorial will save the double purpose of ornament and practical utility and will be a special boon in unpleasant weather to those who frequent the library.

CELEBRATION AND BONFIRE

BIG RECEPTION FOR TEAM ON RETURN FROM YALE.

On Thursday at 5.45 p. m. the baseball team returned from its trip to New Haven, Conn. The fact that Yale had been defeated in a great thirteen inning contest by the score of 5-3, was sufficient cause to draw the students, as well as many of the Bucknell supporters in town, to the Pennsylvania station.

When the train pulled in, there was a great outburst of enthusiasm. College yells were given and the players congratulated for their strong fight. The crowds then passed to Third and Market Streets, where yell after yell was given for the team.

Later in the evening, the students headed by the Bucknell Band, paraded the streets singing college songs, giving yells and setting off fire-works. The town people caught the spirit also and helped in the celebration.

In the meanwhile, the under-classmen had collected huge piles of boxes, logs etc., on the athletic field, for the bon-fire, which was lighted at about 9.30. This was the signal for a great demonstration. A platform was quickly formed and the players told what they knew of the game. Prof. Wolfe, Prof. Edwards, and A. W. Johnson, Esq., '96, also responded to the call of the students and gave short speeches in such a manner, as to show that they too had been carried away with the great jubilant spirit.

No doubt the students and the town people will long remember this event on the occasion of Yale's defeat by the Bucknell nine.

TRACK TRY-OUT.

On Friday afternoon, Coach Hoskins had a try-out for places on the relay team. There were two heats with Weinstein, '11, and Fairchilds, '11, in the first heat and Roberts, '12, Conover, '12, and Arndt, '13, in the second. Weinstein won a place on the team with McDonough and Terrill. The fourth place will be filled by the winner of the try-out tomorrow afternoon.

BUCKNELL WINS GREAT 13 INNING GAME FROM YALE

"Old Eli" Surprised by the Playing of Bucknell's Nine. Score 5-3.

THE GREATEST VICTORY OF RECENT YEARS

After a Bad Start in the Opening of the Game, Bucknell Took a Brace in the Fourth Inning and the Tide Turned. Score Tied in the Eighth and Game Won in Thirteenth.

Bucknell 5—Yale 3 was the score of the greatest baseball victory in the history of Bucknell. That the Orange and Blue men should be victorious when they faced their great opponent in the big thirteen inning battle at New Haven, Wednesday afternoon, was unthought of, even by some members of the team. True, the locals had tied Cornell, but yet Yale defeated Cornell and Pennsylvania also, thereby making herself practically the baseball leader of the "Big Six." Bucknell, however, pluckily, met the victorious Yale nine on the latter's own grounds and defeated them before a crowd of nearly three thousand Yale "rooters."

The victory of the local nine would have been even more decisive, had it not been for a little stage fright in the early part of the game, when Yale was allowed to secure three runs. When the Bucknell men settled down and began to play in their old time form, they gave one of the greatest exhibitions of ball playing which has ever been seen on the Yale diamond.

The two men who contributed most to the victory of the Orange and Blue, were Daniels and Northrop. "Danny" distinguished himself in the eighth inning, when he tied the score by knocking a three-bagger with two men on bases. Again in the thirteenth he knocked in the winning run and then scored the fifth tally. In his fielding, Daniels likewise covered himself with glory by making a great catch and cutting off two runs for Yale.

Northrop was in his old time form Wednesday and pitched one of the best games of his career. In nearly every point of the game "Jake" was a shade better than his opponent, Freeman, who was the stumbling block to Pennsylvania earlier in the season. In strike-outs only did Freeman have the advantage by the narrow margin of 14-13.

In some respects the game was a counterpart of the contest with Cornell. The Yale men had the better of it in the opening of the game, but beginning with the fourth inning, the tide began to turn in the opposite direction. The Bucknell men began to get their batting eye and Northrop tightened up. Freeman on the other hand became a little wild and his excellent support began to weaken.

In the first inning Bucknell started bad and showed their stage-fright. Merritt, the first Yale man up, hit safe. Badger then hit to Manning, who threw wild in an attempt to catch Merritt at second. Carhart went out on a foul fly. Logan next drove the ball to center for one base. Clarke threw the ball in to the plate in an effort to cut off Merritt but O'Leary missed the ball and both Merritt and Badger scored. Coy filed to Clarke who threw the ball to the plate in time to catch Logan.

In the second inning both sides went out in one-two-three order. After the local team had fanned out in the third, Yale secured another run through the misplays of the Bucknell men. Freeman went out at first but Merritt beat out a slow infield ball. Badger then reached first on an error by Manning. Carhart next went to first on Loveland's wild throw and Merritt scored. Badger tried to make home too but was caught at the plate. Carhart was nailed trying to steal second and Logan was thrown out at first.

The next four innings were of the nip-and-tuck order and kept the excitement up. In the sixth each side had two men left on bases. During these four innings each pitcher allowed two hits and struck out four men. To even things up still more, each team made three errors. Although this period does not figure largely in the score, yet it was important in that it enabled the Bucknell men to recover themselves and to settle down to work.

The great eighth inning was opened up by O'Brien driving a single to centre. Northrop filed out but Loveland reached first on McIntyre's error. Manning then drove out his second hit and O'Brien scored. With two on bases Daniels lined out a clean three bagger and tied the score. C. Plez then drove the ball to McIntyre who caught Daniels at the plate. C. Plez was then caught trying to steal second.

Yale made desperate efforts to break the tie and it seemed as though they might succeed in the eighth and again in the ninth. In each of which innings, they had two men left on bases. During the extra innings, however, they were practically helpless before the splendid work of the Orange and Blue nine.

It was not until the lucky thirteenth that the tie could be broken and that was done after two men were out and the scoring chances were very meager. Northrop opened up the inning by striking out and making the thirteenth strike-out for Freeman. Perhaps that is what "queered" Yale, for when Loveland hit the the ball to McIntyre, that gentleman very obligingly muffed the sphere and "Lovey" was safe. Manning then filed out to Stevens. Daniels, the hero of the game, then came to the bat and clouted out another three-bagger and scored Loveland. C. Plez had already begun to find his batting eye and succeeded in bringing Daniels home on a neat single. Clarke then ended the fun by fanning.

Yale made one last effort to claim victory for "Old Eli" in their half of the thirteenth, Corey drew a walk but was promptly retired while trying to steal second. McIntyre filed out to C. Plez and Stevens ended Yale's hopes by striking out.

In addition to the great batting of Daniels and the good twirling of Northrop, there are several other features of the game which deserve special mention. The throwing of Clarke figured in the first inning when "Jimmy" cut off one run and almost ended Yale's chances of scoring at all when he returned the ball after Logan's hit. Another great play was Daniel's catch of Steven's infield fly. With two out and two men on bases Stevens knocked a punky little fly about half way up the first-base line. Daniels ran for the ball and scooped it in, about a foot above the diamond. Had he missed the ball, Coy would have scored and the game would have gone to Yale.

FORMER STUDENT DIES.

Rev. John Wesley Sullivan ,chaplain of the State Senate and pastor of the Thirty-fourth Street Baptist Church, was stricken with heart disease and died suddenly, April 21.

Dr. Sullivan, the son of John N. Sullivan, a manufacturer, was born on May 18, 1855, at Wilmington, Del. He received his early education in the public schools of Wilmington, and from 1874-75 was a student in Bucknell Academy and Crozer Theological Seminary. He was ordained to the Baptist ministry on May 10, 1877, in the Delaware Avenue Baptist Church, Wilmington. Later he became pastor of the Woodstown (N. J.) Baptist Church, which pulpit he filled until 1880. In that year he married Miss Emily Hibbert, of Chadds Ford, Pa., while pastor of the Brandywine Baptist Church. She died three years ago. He remained in Chadds Ford for five years, and then went to Calvary Church, Seventh Street, and Snyder Avenue, Philadelphia, where he remained for 14 years.

For one year he was pastor of the Asbury Park Baptist Church, and was also at Ardmore for a while. He resigned the latter charge about three months ago, when he became pastor of the Thirty-fourth Street Church, at Thirty-fourth Street and Haverford Avenue, Philadelphia.

In 1903, Dr. Sullivan, with the support of the Vare brothers, was appointed chaplain of the Senate, and at the expiration of his term was renamed. He still held that office. He leaves a second wife, to whom he was married about a year ago, and two children, a daughter, and a son who is real estate broker in New York.

APPRECIATION.

The Y. M. C. A. wishes to thank all those who generously contributed their services and financial support for the meetings held by Dr. Fowler. The co-operation of those who rendered the special music at the meetings, of Prof. Edwards and of Dr. Harris who supplied the pulpit of Dr. Fowler on the Sunday he was here, deserve special notice.

BUCKNELL ON TOP.

The Washington "Herald" in commenting on our game with Georgetown said the following:

"There is no doubt in the minds of those who witnessed the game that Bucknell has a team that ranks high among the college nines of the country. The hitting of the Pennsylvanians was most timely; their fielding, barring the two errors made, of a high class, and their knowledge of the inside points of the game most marked. When a sacrifice was needed it was forthcoming, when a man reached first, he immediately stole second, and they had the squeeze play down to perfection, runners coming in from third twice, when the play was tried."

MEDICALS WIN.

The medical students won from the law students, Saturday morning, in a seven inning game, 7-3. Much interest was shown in the game by both sides.

—Remember the Phoenix Club entertainment, tomorrow night, in Bucknell Hall, at 8 p. m.

YALE GAME.

No longer is Bucknell satisfied to stay in the back-ground and play only the smaller colleges in baseball. The fact that the manager was able to secure a game with "Eli" shows that they wanted the game for either of two reasons. If they thought they were to have a practice game, (as some of the large colleges call their contests with the smaller ones), they got just what they were after and just a bit more. If they realized the fact, as the Washington people did, that we were to be among the leading nines of the East, then they were prepared for the battle which took place.

When the team started on their trip "down east," the main question was "Will they beat Yale?" If they did, it would be a great event for all true Bucknellians. Judging from comparative scores, with Cornell and Pennsylvania already beaten by Yale, the prospects were not very bright.

However the team after a little nervousness in the early part of the game, struck their usual pace and surprised the supporters of old Yale. "Eli's" nine was swept off its feet and one more victory was added to our list for 1910. Our nine has just the necessary amount of spirit to go in and win the rest of the games of the season. If the students continue to show their present enthusiasm.

The celebration on Thursday night was a fitting one for those who had won from this large university. Let us continue in the good work and make the team feel stronger because of our staunch support.

To the Editor of the Orange and Blue:—

In a recent issue of the "Orange and Blue," I see you have an editorial on "college spirit." This has been a favorite theme with "Orange and Blue" editors ever since I have known the paper, and the editors have been justified every time they have commented upon the subject.

I think the spirit at Bucknell is good, but the "fellers" do not always demonstrate their spirit, when games are being played, in a way that gives the team the best support, or that would lead the public to believe that the student-body is over enthusiastic.

Last fall, I saw Amherst play a number of her football games. Last year's team won but one game during the entire season. Time and again when Amherst was being defeated by teams that seldom, if ever, defeated her, yet Amherst rooters would sing and yell until I thought from the singing and yelling, I was back at Bucknell and we were "trimming" one of the "Big Four" teams.

Last Wednesday our baseball team won from Yale, in a great game, and Yale, in the New England States, stands for excellence in the college athletic world. Surely the "spirit" was high that night in old Lewisburg! If the "fellers" didn't take advantage of that victory by having a bon-fire larger and hotter than any ever seen before, they lost a chance of a lifetime.

Bucknell has a great team this year, and I am watching her closely and wishing her every success.

ALUMNUS.

NEW PROJECT SUCCESSFUL.

Yards, vacant lots and spots formerly unused will bloom this coming summer with asters, china pinks, sweet peas and other flowers, under the cultivation of the school children of Williamsport, who have been inspired to turn waste places into beauty spots by L. J. Ulmer, '02, a member of the Williamsport High school faculty, at the head of a local home gardening association.

The plan was inaugurated by Professor Ulmer three years ago, and its success has been so pronounced as to attract wide attention. Early in March envelopes on which are printed the names of a variety of flowers and vegetables, seeds for which are furnished at a price of one cent a packet, are distributed among all the schools, and each scholar is asked to mark opposite the variety the number of packets wanted and return the envelope to the teacher with the money inclosed. A few weeks later the seeds are dellvered with instructions as to planting and care.

To stimulate the interest and ambition of the young gardners arrangements were made to have a "Flower day" in the schools soon after the opening of the term early in September, when samples of the flowers and vegetables raised by the children in the summer are placed on exhibition.

In addition to having a "Flower Day" in September a suggestion has been made that prizes be offered for the best-kept garden, the most attractive display, etc., and it is probable such a plan will be adopted.

The success has been so marked, that Prof. Ulmer is inviting the co-operation of the teachers in other schools and is attempting to spread this movement in all directions.

CONFERENCE AT POCONO PINES.

Northfield, Mass., which has been the scene of Intercollegiate Y. M. C. A. conferences for many years, will have a rival this year. Thanks largely to the efforts of the University of Penna. Christian Association, a Middle States Summer Christian Conference will be held at Pocono Pines from July 16-19. Besides Old Penn the colleges which will participate will be Swarthmore, Haverford, Bucknell, State, Dickinson, Johns Hopkins, Princeton, Rutgers, New York, University, Pittsburg, West Virginia, Univ. of Maryland, Virginia, Georgetown, Annapolis, West Point, Buffalo, Rochester and Franklin and Marshall.

Fielders' Gloves and Mitts

Some of the one-hand stops made by the big league fielders are most sensational—ten years ago they would have been deemed impossible. The great secret of perfect fielding lies not only in ability, but in the right gloves and mitts. Reach Fielders' Gloves and Mitts are perfect. Their superiority is evident through use by such star players as Wagner, Cobb, Lajoie, Collins, Crawford, Magee and Keeler.

Also used by well-known college players.

Game With Milton.

In a game with Milton, Saturday afternoon, the 'Varsity toyed with the Milton team a little too long and as a result met defeat by the score of 3-2. Plez pitched great ball and fanned fifteen men. In the seventh he eased up at the same time, when slow fielding, coupled with an error, allowed Milton to tally three runs and take the lead.

The game, on the whole, was slow, but yet was distinguished by two marked features, namely, the pitching of Plez and the all-around work of Clarke. The calibre of Plez's twirling was shown, that in the first six innings, only nineteen men faced the batter. In the eighth it was the same story. The batting of Clarke was worthy of mention, but "Jimmy" distinguished himself most by a great one-handed catch, which robbed Wilson of a pretty hit.

The score:—

| | R. | H. | E. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Bucknell | 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0—2 | 7 | 2 |
| Milton | 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 x—3 | 3 | 4 |

Umpire, Fauver of Milton. Time—1 hr. 45 minutes.

Since we have very few games during the week, Manager Edmunds will doubtless arrange other practice games with the Milton team.

In the ten years that "Christy" Mathewson has been with the "Giants," he has won 237 games and lost 109.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

Subject: Relation of Christ and creation. With the introduction of man into the world, biological development came to an end. The development of the physical body of man, built, as it is, according to the eternal reason, scarcely admits a higher physical evolution. But with man comes the new development of the spiritual, the intellectual, the moral, and the social. Man, in contrast with the animal, is a transformer, making the world different from that into which he was born. The world was created "good" as raw material, material ready for man's transformation and for his adaptation to himself. Now the light of this transforming mind is the eternal reason. "In Him was life, and that life was the light of men." Darkness consists of those things which hinder spiritual evolution. The light, which enlightens men in their struggle against the darkness, and which the darkness cannot suppress, is Christ.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOLUME XIV. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, MAY 2, 1910. NUMBER 26

BUCKNELL ADDS ANOTHER VICTORY

DEFEATS URSINUS COLLEGE 8-2.

Game Was Close Till the Seventh When Bucknell Took the Lead. An Interesting Contest.

A great batting rally in the eighth inning allowed the 'Varsity to run away with the game against Ursinus here Saturday afternoon. Up until that inning, Horton was very effective in the box and held Bucknell to four scattered hits. He met his "Waterloo" in the eighth, however, when the locals hammered out three two-baggers and two singles, which, coupled with West's error, netted four runs and placed the game beyond doubt, with the score 8-2.

Bucknell scored first in the third. After O'Brien and Sprout had flied out, Manning hit to West who threw wild and let "Eddie" go to second. Loveland then drove the ball to Palmer who gave a juggling exhibition in centre and Manning scored. Daniels next went out at first.

The fifth inning was a bad one for the home team. "Jake" opened up by walking Starr. West bunted and O'Leary threw high to first and both runners advanced a base. Horton drove the ball to Sprout but the sphere took a bad bound over "Sprig's" head and both runners crossed the plate and gave the visitors the lead. Pownal flied to Northrop. Palmer did the same trick and "Jake" doubled Horton at first.

After two men were out in the sixth, Bucknell tied the score. Daniels beat out a bunt, took second on a bad throw by Horton and came home, when Palmer muffed Piez' long drive to centre.

The lucky seventh gave the Orange and Blue the lead. O'Leary was thrown out at first but Northrop went around to second when Pownal missed "Jake's" third strike. O'Brien hit and advanced Northrop. Sprout fanned. Manning drove a hot one to West who stopped the ball but dropped it. Both Northrop and O'Brien tallied on the play. Manning was then caught trying to steal second.

A general bombardment began in the eighth when Loveland hit to centre for two bases. Daniels dropped the ball along the railroad and scored Loveland. Daniels was caught trying to steal third. Piez then drove the ball through both West and Richline and accordingly reached third. Clarke singled and Piez scored. O'Leary then drove the ball down the left field line for two sacks and then took third on Richline's throw to the plate in an attempt to cut off Clarke. O'Leary scored on the squeeze play and Northrop beat out the bunt. "Jake" was caught attempting to steal and O'Brien ended the show by flying out to Richline.

Starr, Horton, Pownal, and Richline were the men who did the work for Ursinus. Starr was very lucky in getting on base and scored the first run for his team. Horton not only pitched excellent ball during the first seven innings but was strong both at the bat and in fielding. Pownal did good work behind the bat. Richline distinguished himself by his fast fielding.

For Bucknell it is difficult to say who did the best all-around work. One feature of the game was the way in which Northrop pulled himself out of several bad holes. The only time the horseshoe failed to work was in the fifth when the ball took a bad bound over Sprout's head and two men scored. "Jake" also kept up his strike-out pace by fanning eleven men.

Since the visitors played a bunting game, the local outfielders had little to do. Clarke was the only one of the three who had a put-out in the infield Sprout, Northrop and Daniels had most of the work to do. Sprout pulled in four high flies and also cut

NEW BIOLOGICAL EQUIPMENT.

A Leitz projecting apparatus has been imported from Germany for the Biological Department to assist Professor Davis and the students in their work in this line. The new apparatus will magnify an object greater than the ordinary microscope and is especially valuable, in that it photographs and projects microscopic slides. This new addition is so constructed that a slide can be projected in such a manner that the whole class can see it at the same time.

1911 L'AGENDA.

Manager Trauger has announced that the Junior Class publication, the L'Agenda, will be ready for distribution about May 14. Several difficulties have kept the work back, but the publishers have now assured the manager that the book will be completed within the next two weeks.

PRIZE ESSAY WORK

OPPORTUNITY OPEN TO STUDENTS OF PA. COLLEGES.

An opportunity to compete for economic prizes amounting to $20.00 has again been given to the students of the Pennsylvania Colleges. The invitation comes from Professor J. Laurence Laughlin of the Univ. of Chicago, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the contests.

The prizes have been offered from year to year by Hart, Schaffner & Marx for the past six years and have brought out so many excellent studies of commercial and economic subjects that they are now renewed for the seventh year.

The subjects of the essays cover such important topics as:

"The value of protectionism to American workingmen; The economic reasons for or against building a deep waterway from the lakes to the Gulf; The valuation of railways; The effect of modern immigration in the United States; The value of organized speculation; The history of the rate of interest in the United States.

The universities whose students have produced winning essays in the past are Washington and Lee, Harvard, University of Chicago, Oberlin College, University of Wisconsin, University of Pennsylvania, University of Illinois, Wesleyan University, The Branch Normal College of Pine Bluff, Arkansas, Northwestern University, University of Michigan and Bowdoin College. Some of the essays have been of such merit that they have been published in book form.

The prizes are to be divided as follows: Class "A," first prize $1000; second prize $500. Class "B," first prize $300, second prize $200. Class B includes only those, who at the time the papers are sent in, are undergraduates of any American College; Class A includes any other Americans without restriction. A contestant in Class B is eligible to a prize in Class A.

Members of the committee in charge of the essays are as follows:—

Professor J. Laurence Laughlin, University of Chicago, chairman; Prof. J. B. Clark, Columbia University; Professor Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Horace White, Esq., N. Y. City; Professor Edwin F. Gay, Harvard University.

BUCKNELL LOSES IN TENNIS.

The midshipmen won from our tennis team at Annapolis, Saturday afternoon. There were two matches in singles. John Harris, '12, winning from Sampson, the Navy man and James Harris, '12 losing to Parmalee. In the doubles, the Bucknell team gave the Navy a hard fight, in a long drawn-out game. Both sets went beyond deuce. The summary was as follows: Singles—John Harris defeated Sampson, Naval Academy, 6-1, 7-5. Parmalee, Naval Academy defeated James Harris, 6-1, 6-1. Doubles—James Harris and John Harris lost to Underwood and Parmalee, 13-15, 5-7.

FRESHMEN HOLD DECLAMATION CONTEST

BUCKNELL HALL WELL FILLED.

Large Audience Shows Deep Interest in Freshman Prize Speaking Contest.

The Freshman Declamation Contest was held in Bucknell Hall, Friday evening, April 29. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, a large number of the students and town people were present. The program was as follows:—

| | |
|---|---|
| Marche Involuntaire | Ghieterski |
| | Edna Angstadt. |
| The One-legged Goose | |
| | F. Hopkinson Smith |
| | Rebekah M. Gibbons, Dunmore. |
| The Rescue | Crummire |
| | H. G. Weston Smith, Bloomsburg. |
| Instigation Scene | Shakespeare |
| | Logan Earl Jackson, Williamsport. |
| Valse de Concert | Sieve-King |
| | Mable Christian. |
| The Prisoner at the Bar | Johnston |
| | Elsie Martha Park, Montandon. |
| Michael Strogoff | Jules Verne |
| | Geo. Middleton, Edwardsville. |
| Without Thee | d' Hardlot |
| | Clara Collins. |
| Welcome Home | Strang |
| | John D. W. Fetter, St. Clair. |
| Sally Ann's Experience | Winter |
| | Mary Florence Mitchel, Penn's Grove, N. J. |

The contest was watched with great interest by the audience and the generous applause which each contestant received, showed that all had done very well. Besides the declamation, there were three musical selections which also helped to make the program interesting.

AERO CLUB FORMED.

A permanent organization of an intercollegiate Aero Club was formed at a meeting of delegates from many colleges at the Univ. of Pa.

It was the first gathering of college men in the world to consider the subject of aerial navigation, and first steps were taken to enlist scientific collegians and instructors in the fight to conquer the air.

The objects of the new-formed association will be twofold. In the first place it proposes to foster the scientific study of aviation in colleges and universities to the end that it may be placed on the regular curriculum, and to encourage students who seem to have an inventive turn of mind. Secondly, every college association will be compelled under the rules of this organization, to obtain a glider and take this initial step toward flying through the air.

The University of Pennsylvania Aero Club leads the others in this regard, since it possesses two gliders of modern construction, and has in its membership two men who can manipulate the machine skillfully.

Another purpose of the association is to extend its membership until every eastern institution of any account will be represented.

WEBSTER'S NEW DICTIONARY.

The word "Webster" has come to be almost a synonym for dictionary, but in this new edition is hard to recognize the old book, the changes have been so numerous. Perhaps the first innovation to catch the eye is the division of the vocabulary into two sections, the more important and familiar words being given above, while the less important or unfamiliar are given below, in smaller type.

The book has gained not only some four hundred pages in size, but also in literary content. Many of the old illustrations have been omitted and a large number of new ones added, while by the arrangement everything is readily accessible. The book will be of great utility not only to the student but for casual reference.

GIFTS TO CARNEGIE LIBRARY.

Several additions have been made to the books in the Carnegie Library by two of our alumni.

By the gift of his Honor, Judge Harold M. McClure, '77, the set of Pennsylvania Reports in the Library is increased by sixty-one volumes, and is now complete to 1886, volume 110. Each copy bears a printed label indicating the generous source of the volume, reminding the reader of the practical interest of Judge McClure in the welfare of his Alma Mater.

Another addition was made by the Rev. W. H. Mentzer, '72, of Port Allegheny. He has donated seventeen volumes of miscellaneous character to the Library.

Mr. Mentzer has just received a very flattering call to the Honesdale church, which he is likely to accept. From all indications he too maintains a great interest in Bucknell.

FOOTBALL RULES

SIX RADICAL CHANGES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

The National Rules Committee so far have decided upon six changes in the football rules. The general sentiment of the members of the committee was to eliminate to a large extent the mass plays and to make the open plays the important feature of the game. In this way the speed and the strategy of a team will count for more than its weight and strength.

The first change in the football rules to be adopted was the removal of the requirement that the player who receives the ball from the snap-back must run five yards to one side before advancing. This will give rise to much quicker plays and will offer a greater opportunity to the players to exercise their strategy.

The second change requires that seven men be maintained by the offense on the line scrimmage. This rule will prohibit the drawing back of the line men and will thus weaken the mass plays.

The third change is the prohibition of the flying tackle. In the past seasons this play has been the cause of many serious injuries and by prohibiting it the rules committee consider that an important step has been taken toward rendering the game less dangerous.

The fourth change divides each half into two periods of fifteen minutes, thus making the game consist of four fifteen minute quarters. At the beginning of the second and fourth quarters the teams will be required to change goals. The reason for this change in the length of periods of play is to give an opportunity to determine the physical condition of the players. It is also stated under this rule that a player who has been removed from the game may return to the field in one of the following quarters if he has recovered sufficiently.

The fifth change prohibits pushing and pulling of the runner who has the ball. This will greatly lessen the force of the mass plays and will consequently weaken the attack of the offense.

The sixth change provides that the ball in the case of an on-side kick must strike the ground at least twenty yards beyond the line of scrimmage, and that, in case the ball falls short of this distance, the members of the team kicking the ball are offside.

On April 30, the committee again met at the University of Pennsylvania and passed unanimously on these changes. The subject of the forward pass was then taken up. Walter Camp of Yale suggested that it be eliminated but there was strong opposition. It now looks more probable that the forward pass will be maintained and rules put into effect to work around it and afford proper protection for the men concerned. The Yale man also suggested that in order to equalize the weakening of the offense, the defense shall be restricted in so far that the defensive team must play within the bounds of the offensive eleven.

BUCKNELL-DENISON ALUMNI CONCERT

IN BUCKNELL HALL, MAY 4TH.

Former Students of Bucknell and Denison Will Render a Fine Program Wednesday Eve.

The Bucknell-Denison Alumni Male Quartette of Rochester Theolog. Seminary, will give a concert in Bucknell Hall, on Wed. evening, May 4th, at 8.-30, under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A. A silver offering will be taken.

The men composing the quartette are F. K. Gibson, '09, first tenor; J. H. Mathias, '09, second tenor; T. D. Rees, Denison, '09, first bass, and N. C. Fetter, '09, second bass. They have been organized since last September and have been filling engagements in the city of Rochester and in a number of New York towns during the entire winter season.

The program for Wednesday night will consist of quartettes, duets, solos, and readings.

Mr. Rees, who was the reader for the Denison University Glee Club, possesses great dramatic ability and won a reputation for himself in Ohio by his rendering of "The Madman." Mr. Mathias has pleased New York audiences in presenting Dunbar's Dialect Poems.

Concerning the work of the quartette a New York paper says, "Since being with us in the early fall they have been heard in the very largest churches and largest gatherings in western New York. All who hear them seem to feel as did National Evangelist Smith of the Y. M. C. A. when they sang at his great meeting in Cook's Opera House Rochester. He said, "I have never heard anything better."

DRAMATIC & ELOCUTION WORK.

Frill and Frown will hold their regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon of this week. Under the direction of Miss Schilliager they have been studying three short plays. The work this year was a great success as was shown in the recent play given. Frill and Frown has been in existence for nine years and represents the best dramatic talent in the Seminary.

On Thursday afternoon, the advanced pupils and those who will graduate in Elocution will give a recital at the Seminary.

FUNDS FOR DR. FOWLER.

The money received for Dr. Fowler from various sources was as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| College Men | $29.75 |
| Institute | 10.75 |
| Faculty | 14.50 |
| Mrs. McGann | 1.00 |
| Total | $56.00 |

PHOENIX CLUB CONCERT.

The program which was rendered by the Phoenix Club on Tuesday evening, May 26, was very enjoyable, and those who were not present missed a musical treat. Owing to the meetings of the various organizations at this time, the audience was not as large as was expected. However a goodly number of people were present and were entertained by the program, that was published in the last edition. Much credit is due Miss Isaac for the success of her efforts, in leading the chorus.

ELOCUTION CONTEST.

The elocution students of Bucknell Institute will hold their contest in Bucknell Hall on Saturday evening, May 7, at 8 p. m. If we may judge what the contest will be, according to former years, it will be one which will be highly interesting. Admission will be free and all are invited to be present. Keep the date in mind.

The corporate name of the Woman's College of Baltimore has been changed to Goucher College.

IS IT WORTH WHILE?

Recently three hundred undergraduates and alumni, representing classes from 1880 to 1913, held a banquet at one of our large colleges and entertained nearly two hundred visitors from preparatory schools, who were thinking of going to some college. This gave the visitors an adequate opportunity to taste the hospitality and judge of the good fellowship of the college men.

After all had partook of a fine menu, the college president delivered a short address, followed by other distinguished speakers. The result was that the new men were enthused with the good spirit and when the new year opens, the majority will doubtless be found enrolled.

While this is hardly practical at Bucknell, still it reminds us that the year is fast drawing to a close and as students we should do what we can to boom Bucknell for the next year. There is not a student in the college, who is loyal to his school, who does not look forward to the time when "old B. U." shall take a place higher up. It is up to us to not only speak of the school to prospectives, but also try in every way to get them to decide for Bucknell. If every alumnus and every student would take a deeper interest, the new year would open at Bucknell with a great increase over previous years.

URSINUS GAME.

Before the game with Ursinus on Saturday, many were comparing the previous scores of the visitors and wondering what our team would do. Princeton had only won from Ursinus by the score of 4-3, while Swarthmore had won by 2-0. However after Bucknell got started, things went all our way. This simply proved that when the team gets things going, one cannot stop them.

Next Saturday the Dickinson team will be here and if Fate intervenes once more, our team will need a strong combination to beat them. However, the defeat of last year must be remembered and with the "cheering section" working in co-operation with the lively nine we have this year, there can be but one result the same that happened in the game with Ursinus.

To the Editor of the Orange and Blue:—

Kindly extend my heartiest congratulations to the members and the manager of this year's baseball team. I have been exceedingly interested in the work of the 'Varsity this year and my only method of ascertaining the scores is through your paper. I am a little too far west to get news of "old B. U." through the local papers.

GEORGE W. ENGLISH, '02.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

Dr. Martin of Pittsburg addressed the class on "Character as the end of education." "Character is the quality of man, the texture of mind, the color of the soul, the aggregate of our convictions and emotions. Conscience is its substratum. Character is that substance of the soul which determines beforehand what a man will do in certain circumstances. Character, in other words, is the sum total of manhood.

There are several views of education. One class holds that the real value of education is in its value of enabling one to make a living. However the object of education is to make a man; not to support him. Another class looks on education as a mere knowledge of things. Another, as hardening one with facts and lastly, as the development of the intellect, the strengthening of mental power.

The first need in the world is character. The great need is for men and women of conscience, with moral courage to do right. That is what makes character. Conscience cannot be trained without connection with God. When it shall have come to be recognized that the great final end of education is character-building, then education will attain its purpose.

The new engineering building at Michigan is ready for occupancy.

CONFERENCE AT POCONO.

A large number of students in the Middle Atlantic states, who have been attending student summer conferences in past years, have felt for some time that it would be desirable to hold a new conference at such a late and time as would be most convenient for the majority of institutions in that region. In response to this demand, a conference has been arranged for this year, to assemble at Pocono Pines, June 10-19.

This conference, it is expected, will be of the same especial interest to college men, as its predecessors in the West, in the South and at Northfield. Last year at eight such conferences, over two thousand college men met to discuss the deeper problems of life frankly, in an atmosphere of sympathy and fellowship. Steadily the number of men who have availed themselves of this privilege, has been increasing, and a renewed interest in service to man to God has resulted in the colleges.

Pocono Pines has a fine location, on the plateau of south-eastern Pennsylvania. The delegates will room in attractive bungalows and all kinds of out-of-door attractions will be theirs.

Prominent speakers who have themselves met courageously vital problems will address the delegates. The opportunities for putting of lives where they will count the most, will be presented by men whose lives do count.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOLUME XIV. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, MAY 9, 1910. NUMBER 27

BUCKNELL WINS FROM DICKINSON

SLOWER GAME THAN USUAL.

This Time the Orange and Blue Nine Won from Their Rivals by the Score 8-3.

In a slow and, at times, listless contest, Bucknell easily triumphed over her old rivals, Dickinson, here Saturday afternoon. The home team took the lead in the first inning and were never headed, but won out by the score of 8-3.

Dickinson got one man as far as third in the first inning but failed to score. Bucknell, on the other hand, opened up in genuine business-like fashion. Manning began by driving the ball over the centre-fielder's head for three bases. Loveland sacrificed and scored Manning. Daniels beat out a slow infield ball. C. Plez repeated Daniels trick and "Danny" tried to reach third. Henderson threw wild and the veteran first-baseman tallied the second run for the Orange and Blue. Clarke then sacrificed. O'Leary tried to work the squeeze play but was thrown out at first.

After C. Plez had been thrown out at first in the fourth inning, Clarke drove the ball out between centre and left for a pretty home run. O'Leary singled and stole second. Northrop sacrificed but O'Brien ended the chances of the the locals by driving the ball to Boell, who caught "Jack" at first.

Each team scored a run in the fifth. Conway drew a pass. Boell drove a fly over second. O'Brien stopped the ball and got Conway out. Wise then drove the ball to Loveland. In an effort to execute a double play O'Brien got over anxious and dropped the ball and both men were safe. Dipple then hit to Loveland who threw wild to first and Boell scored. Latham and Henderson both fanned with two men on bases. In Bucknell's half of the inning, W. Plez went out on a fly to Dipple. Manning drew a walk and went around to third when Wise threw wildly in an attempt to catch the runner stealing second. Loveland sacrificed and Manning scored. Daniels got his base on four balls but C. Plez was thrown out at first.

The seventh was another lucky inning for Bucknell. W. Plez opened with a clean hit. Northrop, who ran for Plez, stole second. Manning fanned. Loveland secured a walk. Then North op and Loveland worked a clean double steal. Daniels fanned the air, but C. Plez came to the rescue by driving to centre field for two sacks and scoring Northrop and Loveland. Clarke ended the fun by failing to connect with the ball.

The veteran, Mt. Pleasant, again assisted Bucknell in the eighth. He opened up by hitting O'Leary. Tim stole second, went to third on a passed ball, and scored on Northrop's bunt. When trying to catch Northrop going to first, Mt. Pleasant made a wild throw and let "Jake" go on to second. O'Brien sacrificed Northrop then tallied on W. Plez' sacrifice fly to Beauchamp.

The Indian twirler next walked Manning but the latter was caught stealing second.

The ninth inning was the one bad one for Bucknell. The crowd was beginning to move toward the gates and the team seemed to have caught the same feeling that it was "all over but the shouting." Cook was put out first by Daniels. Mt. Pleasant, who had not yet reached base, caught the locals napping and drove a hot grounder out to left. The hit was so unexpected that Plez left the ball go through him and the Indian circled the bases. Beauchamp had two strikes called on him but managed to connect for two bases. Conway filed out to C. Plez. Boell also had two strikes on him when he surprised himself by connecting with the ball. Clarke was caught napping and failed to stop the sphere and Boell reached third while Beauchamp tallied. Plez then became determined to end the hitting and easily fanned Wise.

On the whole the game was rather slow. Only occasionally would a special feature enliven the contest and arouse the crowd. For Bucknell the main features were the all-round playing of Manning and Daniels, together with Clarke's home run in the fourth. Boell did faultless work on short for Dickinson and cut off more than one hit for the locals. Dipple did well also on second. Mt. Pleasant amused the crowd by walking the local batsmen whom he feared. The Indian walked Manning three times, Daniels once, Captain Loveland once, and Clarke once. After "Jimmie" knocked his home run, the Dickinson pitcher would not put a ball over the plate when Clarke came to bat the next time.

The work of Plez in the box was very satisfactory to the "fans." Up until the bad ninth inning he held the visitors to three scattered hits. "Wally" struck out nine men and issued only one pass. The big fellow was alway cool and never failed to use his head.

HALLEY'S COMET IS SEEN.

Although several of the students have tried in vain to see Halley's comet, it was not until Thursday morning that they were successful. After the recent heavy rain the atmosphere cleared up and the comet was seen coming up in the east at 3.10 a. m. Dr. Bartol was at the Observatory and had the telescope focused on the nucleus. Owing to the many unsuccessful attempts to see the comet, but few were present when the comet was seen at its brightest on Wednesday morning.

However at 3.00 a. m. Thursday morning, a large number of students went over to the Observatory and to the 1909 observation tower and obtained a good view of the comet. The atmosphere was not as clear as on the previous morning, yet the comet could be easily seen. It comes up a little to the south of east and the tail is at right angles to our vision. Although it had been reported that the tail was not visible, an observation with the naked eye will disclose the fact that it is about twelve degrees in length. The centre part is much darker than the edges and for this reason, astronomers believe the tail is hollow.

For those who have not seen Halley's comet as yet, it is at its brightest at 3.20 a. m. and can best be seen with the aid of opera glasses. In a few days it will not be possible to see it again until about May 21, as it is fast approaching the sun.

VARSITY TRY-OUT.

A call has been issued by Manager Sherwood for all candidates for the 'Varsity tennis team to report at Harris's court this afternoon. Prof. Bulentine and Captain James Harris will pick the team from those who have entered the contest.

JUNIOR EX.

The annual oratorical exhibition of the Junior class will be given on Friday evening of this week. A departure from the former method has again been made. Last year all of the orations were dedicatory in character. This year eulogies will be given and will have been written by the students. The speakers and their subjects are as follows: F. B. McAllister, "The Honest Politician," eulogizing Gov. Johnson, of Minnesota; J. W. Shipe, "The Father of Liberty—Political and Religious," eulogizing Thos. Payne; J. W. Traniger, "The Philanthropic Reporter," eulogizing Jacob A. Rees; L. Macfarland, "The Apostle of Pure Religion," eulogizing Martin Luther; E. A. Snyder, "Jos. Priestly;" Miss McGann, "Harriet Beecher Stowe;" Miss K. Bronson, "Jane Adams of Halhouse;" Miss Dodson, "Joan of Arc;" and Miss Kates, "Alice Freeman Palmer."

Great efforts are being put forth to make this contest one that will be interesting to all who attend.

TENNIS SCHEDULE.

Although all of the games have not been arranged as yet, the Manager has announced that the following dates have been arranged: Bucknell vs. Gettysburg, at Gettysburg, May 12; Bucknell vs. Dickinson, at Lewisburg, May 14; Bucknell vs. Dickinson, at Carlisle, May 21. The Dickinson game here on the 14th, will be played in the morning on account of the State game in the afternoon. A game will be arranged with Gettysburg up here and the date announced later. The Manager was unable to get a game with State College.

PROSPECTS WITH STATE

BUCKNELL'S RIVALS WILL PROVE STRONG OPPONENTS.

Saturday will be another big day at Bucknell, for the 'Varsity will face their old rivals, State College, in the annual game here. Judging from the work of the two teams this year we are of the opinion that the game will be fast and close.

The work of the local nine calls for little comment. The team is undoubtedly the fastest that Bucknell has ever had. Thus far they have not lost a single college game but have won from Vermont, Georgetown, St. John's, Yale, Ursinus, and Dickinson. The the game at Cornell was virtually a victory for the Orange and Blue also.

Although her slate is not quite as clean as Bucknell's, yet State has been going at a fast clip. They shut out Fordham and the latter team defeated Yale. They also won from Cornell, 5-1; from Lehigh, 6-2, and from Dickinson, 10-5. Twice they tied Vermont. Three times, however, they have gone down to defeat. Their "Jonah," Villa Nova, took one game by the score of 1-0. State also lost to Brown, 5-7, and to Princeton, 1-3.

If the local nine can take the first game from State, there is every possibility that they will take both games this year and perhaps finish the season with a clean record.

ADDRESS IN BUCKNELL HALL.

Announcement has been made that the Hon. John M. Harris of Scranton, Secretary of the State Examining Board, will speak in Bucknell Hall on Tuesday evening, May 10, at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "The Method of Legal Education and Admission to the Bar in Pennsylvania." The address will be especially interesting to students in the course of Jurisprudence. Mr. Harris comes to us with a reputation in public speaking and will no doubt prove very interesting. All are cordially invited to be present.

PHI KAPPA PSI DANCE.

The Phi Kappa Psi fraternity held an informal dance in their hall, Saturday evening. In addition to friends from Lewisburg, a number of out-of-town guests were present.

PLEASING CONCERT IN BUCKNELL HALL

RENDERED ON WEDNESDAY EVE.

Fine Program Was Rendered by Alumni Members of Bucknell and Denison. A Large Audience.

The Bucknell-Denison Alumni Male Quartette gave a very entertaining concert in Bucknell Hall, Wednesday evening, May 4, at 8.30. The time had been set at this hour so that all those wishing to attend might not be disappointed. A good-sized audience showed their great appreciation of the excellent program by their applause, time and again, of the various numbers.

The quartette composed of three of our recent students, F. K. Gibson, '09, J. H. Mathias, '09, T. D. Rees, Denison, '09 and N. C. Fetter, '09, were ably assisted in their work by O. Wolfe, '12. The program was as follows:—

Part One.
Quartette—"Jolly Blacksmiths' Lay," Geibel
Quartette
Solo—"The Noble Boy of Truth," Parry
Mr. Rees
Quartette—Song and Chorus
Quartette
Reading—"A Few Minutes With Dunbar"
Mr. Mathias
Quartette—"Kentucky Babe" Geibel
Quartette
Solo—"When the Bell in the Lighthouse Rings" Solman
Mr. Fetter
Quartette—"Po Lit' Lamb" Parks
Quartette

Part Two.
Piano Solo—"Rienzi" Wagner
Mr. Wolfe
Quartette—"My Rosary" Nevin
Quartette
Reading—"The Progress of Madness"
Mr. Rees
Quartette—"Plantation Melody"
Quartette
Solo—"To My First Love"
Mr. Gibson
Sacred Song—"Nearer to Thee" Llewellyn
Quartette
Duette—Selected
Messrs. Rees and Mathias
Quartette—"Sweet and Low" Barnby
Quartette

While the program consisted of the foregoing, the generous applause, which followed each rendition, was such as to call for an encore for every number. The encores were pleasing to a high degree, being both novel and interesting.

Those who had expected to hear something worth while, were not disappointed, judging from the satisfaction expressed on every hand. Every number on the program was well-rendered and received the hearty approval of all who were present.

INTER-CLUB SCHEDULE.

Manager Sherwood has arranged a schedule for a tournament in doubles between the various fraternities and clubs, as follows:—

Demosthenians vs. Faculty, May 13; Phi Gamma Delta vs. Phi Kappa Psi, May 16; Forum vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, May 18; Kappa Delta Phi, vs. Delta Theta Upsilon, May 20; Alpha Sigma vs. Kappa Sigma, May 23, and Sigma Chi vs. Sigma Tau, May 25.

It is hoped that all the organizations will plan to have a team report on the date arranged. Games will probably be played on Harris's court.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held on Thursday evening. The leader was Jos. Edwards, '10, who spoke on the subject "Attitudes." After a discussion of the subject by the leader, Bromley, '08 and Fetter, '09, gave a few remarks.

LAST—BUT NOT LEAST.

With these words, by the editor of the State Collegian, announcement was made to the State College students that there was a game with Bucknell on May 14. After giving an account of the games to be played this week, the editor adds "Last but not least—Bucknell, on May 14." In other words, State is looking forward to their game this Saturday.

Manager Edmunds has suggested that a large mass meeting of the student-body be held in Commencement Hall, Friday evening. Last year we had great spirit aroused for our game with State College and the team felt that they had loyal support. This year we want them to feel the same and with every department of the team in a strong condition, we hope to come out victorious.

The Bucknell Band which has played at several of our games this season, will be on hand and add to the spirit of the occasion. They will do their part in helping to spur the team on to victory.

In order that enthusiasm may be aroused, let every loyal Bucknell man come out and help to stir up the best spirit possible in all of the members of our nine. This means you!

ELOCUTION RECITAL.

An elocution recital was held in Institute Study Hall, Thursday evening, May 5. The Seminary faculty and girls were invited and a large number accepted the invitations. The program was in two parts; the first given by those completing their elocution course, and consisting of sketches from Shakespeare's plays:

First Part.
The Winter's Tale . . Mildred Cathers
Othello . . . . . Edith Harpel
King John . . . . . Elizabeth Stage

Second Part.
"Making a Climax" . Alberta Bronson
"The Gift He Got From Mose" Jane Irey
"Her First Appearance" Grace Johnston
"Mary's Night Ride" . Emma Keiser
"Hagar" . . . . . Gretchen Radack
"Fast Friends" . . . . Olive Long and Hester Pyles

The selections were well rendered and gave evidence of careful training and study.

STUDENT'S MASS MEETING.

To arouse enthusiasm in the coming game with State College this Saturday, Manager Edmunds has issued a call to the student-body to meet in Commencement Hall, Friday evening, at 10 o'clock. Let everybody come out and help to arouse spirit for the big game! This year we want two victories. Let the students do their part in stirring up the team to put forth their best efforts.

1910 MEMORIAL.

Work will be started on the 1910 memorial in the near future, so that it will be finished by commencement time. Plans are rapidly taking form and have nearly reached completion.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

Leader—Dr. Harris. Subject—"The eternal reason as manifested in mankind."

"In Proverbs the Christ is called the wisdom of God. This wisdom, as the eternal reason manifests itself in mankind, as bringing about the moral, the mental evolution. We find premonitions of this in the higher animals. According to Sir John Lubbock, the ant and bee closest approaches men in social life. The basis of this evolution is the Christ.

In both Church and State the Christ is energized. The State is organized justice, the Church organized benevolence. Both are divine in their nature, while their government is human. Men respond to the divine energy, or Holy Spirit. Just as the oak, the maple, and the rose have a general plastic principle—though no two individuals are alike—so the church universal is energized by God.

In the State there is a divine Spirit, no divine ruler. Hegel said that there was in Europe no place for a typical Solomon. Evolution tends to bring men to that state where they will think and decide for themselves and select men to be their agents."

Action has been taken whereby the United States Military Academy at West Point is an approved college, and as such, is entitled to have its work recognized for professional licenses and for university certificates.

"WON IN THE NINTH."

Christy Mathewson, the famous pitcher of the New York Giants, has made the greatest hit of his career with his great baseball story, "Won in the Ninth." It's more than a home run and the fans from eight to eighty are delighted with it.

"Matty's" idea was to write a book on baseball which would include in its characters the baseball stars at present in the American and National leagues.

The players he selects are those whom he would select from active players to go on two All-American teams.

Every year at the end of the season newspapers over the country pick out two All-American teams, but up to the present time no one has undertaken to say what would probably happen in a series of games played between two teams of such character.

In the book, "Matty" gives his idea of how such games would turn out, taking into consideration his knowledge of all of the players, their weaknesses and strength and the kind of curves that would likely be served to each of them.

"Matty" has placed the first team in one eastern college called Lowell, and the other in a western school called Jefferson. The characters are boys in everything but their ability to play baseball.

COMMENTS ON BASEBALL.

Dean Briggs of Harvard, in his recent report as chairman of the Committee on the Regulation of Athletic Sports, declared that, in his opinion, "the sport most in need of reform is not football (though that is far from perfect) but baseball." "It is hard," said Dean Briggs, "to conceive of anything meaner than tripping an adversary as he runs past a base, or rattling a batsman with derisive language poured into his ear by the catcher, or 'breaking up' a pitcher and a visiting team by that organized cheering which is designed to make up for the home team's misplays by causing misplays among the visitors. Yet such things are tolerated by great institutions of learning and of truth, and thus far no official seems able to stop them."

BUCKNELL LOSES TO STATE COLLEGE

GREAT TEN INNING GAME.

Contest Was Close and Exciting. Won by State on a Home Run in the Tenth. Score 2-1.

In the great ten-inning battle with State College here Saturday, a bad bound transformed a single into a home run and gave State a victory over the Bucknell nine. For nine innings the teams had fought stubbornly and ended the regular game limit with the score tie at 1-1. Bien, the first man up for State in the tenth, drove a fly to centre field. Clarke ran in for the ball but could not reach it in time. "Jimmie" checked himself to take the sphere on the bounce, but the ball took on an unexpected sky-rocket bound over the fielder's head and sped away across the tennis court. Before the ball could be gotten back to the plate, Bien circled the bases and brought victory to State.

The game was, on the whole, the prettiest and the most stubbornly fought contest seen here this season. From start to finish it was a pitcher's battle in which the figures were slightly in favor of Northrop. But for one trifling error by O'Brien, the locals gave "Jake" faultless support. Klepfer was not quite so fortunate since State men made two bad errors in one inning and aided Bucknell in tallying a run.

There are a few interesting figures which show the work of the opposing team. With the exception of the two home runs, only two State men got as far as second and only four more reached first in the ten innings. On the other hand, there were three Bucknell men who died on third, four who died on second, and one on first. These figures tell two stories; the first is that in base-running and in sacrifice work, Bucknell easily outclassed her opponents; the other story is one of the main reasons for Bucknell's defeat, namely, the failure to hit the ball at the right time. In fact, in six of the innings Bucknell was in a position to score if a hit could be tallied.

In the first inning each side had an opportunity to score if a hit had been forthcoming. After Bubb had been put out at first, Northrop walked Captain McCleary. O'Brien then made a sensational catch of Workman's high line drive. With two men out Northrop hit Eberline and thus advanced McCleary. Haddow, upon whom State next based her hopes, politely fanned. In Bucknell's half Klepfer began bad by walking Manning. Loveland sacrificed. Daniels went out on a foul fly and C. Plez was thrown out at first.

The second inning was similar to the first except that the advantage was more in favor of Bucknell. Vorhis drew a walk and reached second on a passed ball. Blythe flied to Daniels, Bien flied to Clarke, and Klepfer fanned the air. For Bucknell Clarke led off with a pretty single down the right field line and then stole second. O'Leary and W. Plez each struck out but O'Brien drew a base on balls. "Jim" and "Jack" then worked a pretty double steal. With one man on third and another on second, Northrop, by becoming Klepfer's third victim, failed to win his own game.

State was "easy money" in the third but it was not so with Bucknell. Manning led off by driving a grounder to Eberline, who was too sure of the ball and let it go through him. Loveland sacrificed and Daniels hit. "Danny" was caught trying to steal second. C. Plez walked. Clarke then drove a fly out to Bubb but the fielder dropped it and Bucknell scored. Plez going around to third. Clarke was caught between first and second and the scoring of the home team ended.

Each team registered a long hit in the fourth. Blythe hit to left for a home run and tied the score. W. Plez, the second man up for Bucknell, hit to centre for three bases but could not score for both O'Brien and Northrop struck out.

The next five innings were fought bitterly and State only got two men on base. Bucknell had an excellent chance to score in the sixth but failed because of an inability to hit safely. Even in the ninth it looked as though Bucknell might tally. After two men were out, O'Brien singled and stole second. A hit would have scored "Jack," but for the third time "Jake" failed to connect with the ball and O'Brien died on second.

The unlucky tenth gave the game to State. Bien tallied the winning run on his lucky homer. Klepfer fanned. Bubb, "followed suit," and McCleary flied out to W. Plez. Manning began for Bucknell by driving the ball to Blythe and being put out at first. Loveland drove the ball to Bien and also went out at first. Daniels ended the hopes of the Orange and Blue by flying out to McCleary.

As a whole the game was a pretty one. There was very little safe hitting. Only nine hits were made and they were well scattered. Both pitchers had a number of strikeouts, "Jake" securing eleven and Klepfer nine.

NORTHFIELD CONFERENCE

PLANS BEING MADE FOR STUDENT CONFERENCE.

A special feature of the conference will be the discussion of the problems of the student Y. M. C. A. The conference will be divided into groups of a convenient size for discussion, and the topics will be considered under the leadership of men actually engaged in association work. Among the subjects to be considered are: "Community Service," "The Public Meetings of the Association," "Evangelism," and "Records and Finance." Every evening the whole conference assembles to consider the important question of life investment. This is discussed always by men who have earned the right to speak. Among the speakers on these topics are E. T. Colton, Rev. A. P. Fitch, and Rev. F. E. Higgins.

The importance and scope of these conferences are increasing by rapid strides each year. The most able men who can be obtained are chosen to instruct those who attend, and to give the delegates a comprehensive view of the work that the association is doing throughout the world. Not only speakers from Europe, but from the Far East bring the students into close contact with the association activities in their respective countries.

TRUE SPIRIT.

Few, if any of those on the hill, watching the game on Saturday afternoon knew of the difficulties under which "Eddie" Manning was playing. Injuries sustained in the Milton game were serious enough to keep him out of the State game. However "Eddie" pluckily went in and played, suffering with a bad knee. After the game, the doctor said that he was in such condition as would probably keep him from playing for the rest of the season.

This is the kind of spirit that we seldom see, but it shows what the team is doing. To all of us it should mean more interest in their work and the best support we can give them.

BASEBALL DATE CHANGED.

Manager Edmunds announces that the Dickinson game will be played June 7 at Carlisle, instead of May 27.

The students at the University of Kansas sold 1500 season tickets last fall, representing 85 per cent. of the total enrollment.

JUNIORS GIVE ORATORY EXHIBITION

ORIGINAL EULOGIES GIVEN.

Large Crowd in Bucknell Hall Shows Great Interest in the Junior Work.

The Junior Class held their annual exhibition in oratory on Friday evening, May 13, in Bucknell Hall. The fact that the Chapel was almost filled showed that interest still continues in this line of work.

The program was as follows:—

March . . . . . Hummel
Mary Stevenson

Elizabeth S. Kates, Alice Freeman Palmer, A Pioneer Educator

James Wesley Shipe, Thomas Paine, The Champion of Freedom

John Webster Traiger, Jacob A. Riis, The Philanthropic Reporter

Dance . . . . . Hahn
Carrie Grugan

Laura E. McGann, Harriet Beecher Stowe, The Friend of the Slave

LeRoy MacFarland, Martin Luther, The Apostle of Pure Religion

Katharine Virginia Bronson, Jane Addams, The Lover of Mankind

Vocal Solo . . . . . Selected
Miss Hopper

Edgar Ambrose Snyder, Joseph Priestly, The Father of Chemistry

Nora Elizabeth Dodson, Joan of Arc, The Maiden Martyr

Fred McAllister, John A. Johnson, The Honest Politician

The title of the orations will give an idea of the subject matter of them. The speakers gave short accounts of the lives of the people whom they were eulogizing and then emphasized the facts which were prominent in each life. Glowing tributes were paid to each one.

The program had been arranged with care, both as to the selection of interesting subjects and also with regard to preparation. The fact that there was not the slightest hesitation on the part of any one of the speakers, but on the contrary, the force and clearness with which all of the orations were given, speaks well for the contestants.

BALL PLAYERS SUCCESSFUL.

George W. Cockill '05 is again covering first base for Montreal in the Eastern league. In the opening games of the season his batting has been a feature. In the first game he knocked out a home run, in the second a three bagger and in the fourth game he secured four of the seven hits made by Montreal.

"Christy" Mathewson is also batting well and is still maintaining his reputation in the pitching line.

Walter Blair '07 while playing with Rochester again Newark recently, hit the "Bull Durham" advertisement. A prize of $50 and fifty pounds of tobacco had been offered by the tobacco company for the batter who could hit the bull. Blair has not only hit the bull but has been batting well and catching a good, consistent game for Rochester.

RECORDS BROKEN.

The world's pole vault record was broken by Leland S. Scott, captain of the Leland Stanford University track team at Berkley, Cal., last week. According to the official report, Scott cleared the bar at 12 feet 10 3-16 in. The previous world's record was that of W. R. Ray of Danbury, Cal., who made the record of 12 feet 9 1-2 in. on June 12, 1908. The previous college record was 12 feet 3 1-4 inches, made by Campbell of Yale at Cambridge, Mass., May 29, 1909.

Recently, Lee Talbot of State College broke the intercollegiate record for hammer throwing on the Indian field, hurling the 16 pound hammer the remarkable distance of 173 feet.

VARSITY TENNIS.

The 'Varsity tennis team struck its old pace last week and ran away with Bucknell's old rivals, Gettysburg and Dickinson. The home team won the doubles and both singles in both meets.

Thursday afternoon the team went to Gettysburg and carried off the honors. The doubles were played by the Harris brothers for Bucknell while Baughman and Diehl represented Gettysburg. The first set was close and exciting, but Bucknell won out 8-6. The boys went into the game with a little more vim in the second set and easily took that 6-2. In the singles James Harris won from Bushour 4 to 6, 6 to 2, 6 to 3. John Harris defeated Baughman 2 to 6, 6 to 2, 6 to 3.

The meet with Dickinson was somewhat of a walkover. Richards and Vanneman, who represented Dickinson, were no match for the Harris boys in the doubles and lost by the score of 6 to 2, 6 to 2. James Harris played Porter in singles and easily defeated his opponent 6 to 2, 6 3. John Harris and Vanneman seemed as though they were going to have a close set but when John got down to business he left his opponent way in the rear and easily won 6 to 3, 6 to 1.

BIG MASS MEETING

STUDENTS GATHERED IN GYMNASIUM THURSDAY NIGHT.

One of the biggest and best mass meetings at Bucknell for some time, was held in the Gymnasium on Thursday night. Several of the town alumni had made special efforts to make this meeting one that would stir up every Bucknell man to give his loyal support to the team, when they faced the State College nine on Saturday.

A large number of students were present and during the evening were entertained by the Bucknell Band and the Freshman Orchestra. Tables had been placed here and there, around which the students gathered and played cards. On every hand were evidences of good fellowship.

Later in the evening, all joined in giving the college yells in response to the call of the cheer leader. Speeches were made by "Coxey" Thompson, Prof. Wilcox, "Drewsy" Leiser and A. W. Johnson, Esq., appealing to the students to do their very best towards supporting the best baseball team that Bucknell has ever had.

Announcement was made that P. M. Irey, '08, would give a pair of shoes to the man who made the longest hit and that A. W. Johnson, '96, would give a Stetson hat to the player who was instrumental in bringing in the most runs.

After practicing a few yells, the meeting was adjourned at a late hour, with a plea that the students turn out and help the team to victory.

LECTURE BY JOHN M. HARRIS.

On Tuesday evening, May 10, the Hon. John M. Harris of Scranton spoke to the law students and their friends in Bucknell Hall. Quite a number were present and heard the practical talk given by the speaker on "The Method of a Legal Education and Admission to the Bar in Pennsylvania."

In the course of his address, Mr. Harris paid his compliments to Reese H. Harris, '03 and Willard M. Bunnell, '97, both of Scranton, and spoke of the Hon. Simon Wolverton, '60, as one of the greatest lawyers in the country. "These three," said Mr. Harris, "we can feel a just pride in sons of Bucknell."

JUNIOR DEBATE.

The Junior Class will hold its annual debate Friday night, May 20, in Bucknell Hall. Subject—Resolved that the public election of Senators is desirable.

BUCKNELL WINS MEET AT DICKINSON

Captain Butt Broke Both the Mile and Two Mile Records for Bucknell on Saturday.

The track team met Dickinson at Carlisle on Saturday and won a well-contested meet. Captain Butt broke his previous record for the mile run, making the distance in 4.39. He also broke the record for 2 miles in a dual meet, on other fields, running in 10.27. The previous record was 10.50. The summary is as follows:

After the meet, all of the team were unanimous in their expression of thanks for the fine treatment given them by Dickinson.

MILTON GAME.

The 'Varsity had little trouble in defeating Milton in a practice game here Wednesday afternoon. The work of the team showed an improvement over that of the previous Saturday so that the Milton nine was never dangerous.

Daniels was the star of the game. He had the visitors anxious all the time, for they never knew what to expect from him. Twice "Danny" hit safely after two men were out and the bases were empty and both times he scored. His base stealing was likewise a feature of the game.

The locals had no difficulty in connecting with the ball. Fast work on the part of the Milton outfield was the only thing that kept the score down, for just one-third of the putouts were tallied by the outfielders.

The Bucknell pitchers were both effective and yet they did not appear to be exerting themselves to any great extent. Plez pitched the first six innings and held the visitors to two hits and fanned six men. Northrop relieved Plez and did the twirling during the last three innings. He likewise held Milton to two hits and struck out five men.

Three hits and two sacrifices tallied two runs for Bucknell in the third. Another was added in the fourth on a hit, an error and a sacrifice fly. Two more scores were made in the fifth on two hits and an error. A hit by Daniels and a two-bagger by C. Plez gave the locals their last run in the seventh.

Milton secured their one run in the eighth. J. Logan walked and tried to steal second. O'Leary threw to the sack to catch the runner but no one took the throw and the runner went on to third and then scored on a passed ball.

SEASON TICKETS.

Very soon the spring term will close and if we are to decide anything about a compulsory athletic fee, it is time to begin the movement. We are led to believe that President Harris and the Faculty would be willing to consider the matter if the majority of the student-body are favorable to the movement.

Every man, who has given the subject serious thought, sees the grave necessity of better support for the athletic association. No doubt the majority of the students at Bucknell are in favor of charging each student a yearly fee of five dollars. The fee would include membership in the athletic association and entrance to all of the games in football, basket-ball, baseball, tennis and track meets.

This movement would mean that every student, instead of a small number, would help to pay the expenses of the athletic association. The teams after all are representatives of the school and as such should be supported by all of the students. As it is, there are many who never attend the games and thus help to decrease the true college spirit.

It has been suggested that a petition be circulated among the students and accordingly find out the feeling that exisits towards asking the college authorities to thus co-operate with us. The time has come when we must do something. What will it be?

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

A new mineral called "groatite" has been discovered by a member of the Minnesota faculty.

Yale has twelve graduates in the present session of Congress, eight in the House of Representatives and four in the Senate.

Smoking is to be allowed in the dining room of Memorial Hall, Harvard, for a trial of two weeks, as a result of a recent ballot among members.

Ursinus announces that their new grandstand has been completed and is now in use. The stand was erected at a cost of $400, and is a great improvement.

The Corporation of Harvard University has officially adopted a new color in place of the traditional Crimson, called "arterial red." The new color is much richer red than the former color, appearing to be of a purple shade.

At Earlham College a novel substitute was inaugurated this year, in place of the usual "class scrap" between the Sophomores and Freshmen. It consisted of a tug-of-war across the skating pond on the campus. As the water was five feet deep and the pond 145 feet wide, the contest had some spice of excitement.

BUCKNELL LOSES TO STATE COLLEGE.

Concluded from first page.

Daniels again led in the number of hits made since he was the only man to secure two. W. Plez made the longest hit for Bucknell but unfortunately it did not figure in the scoring. Clarke's all-around work was good and "Jimmie" showed that he still has his batting eye. Loveland was "on the job" when a neat sacrifice was needed. The fielding of Manning and O'Brien is worthy of mention also.

Blythe, at second, did excellent work for State. Blen also starred at short. The watchfulness of Haddow on third kept the home team from pulling off some of its pet plays. Our old friend, "Larry Vorhis," was likewise "there with the goods."

The score is as follows:—

| Bucknell | R. | H. | O. | A. | E. |

On Monday afternoon, May 9th, from four to six, an "At Home" was held in the parlors and schoolroom of the Institute. The rooms were well filled with people and there was the usual hour of conversation, till after the refreshments were served. Then the Rochester quartette was asked to sing and responding to their repeated encores, gave several numbers. By common consent the "At Home" was a very successful affair.

Crew men of the University of Wisconsin, by action of the faculty, will be allowed to take their semester examinations on the train enroute to Poughkeepsie. This custom has been followed successfully in the past.

FORWARD PASS RETAINED.

The intercollegiate football rules committee, at a meeting in New York, May 13, decided to retain the forward pass. The committee framed a number of rules designed to throw safeguards around the operation of this and other plays and adjourned, having completed the task of "reforming" football which has kept it busy much of the time since the first of last February.

The working out of the details of the new game was left in the hands of a subcommittee composed of Walter Camp, of Yale, Dr. Carl Williams, of the Univ. of Pennsylvania, and Percy D. Haughton, of Harvard, but as the new regulations are largely theoretical, it is admitted that the precise results will not be known until the football season of 1910 is under way.

Members of the committee, hope, however, that they have succeeded in devising a plan whereby the game will not be robbed of its spectacular features, yet will be more safe than it has been in the past.

It was felt that, having weakened the offense by the new rules previously adopted, some method had to be invented to strengthen the offense as an offset. For this reason great effort was expended to formulate a plan for retaining the forward pass. Without it, under new restrictions, scoring would be so difficult that the game would be almost destroyed.

...TTYSBURG TEAM ...ers. UNDERESTIMATED

CHANGES IN LINE-UP ARE FATAL

'Varsity Surprises Gettysburg by Losing by the Score 3-2. Northrop Stops Gettysburg's Advance.

Failing to profit by experience, the 'Varsity lost to Gettysburg Thursday simply because they underestimated the strength of the visitors. Careless base running and slugg'sh work in the infield were responsible for the defeat. The redeeming feature, however, was the batting and pitching of Northrop.

The home team was considerably shaken up in the infield where experiments were being made. W. Plez was placed upon the first sack and played well in his new position. Daniels was shifted to third. Sheehan was given another trial on second where he played an errorless game.

Sprout took the mound for Bucknell at the opening of the game and made the unusual record of pitching only four balls in order to retire the visitors in the first inning. In the second inning eleven balls retired the side and twelve repeated the trick in the third. "Sprig" weakened a little in the fourth, but yet the visitors would not have scored and only one man would have reached base, had he been given good support. He finished in the fifth when he allowed a single but the runner was caught at the plate on a quick double play.

The game began in interesting style but it was not until the third inning that a tally was made. Sheehan opened up with a single. Sprout sacrificed. Then Loveland drove a high fly back of short and Fluhrer let the ball go through his fingers. Sheehan and Loveland attempted a double steal but Sheehan was easily retired at third.

Northrop then hit towards right field for two bases and Loveland scored. Erhart hit Daniels. C. Plez then flied out to right.

The fourth was Gettysburg's lucky inning. Breitenreiter drove the ball to Loveland who threw wide of first and the runner was safe. Dineen then drove a long fly to right for two sacks. Clark hit to Loveland who again threw wide to first. Breitenreiter scoring on the play and Dineen moving on to third. Clarke stole second. Raffensperger then went out on a foul fly to Daniels. "Danny" threw the ball to third and caught Dineen off base but the umpire was caught napping and called the runner safe. Starry singled and both Dineen and Clark tallied. Starry was next caught trying to steal second and Russell flied out to Sheehan.

The scoring ended in the fifth when Bucknell tallied one run. Sprout reached first on an error by Fluhrer. Loveland hit to Fluhrer who retired Sprout at second. Northrop then drove the ball to centre for two sacks and scored Loveland. Daniels sacrificed. Erhart hit C. Plez but Clarke ended the hopes of tying the score by hitting a grounder to Breitenreiter.

In the last four innings Northrop twirled for Bucknell and had the visitors so completely at his mercy that not a man reached base. Bucknell, on the other hand, got two men as far as second and two more on first but failed to score, partly through poor base running.

For the home team Northrop was easily the star of the day. He not only prevented Gettysburg from reaching base during the four innings that he pitched but his batting average for the day was 1.000 per cent. "Jake" tallied half of Bucknell's hits and reached second on each one. Both runs scored were tallied by his batting.

Dineen was the star for the Gettysburg nine. His work behind the bat was good and his throws to bases were fast and accurate so that he caught three men attempting to steal. In addition to his catching he hit out a two-bagger which materially aided his team in winning the game. Starry on second and Raffensperger on third likewise did good work.

BUCKNELLIAN FAIR

BIG TIME PLANNED FOR JUNE 9, 10 AND 11, IN ARMORY.

Already plans are taking form for another big fair this spring in the interest of Bucknil athletics. Last year the fair was a big success and much good was done by the interest shown in it by the students.

The Bucknellians are busy again, preparing for their Society Circus, which they intend to give in the Armory, June 9, 10 and 11. It is going to be far superior to the fair held last May.

Co-operating with the students, are the ladies of the town who helped to insure the success of the movement last year by their untiring efforts. This year they have again consented to unite with us and do what they can to surpass the success of the previous years.

Indian maids will be at the fair to tell your fortunes. "Dime" Eakley's vaudeville show will never be forgotten. Barnum's show will be tame when compared to Sweets side show. Everything ever shown at a circus will be on exhibition.

Every night there will be a parade to arouse interest in the work. Let every student do what they can in helping to make this event one never to be forgotten at Bucknell.

It is the desire of the Bucknellians to have every one in the school do something. If you are willing to help, go to some member of the Bucknellians and tell them. Don't wait for them to come to you! Some of the college girls are making cushions, others can make candy etc. The fellows should also have a part in this. If you have any suggestions to offer, see either A. A. Leiser, Jr., R. W. Thompson, P. M. Irey, W. S. Wilcox or R. M. Darlington.

In our next issue we hope to announce further plans.

—Those who have not been able to procure tickets for the Y. W. C. A. entertainment may do so by enclosing fifteen cents and addressing "Treasurer of Y. W. C. A. Seminary."

BUCKNELL WINS DUAL TRACK MEET

VICTORY BY SCORE OF 72-32.

Bucknell Won First Place In Every Event But One. Captain Butt Breaks Record Again.

During and between showers here Saturday afternoon, the 'Varsity track team had little trouble in rolling up a score of 72-32 against Gettysburg. Bucknell took first place in everything except the 220 yard hurdles and captured four seconds in addition.

The day was exceedingly unfavorable for fast work because of the heavy track, yet Captain Butt broke the one mile record for the local track by making the distance in 4 min. 39 seconds which was the record he made at Dickinson in the meet of May 14. McDonough came within three-fifths of a second of the record for the 220 yard dash. Mapledon won his "B" by easily clearing 9 ft. 6 in. in the pole vault.

FAREWELL TO PROF. THOMAS

ACADEMY STUDENTS HELD RECEPTION AT CAMERON HOUSE.

When Professor and Mrs. Thomas were escorted to the Cameron House, Friday evening, by Dr. and Mrs. Harris, they knew nothing of the reception awaiting them. The Academy students had planned a royal reception for Professor Thomas and had kept it an absolute secret.

Study hour was forgotten and all the Academy men joined in the "farewell" to their Principal. After all had enjoyed a fine menu, the program was given as follows:

Toastmaster . . . . Prof. S. H. Smith
Turning Points . . . . Prof Wilkinson
Former Relationship . . . Prof. Drum
One Year's Campaign with Prof. Thomas . . . Prof. Fries
The Attitude of the Boys towards Prof. Thomas . David Morse
Toast . . . . . Prof. Wilcox
Presentation . . . . . Prof. Challis
Prof. Thomas to the School, Dr. John H. Harris
Prof. Thomas to the Boys, Fred Fahringer
Good Bye . . . . . Prin. B. F. Thomas

The witty remarks of the toastmaster in introducing the various speakers caused much merriment. In all the speeches, the fact was emphasized that Prof. Thomas had influenced many of the students to do their best, to apply themselves to some fixed line of work and had generously and kindly given his best interest to all.

Professor Challis on behalf of the Academy students presented a fine gold watch to Prin. Thomas as a token of their regard for him.

Following this Dr. Harris commented on the fact that although Prof. Thomas would be at Keystone Academy, he would still be in the same circle, because of the relation that Keystone bears to Bucknell.

In closing, Prof. Thomas thanked the boys for their kindness in tendering him the reception and for the token presented. He gave a talk on his work among the boys and the pleasure he has had in it.

After a Bucknell eleven for Professor Thomas, the reception was at an end.

JUNIOR CLASS HOLDS ANNUAL DEBATE

IN CHAPEL, FRIDAY EVENING.

Small Crowd Present Owing to the Rain. Arguments Were Well Prepared.

The Junior Class held its annual debate in the Chapel on Friday evening, May 20. From the Juniors who entered the try-out, four were picked as follows:—J. K. Spurgeon, J. G. Sholl, N. G. Oliver and F. T. Hamill.

A popular subject, "Resolved that the Constitution of the United States should be amended for the popular election of Senators," was chosen. Great interest was shown in the work by the contestants.

The first speaker on the affirmative side, J. K. Spurgeon had three main points in favor of the opposition under discussion.

First—We should have a popular election because the present method grew out of a distrust in the ability of the people and this distrust has now been removed. Secondly—Political and economic conditions have changed, making a change from the present method necessary. Thirdly—The people demand it.

The first speaker for the negative, F. T. Hamill emphasized the fact that the indirect method of election of Senators is sound in principle. The negative side agreed that the bicameral system produces the best results in legislation and also that the Senate is a superior and a more conservative body than the House. The indirect method helps to make the Senate a conservative body, (1) because it secures the election of lawmakers by lawmakers, (2) by the indirect method a continuity of service is secured in the Senate, (3) it gives corporate wealth a representation in the Senate.

The third speaker, J. G. Sholl, continued the argument for the affirmative and urged the popular election of Senators for the reason that it would be an advantage to the state and local governments, (1) because it would tend to separate national from state politics, and (2) it would promote "home rule" in the state.

N. G. Oliver, the last speaker for the negative argued that the present system should be retained since it has worked well by placing the most perfect product of our politics in the Senate. Again, the legislators are better judges of legislators than the masses and thirdly, the prime requisites of a Senator do not appeal to the people. Concluding, since popular election could not bring abler and more experienced men into the Senate, therefore, the election of United States Senators by popular vote is not desirable.

The speakers spoke with great clearness and numerous references which they made to authorities on question discussed, helped to make their arguments quite clear. As a whole, the debate showed evidence of much preparation.

KEEP THE OLD PACE.

When the practice game at Milton was lost several weeks ago, we naturally regretted that the 'Varsity had "played" too long andhad suffered defeat. However this was easily explained and the mistake forgotten.

On Thursday the student body had a chance to see what happens when the team is shifted to the extent that it was. Gettysburg was underestimated and soon it was apparent that another mistake had been made, by those who generaled the forces.

No end of comment has been heard concerning the game. Visitors who were present to see a first class nine play, saw a team which had been beaten time and again outplay a team which had humbled "old Eli." When the winning team has only thirty-one men to face the pitcher, only one man left on base and only three hits, while the losing team has eight men left on bases and six hits, three is something radically wrong.

However we still have the greatest confidence in the nine. If the old line-up and the old time "pep" be stirred up with a few yells in the early part of the game as well as the latter part, we can expect to see Washington and Jefferson beaten by a good margin on Thursday. Every winning team loses occasionally and we must expect to lose, but let us use our best lineup and play our best game even though the opposing team may be weak.

We still have half of the scheduled games to play, including the strong Army team and the return date with State College. Let's get back to "the old pace" and show that we still have the best nine in years.

SENIOR RECEPTION.

About eighty-two members of the Senior class together with the Senior Seminary class attended Dr. and Mrs. Harries annual reception to the graduating students, which was held at the President's home on Thursday evening.

The young men assembled in front of Main College and marched to the Seminary. Here they were joined by the young ladies and proceeded to the President's home where they were received by Dr. and Mrs. Harris and Dean and Mrs. Edwards.

The evening was spent in pleasant social intercourse and the singing of a number of college and popular songs. While refreshments were being served in the dining rooms, Campbell's orchestra, of Sunbury, rendered numerous selections.

GETTYSBURG TENNIS GAME.

For Saturday afternoon, May 28, a tennis match has been arranged with Gettysburg. Keep the date in mind and be present to encourage the team.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

Subject: The Relation of the Word or the Eternal Christ to the Seer or Prophet.

God manifesting himself is the Word. The relation of the Word to the prophets is that He is the ground or cause of the prophets themselves.

God as Father emphasizes the principle of love. God as the Word emphasizes the principle of reason and as the Holy Spirit the principle of divine power and will.

The Jews were scattered for the purpose of carrying the Word to the whole world. They are a prophetic nation. Moses and Isaiah were special seers among the Jews. God bears the same relation to these as to the seers as a nation. The relation is a dynamic one. The seers are all illuminated or enlightened by the same spirit, but each writes down the knowledge himself.

In regard to religion some think that they must use a different kind of wisdom, but they should use the same common sense as they use in ordinary affairs. If they did this, it would abolish most of the crimes committed in the name of religion. Many prophets were prophets of action. All the miracles were symbolic of the relation between God and the Seers.

Michigan is soon to have a $200,000 auditorium.

CLUB TENNIS.

The club tennis games have been played on the dates fixed by the manager and the results are as follows: Faculty vs. Demosthenians, won by the former, 12-10 and 6 to 3. Phi Gamma Delta vs. Phi Kappa Psi, won by the former, 6 to 3, 6 to 8 and 6 to 1. Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Forum, won by the latter, 6 to 3 and 6 to 0. The Faculty team consists of Prof. Ballentine and Prof. Rockwell; the Demosthenians, Abraham and G. Fetter; Phi Gamma Delta, Jas. Harris and Bowman; Phi Kappa Psi, McNair and Glover; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Arnold and Potts; and Forum, E. P. Smith and Edwards.

TENNIS AT DICKINSON.

The 'Varsity tennis team journeyed to Carlisle and played a return match with Dickinson. The latter team played a far superior game to what they did up here and won the doubles. In singles the Harris boys outplayed their opponents and won, thus winning the match. The summary is as follows: Doubles, Porter and Richards, D. vs. James and John Harris, B, 6 to 3, 4 to 6, 6 to 4, won by Dickinson. Singles, James Harris vs. Richards, D, 6 to 3, 2 to 6, 6 to 1 and John Harris vs. Porter, D, 6 to 3, 3 to 6, 6 to 4.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

The Rev. John Humpstone, D. D., '71, pastor of the Emanuel Baptist Church in Brooklyn, narrowly escaped death by fire recently.

Dr. Humpstone was in his "study" when someone noticed smoke arising. Friends made their way to the study and rapped on the door. By the time Dr. Humpstone and those who had brought the warning reached the sidewalk, flames were spreading from the first to the second floor.

Before the fire was subdued, it had ruined the interior of Dr. Humpstone's house. He placed his loss at $1,500, most of which was caused by the ruin of his library and a number of oil paintings. A number of valuable curios which had been presented to him were also consumed.

No knowledge of the cause of the fire could be gathered, owing to the rapid advance of the flames.

GAMES POSTPONED.

Jupiter Pluvius played havoc with the baseball schedule for Saturday. Three Bucknell teams had games scheduled but all were forced to be called off. The 'Varsity went to Milton to play but the renewal of the rain caused the team to return without going upon the field.

The Bucknell Reserves got as far as Montandon and were about to board the southbound train for Millersburg where they had a game scheduled, when assistant manager Brubaker received a telegram to the effect that the game was called off. That was score number two for the weather man.

In addition to the games above mentioned, the Freshmen were to cross bats with the Mifflinburg High School nine but that game had to be cancelled also.

Although the cancelling of three games Saturday had its disappointments, yet, on the whole, Bucknell has been very fortunate upon the weather end this season. Thus far the Manhattan game has been the only one to be cancelled on account of rain. Even upon that one trip the rain stopped in time to allow the 'Varsity to defeat the Yale team at New Haven.

The Russian government is compelling a special student at Ohio State to return to that country for the purpose of completing an unfinished term of compulsory military service.

ACADEMY NOTES.

The Academy baseball team won an interesting contest from the Renovo Y. M. C. A. team, Saturday morning, by the score of 2 to 1. Harter for the "Preps" pitched a fine game allowing but two hits. Fahringer starred both in the field and at bat.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOLUME XIV. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, MAY 30, 1910. NUMBER 30

REVIEW OF THIS SEASON'S WORK

LOVELAND LEADS STRONG NINE.

With Season Half Over, Bucknell Stands High in the College Baseball Ranks.

The student body is proud of the work done by the 'Varsity baseball team this year. The team has faced some of the leading nines of the country and has acquitted itself with credit. Of the games lost, one was due to luck breaking in favor of old rivals, State College, and the other two, the Gettysburg game and the practice game at Milton, were due to underestimating the opponents.

The batting of the team is worthy of mention. With the single exception of the opening game with the University of Vermont, the home team has outbatted the opponents at every turn. It is true that the batting averages may not be as high as those of some other schools, but yet Bucknell has been playing strong teams and has had to face the star twirler of every team against which they played. Flaherty, of Vermont, Goodwillie, of Cornell, who recently defeated Pennsylvania 6-0 when the latter had Shultz in the box. Freeman, of Yale, who also defeated Pennsylvania, Balzer, of Georgetown, Horton, of Ursinus, and Klepier, of State, are all pitchers of some distinction in the college world. Against these twirlers, Daniels has rolled up a batting average of .341 which is a greater average than that of any player in the National League last year. Several other members of the team also stand high in batting averages.

On the whole the fielding has been good too. The outfield has been especially strong and has given the pitchers almost perfect support. "Wally" Plez has the distinction of playing three different positions on the team without making a single misplay. Daniels has done excellent work at first and O'Leary has helped the team a lot by his work behind the bat.

Thus far, the sacrifice work has been an important feature of Bucknell's playing. Captain Loveland is the star of this department and has tallied as many sacrifices as any two of the other players. O'Leary, Clarke, and Northrop likewise stand high in this important feature of the game.

There is a merry race between Daniels, Clarke, and O'Leary for the lead in the number of stolen bases. "Danny" is at the top with eight to his credit but Clarke has seven and O'Leary six. C. Plez, Northrop, and O'Brien are not out of the race by any means but can easily overtake th leaders before the season closes.

West Virginia, Seton Hall, West Point, State College, Millersville, and the Alumni have yet to be met. In all of these games the 'Varsity can be depended upon to do its best for the honor of "Old Bucknell." The victories of this season have given the university an almost national reputation and the student-body and the alumni join in hoping that the good work may continue until the end of the season.

CAPTAIN LOVELAND.

INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET.

Handicapped by the small number of men and also by the fact that neither Captain Butt nor Dufton were in first class condition, Bucknell nevertheless took fourth place in the big intercollegiate meet at Harrisburg on Saturday. Had our two men been in first class condition, the team would have taken second place. The first six teams scored as follows: Carlisle Indians, 52; Swarthmore, 25; Lafayette 19; Bucknell, 17; Penn State, 15½, Lehigh, 7.

McAllister was the only Bucknell man to take first place. He won the shot-put by throwing it 40 feet 5 inches. He also won second place in the discus throw. The other second place men were Butt in the mile run and Tyson in the hammer throw. McDonough took two places, third in the 100 yard dash and fourth in the 220 dash.

RESERVES WIN

SELINSGROVE TEAM DID NOT SCORE UNTIL NINTH.

Bucknell Reserves had a merry time with the Susquehanna Reserves at Selinsgrove Saturday afternoon. Thatcher was very effective in the box until the ninth when Susquehanna made their scores. On the other hand the locals hit the ball hard in the second and in the sixth for a total of twelve runs. Lister, McAnulty, and Thatcher were the stars for Bucknell. Giro and Garnes excelled for Susquehanna.

'VARSITY DEFEATS WEST VIRGINIA

SLOW TEN INNING GAME.

Daniels Hitting and Base Running Enable Bucknell to Win From Southern Nine.

The 'Varsity added another to its string of victories Saturday afternoon when they defeated West Virginia at Morgantown, W. Va. The game was close and exciting throughout. At the end of the ninth inning the score stood tie at 4-4. In the tenth Bucknell took on an extra spurt, and by timely batting and good base running they tallied two runs and brought victory to the Orange and Blue.

Both teams began scoring in the first inning. Boone hit Daniels who stole second. Loveland sacrificed. Clarke and Daniels worked the squeeze play and "Danny" tallied. Northrop drew a walk but C. Plez flied out to Munk. Munk opened up for his team with a single. Merrill was safe at first on O'Brien's error. Vandle filled the bases on a error by Sheehan. Wiley fanned and Baker flied out to Sheehan. Munk tallied on an error by W. Plez who allowed Kee to reach first.

West Virginia scored twice in the second inning partly through the umpire's poor judgement on balls and strikes. Riddle walked, Boone fanned, and Munk drew a pass. Merrill was thrown out at first on a missed third strike. Vandle hit and Riddle and Munk scored. Wiley got a base on balls but Baker was retired at first.

Bucknell tallied again in th fifth. O'Leary and Sheehan each singled and O'Brien walked. W. Plez fanned. Daniels singled and scored O'Leary. Sheehan tried to make home but was caught at the plate. Loveland then flied out to Kee.

In the eighth the 'Varsity took the lead when they scored two runs on hits by Daniels, Loveland and Northrop together with a sacrifice by Clarke. In the same inning West Virginia tied things up again when Baker hit and later scored on O'Brien's error.

The tie was broken in the tenth when Daniels led off with a three bagger. Loveland fanned. Clarke walked and stole second. Daniels then scored on Northrop's sacrifice fly. Sheehan singled and scored Clarke but was afterward put out himself trying to go to second.

Today the 'Varsity plays a second game with West Virginia on the latter's grounds. Judging from the result of Saturday's game, the contest should be a good one with the chances slightly favoring the Bucknell nine.

1911 L'AGENDA.

The 1911 L'Agenda has arrived and is now on sale at the College Book Store. The book has brought many surprises with it and the consensus of opinion is that it is the best college year book yet edited at Bucknell. The brown binding with the University seal in gold gives the book a rich modest appearance. The paper throughout is of a brown tint and of a more expensive quality that the white ordinarily used. The cuts are one feature that has received especial comment; they also are of a pleasing color-unity. The literary work presents some novel features. The answers of the different college presidents with their signatures to the question "What is the greatest Value of a College Education?" is a winning stroke. The "History of Baseball at Bucknell" has been appreciated more probably than any other one feature of our work. The information was collected with great amount of labor and in a few cases certain data could not be secured at all. This is the book on sale now at the usual reasonable rate. Get your copy at once while they last. "The Faculty Song of Nineteen "Leven" and "Letters of a Self-made Beauty to her Emulator" are alone worth the price of the book.

Y. W. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT

PROGRAM WELL SELECTED AND PLEASINGLY RENDERED.

That the students of Bucknell and their friends are in sympathy with the work of the Y. W. C. A., was shown by the large attendance at the Entertainment given in Bucknell Hall Friday evening. The young ladies of the Seminary gave a very pleasing program consisting of vocal and instrumental music, monologues and comedy sketches. Each participant received the heartiest applause and by later comments the audience seemed to consider it one of the best entertainments of the year.

NEW SPECIMENS IN BIOLOGICAL MUSEUM

BIRDS AND INSECTS ADDED.

Permanent Collection Being Made by Profs. Davis and Wilkinson and Hertzog, '10.

Many new specimens of birds, animals and insects have been added to the Biological Museum. Through the efforts of Professors Davis and Wilkinson, the museum has grown rapidly during the past four years and now contains a large collection of natural history specimens, that makes it the most attractive feature in the university.

During this year Hertzog, '10, and Courter, '12, have been mounting insects and have placed them in cases. These are now on exhibition in the Library. They rival the birds in beauty and color, and in many cases, as is easily seen, they surpass the birds, with their delicate tints. A large display of beautiful exotic butterflies and moths is on exhibition. Many of these are quite large and show very delicate colors. Some of them show mimicry and protective coloration. The collection of Pennsylvania butterflies and moths, as well as dragon flies and other insect orders, has been increased. For class room purposes, there is a collection of insects in the Biological Laboratory, with a large case of each order of insects mounted on pins. Some insects have also been mounted in the Riker mounts or cotton boxes.

Rare specimens of butterflies and moths have been obtained from distant countries as India, China, Japan, etc., and make the collection one of which we should feel justly proud. Much credit is due Hertzog, '10, who has given his attention to his department. Not only has he mounted insects but he has also discovered four new types, one of which is of a new genus and species. To help make our collection larger Mr. Hertzog has added many specimens from his personal collection.

BIOLOGICAL EXHIBIT.

With regard to the collection of birds which we have in the Library, Dr. B. H. Warren, one of the best ornothologists of the State, compliments Mr. Wilkinson on his ability as a taxidermist. He says "The collection is the best I have ever seen. The positions are natural and the birds look to be alive."

If you have not seen the latest additions to the collection, it will pay you to visit the Library and view the results of the work done.

COMMENCEMENT BAND.

Our Band, of Shamokin, which played here two years ago and gave very good music, has been secured to play at this year's commencement.

BUCKNELIAN FAIR.

It is not too early for the student-body to become interested in the big Bucknellian fair to be held in the Armory, June 9, 10 and 11. The proceeds from this will be used in promoting the athletics of the school and thus we will receive the advantages. With the number of organizations in college, we should have results better than last year. An appeal has been made to each fraternity and organization to plan some idea by which money may be raised to help the teams to victory. Get your plans made and then report to the committee what you want to do, as your part of the big fair. Let's talk it up and if you are asked to co-operate in any way, don't make an excuse and thus show that you have no interest in Bucknell athletics.

This year we have had success in our athletic relations and a great deal of credit is due our alumni for the way they have contributed to the booming of Bucknell in her athletic work. Let us join with them and do our part in making the efforts of the Bucknellians a success. If you have been lax in your support of the teams, here is an "eleventh hour" opportunity. Don't forget the fair!

W. AND J. GAME.

Storms have been following the Washington and Jefferson baseball team this season to such an extent, that the rain here Tuesday tallied the eighth time that they have been prevented from playing. Thus far they have played only five games two of which they lost to West Virginia.

Although the two teams attempted to play in a light rainfall, they were suddenly forced to stop early in the second inning when a heavy shower began to fall. The wet grounds made the fielding necessarily slow and the they have played only five games, rain interfered with the pitchers also. From these facts and from the outlook at the beginning of the game, there would probably have been a high score on both sides.

Washington and Jefferson secured two tallies in the first inning. Forsythe was thrown out at first by O'Leary. Post drove a low one down the left field line for two bases. Marshall sent one past third for another single and took second when Plez drove the ball home to prevent Post from scoring. Eaton then dropped a short drive between right and centre and both runners scored. Wilson hit and advanced Eaton. Whitehill ended the scoring, however, by driving the ball to Loveland and then a quick double play retired the side.

In Bucknell's half, Loveland drove a grounder to third but Post pulled in the ball and threw "Cap" out at first. Northrop was likewise thrown out by Eaton. Daniels then beat out a bunt and stole second. C. Plez drew a walk but was retired at second when Clarke drove a grounder to Forsythe.

Bachman began the second inning by beating out a slow ball to Sheehan. McCambus went out on a foul fly. Then the heavy rain began causing the players to run for the gymnasium and the game to be called.

THE FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

A GOOD SCHEDULE BEING ARRANGED.

Manager McAnulty is busy arranging the football schedule for the fall term. Judging from the games arranged for and those about which negotiations are pending, the schedule will be a strong one and in some respects similar to that of the past season.

State College, Carlisle Indians, Swarthmore, Dickinson, West Virginia, and Gettysburg, will be upon the list. Lafayette will be another of our rivals. Lock Haven Normal has been secured for the opening game to take the place of Susquehanna. There will probably be one or two more games but it is not yet fully decided with what schools.

Bucknell is to be congratulated upon securing a game with Lafayette next year, since that college gained a wide reputation for good football during the past season. The game will be played upon the Lafayette gridiron at Easton. The Dickinson game will be at Carlisle and Swarthmore at Swarthmore. The Indian game will be at Wilkes-Barre where it will take the place of the annual State-Indian game. It is not yet decided where the Bucknell-State game will be played but it will very probably be upon neutral grounds. Gettysburg will meet the locals on our field.

There is naturally a great deal of speculation as to the difference that the new rules will cause in the relative strength of the college teams. It would seem that Bucknell would be strengthened rather than weakened by the change, for, under the new rules, most of the Orange and Blue's weak points will be eliminated.

Many of the students fear for our prospects for the season because of the loss of such men as Edmunds, Groff, Baskins and Daniels. It is true that the loss will be a big one but yet we shall have a very strong nucleus left for effective work. Captain Clarke will probably be back into his old time form and be able to use his long punts. Ex-captain Coulson, Kurtz, O'Brien, Kerstetter, Duff, Schmid, Jordan, Plez, Snyder and Arnold will very likely be back too. These old men together with the new material that comes in every year, will give us a team able to compete with any of the colleges which are in our class.

ALUMNI BASEBALL TEAM.

The local alumni are making an effort to secure the strongest possible team to represent them in the big Alumni game here on June 21. They expect to have many of the same men who represented them in the game last commencement. "Christy" Mathewson, the "Peerless Pitcher," will very likely do the twirling again. In all probability Blair, formerly with New York Americans, now with Rochester Eastern League team, will be behind the bat.

The other members of the team will probably be Cocklll, of the Montreal Eastern League team; Weidensaul, of Toronto Eastern League; Dr. Harvey Smith, formerly with the Washington National League team; Hawk, of the University of Pennsylvania nine; Sheehan, 'Varsity captain in '08; Grimminger, the 1907 captain; "Dippy" Smith, Bucknell's coach in 1908; and Leach and August, of the 1907 team. There is also a possibility that McCormick, last year with New York Nationals, and Doolan, of the Philadelphia National League nine, may be in the line up.

MINISTERIAL MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association was held on Wednesday night at the home of Dr. Leslie. After the regular business session, Dr. Leslie told of some of his experience as a medical missionary in the Congo regions of Africa. He and Mrs. Leslie then entertained the young men by displaying and explaining a number of interesting curios which they secured during their stay upon the "Dark Continent."

BUCKNELL WINS ONE AND LOSES OTHER

TEAM NOT IN USUAL FORM.

Seton Hall Proved Easy, But Army Won Through Bucknell's Poor Fielding.

The Varsity split even on their second eastern trip by taking the game from Seton Hall 9-4 and losing to the Army nine 7-5. In neither game did the team reach the old time pace. The batting was very good but the infield was slow and at times erratic, especially in the opening part of the game at West Point. The redeeming feature of the latter contest was the great batting rally in the last two innings.

At Seton Hall the Bucknell nine opened up with a run. Daniels hit, Loveland sacrificed and Clarke reached first on Jacke's error which scored Daniels. Clarke was caught at tempting to steal second and Northrop was thrown out at first. Then the locals began badly by allowing the South Orange men to score four runs and take the lead. Burchill hit. Curran reached safe on W. Plez' error. Then slow fielding, a base on balls and a sacrifice fly added Seton Hall in taking a comfortable lead.

Bucknell tied the score in the second when hits by C. Plez, O'Leary, and W. Plez, coupled with a fielder's choice, and an out, netted the 'Varsity three runs. The tie continued until the fifth when the Orange and Blue took the lead on hits by Loveland and Clarke which resulted in one run.

The seventh inning decided the contest, for then Bucknell had a merry-go-round. W. Plez was hit and Daniels was safe on an unsuccessful attempt to cut Plez off at second. Loveland sacrificed and Clarke singled, scoring Plez and Daniels. "Jimmie" was caught trying to steal but Northrop reached first when Scott muffed his fly. C. Plez then hit for three bases and scored Northrop. Burchill then fumbled O'Leary's grounder and Plez scored. O'Brien singled but Sprout fanned.

For Bucknell the features of the game were the batting of C. Plez, and Daniels, the pitching of W. Plez, and the general playing of O'Brien. McDonough, Gallon and Burchill excelled for Seton Hall.

Army Game.

From Seton Hall the 'Varsity went to West Point where they lost to Army Saturday afternoon. The game was practically thrown away in the first inning, during the absence of Captain Loveland, by erratic playing, when the Army boys scored four runs and yet secured only one hit. Lyman and Anderson had both struck out when Whiteside singled and stole second. Harrison was safe on O'Brien's error and stole second. Cook drew a walk. A passed ball scored Whiteside and moved the other men each up one base. Surles hit to Sheehan who hesitated about throwing the ball and Harrison scored. Schneider dropped a ball in front of the plate and O'Leary threw wild to first and West Point ran their score up to four. Northrop then caught Schneider off first and ended the inning.

At that stage of the game Bucknell shifted the line-up a little. O'Leary's hands were so crippled that he was in no shape to catch which accounts for his work in the opening inning. "Tim" was therefore sent to the right field and Zehner went behind the bat.

Neither side scored again until the fourth when West Point added another on Lyman's single, Daniels' error and Whiteman's out. They tallied again in the fifth on two singles, a stolen base and Zehner's bad throw to catch Surles at third.

With the game 6-0 against them the 'Varsity suddenly opened up their batteries in the eighth and bombarded Hyatt. Clarke and Northrop each singled. C. Plez fanned but O'Leary reached first on Schneider's error which scored Clarke. Zehner hit and tallied Northrop. O'Brien next singled and sent O'Leary across the plate. Sprout hit to short but Zehner was

PROGRAM OF SIXTIETH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

BUSY WEEK IS NOW PLANNED.

Commencement Exercises Will Begin June 16 and Terminate Wednesday, June 22.

Much effort is being put forth to make this commencement, the sixtieth, one that will be long remembered. It is long to be hoped that the students will invite their friends and that a large number of the alumni will also plan to be present.

According to the program, the "Our Band," of Shamokin, will give two twilight concerts which will also help to entertain.

One item which is not on the program and which should be kept in mind is the Big Alumni game on June 21. "Christy" Mathewson will probably pitch against the 'Varsity and many of our former baseball stars will be here. Let all endeavor to be present and make this year's commencement a big one.

The Deutcher Verein also journeyed to Blue Hill Saturday on their annual picnic. A large hack had been engaged to convey them to the picnic grounds. To their surprise they found the Delta Delta Delta girls already on the scene. After some time they too obtained a suitable location and all joined in the general merriment.

SENIOR CLASS DAY

COMMITTEE AT WORK PLANNING A BIG TIME FOR THURSDAY.

The committee on the Senior Class Day exercises is hard at work arranging plans for a gala occasion on Thursday. Chairman Banks is endeavoring to arrange a different program than in former years, among other things suggested was a track meet, ball game, parade, etc. Every year this day is looked forward to by the undergraduates and town friends and it is hoped that this year new ideas may be suggested which will become customary for Senior Day. The planting of the ivy and such customs have been abandoned, but many would like to see some of the older customs revived.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.

The Temple Baptist Church of Philadelphia has recently celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of its founding. It is interesting to note what a great part Bucknell has played in its history. The Temple Church has had seven pastors, four of them graduates of Bucknell. They are as follows: Rev. J. W. Putnam, who was pastor 1885-1891; Dr. Lincoln Hulley, 1891-1895; Rev. J. S. Braker, 1892-1894; and the present pastor, Rev. T. H. Sprague, who has been at the church since February 26, 1908, and under whose wise and energetic care the church has greatly prospered.

BUCKNELLIAN FAIR.

The main show will open at 7 p. m. On the opening night there will be a big parade at 6.30 p. m. Let everybody turn out and heartily support the Bucknellians in their efforts.

Y. M. C. A.

On Thursday evening the College Y. M. C. A. was addressed by Martin S. Bryant, student secretary of the Baptist Forward Movement for Missionary Education. Mr. Bryant gave a very practical talk showing just where men were needed in the home and foreign field. The talk was particularly interesting because of the specific propositions that Mr. Bryant made to the men.

BUCKNELL WINS IN THE EIGHTH

WEST VIRGIANIA PROVES EASY.

After Seven Innings Bucknell Opens Up and Drives Pitchers Out of the Box.

A great batting matinee in the eighth inning gave Bucknell another victory over West Virginia, on Monday. With the score 2-0 against them the 'Varsity opened up on Vass in the eighth and got three successive hits, tied the score, and drove the pitcher from the box. Boone who was sent to the rescue, met his Waterloo likewise but continued to pitch, allowing Bucknell to tally seven runs in the last two innings.

The first three innings was a pitcher's battle. In the fourth, luck favored the "Mountaineers" when they scored two runs. Wiley singled and reached second on O'Leary's error. The next two men fanned. Then Kee knocked a lucky home run, scoring Wiley. Hutchinson ended it by being thrown out at first by O'Brien.

The fifth, sixth and seventh innings showed a slight change in favor of Bucknell. Then came the lucky eighth. O'Brien singled and Sprout "dittoed." Daniels realized that it was "up to him" and smashed the ball for three sacks and tied the score. That finished Vass and Boone was sent to the box. The latter began by making a wild pitch and letting Daniels tally. To keep the work up he walked Loveland. Clarke sacrificed and Northrop fanned. C. Plez then pounded out a single and scored Loveland, taking second himself on the throw in. O'Leary likewise registered a single and Plez crossed the plate. Sheehan finally ended the show by flying out to Riddle.

The ninth inning had a little of the circus appearance also. O'Brien was thrown out at first, but Sprout drew a walk and stole second. Daniels sacrificed. Loveland next was safe on a fielder's choice and Sprout scored, while Loveland moved on to second. Clarke hit safe and Loveland crossed the plate. "Jake" then ended the scoring by striking out.

The pitching of Northrop, the general work of Daniels and the batting of C. Plez and Sprout were the features for Bucknell. For West Virginia Munk, Kee, and Riddle were the stars.

RECENT GAMES.

The student-body cannot help but feel that the game on Saturday with Army belonged to us. Of course we realized that the team has not been up to its usual pace, but if very member of the team had played together there was no reason why we should not have taken the Army game. Pitcher Northrop played winning ball, the team had enough hits to win any game and yet the victory went to the Army. If it had not been for the first had inning we would not have had the defeat chalked up against us.

There is a chance for the 'Varsity to "play together" tomorrow at Dickinson before their commencement crowd. Let's get together and come home with the laurels of a good victory!

A. A. MEETING.

At the regular meeting of the Athletic Association in the gymnasium, Saturday evening, reports were read by Benson, '10, and Schroyer, '10, for the basket-ball and track accounts. A resignation was read from Kendahl, '11, resigning from his position as tennis manager. The election of officers was then held at which the following were elected:—Decker, '11, tennis manager; Lister, '12, assistant baseball manager; Goehring '12 assistant basket-ball manager; Courter '12, assistant tennis manager; Kinneman, '21, assistant track manager; Wise, '12, assistant treasurer; Prof. Heim, A. A. Leiser, Jr., L. T. Butler, Gronde, and Ogden, advisory board.

SENIOR MEMORIAL.

Work has been started on the Senior memorial, the arranging of a cement path from Main Building to the Library. In the center of the walk a granite pedestal will be erected, on which a sun dial will be mounted. At either end of the walk, the class numerals will be inlaid in bronze. It is not expected that the memorial will be finished by commencement time.

SENATOR WOLVERTON STRICKEN

The many friends of the Hon. Simon P. Wolverton, '60, of Sunbury, one of the most distinguished lawyers in the state, will be grieved to learn of his having received a slight paralytic stroke recently, while in his office in Sunbury. His left arm has been affected. We are glad to announce however that his condition is somewhat improved.

WOOD-STONER.

Announcements are out announcing the marriage of Emily Blanche Stoner, '05, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stoner, to Thomas Wood, '05, at Alverton, Pa., Thursday, June 2. Mr. and Mrs. Wood will be at home after July 1, at Muncy.

ALUMNI MARRIED.

The wedding of Charles I. Boyer, '02, to Miss Lydia Kaufman of Tower City, has been announced. The bride is a graduate of Schuylkill Seminary. Mr. Boyer prepared at the Bloomsburg State Normal School and graduated in engineering from Bucknell in 1902. Mr. and Mrs. Boyer will reside in Johnstown.

Announcement has been made that the Rev. T. Powell, '06, has been married to Miss B. Saunders, of New Haven, Conn. The Rev. and Mrs. Powell will reside in Montana, where the former has accepted a call to a new pastorate.

ROCHESTER GRADUATES.

The graduating class of the Rochester Theological Seminary numbered thirty students, three of whom were Bucknell men; H. Griffith, G. A. Riggs, and A. M. Whitby, all of whom are of Bucknell's 1907 class.

G. A. Riggs will go to Porto Rico, as a missionary, in September; A. M. Whitby has been called to the pastorate of the Baptist church of Corunna, Mich., H. Griffith has not yet decided upon his field of work.

Since the Rochester Theological Seminary was opened, sixty years ago, forty-eight Bucknell men have been graduated.

BUCKNELL WINS ONE; AND LOSES OTHER.

caught at third. Daniels ended the slugging by flying out to Cook. A hit, or stolen base, and an error gave the Army their last tally in this inning.

In the ninth Bucknell kept up the hitting. Loveland beat out a bunt and Clarke hit for two bases, scoring Loveland. Northrop singled and Clarke scored. C. Plez hit to Whiteside who retired Northrop at second. O'Leary singled but Zehner and O'Brien were both thrown out at first.

There were several features of the Army game which deserve special mention: a great one-handed catch by Daniels when he cut off a hit in the eighth inning and retired the opponents; the batting of O'Leary and Clarke, each of whom tallied a two bagger; the way in which Northrop kept the hits of the opponents scattered in addition to his striking out ten men; the fact that the local outfielders did not have a single chance to retire a runner, while the Army outfield had eight put-outs. Perhaps above all else should be mentioned the exceptionally fine treatment given the local team by the West Point men. But for the courtesy of the Army captain in regard to a disputed decision in the eighth inning, Bucknell might have scored three runs less.

Bucknell's Loss

BUCKNELL LOSES CLOSE GAME TO STATE

BOTH SIDES SCORED IN EIGHTH.

With Men On Bases Northrop Proved Invincible Till the Eighth. Score 2-1.

On Saturday the 'Varsity journeyed to State College for the return game with our rivals. The game was very close and the final outcome was in doubt till the eighth inning. The large commencement crowd of several thousand was present and great interest was shown in the game. At several times Northrop got out of tight places and kept State from scoring.

Daniels led off for Bucknell and was passed by Klepfer. "Jake" laid down a nice sacrifice which put "Danny" on second. Clarke hit to Klepfer who relayed the ball to Eberline. C. Piez was put out, Vorhis ot Eberline.

Little of interest took place when State came to bat. Bubb hit to "Jake," as did McCleary also and was thrown out at first. Workman lifted a high fly to right field and was an easy out.

In the second inning, McCully, who took Clarke's place in centre, lifted a fly to Eberline. O'Leary struck out and Sheehan got a base on balls. The best that O'Brien could do was a fly to centre field.

For State College, Eberline got a two base hit. Vorhis reached first on an error by Clarke while Eberline took second. Haddow, the next man, also reached first the same way. With three on base, the State people thought a couple of runs were sure, but Northrop was there "with the goods." Kelly caught a high one and lifted a fly to Daniels. Bien was "Jake's" first victim and Klepfer was out by knocking the ball to O'Brien.

W. Piez opened the third inning by striking out. Daniels lifted a fly to McCleary and Northrop struck out.

Bubb was an easy out for O'Brien. Captain McCleary also easy for McCully and Workman was out, Clarke to Daniels.

Thus the game continued. In State's half of the sixth inning, McCleary got a hit. Then Workman tried to get the team up in the air by bunting. "Jake" and O'Leary both went for the ball and collided. With Eberline at bat, it looked like a run for State but the best he could do was to lift a high one to "Jake." Vorhis was out, Northrop to Daniels and Haddow was caught out by Clarke.

Bucknell started things in the eighth. O'Brien was passed and W. Piez hit for a single. O'Brien made third on this and the State fielder thinking he was going home threw the ball to Vorhis. W. Piez in the meanwhile going to second. Daniels tried to work the squeeze play but O'Brien was caught at the plate. "Danny" got a single and W. Piez came home. However he failed to touch the plate and Vorhis upon receiving the ball touched him out. This was Bucknell's only chance to save the game as was proved in State's half of the eighth. Northrop got a single, but Clarke failed, sending up an easy one for McCleary.

In State's half, Bubb got a single. Then McCleary laid one down along the first base line, which Daniels relayed to O'Brien, who covered first. Bubb in the meantime had taken second. Workman then drove the ball for a triple, scoring Bubb. Eberline lifted a sacrifice fly to W. Piez, scoring Workman with the winning run. Vorhis got his first hit, but Haddow hit a bounder to Northrop who threw to Daniels and retired the side.

Bucknell's chances were over when C. Piez was out Kelly to Eberline and McCully struck out. O'Leary the next man up got a single but was caught stealing second.

For Bucknell the features of the game were Northrop's pitching, especially when men were on base and McCully's work in the field. Klepfer, Eberline and Workman excelled for State College.

1912-1913 TRACK MEET

FRESHMEN WIN MEET BY FOUR POINTS. SCORE 58-54.

Although the heavy rains bid fair to spoil the chances of the underclassmen coming together in their annual track meet, enough time was given to run the meet off successfully. Much interest was displayed by both classes in the meet and the final outcome was in doubt till the last event, the broad jump, had been completed. In the majority of the track events the Freshmen had the Sophomores beaten, but in the field events, the Sophomores won easily. The number of points scored by the Freshmen were 58, Sophomores 54. ### 40TH ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED.

J. S. Wrightmour, D. D., '69, of Scranton, recently observed the fortieth anniversary of his entering upon the pastorate. During the service he was presented with fifty carnations, besides other floral tributes for himself and wife. He stated that into the eight churches of which he had been pastor, he had received 1,306 persons into membership, 780 by baptism. At the recent funeral of his mother at Berwyn, a delegation of two deacons and two other officers attended from the First Baptist church of Scranton, of which he is the pastor, as a token of respect.

DICKINSON WINS GAME BY LARGE SCORE

TEAM DISAPPOINTS STUDENTS.

Carlisle Team Piles Up Runs In the Seventh and Eighth Innings. Score 11-1.

The Dickinson game at Carlisle was not such a one sided affair as one would imagine, until the seventh inning, when the Carlisle team opened up on Piez for three hits, one of which was a home run by Mt. Pleasant. Costly errors in this inning also helped Dickinson to pile up five runs.

Bucknell did very little in the opening part of the game. Daniels was put out Boell to Henderson. Northrop and Clarke were easy outs for Dickinson, Mt. Pleasant to Henderson.

Dipple opened up for Dickinson by driving a bounder to O'Brien who quickly relayed the ball to Daniels getting his man at first. The next man was an easy mark for "Wally." Henderson the third man for Dickinson reached first base on an error. While W. Piez was striking out Cook, Henderson reached second on a bad throw. However with Cook out the side was retired.

Very little of interest on the Bucknell side took place till the third inning. O'Brien and "Sprig" both were out, Mt. Pleasant to Henderson. The next man, W. Piez, cracked out a single. Daniels reached first on an error by Boell, Piez in the meantime taking second. "Jake" disappointed the team then, by lifting a high fly to the right fielder, Cook.

In Dickinson's half of the third inning, Foley struck out, Edwards got a single and Dipple and Latham each lifted foul flys for Zehner.

In the fourht inning Bucknell got her lone tally. "Jimmie" Clarke worked Mt. Pleasant for a pass then stole second. C. Piez struck out but Zehner got a single sending in Clarke with the first run. Sheehan sent up a fly to Foley and O'Brien struck out.

Henderson led off for Dickinson in the fourth, with a base on balls. He then stole second. Cook reached first on a fumble by Sheehan, while Mt. Pleasant sent up a high foul fly to Zehner. Beauchamp repeated the trick and Boell was out Sheehan to Daniels.

In the fifth, Sprout led off with a single and W. Piez fanned. Sprout was caught stealing. Daniels also got a single, stole second but was caught trying to steal third.

For Dickinson nothing eventful happened till the sixth inning. Then the Dickinson batters opened up with singles by Cook and Mt. Pleasant after the first two men had been caught out. Beauchamp reached first on an error by O'Brien. The next man, Boell, was out, Sprout to Daniels.

The seventh luning was the one in which Dickinson piled up their runs. Foley got a single, Edwards reached first on an error by O'Brien. Dipple was out, W. Piez to Daniels. Latham had a single, but Henderson flied out to C. Piez. "Wally" passed the next man Cook and Mt. Pleasant surprised everyone by driving the ball for a home run. Beauchamp reached first on an error by Sheehan and Boell was out, Zehner to Daniels.

Bucknell still tried to take a brace but the eighth inning did not show any addition to the one tally.

Dickinson again came up strong. W. Piez on errors allowed the first two men to reach first base. Dipple sacrificed and Latham flied out to Sprout. Henderson drove out a two bagger. Cook added another single to his credit. Mt. Pleasant repeated the act as did also Beauchamp. Boell was out Sprout to Daniels and the game was ended as far as the Dickinson nine was concerned.

Bucknell's men were easy outs for Dickinson and the game was ended.

SENIOR MEMORIAL

CANNOT COMPLETE WORK BEFORE COMMENCEMENT.

Since there seems to be some misunderstanding as to just what the memorial will be, it will be well in the first place to state the present plans.

These plans provide for the construction of a concrete walk, ten feet wide, between the Main Building and the Library. Midway between these buildings the walk will be enlarged to eighteen feet, the greatest width. At the center of this enlargement a brown-stone pedestal will be built upon which will be mounted a "Crehore sun-dial, cast of bronze. The pedestal is so designed as to provide for a drinking fountain on each of two sides. Bronze numerals will be imbedded in each end of the walk, and upon a stone built in the pedestal, will be cut the inscription "Class of 1910."

The walk will be made of concrete, colored brown to match the brown-stone in the pedestal, and will extend from the Library steps to the road at the rear of the Main Building.

Future plans of the university are to convert room five into a large entrance-way to the rear of Main Building and have the path straight between the Library entrance and the entrance to the former. However this will not be done within the next year as has been the impression on the part of some members of our class, since our memorial has been started.

The thing that will delay the completion of the memorial the most is the sun dial, which the makers declare will be absolutely impossible to have finished before June 22. Another delay has been caused in securing suitable designs for a pedestal, which will not be finished before Commencement, unless we have suitable weather for laying the concrete walks, which must be done first.

The committee has been working, for more than two months, on plans for a memorial that will be a credit to the class, and will continue to do its utmost to have the memorial completed as soon as possible.

Statements stating the amount of the memorial assessment have been sent out to each member of the class and it is hoped that all will give this their earliest attention.

Much criticism has been heard about the committee for not having the memorial completed before, but an accurate knowledge of the circumstances should have been obtained before this was indulged in.

CHAIRMAN.

BUCKNELLIANS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL FAIR

CROWD SMALLER THIS YEAR.

Bad Weather Handicaps Efforts of Bucknellians to Have a Big Time.

On Thursday evening the Bucknellian Fair opened up with a small attendance owing to the heavy showers. The Armory had been gaily decorated with pennants, banners, greens etc. and every effort had been put forth to make the Armory inviting to the host of students and town friends.

As one entered the Armory, the large booth in the center of the room where lemonade was for sale, was very conspicuous. Around the sides were booths where one could purchase his supper, ice cream, candy, confetti, etc. A new feature this year was the large booth where an auction sale was carried on. Here there was continually a crowd, eager to try their fortune bidding on the various packages held by the auctioneer.

In one corner of the room was the gypsies' tent where fortunes were told. Added to all these were the high class Vaudeville and Circus. Both of these were well patronized. The parts showed preparation and much credit is due all for the interest taken in their work. The Traub sisters did their parts well and received the commendation of all who heard them.

The tent was also there where the five legged dog was on exhibition.

Similar to last year, there was a voting contest on the most popular fraternity and sorority.

While the fair was perhaps not as successful as last year, much of this was due to the inclement weather. However not nearly as many students were present as on the previous occasion.

The Bucknellians wish to take this opportunity of thanking all those who co-operated with them in their work, for it was only by the combined efforts of all interested, that the fair was carried out successfully.

TWO MILE RECORD BROKEN.

On Saturday, C. A. Butt, '10, started in the two mile run of the Sophmore—Freshman meet to try to lower his record. When he entered Bucknell in the fall of 1906, the two mile record was 10.56. By consistent training and practice he lowered it till at the present time his record is 9 min. 52 4-5 sec. On Saturday he lowered his record 14 4-5 seconds.

CAPTAIN C. A. BUTT.

Butt will leave the college with three cups and three medals in his possession. One of the cups he won in the three mile cross-country run er 28, 1908 and the third was given in the spring of 1908, another October to him recently by Coach Hoskins, for his consistent work in lowering our records. Two of the medals were won in the inter-class track meets and the third he won at Harrisburg recently, when he got second place in one of the events.

APPRECIATION.

With this issue of the college weekly, the editor wishes to express a few words of appreciation for the work done by the members of the staff, who will graduate.

It is a pleasure to look forward to the co-operation of the staff at the end of the week, but when only several give their active support, news items will occasionally be left out, which otherwise would be inserted. Several have given loyal attention to their work for the paper and as a result we have been able to keep the paper "newsy." The athletic work has been given special attention and the games well reported.

Let us look forward to the coming year and strive to keep up the work for the paper—the one object in view being, to have every department in the college represented, whether social, athletic, scholastic or religious.

COLLEGE BAND.

In line with our note of appreciation, we feel that something should be said concerning the work of the "college band" and also the "college orchestra."

The former has been present at the various games and celebrations, besides taking part in the Memorial Day exercises and other out-side engagements. All of the work for the school has been done without remuneration of any kind. The members of the band take part simply because of their interest in music. At various schools, the college band receives credit for the work done. While the subject may not have been considered before, it would certainly be in order to ask ourselves how we could show our appreciation of the work of the band.

The "college orchestra" is young yet, but so far, has also been giving its services at the mass meetings and at the Bucknellian Fair. To them also much credit is due and our many thanks.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Orange and Blue:—

As there seems to be a misapprehension as to the recent action of the Executive Board in reference to the captaincy of the baseball team, it is desirable to state that the result of a game was not the question at issue. The simple facts were that the captain, in two successive games on a trip was guilty of the same offense of leaving his team and not appearing on the grounds in time for the opening of games at the scheduled time. In the first game Bucknell was put to the humiliation of borrowing a player from our opponents, in order to start the game. On top of this offense the captain left his team to visit friends and arrived on the grounds the following day an hour after the game began. All this has a tendency to demoralize a team. The captain of a team is in a different position from that of another player. If the captain does not show an active interest in keeping up the tone and spirit of a team, not many others will do so. How can any captain preserve the proper discipline if he deserts his team and makes the same of secondary importance to himself? It should be clearly understood and insisted upon at Bucknell, that a captain is not honored with that position for the purpose of giving him special privileges, but because he is a leader whom the others are willing to follow, and who, consequently must perform the duties of a leader, when he abdicates his leadership in fact, he should do so in name also.

Bucknell athletics, and still more, Bucknell University, can recover from defeat on the field, but not from general demoralization, factional disputes, or any lack of discipline when on a trip, that humiliates every Bucknell man. Of course, not all of this is involved in the recent case, but enough of it to emphasize a principle. Bucknell students do not expect a victory from every contest, but they do expect that every man will do his best, and that no one will discredit his college by throwing the game away. In the future, we shall also expect that anyone who is not willing to play under these conditions, will be eliminated from the team and a chance given to some one else.

At the same meeting of the Board that the case of the captain was acted upon, there was criticism of the act of two other players on the same trip and in their case a vote of censure was passed.

EXECUTIVE BOARD.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCES.

There are two Y. M. C. A. conferences which at this time are being brought to the attention of the college men. The first, the Northfield Student Conference, at East Northfield, Mass., from June 24 to July 3 is a great event. Each year sees college men gathering at Northfield for many discussions of the life problems of college men. In the forenoons and evenings there are sessions of the conference, with normal classes in Bible Study and mission sutdy, with addresses by speakers of international importance. In the afternoon, intercollegiate baseball, tennis, and golf will be played. Added to this are opportunities for tramping, swimming, wheeling, mountain climbing and receptions. Everything to interest the college man is planned.

On July 1, a big celebration is arranged. In the afternoon, the track and field meet for the conference championship will be held. In the evening, there will be a parade of the delegates, patriotic addresses and the bon-fire. Any who have been to Northfield and seen the celebration will say that it is never forgotten.

Among the speakers who will address those present at the conference are Prof. E. H. Steiner, Rev. John Hutton of Glasgow, Harry Emerson Fodsick, John Douglas Adam, E. T. Colton, Prof. H. B. Wright of Yale, Prof. L. H. Miller of Princeton, T. S. Evans of Univ. of Pa., and Dr. J. E. Merrill, of Turkey.

A large conference will also be held at Mt. Gretna, August 20-29. This is the 15th Annual Pennsylvania Bible Conferences. It is arranged for adult Bible class study, brotherhood men, ministers, and Y. M. C. A. workers. Prof. C. M. Cobern, the great Bible teacher and W. C. Pearce, America's greatest men's Bible class leader will make addresses.

Mt. Gretna is situated in a fine locality, with Lake Conewago near at hand. It is an ideal place for a vacation rest and at the same time take in the conference.

Several Bucknell men are arranging to take in these conferences, especially the one at Northfield.
